Looking Ahead with J. W. WORREL

I made a call on a friend of mine the other day and, to my surprise, I found him packing grips in preparation for a journey. "Going away, Bill?" I asked.

"Sure. Going away on a business trip."

"Be away long?"

"Couple of months."

I turned to his wife who was helping to pack. "How are you going to get along without him?" I asked.

"Don't worry, I'm not going to starve," she replied laughing. "I'm making sure that he leaves me enough to get along with until he gets back."

That's a simple little story of a man who is leaving home for two months. He arranges the family budget so that everything goes smoothly until he returns. Life insurance has a bigger problem than that. It must arrange the family budget for a journey from which there is no return. No one can tell when the call will come to take the journey. It may be many years. It may be tomorrow. But the Sun Life of Canada can arrange the budget for you at once, simply, economically and effectively. Call or write me and I will gladly talk things over with you . . . and no obligation incurred.

Ohio Needs A New Auto Safety Responsibility Law

Ohio needs a new type of auto safety responsibility law. It is a gross injustice that allows a person to be injured or have his or her car damaged in an accident through the fault of a careless driver and not be able to collect damages because the owner is unable to pay.

The legislature should enact the proposed law that would force drivers and owners to make themselves financially responsible (either by insuring or by furnishing security to cover any possible judgements) or to run the risk of losing their right to drive. It would provide that immediate action be taken by the state upon the happening of an accident and would facilitate the state's ability to put off the road permanently the chronically reckless driver.

A remedy must be found to protect the person who has been injured through the fault of reckless and financially irresponsible drivers. Twenty-four other states have such a law. Ohio should awake to some action along this line.

"Who is your queen candidate for the Mum Festival?"

That's the question that is being asked by many of the Hilltop merchants as they sit at the noonday luncheon table these days discussing the forthcoming Hilltop Mum Festival scheduled for Oct. 11, 12, 13 and 14. And judging by the growing list of entries now in the hands of Chairman Jack Merriman, the question is being asked quite frequently.

This week brought a new bevy of beauties into the limelight as prospective aspirants for the title of "Mum Queen", and the $100 War Bond and loving cup trophy which also will go to the winner. Many of the Hilltop's most beautiful this past week were making trips to local beauty establishments to receive the finishing touches prior to the big show which is now but a few days away.

Chairman Jack Merriman this week announced that he has revised his original estimate of approximately 30 contestants upward to a figure nearer the 50 mark. Lima Central To Provide New Test For West Cowboy Team

By Dave Miller

West's Cowboys will travel to Lima Central tomorrow evening for their third and final non-league game of the season, attempting to disembark from their present one-one record following a win over Marion and losing to Upper Arlington.

Following tomorrow's encounter, Mack Pemberton's lads will start practice for their City League opener Oct. 6. The regular set of games in the City Loop begin tomorrow, but West draws the first bye, and therefore will play six consecutive loop games on the following Friday nights. .

The Cowboys' object, however, at the moment is to give all they have at Lima Central. Pre-season dopesters believe that the Dragons are capable of coming up with their best season since 1946 when they were undefeated. Coach Seraph Pope has 10 monogram winners available around which to build his two platoon system.

Heading Pope's star-studded cast is big 195-pound fullback, Bud Bonfiglio, the area's top point-maker among the A players. The speedy tailback registered 15 touchdowns and three conversions. Augmenting him in the backfield will be Jack Campbell, 180-pound triple-threater, Ollie Tremaine, Cloyd Busick and Tom Wilson.

Five veterans anchor the forward wall with Cleo Vaughn and Bob Nielson at the flanks; Allen Kelley and Alvin Martin at the tackles; and Charlie Miller or Marvin Hawkins at the pivot slot.

The lads will see a good deal of variety this season. They have thus far beaten Ft. Wayne Central and Cincinnati Western Hills. They also face (after West) Toledo Woodward, Middletown, Springfield, Lima South, Findlay and Van Wert. The Dragons won four, lost the same number and tied one in last year's games.

The Cowboys are a bit discouraged over last week's rather humiliating defeat by Arlington but in practice sessions thus far as of this writing have showed considerable spirit considering the setback they were handed. Pemberton and assistants, Dave Randall and Fred Heischman, have been working hard this week to shape out a reliable defensive team for the Cowboys in addition to trying to formulate a fairly good offensive line.

According to reports from Lima, the Dragons' star, Bonfiglalid, is a hard hitter—not exceptionally good on long gallops like Doug Goodsell, last week's thorn in the side against the Cowboys. The tailback stands only 5-8 but is a driver, the opposite of Goodsell, who is known for moving swiftly around the flankers.

The host eleven has only three letter men in the lineup, the remaining eight all juniors. The probable starters:

Hilltop Man Killed In Truck Crash

A Hilltop cement block contractor was killed early last Saturday when his light truck crashed into a utility pole on Sullivant-av. James Dawson, 40, of 587 Ryan-av, was dead on arrival at Mt. Carmel Hospital as the result of head injuries.

Mary Gooley Will Observe 96th Birthday This Sunday

By Myrce T. Seifert

On Sunday, Oct. 1, the Hilltop's lovely lady, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Gooley, 2003 Fairmont-av, who is approaching the century mark, will observe her 96th anniversary in a quiet manner at her home here.

Almost half her life has been spent on the Hilltop in the environs of Fairmont-av, where her modest tastes and Christian virtues have commanded the love and respect of neighbors and friends.

Reared in a German home at Deavertown, Morgan County, O., Mrs. Gooley, as a girl, acquired many of the attributes of character.

Sixty-eight years a mother, she has guided her brood successfully through many a trial.

With an immutable faith in God and a confidence in the future, Mother Gooley's success as a mother is evident in her four children, four grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Children in her immediate family include Inez Gooley, West Junior High School teacher; Mrs. Lenora Beery, Fresno, Calif.; Mrs. Laura Cross, San Francisco, Calif.; Mrs. Cecile Williams of Columbus.

She recalls vividly many episodes of the Civil War days that transpired in her native Morgan County. At Deavertown an aunt of Abraham Lincoln is buried. The aunt, Mrs. Gooley recounted, was Nancy Lincoln Deaver (1780-1827), the mother of Levi Deaver, who laid out Deavertown in 1815.

Mrs. Gooley's neighbor, Thomas L. Gray, used his home in Deavertown as a stop on the famous underground railway, which smuggled slaves out of the South.

Life on the Hilltop past the turn of the century (1904) was a simple and quiet one, Mr. and Mrs. Gooley found on their arrival here from Morgan County. Her husband, Millard F. Gooley, member of a pioneer Pickaway County family, died in 1935. He married Mary Elizabeth Weaver in 1882 at New Holland, O.

She recalls that the State Hospital provided entertainment in the past for both the patients and Hilltoppers who wished to attend. Dances were held at periodic intervals at the institution and the Fourth of July celebration was a must for every resident in the early 1900's.

On the present site of Glenwood Park, Mrs. Gooley recalls, a dancing pavilion was operated and many Hilltoppers tripped the light fantastic there.

Living on the Hilltop before the era of paved roads, mail was delivered via horse and buggy, Mrs. Gooley said. "Many was the time Dobbin stuck in the mud on his mail route, with the subsequent late delivery of mail to Hilltoppers."

A cabinet full of scrapbooks, clippings, etc., near her bed is filled with memories of a past, glorious day, many of which tell of early life on the Hilltop.

"I have saved over a period of years many gems, which I enjoy reading," the keenly interested lady said.

An avid fan of commentator Kaltenborn, she listens attentively to developments of the day. And, of course, she indulges in listening to serials, "Road of Life" and "Today's Children."

Her Bible, which she has ever prized, is her mainstay. Favorite passage is the 23rd Psalm.

With great mental alacrity, Mrs. Gooley can quote literary passages galore—some humorous, some pathetic. She has a remarkable memory, and has been an omniverous reader.

Her pastor, Rev. Joseph Shellhaas, drops in for a little chat now and then and always at her birthday party. A member of the Glenwood Methodist Church for 46 years, she took an active interest in the Philathea Class there.

Quilting, sewing, crocheting, knitting have been her chief diversions and in the culinary line she has excelled in baking pies.

An exponent of Robert Browning's "Grow old along with me, the best is yet to be," the kindly, lovely lady of almost 96 years is the best example of the poet's philosophy.

The Hilltop salutes a lady who is among its finest.

Evangelism Drive Continuing At Burgess EUB

The two-weeks' campaign of evangelism at the Burgess Avenue EUB Church is meeting with increasing interest to the members of the church and friends concerned. Definite decisions have already been made in the meeting.

Dr. Dewey Whitwell of Nashville, Tenn., is the preaching evangelist and speaks each night at 7:30. William Strehle of Stoutsville, O., is directing the music and rendering special numbers in song. Mr. Strehle will conclude his services this Sunday night at the 7:30 service. The music of next week will be under the direction of Mrs. Edward Thomas, choir director, with Mrs. Ruth Grant presiding at the organ.

Paul Wichterman and Prof. J. E. Newell will be in charge of the song directing. The revival continues through Oct. 8.

Don Mathews

will be taken by Rev. Clayton F. Lutz, Fifth Avenue United Brethren and Rev. A. J. Wold, Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church.

Mathews has accepted a call to the pastorate of North Presbyterian Church, Kalamazoo, Mich., and will begin his work there on Oct. 8.

An informal reception, sponsored by the Hoge Memorial Church officers will follow the ordination service. Both are open to the public.

EIGHTH PERIOD DAY CHANGED

This year at Hilliards High School there are six 55 minute periods, instead of the usual eight periods a day.

We are to recite approximately the first half of the period, and study with the teacher the last half.

Thus far, this has proven successful, and we believe it will be an added improvement to our school.

"Resolved! I Will Dodge Duty Whenever Possible"

No one would say that right out loud. But 45 million of us might as well have said it—those who failed to vote in our last national election.

Maybe we didn't stop to realize that voting is more than a duty—it's a privilege that belongs only to free men. And when we dodge jury duty—or don't participate in union—or stockholders'—or school meetings—maybe we don't stop to think that we are throwing away rights whose sum total makes up our freedom.

Freedom isn't something to which we pay attention as long as we have it. But when we lose freedom we lose a large part of everything that makes life worth living. So let's stop dodging duty! Let's vote at all elections, national and local; serve on juries, gladly, attend meetings—and have our say! In short, let's be full-time citizens.

Are You A Full-Time Citizen?

Check yourself on the above activities! If you're doing your share, you're fighting for freedom.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Here's a fact about the recent cigarette price boost that is receiving congressional attention.

The Marshall Plan has just given 1,000 metric tons of tobacco valued at $1,000,000 to France; 4,000 tons valued at $6,674,000 to Ireland, according to ECA Bulletin No. 1000. Tobacco gifts out of Marshall Plan expenditure of $10 billion now total $343,000,000.

Many Congressmen privately say, if they had known American tax dollars would be used to give luxuries such as tobacco and swank hotels to Europe, instead of the necessities to prevent starvation, they would have never voted for the Marshall Plan.

The gift of tobacco to Ireland seems to especially rankle. Many Congressmen share Winston Churchill's viewpoint that Ireland's refusal to let the Allies use her ports caused a great loss of life and cargoes in World War II.

Congressional decision to do nothing in an election year to revise corporation taxes upwards to meet defense needs apparently dooms all chance of cuts in the wartime excise taxes. Therefore, the 25% tax on baby powder; baby oils, will continue.

Says one solon, "my colleagues feel irritated babies may cry, but they won't vote for at least 26 years, while we must avoid irritating big campaign contributors whose donations are needed now."

Many independent newspaper publishers, squeezed by mounting newsprint prices and protesting the Marshall Plan gift of $1,297,000 to Natronzellstoff-und. Papierfabrik Aktiengesellschaft at Frantschach, Austria, for modern machinery.

This company is the only paper mill in Austria . . . therefore, a monopoly. Lack of capital over the years eliminated independent American paper producers; eliminated competitive newsprint prices. Hence the protests over this latest ECA action by independent American publishers.

From California reports are pouring into Washington of alleged profiteering that may set in motion a full scale investigation of the California oil industry, which is closely held and controlled by a few large combines to the virtual exclusion of independent concerns.

While the Department of Defense, since the start of the Korean War, is paying 3% more for needed supplies, on the West Coast, the government is paying 56.3% more for fuel oil, 11.4% more for gasoline, than paid in April . . . this means independent business must assume a still greater tax burden.

At the same time, a leading California broker specializing in oil stocks, released a report stating prior to Korea the California oil industry was plagued with a surplus of heavy fuel oil.

Now, the report states, the average daily refining of crude has jumped from 895 thousand barrels to 975 thousand barrels; crude oil inventories in California have dropped 2 million barrels.

Next week, we will give you a factual authentic report on independent businessmen's opinion on price controls.

Hilllards Wins One Point Victory

Richard Hansen

Friday, Sept. 15, proved to be a successful night for the Hilllards football squad as it put the finishing touches on Gahanna-Lincoln with a score of 20-19. The Wildcats opened their 1950 season to win a thrilling game by a margin of one point on the home field. Hilllards trailed Gahanna by 13 points in the third quarter, but rolled back in the fourth to rack up 14.

Joe Winkler became Hilllards' "Mr. Big" as he scored from the 16-yard line in the last few minutes of the game. Joe again scored the extra point which spelled out victory for the fighting Wildcats. Other scores for Hilllards were made by Jack Galbraith and Dick Fisher.

For Gahanna, Archie Sandusky was touchdown man, scoring two touchdowns and booting two extra points.

Arlington Bear Eleven Claws Cowboys By 47-12 Score

Upper Arlington's Golden Bears, featuring Douglas Goodsell and company set forth on West's Magly Field last Friday evening and within three minutes of startling play they were well on their way toward a convincing win over our Cowboys, 47-12.

As far as West was concerned there isn't much to write—because not much was done. They collected four first downs to the winners' comparison of 1. The Cowboys scored their two touchdowns of the game with only five minutes left in the fray, both against Arlington's second string.

Arlington's classy Goodsell literally ran through the entire West team, behind bruising blocks by teammates. Without the latter Goodsell naturally would have been just another man on the field, but interference makes a lot of difference—as was the case with West's ball carriers. The offensive line was being shoved around fairly easy, and thus West's backs were hampered before they got past the line of scrimmage. Give any of the trio (Charlie Hunter, Carmine DeMatteo and Ronnie James) some blocking and you've got a team, as was proven in Marion two weeks ago.

Goodsell is the type of ball-carrier who, given an open field, is the same as gone. If you can grab him near the line of scrimmage, he'll go down, but once he gets those big legs churning—look out. Against West Friday, "Big Doug" raced for two touchdowns, caught a pass for another and threw a pass for No. 6 of the evening. He also raced 43 yards for another six-pointer, but it was called back through penalties. Actually, the Golden Bears could have beaten West as much as 68-12, but they had, in all, three touchdowns called back through infractions of the rules.

The Cowboys completed only two passes throughout the game, and both scored their lone touchdowns of the fray in the waning moments of the game.

With 4:13 remaining in the game, Jack Van Fossen of the Bears kicked to Ronnie James, who returned to the Arlington 48. Runs by Hunter, DeMatteo and Jerry Johnson took the ball to the Arlington 23, where Quarterback Chuck Leibensperger passed into the left-flat to James, who dived over to score. Dave Lazenby missed the attempt for the extra point, his initial miss of the year.

After Arlington received the ball, the reserves finally turned to stalling with the ball, but the Cowboys took over on downs with one second remaining in the game, whereupon Leibensperger again hurled an aerial goal-ward, and junior Jerry Johnson made a sensational catch in the end zone to end the game. Again Lazenby missed.

That's just about it—as far as West was concerned. Of course, the Arlington fans had plenty to cheer about—and they did just that for some 42 minutes—and finally seeing it was in the bag they decided to let the Cowboys have their fun.

West felt the "Goodsell sting" that South felt earlier and the same one that seven more opponents are going to feel for the rest of the year. Charlie Hunter returned the opening kickoff to the West 30, and on the first play from scrimmage he dashed around the left end post for six yards, and Ronnie James plunged for one and DeMatteo dived through for one yard short of a first down. The Cowboys' Jerry Trabue then punted to Gene Weigel on the Arlington 26, who quickly lateraled to Goodsell, and the high stepping senior went all the necessary 74 yards behind superb blocking by his teammates down the right sidelines unmolested.

It was menacing to hear the Arlington fans as Big Doug started on his masterful gallop. The crowd was quiet and tense as he was handed the ball, and remained so until he reached midfield, where a child could see he was wide open for the next 50 yards. He eased into the north end zone and not one West man gave him a chase. Practically all 11 of them were sprawled in various sectors of the field—the result of some beautiful downfield blocking.

The rest is history. The Bears struck twice again as Goodsell & Co. displayed their wares. It's one of those things you like to forget. The Bears immediately got the ball from West right after kicking off. After DeMatteo returned the kick to the West 43, Goodsell intercepted a first down pass attempt by Leibensperger and raced to the West 38. A Frank Edwards to Gene Weigel pass was complete for a touchdown, but the Bears were guilty of clipping, which took the ball back to the West 40. Goodsell in consecutive end sweeps ran to the 13, and on plunges by Doug and fullback Dorman Haniel the ball advanced to the one-foot stripe where quarterback Edwards sneaked over. Art Miller's conversion attempt went wide and it was 13-0.

Again West had the ball only long enough to "feel" it as Charlie Hunter fumbled on the initial play from scrimmage on the West 44. Again the Bears scored on a long sweep by Goodsell, but a clipping penalty brought the play back to the 24 after off-tackle smashes by Weigel and Haniel. After Goodsell jump-passed to Bob Holub to th. West 18, Edwards again fired to Goodsell in the left corner of the end zone for a TD. Miller place-kicked the extra point, and with five minutes still left in the first quarter Arlington led 20-0. No more scoring took place in that period.

Arlington's fourth six-pointer wasn't tallied until the midway portion of the second quarter. It was set up as Jerry Trabue punted to the Arlington 38. A pass from Weigel to Pennell to the West eight was called back, but three plays later Edwards passed on a screen play to Goodsell, who raced 34 yards untouched, and Miller converted to make it 27-0. After West fumbled their chance, Edwards passed 18 yards to Gary Pennell, who scored, and as Miller place-kicked the extra marker the Bears led at half-time, 34-0.

The second half was no different. The Cowboys couldn't seem to hang onto the ball, and their air defense was very poor throughout the second half especially. They stuck it out, though, and although they lost the game they all gave all they had.

The lone thought at the moment is tomorrow evening's Lima Central fray in Lima—and some say that Lima is in a class with Arlington. They're tough, but West will be there to give them a battle just the same.

SPORT SLANTS

West High's footballers in about eight more days will be up against their initial City League game of the season, hosting to Aquinas, Friday, Oct. 6.

If ever a rivalry exists between two football teams, there certainly is one mounting yearly between the Cowboys and the Terriers. The Mt. Vernon-av lads are under a new coach, ex-Aquinas star Bob McQuade, who is an alumnus of Xavier U.

The rivalry is not merely keen—it's really bitter annually between these two schools. The top reason probably existing is the fact that most of the Aquinas footballers live on the Hilltop—and thus this rivalry exists yearly.

The Terriers have three regulars who are presently residents of the West Side, Quarterback Russ Reckling, End John Masdes, and Tackle Ben Nye.

Masdes, incidentally, is in his fourth year of varsity ball at the Terrier school, having started as a freshman as a substitute fullback, and now, as a senior, is completing his third consecutive season as left flanker. Last season, as second highest scorer in the city he was easily an all-city choice and the favorite target of Reckling's passing. The latter, like Masdes, has played two seasons thus far and presently is a junior, having experienced the first string quarterback post last season as a sophomore and this season in addition to another season of eligibility.

Despite being overwhelmed insofar as experience is concerned, the Cowboys are out for definite revenge. Last season, the near-same Aquinas squad defeated West 19-7 in the last game of the season at Magly Field.

The game should be a real battle, even if the two competing teams don't enter the fray with very passable pre-game records. The Cowboys have defeated Marion and lost to Upper Arlington while Aquinas has presently lost decisions to both Portsmouth (35-14) and Cincinnati Elder (13-0). Tomorrow evening, West travels to Lima Central High while Aquinas plays their City League opener at Central.

SHORT BITS: The City League will be opening tomorrow night with Central as defending champion, but through previous records throughout the past two Fridays the Pirates aren't apt to repeat. Aquinas and East are the favorites with North and West (excuse me) as dark horses. North is the lone City League team to survive their outings the last two weeks . . . The Polar Bears defeated a weak Cincinnati Hughes eleven, 20-6 and surprised everybody as they edged powerful Newark, 15-14 on a first period safety . . . Any team that can come within a touchdown of the Wildcats let alone defeat them, deserves a city crown. But six other schools don't care who beat who—it's play starting tomorrow night that counts.

Several North players told your reporter that they didn't see how everyone thought Newark was so good. Fullback Dick Albrecht, a defensive man, said "Newark's line was plenty good, but their backfield was too small compared to our line."

The Bears have a big and powerful line headed by Junior Herb Jones (an all-city choice last season as a sophomore) . . . East, although trumped by Newark, 36-12, is still primed as a favorite in the city loop due to their tie with powerful Zanesville last Friday night (21-21) . . . In that game, pre-game rains had soaked the Zanesville field so much that the entire sector from the Wildcat's 10 to the end of the end zone was flooded, and thus when East moved to the 10-yard line the ball was moved back to the 20 and the 10 yard stripe used as the goal line. Extra points were kicked on the other goal posts. . . . We certainly bet that after East had come from behind to make the score 21-20 still in Zanesville's favor with two minutes left in the game, that the walk that Wilbur Crawley took 90 yards downfield—a lot passed through his mind at the time. Crawley, incidentally, is the extra point kicker of the East team. However, through it all, he converted with 1:46 left in the fray to end the game in a 21-21 deadlock.

With football in the air again, we are here to give you the outlook of the Hilliard Wildcat team for the coming season.

Coach Everett Farenholtz, and his two assistant coaches, Tom Swope, and Norman McElhinny, have been busy shaping up a very interesting football season. There are many new, bright prospects this year. Eight seniors are on the squad.

Some of the hold overs, Joe Winkler, Jack Galbraith and Dick Fisher will be groomed for the backfield duties. Oscar Buck's 206 pounds will give the line that extra needed strength. Around these hold overs a new spirited team is in the making.

Coach Farenholtz has a total of forty boys to work with. Most of these forty are green, but should develop into a very spirited football machine. Of these forty, six are lettermen. The line at the present, averages approximately 160 lbs. and the backfield 155 lbs. All indications are that the team is ready to make its fight for a successful season.

This is Hilliards' first year in the Mid-six League. They have the school, they have the boys, and they are out to show the league who they are.

Jack Sherick Offers Special Baton Course

A special 10-lesson course in baton twirling is a special offer at Jack Sherick's Hilltop, North End and downtown studios.

The finest teachers of baton will conduct the course and it will feature all the latest twirls and will start a beginner on the way to becoming a drum majorette.

Jack Sherick, who has taught for 20 years, features at all his studios a pay-as-you-go policy, so well liked by the parents in the middle income bracket.

Under the pay-as-you-go system a pupil may stop after the first lesson if not satisfied.

Some of Columbus' finest pianists play for all classes and for private lessons and a revue is given in the locality of each of the studios, with nothing to buy and no tickets to sell.

Navy Recruiting Offices Are Moved

Consolidation of office spece and man power is the primary motive for the shift of navy recruiting offices from the Old Post Office Building to the New Post Office Building on Gay-st and Marconi-blvd.

In the past, recruiting has been conducted in the old Post Office while physical examinations were given in the New Post Office Building. The entire processing of applicants will now be conducted in one location, eliminating any lapse of time between the mental and physical processing.

All men desiring to enlist in the navy are urged to come to the fifth floor of the New Post Office Building.

SAVINGS ACCOUNTS NOW INSURED TO $10,000.00 AT FIRST FEDERAL

The insurance protection of Savings Accounts at First Federal is now double. Each person's accounts are now insured up to $10,000.00 by an agency of The United States Government. This has been made possible by a recent act of Congress, through the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, of which we are a member. It applies to existing accounts as well as new ones. First Federal was the first savings and loan association in Central Ohio to secure a federal charter, and first to have accounts insured up to the old maximum of $5,000.00. In addition to being insured to $10,000.00, First Federal Savings Accounts earn an annual dividend. The current rate is two percent per annum.

Communities, Like People, Have Personalties

Some persons we know just seem to radiate with warm, likeable personality. You and I are drawn to folks like that immediately. No one really likes cold, indifferent attitudes. The Hilltop, too, has a personality . . . and it didn't just happen! No, the Hilltop is concerned with its personality and deliberately works at making friends, improving services, creating a warmer, friendlier attitude. It's easy, too, because the Hilltop folks are fundamentally that way . . . and they like you. Many of them have lived in your community, next door. They are interested in what you do, how your children are, who has a new baby, who is getting married and whom they can help in time of need.

The Hilltop wants to help you whenever possible . . . to find goods and services, to enjoy recreation, to furnish establishments and facilities to serve your needs. Coming to the Hilltop means a lot and here we believe you find a community with a pleasant personality . . . no high pressure and many services extended to you by persons who know their lines and can give you the help and information you expect.

Besides that the Hilltop Stores are closer together . . . . selections are just as varied and stocks as complete as in larger shopping centers. Parking is more accessible . . . FREE PARKING a few steps away. The shopping area is compact and convenient. Many new stores have come into the Hilltop this year and new servics are added constantly. Buy on THE HILLTOP AND SEE FOR YOURSELF.

Magic vs Miracles

Maybe you've seen this trick performed by a good magician. He holds three small bunnies in his hand. Presto! Now he has six. Presto, again! Twelve of them now. Another wave of his hand—and there aren't any bunnies left at all!

How does he do it?

Well, those baby rabbits are made of sponge rubber, with enough "spring" to enable the magician to flip them in and out of his sleeves.

That's good magic—even though it can be explained.

Now, about miracles. . .

Have you ever seen a child listening to one of the wonderful, old stories of the Bible in his Sunday School? Have you ever marveled at the closeness of a little family worshiping together in church? Have you ever seen men, whom the world gave up as hopelessly and utterly lost, pulled together under the great stimulus of God's written word?

All miracles—and unlike the magician's act, they cannot be explained. But we know who has brought them to pass.

They are the miracles of a loving God.

And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness.
I Tim. 3:16

This church is a new congregation on the Hilltop organized with the purpose of promoting the Christian religion as taught in the New Testament. It stresses no creed but Christ as The Son of God, and accepts no authority but that of the Bible.

Its objective is the unity of all Christians on the terms laid down by the Early Church, and it repudiates all plans originating with men as individuals or ecclesiastical groups.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

The HOWARD BEOUGHERS parked their children and went on a trip last week. We're still hearing of people going on their vacations.

For instance, now, the BERNARD FLOYDS went to Chicago and thereabouts — circled here and there in their flying Studebaker.

We bid adieu to the FRANKLIN E. DEYOS. The mister is drawing his pay check in Schenectady, N. Y., so they hope to find a home there. BETTY ANN, We'll miss you.

HERMAN SCHULTZ put up his IGA sign over his grocery. We're positive now these letters have a double meaning. The new gray Pontiac Herman bought proves the sign means "I GET AHEAD." He must be doing all right.

We thought those BUTLERITES were digging oil wells in their front yard all week, but soon found out they only hit water. The city put in new water boxes at each home.

GWEN MURRAY lives a few doors from the grocery where she clerks. And one day last week she drove to work. Can you beat that?

She'll never hear the end of it since this is getting in the gossip column. Do you suppose she wants us to spread our coats down so she can cross over the mud? Or maybe that wasn't why she drove?

We must use ERIC ADAMS in our next Hilltop Minstrel. He did a vaudeville act in the kitchen Saturday night. Slipped on the waxed linoleum and did the "splits."

"Stationery PETE" is what we've nicknamed McWILLIAMS. Seems like every time he comes in our dime store he asks for either envelopes or writing paper. I bet he writes this column. Must ask him sometime.

Speaking of the Dime Store, MARY DONOVAN and her little boy came home from shopping up on Broad-st, and as she emptied her shopping bag, she found a toy tractor she hadn't really purchased. Sonny, you get spankings for doing things like that. Now if you had picked up some T-bones or something like that, mummy may not have said much.

Girl Scout News

The first fall meeting of the West Broad Neighborhood was held at the school Wednesday morning, Sept. 20, with Mrs. Warren Weeks and Mrs. Harold Feichter, co-chairmen, presiding.

Plans are in progress for the organization of a new Brownie and a new Girl Scout troop at the school.

Arrangements have been made by Mrs. Booth for continuation of swimming classes under Red Cross members Margaret Jenny and Diana Preston.

During the summer the troops in the West Broad Neighborhood attended swimming classes at the Hilltop pool under the supervision of the Red Cross. They also attended day camp and established camp.

The first fall meeting of the St. Mary Magdalene Neighborhood Association of Girl Scouts was held in the school hall Monday, Sept. 25.

The following crafts which won awards at the Ohio State Fair were displayed.

BIBLE COMMENT

Deborah Typifies Underestimated Power of a Woman

DEBORAH, the prophetess who saved Israel, is one of the Bible's most perfect examples of how women have influenced the destinies of nations, even while being judged inferior to men.

Among the Israëlites, women occupied an honorable yet inequal place. Note, for instance, Saint Paul's prejudice, against women assuming any equal part with men in the early church. Yet Paul reveals how important a place Priscilla and other good women occupied in the early days of Christianity.

Deborah was the most influential of Israel's woman. A prophetess, who dwelt beneath a palm tree, she was frequently consulted by the children of Israel. Her judgments were nourishing rays of hope to a people that had been conquered and in bondage for 20 years, cowed into subjection by King Jabin of Caanan and his ruthless Captain Sisera.

As Deborah won the confidence of her people, she became the leader of an underground movement. And when the crucial hour came she sent for Barak, the soldier. At first Barak refused to rise up against Captain Sisera, although Deborah's strategy was sound.

It was not that Barak was a coward. A shrewd soldier, he realized the odds against him were almost overwhelming. However, he consented to go if Deborah would accompany him. With sly humor, Deborah agreed to risk her life if Barak would credit her with the outcome.

Heartened by her presence, Barak and his forces marched to Mt. Tabor and won a complete victory. Sisera fled, to meet death by the hand of Jael, and Deborah, a member of the "inequal sex," became an inspiration to succeeding generations of women.

Looking Ahead

J. W. WORREL

Just the other evening I got a new slant on my job. I was visiting an old friend and after dinner we sat reminiscing. Our talk shifted, after a while, from the past to the future and we spoke of our plans and dreams for our loved ones. After one particularly lengthy pause, my friend suddenly said, "There's one thing that makes me very happy, and that's knowing that if anything happens to me, you will look after the insurance and see that Mary is all right." Later, I got to thinking about that remark. My friend was heavily insured and I had handled all his policies, so I would come into the picture as a matter of course.

Now here's the point that struck me. Despite my assurance that — for friendship's sake — I would do everything I could for his wife, I couldn't, for the life of me, see anything I could do for her that I would not automatically do for ANY beneficiary under ANY Sun Life policy. It is a routine service with me to ensure that all beneficiaries of my policyholders fully understand the terms of the policy and are aware of the generous optional settlements available under Sun Life contracts. My advice, based upon highly specialized training, backed by years of experience, is at their service. And of course Sun Life claims are settled promptly and with a minimum of technicalities.

Sure, I'll look after Mary . . . just as I look after all my beneficiaries.

JOE BRIGGS Says:

It is probable that many things will happen contrary to probability.

"IT CAN'T HAPPEN TO ME!" . . . That's what the owners of fire-gutted homes invariably say just before it DOES happen to them. Fire can invade and destroy anyone's home or property. It gives no warning! The cost of covering your home is very small. Ask us about it today!

Gala Parade Will Open Hilltop Mum Festival

For the past week or so, the main topic of conversation on the Hilltop has been the forthcoming Mum Festival and for the next six days the tempo of interest is expected to reach new heights as this community prepares for the opening grand parade of beauty queens next Wednesday evening. The parade of the West Side's most beautiful along with nine bands that have been scheduled for appearance, plus floats and a colorful display of chrysanthemums all along W. Broad-st, gives promise of being one of the most colorful displays ever before attempted in this community.

Earlier this week C. H. Campbell, general chairman of the Mum Festival Committee, said that all plans have now been completed and that everything is in readiness for the initial showing of the Hilltop's first annual Mum Festival sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and designed to make the Hilltop the "Mum Capital of the United States."

According to announcement, the colorful parade and pageantry which will herald the opening of the festival will start promptly at 7:30 p. m., proceeding from Wheatland-av on W. Broad-st to Algonquin-av. The colorful spectacle is expected to be viewed by thousands along the line of march.

Marshalling the parade will be Russell Carter and Loren Galloway riding at the head of the parade and followed by the West High School band as the lead musical organization. Other bands in the parade will be the Dublin High School band, Hilliards High School band, West Jefferson High School band, Grove City High School band, Groveport High School band, Hamilton Township High School band, Mifflin High School band and the 44 piece Circleville American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps.

At least one of the civic organizations, the Hilltop Business Association, has announced that it will sponsor a mammoth float in the opening parade with the central theme of the float depicting "Community Cooperation." Other of the civic organizations are also expected to enter floats in the opening spectacle..

Campbell, in issuing final plans for the opening parade, referred to rules of the parade as outlined by Parade Chairman Russell Carter. He said that all buses transporting bands or other marching units will discharge their passengers in N. Oakley-av and then proceed west to Algonquin-av and park south of Broad-st, headed south on Algonquin.

All marching units will keep their groups together in Oakley-av until directed to move onto Broad-st.

Vehicles transporting candidates for the Mum Queen contest will line up in N. Wheatland-av headed south until directed to move into Broad-st. At the conclusion of the parade, all vehicles transporting the Queen candidates will turn into Brinker-av and discharge their passengers before the bandstand. All bands will turn south into Algonquin-av while other units will proceed west in Broad-st and disperse.

Campbell also pointed out that all group leaders of the various units which will participate in the parade are to report by 7 p. m. in front of the engine house at Wheatland-av and W. Broad-st for final instructions on their positions in the parade from Russell Carter or Harold Cunningham.

Selection of the Mum Queen will follow the completion of the parade at the Brinker-av and W. Broad-st bandstand when the judges will select three of the candidates from the field of nearly 50. The three candidates then will vie for the top honor of Queen with public acclaim deciding the winner of the coveted title and the remaining two candidates being declared the queen's attendants. The 1950 Mum Queen will then reign throughout the remainder of the festival, which is to continue until Saturday, Oct. 14, and also appear in the parade next year in 1951, when coronation of a new queen will be made.

To enhance the colorful display during the show, workers during this past week have been busy planting thousands of mums along the W. Broad-st frontage of the Columbus State Hospital and the State School. Merchants and residents also are cooperating to aid in the success of the venture by planting of the mums in residential areas and in window boxes which are displayed along W. Broad--st.

These many mums are scheduled to be in full bloom by next Wednesday and will add color to the busy week-end activities which will follow in the form of a baby parade; baton and rope twirling contests; bike, pet and doll parade; cake baking contest; flower show and window trimming contest featuring windows decorated with mums.

Said Campbell and his committee members today, "This is our first year with the Mum Festival. All indications now point toward a definite success of the venture and a definite assurance of its continuance in the years to come. Perhaps in time we can rival the fame of Circleville's famous Pumpkin Show."

The Hilltop Becomes A Colorful Spot

Mums, mums, hundreds of them are making their appearance throughout the community this week in preparation for the big Hilltop Mum Festival next week. Up and down the streets these pretty fall flowers are more and more in evidence and a hearty response to the planting schedule has been shown by the community.

Now if old man weather will do right by us next week it stands to reason the Hilltop is in for a big week of fun and activity.

The Kiwanis Club deserves the support of the community for their hard work and planning behind this big affair. Especial credit is due C. H. Campbell and his committee.

But a special word of praise should be given Leo McComb for his untiring efforts in developing this project. Last year he started out by giving away thousands of mums that were planted up and down Broad-st. This year he has followed through and has been the man behind the wheel of the Kiwanis mum planting committee and largely responsible for the beautiful displays you will see in evidence this next week.

Here's to good weather, and we'll be seeing you at the Mum Festival.

Council Grants Rezoning Plea; Rejects Another

Columbus City Council Monday evening in a hearing on two pleas for rezoning of residential areas in Westgate from a residential status to that of Class D for business and approved one plea and tabled the other.

Don Rice, owner of property at the northeast corner of Westmoor-av and W. Broad-st, asked council to permit rezoning of that particular area to Class D classification for a business block. Supported in his plea by Jack Shank of Shank & Saunders, Rice met opposition from another property owner in that area with the result that council tabled his plea.

Don Smith, local attorney, supported by arguments of representatives of the Sinclair Refining Co. and Malcolm Prine, presented a similar plea to council for rezoning of the Margaret Renner estate on the southwest corner of the same intersection. Smith also met opposition from a Westmoor-av resident but was more successful in his plea by council action of voting six to one for rezoning.

In another plea before council a close vote of four to three saw action taken to provide $8,600 in additional funds for the completion of Westgate Park improvements. Councilmen Henry Koontz and Joseph R. Jones joined forces in this action to win the funds for the Hilltop park.

Franklin Twp. Civic Leaders Urge 2-Mill Levy Passage

Civic leaders in various sections of Franklin-twp have banded together to promote passage of a two-mill general fire levy at the November election. At a meeting held last week at the Sullivant Avenue Airport the Franklin Township Fire Protection Committee was formed with William Maurer, 3732 Sullivant-av, selected as chairman.

On Wednesday night approximately 35 men met in the first session of a 16-week training program to train them to become volunteer fire fighters. The class will meet every Wednesday night at the Sullivant Avenue Airport.

The purpose of the two-mill levy is to provide funds for purchase of equipment, and to provide housing for three fire trucks to be operated by volunteer firemen. The proposed levy takes the place of an existing one-mill fire levy now in effect but scheduled to expire with the next December tax. The levy would be in effect for three years.

Earl Butterman, 1026 Rosemont-av, was named secretary-treasurer of the fire protection committee. Other members of the committee include Harold Derrer, 117 Derrer-rd; George Gusler, 3615 W. Broad-st; Angelo Dallio, 3265 McKinley; George Hayslip, 3577 Plainview-dr; Charles Duddie) Allen, 1709 Frank-rd; Neil Rouse, 1851 Jackson-pk. Jack Miller, 978 Midland-av; Jess Odell, 3359 Trabue-rd; Neil Campbell 1851 Jackson-pk. and Gomer Jones, 3869 Sullivant-av.

The Franklin-twp trustees have outlined a plan to locate three fire companies if funds become available as a result of passage of the levy. One company would be located in the San Margerita area, one in the Briggsdale area and one just west of the Columbus corporation line. The volunteer system would operate after the same plan now in use in Jackson, Prairie, Norwich and other townships in Franklin County.

Approval of 60 per cent of the voters will be required for passage of the levy.

West To Tangle With Aquinas In First City Loop Contest

The curtain will go up on West's 1950 City League football season tomorrow evening when the Mack Pemberton eleven faces Aquinas' highly rated Terriers on Magly Field turf before an expected overflow crowd.

Rivalry will be in the air as the Terriers invade West's well-kept football field to do battle with the Cowboys. Both squads are keyed to a high pitch for the game—even without the practice session held this week.

Hilltoppers will hardly be a "Nickname" for West in tomorrow night's fray because some 11 members of the Aquinas team, also, are residents of the West Side. Thus the yearly game is about to ink itself in the record books.

West's offensive unit is, at the moment, unchanged with Quarterback Chuck Leibensperger, Halfbacks Ronnie James and Charlie Hunter and Fullback Carmine DeMatteo. Many believe that if this quartet can run as well as they did at Lima last Friday evening, Aquinas will be in for a real battle.

The Cowboys are definitely keyed for the big game. In addition to the rivalry existing, they will be out to start on the right foot for the 1950 City League hopes. They drew the league bye last Friday and now are looking forward to six successive Friday nights of loop opposition—with no breathers!

Mack Pemberton, head coach at West, stated Tuesday that he is planning to use the same offensive team on the line also with George Crissinger and Jerry Trabue at the ends; Tackles Dave Skipper and Dick McDermitt; Guards Bill Orcutt and Spike Ringer; and Center Eddie Gleibs.

Aquinas, under the direction of its new coach, Bob McQuade, changes five men in intervals between offense and defense. The Cowboys will change all but three men—James, McDermitt and Orcutt. Jim Ealy, Mo Dobbs, Don Greer, Jake Johnson, McDermitt and Orcutt make up the defensive line combination at the moment.

Foes of Freedom Seek To Stop World Flow of Information

By CARROLL BINDER

U. S. Member, United Nations Subcommission On Freedom of the Press and Editorial Editor, Minneapolis (Minn.) Tribune

Newspaper readers and radio listeners the world over would benefit by the free flow of information throughout the world. All totalitarian governments and some governments professing to be democratic believe they would be injured by the free flow of information. Governments of that turn of mind exercise their sovereign powers to restrict the publication of news and opinion which they consider damaging to their interests. They try to prevent such information from reaching other countries as well as prevent its publication within the area they control.

These governments do not stop there. They try to make people believe that such controls make for "peace" and good relations between nations. They try to make people believe that those who insist on reporting what actually is going on instead of only what governments wish published are "warmongers," "monopolists" and "fascists." If they can persuade enough people that controls and censorships promote peace and freedom of information breeds war they will shackle the press and radio of the countries in which it is still as they have shackled the press and radio of their own countries. If they can prevail upon the United Nations to write the principles of governmental control of information into international law they will have a sanction for their interferences with the free flow of news at present found only in their own decrees.

The foes of freedom operate on two levels in the international sphere. They are trying in the United Nations assembly to convert draft treaties which were intended to increase the flow of information into limitations of freedom. In the United Nations Subcommission on Freedom of Information they try to influence world public opinion against freedom and in favor of restrictions. In both the assembly and the Subcommission British, Filipino, Dutch, Canadian, Scandinavian and other believers in freedom have worked with Americans to lower existing barriers to the free flow of information and to prevent the raising of new barriers.

Latterly the believers in freedom have had to devote so much effort to protecting such freedom as exists that it has not been possible to do much about widening the area of freedom.

Never in modern times has it been so difficult to report what is going on in so large a part of the world. Never has it been so important to know what is going on. Those of us who have assumed some responsibility for the advancement of freedom of information urgently need and solicit the support of readers and listeners everywhere for the cause we champion.

Uncle Sam Puts His Foot Down

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Despite reports circulated by hopeful bureaucrats, the nation's small independent businessmen are almost equally divided on government control of prices and wages, rationing.

A nationwide poll just completed by the National Federation of Independent Business on this issue, and others, reveals 44% for; 50% against; 6% undecided.

These thousands and thousands of ballots, sent as usual directly to Congressmen, are causing many a solon who voted these powers to the President embarrassment.

The rapid, severe price jumps have hurt small businessmen even more than consumers.

But apparently there is a reluctance to jump from the frying pan into the fire.

It is felt if government had shown competence in dealing with defense, taxation, other grave matters, there would be more confidence in government intervention in the domestic [redacted]!

Now, there seems to be one big question.

"What has the greater destructive power—the present inflationary trend which may be stopped by American common sense—or bureaucratic meddling which once started may never make sense, or never be stopped?" This attitude of small businessmen might be the most significant vote of no confidence yet registered.

On the same ballot independent businessmen voted almost unanimously for a law that will require co-operatives to pay a fair share of taxes.

The vote was 93% for; 1% against; 1% undecided. Businessmen have the support of the Treasury Department, anxious to plug loopholes which have been permitting a billion dollars of tax income to escape yearly.

This issue will take the spotlight in Congress soon. And as usual, the lobbyists opposing any action will shed copious tears over the "unwarranted attack on the farmer."

Actually, bona-fide farm co-operatives would be affected but little. Farmers themselves will be shocked at the coming disclosures which will show that abuse of the present regulations has been the highroad by which many big companies have escaped taxes.

Congressman Huber of Ohio created some discomfort the other day for Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board. Symington has just appointed a 12 member mobilization committee that will function when, and if, price controls, rationing is started.

The Congressman pointed out that labor, agriculture, industry and the public are represented on the board. But the distributive industry, employing 12.5 million, second only to manufacturing, is not represented. And the distributive industry will have to post prices, collect ration coupons, do most of the work.

But this obvious deficiency was apparently ignored.

As one newspaperman remarked, "The trouble with Congressman Huber's comment is that it makes common sense, and in Washington, the keynote is 'billions for theories, but not one cent for practical experience'."

Paternalism "practice of exercising control . . . by government, sometimes constituting an invasion of individual rights."

Wherever paternalistic governments establish bureaus, financed through taxes, or compulsory health insurance, the "will to stay sick" (or malingering) becomes popular. Where practiced, this is very corroding to the integrity and character of both the patient and physician.

Where paternalistic governments collect billions in taxes, and dole it out from political bureaus, it not only costs the sick and well, but encourages the unscrupulous and lazy to "play sick" or "stay sick."

Under such systems, medical practice is brought to a level of mediocrity. Under our incentive system, Doctors are taught to plumb the depths of scientific fact on every case, and use every possible means to cure each case.

"Paternalism"—substituted for individual relationships and personal incentive—lowers the QUALITY of medical service.

Lima Central Passing Attack Downs Cowboy Team 14-7

By Dave Miller

Although beaten, 14-7 by a pass-minded Lima Central eleven, West's Cowboys did themselves proud in their final non-league game of the season in Lima last Friday evening.

The Cowboys thus enter their league lid-lifter tomorrow night hosting to a powerful Aquinas eleven with a pre-season wonone; lost-two mark, downing Marion Harding in their season's opener, and losing to Arlington and Lima Central the past two Fridays.

The solo concentration, however, at the moment is to get Aquinas. West has been waiting for the Terriers all season long—and whether West or the Mt. Vernon-av lads finish out on top—both will know they've been in a ball game.

In last week's Lima game, the Cowboys played highly inspired ball—for the first half at least. However, they let down in the second half at times—and at the most opportune time for the Dragons to tally. To watch both squads battle, there was no doubt about it that West was the superior team, but a couple of very untimely fumbles by the Cowboys shoved the breaks towards the Red and Green's side of the plate.

Coach Mack Pemberton stepped into the West dressing room following the game and shouted: "No one has anything to be ashamed of. We all played a good ball game."

For a loss, everyone, including Pemberton and assistants, Fred Heischman and Dave Randall, seemed very happy. Huddles around players with coaches congratulating individuals on performances. To sum it up, it was almost like winning—they came that close. West was defeated but they considered it something of a moral victory to give the Dragons the game they did.

No West fan or follower had anything to be ashamed of as Pemberton told his gridders because the Cowboys were keyed to the very highest pitch previous to and throughout the game—and thus the fray in the initial three periods looked as though a duplicate of the Marion fray might occur.

West wasted no time in hitting the scoring column as they scored within the initial four minutes of the fray. Dave Lazenby kicked off to Bud Bonfiglio, who returned to the Central 20, and the Dragons, failing to gain in four plays, kicked to Earl Potts who returned back to the Cowboy 48.

Charlie Hunter lost a yard around end, but Ronnie James squirted around the weak right flanker, and leaping over the last four would-be-tacklers, was finally hauled down by safety man Les Bailey on the Central 30. Signal called Chuck Leipensperger was smeared for a 10-yard loss trying to pass, but on the next play, Leipensperger lateralled to "Lefty" Chapman who hurled a 48-yard aerial goalward, and both George Crissinger and Charlie Hunter were wide open on the five to receive it. Hunter hauled it in for a score that startled everyone from the Pemberton to the Central fans. Dave Lazenby split the uprights with his conversion attempt and West held an early 7-0 margin.

Neither team scored again until the ultimate winners put on their winning drive near the finish of the third period and inital section of the final canto. However, numerous opportunities were accorded both teams to hit paydirt.

After West scored, Lazenby kicked off to Cleo Vaughn, who returned to the Central 42. Great line-backing work by Dick McDermitt and Ronnie Grant in addition to Half Ronnie James held the Dragons to third and 10 after two pass plays failed, but Cleo Vaughn took an end-around handoff and raced to the West 45 for a first down. Consecutive runs by Bonfiglio and Tremaine moved the pigskin to the West 18 and Frank Manchott's buck at the guard post took him to the West seven and all hopes started to fade. However, Quarterback Russ Mericle's over the line shotpass was intercepted by sophomore back Ronnie Grant and Run back to the West eight—to thwart Lima's drive.

West got jittery with the ball and decided to punt on third down, where Trabue's rather weak boot sailed out of bounds on the West 31.

After the Dragons received the ball at this opportune spot, they still couldn't score, and after losing 13 yards on an attempted pass play, they punted out on the West 21. Ends Jim Ealy and Jake Johnson in addition to McDermitt and Bill Orcutt were the main troublers to Lima's offensive hopes on this series of plays. The Cowboys couldn't move, and Trabue again was forced to punt, this time to Jack Tremaine, who returned the pigskin down the sidelines to the West 12. At this point the West defensive wall really proved itself—holding Lima without scoring on seven downs—all within the West five yard stripe. After the punt return to the 12, Tremaine went to the four, where for seven downs West held the Dragons to a total of two yards! The line play of Spike Ringer, Mo Dobbs, McDermitt, Orcutt and Ealy was especially outstanding at this point.

However, after knocking on the touchdown twice, and both times failing, the Dragons would not give in as Marion seemingly did while playing West three weeks ago.

The Seraph Pope-coached eleven wasted no time in the second half as they took advantage of a West bobble opening the period and drove, in only six plays, to tie the score.

Bob Bassitt kicked off to Charlie Hunter, who couldn't quite hold onto the ball, and when hit on the 20, fumbled with Jack Neese recovering for the Dragons—thus setting up their initial score of the evening. Quarterback Mericle plunged to the 18, and two consecutive off-tackle bursts by Bonfiglio gave the host team a first down on the Cowboy 9.

From here, the same Bonfiglio, a short 5-7, 180-pound halfback, raced through the middle and dove over for the score. Bassitt wasted no time in knotting the score at 7-all with his successful conversion.

Nothing resulted in the remainder of the third period, but the Red and Green's winning TD was scored within 2:10 of the opening section of the final quarter. Dick Briggs of the Cowboys had intercepted a stray Lima aerial and ran it back to the West 14. Ronnie James, Chapman and Carmine DeMatteo failed in three running plays and Trabue booted to Bonfiglio, who returned to the West 46. Bonfiglio raced up the middle of the West team with Dick Briggs the lone player between him and the goal—and instead of trying to go around Briggs, Bonfiglio put his head down and ran right at him. Briggs did the same in attempting to make the tackle—the resulting impact could be heard all over the stadium.

After that, the Dragons drove for the winning touchdown of the evening. Bob Nielson went to the 12, and Halfback Wilson skirted the left end and dove over from the three for the winning score of the night. Bassitt assured a possible tie by kicking the conversion.

"A Man Told Me"

Just this week a man came in and said, "If I wear the waistband of my trousers at the proper place, and they are comfortable with a belt, they are too long, they break too much over my shoe and wear through at the heels where I walk on them, BUT if I have them cut off at the bottom then they do not fit through the crotch and seat. If I pull them up where they are the proper length and fit through the seat then the waistband is up near my chest. What is the trouble?"

That's not a "sixty-four dollar" question. The answer is easy—his britches were not made for HIM. They are a pair of possibly hundreds all cut in a block from a standard pattern for the AVERAGE man.

In our opinion no man is AVERAGE. Each is an individual and we tailor each pair of pants to the wearer's individual measurements from his choice of over four hundred woolens. He can have the style pockets he likes, any choice of belt straps or tunnels, seat, knee and bottom sizes—in short he names it—we make it at Bendure Tailoring Co., 2767 W. Broad at Hague. SPORT LANTS

By Dave Miller

West will renew its rivalry with powerful Aquinas tomorrow evening at Magly Field in what should be a real battle between two offensively-minded teams.

It will be the initial City League contest for the Cowboys while the Terriers will be seeking their second successive win in loop play after a 40-12 victory over defending champion, Central on the latter's field.

A bitter rivalry yearly exists between West and Aquinas mainly due to the fact that most of the Aquinas lads are residents of the Hilltop and West High players and Aquinas residents are friends 364 days of the year, with the other day occurring tomorrow night at Magly Field when the two fine-spirited ball clubs will be clashing.

Since 1945, West has held an edge over the Terriers in games played since then, with the Cowboys winning three and Aquinas, two. In 1945, West's lone defeat when they were co-champs with East was a 21-14 setback by the Terriers; and in 1946 the Cowboys edged past the Mt. Vernon Avenue school, 6-0; In West's two unbeaten years, 1947 and 1948, they easily downed the Terriers, 21-0 and 33-0, respectively. Last season's battle went to Aquinas in the two squad's final game of the year, 19-7.

Aquinas' footballers are highly regarded at West, especially with passer Russ Reckling and receivers Johnny Masdea, Mary Sailie and Paul Bean in addition to the fleet-footed Jack Schmidt, who is quickly taking the place of last year's ace halfback, Jack Kearns.

The game is expected to be a free-scoring affair with both squads having top-flight backfielders. However, in addition, many passes will probably be sent skyward in those 48 minutes of play at Magly Field tomorrow night.

From last year's Aquinas-West tussle, a total of 14 Terrier footballers and seven West gridders will be returning and eligible for another meet tomorrow evening.

Aquinas returnees include Ends John Masdea and Bob Lisska; Tackles Jack Boggs, Ben Nye, Andy Watkeys, and Jack Verhoff; Guards Al Pierano and Bob Myers; Center Dick Fogo; and Backs Russ Reckling, Bob Mangan, Ronnie Carver, Tony Eramo and Jack Schmidt.

Cowboys returning for another year of City League action who saw service in last year's finale, include End George Crissinger; Tackle Dick McDermitt; Guards Spike Ringer and Dave Lazenby; and Backs Jerry Johnson, Ronnie James, Charlie Hunter and Carmine DeMatteo.

In all, the Terriers, under new coach, Bob McQuade, had 18 returning monogram men for this year's services while West had seven returnees. West is hoping that if they can get their pass defense set up well enough this week they can give the highly-touted Terriers quite a game. The chips are down starting tomorrow evening around eight o'clock.

SHORT BITS: West's defensive team certainly turned in some sparkling performances in their game at Lima Central. Dick Briggs was a constant thorn in the side of the Dragons while Ronnie James, who played the entire game and also acting as captain, was outstanding both on offense and defense. West's defensive line, headed by McDermmitt, Orcutt, Dobbs, Ringer, Chapman, Ealy and Johnson is rapidly improving and the Cowboy coaches believe they have solved one of their biggest headaches . . . West's lone touchdown, the 48-yard aerial from Chapmen

London Wins Over Hilliards

By Richard Hansen

London served notice to the Mid-Six rivals that they are a rough competitor. Hilliards was well convinced with a 39-7 loss on their own field last Friday. It was Hilliards' first loss of the season and the third win for the London team.

Hilliards started early in the game, scoring in the first few minutes of the first quarter. London then took over with a vengeance, scoring two T.D.'s. Bob Miller, John Duffy, Dave Wilson and Tom Bopely were London

The longest run of the game was 58 yards to a score, aided by some beautiful blocking.

After the first period the Hilliards boys were kept in check by the invading London team.

Hilliards	7	0	0	0	7

to Hunter, surprised everyone, including the two boys. After Hunter snared the ball and raced over, Chapman, the happiest guy on the field, ran down field and quickly shook Hunter's hand . . . There were no serious injuries following the rather roughly played fracas—that is as far as West was concerned. It's a known fact by now that Guard Bill Orcutt, without a doubt the roughest of the West linesmen, gave a "couple Lima guys a hard way to go," as one West player put it following the game.

Coach George Williams, head basketball and baseball coach at West, has already begun tryouts for the cage squad, with a total of about 65 reporting. Official practice will begin after the end of the present football season (Nov. 10). Nine members of the football team are expected to see action this year if everything goes allright . . One of the most promising cage players is six foot three inch Bob Smith, a senior transfer student from Miami, Fla. Bob is very agile, and has a huge stretch, which aids him in rebounding and, scoring under the bucket . . . West High's band will salute the numerous clubs at West in their halftime show tomorrow evening. In addition to the usual block "W" for West and "A" for Aquinas, they will form PTA (Parent Teachers' Association; GAA (Girls' Athletic Association; Hi-Y, and a triangle for the Triangle Club.

21 Prizes In Doll, Pet, Bike Parade Contest

Mom and Pop shouldn't be too surprised at Johnny or Susie's sudden extraordinary interest in dolls, bikes and other pets within this next week. It will be nothing to worry about if the bike suddenly blossoms in a new paint job, along with other frilly decorations, or the pet dog or cat gets a bath and brushing, the doll a new dress, or other pets being adorned in garments strange to them. The kids are just getting all set for the doll, pet and bike parade scheduled for Saturday afternoon at the Hilltop Mum Festival.

The first 25 youngsters to make entries in the Doll, Pet and Bike Parade will be awarded passes to the Rivoli Theater for Oct. 21 as a compliment of George Pekras, owner of the theater. The offer was made today in order to spur entries into the event, which has been scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 14.

The youngsters have their eyes on those cash prizes and blue ribbons which are to be awarded to the top winners in each of seven classes eligible to compete in the parade and contest, according to Dr. R. J. Miller and Harold Cunningham who are chairmen of the event which is sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Prizes will be offered for the best decorated doll buggy; best decorated girl's bicycle; best decorated boy's bicycle; largest pet; smallest pet; most unique pet, and best looking dog.

Chairmen of the event, this week, pointed out that many of the youngsters in the community who have indicated a desire to enter the parade and compete for the prizes of $3, $2 and $1 in each of the classes have not as yet filed their entry blanks and that these entry blanks must be mailed or delivered to the Hilltop Record office before Oct. 10, in order to be eligible.

Earlier this week the chairmen announced the judges who will preside over the parade and contest on Saturday, Oct. 14. They are: Mrs. R. J. Miller, Mrs. Noble L. Allen and Mrs. Lou Saunders for dolls and buggies; Burt Ray for the bicycle division and Thomas Justice of the humane society as judge of the pets.

The parade is scheduled to begin at 2:30 p. m. Oct. 14 with the bicycle entries forming at the West Broad Street School and dolls and pets entries forming at the Westgate Masonic Temple on W. Broad-st. The parade will proceed west on Broad-st to the intersection of Brinker-av where judging will take place.

Officials of the mum festival expressed a desire that every youngster compete in this particular parade and contest in order that the closing event of the affair be just as exciting and interesting as those which will precede it.

Chairman of the event reiterated the necessity of filing an entry form for the parade and contest. This form can be found on page 2 of today's Hilltop Record.

Old Post Cards Sent 42 Years Ago Returned

Colored post cards, written to Milt Hain's brother Jim, 113 Whitethorne-av, back in the spring of 1908 by Earl C. Reed, science instructor at West High School, were returned to Mr. Reed this week.

It happened this way. Following the death of Mr. Hain's mother they were found among Mrs. Hain's effects, and Milt forwarded the cards of 1908 vintage to the original author. Three of them were post-dated in this year from the Duvall, O. post office and were undoubtedly used by the Hains in their kaleidoscope of that era.

Milt, in his note to Mr. Reed, refers to Mr. Reeds' athletic prowess in that day, and adds, "Bet you can't pole vault like you used to at Lithopolis Field Day, etc."

Mr. Reed was an athlete of no mean ability, and has continued to take an active interest in all lines of current sports.

His particular interest at present, is in horses—and he owns and trains some of the best horse and pony flesh in the country.

Mother, Daughter Entry Enlivens Baby Parade Contest

Cindy Woodland

It was a mother and daughter entry made during this past week that has further livened interest in the forthcoming mum festival scheduled for Oct. 11, 12, 13 and 14. The mother, Virginia Woodland, 2429½ W. Broad-st, is listed as a competitor in the mum queen contest for next Wednesday night and daughter, Cindy, aged 3, the younger half of the combination entry will make her bid for honors in the baby parade competition on Friday.

Cindy is already up to her ears in mums, having a mum introduced this year nationally by Rosebud Floral Co. of 351 N. Burgess-av, named Cindy in her honor. The newly named mum was on display last fall at Columbus City Hall and is a brilliant red with a large yellow center. Cindy likewise is no novice as a competitor after having also been a runner-up in the Modern Romance baby contest a year ago.

Mrs. Lou Rausch, 3051 Palmetto, chairman of the Kiwanikwe committee in charge of the baby parade and show reports however that Cindy is not the only entry in the contest and that other Hilltop mothers are also grooming their youngsters for the competition. To date, however, there have been but few entries received, leaving the field wide open for new entries and an opportunity of winning the first prize ribbon, the cash award and a beautiful 8x10 photograph of the winning youngsters in each division.

Mrs. Rausch urged that all mothers who are contemplating entering their children in any of the three divisions get their entry blanks filed immediately. She pointed out that Monday, Oct. 9, is the final deadline date for filing of entries in the competition and that even though a candidate does not receive the first place award in each of the divisions it would receive a consolation award.

Committee workers in charge of the baby parade and competition, in commenting on the small number of entries thus far observed that the lack of entries might be attributed to a reluctance on the part of mothers to take their youngsters out in weather that might be inclement. On this score the committee hastened to advise all mothers that should bad weather interfere with the contest that it would be held indoors.

The parade is scheduled to begin at 3 p. m. Friday afternoon and will form at the West Gate Masonic Temple on W. Broad-st and proceed west on Broad-st to Schmelzer's Restaurant where the judging will take place.

Judges for the baby parade as announced this week by the committee in charge will be Sally Flowers and Tom Gleba of WLW-C Television with another judge yet to be named.

The three divisions in which entries may be made are, boy and girl babies from the age of six months to one year; boy and girl babies from one to three years of age and a division for twins within the age group of one to five years.

In the six months to one year group two prizes are to be awarded with a girl to be selected as "Miss Personality" and a boy as "Master Personality". The "Daintiest Girl" and the "Most Robust Boy" will be selected from the next age group of one to three years, and in the twin department the most identical twin boys and the most identical twin girls will receive prizes, as well as a twin boy and girl combination.

A prize will also be given for the best decorated buggy or taylor-tot.

The baby parade committee is composed of Mrs. Lou Rausch, 3051 Palmetto; Mrs. Phil V. Stout, 816 Binns-blvd; Mrs. Edward Johnson, N. Hague-av, and Mrs. Evelyn Shroyer, 2553 W. Broad-st.

Rome Church Clears Debts On Parsonage

Completely clearing the two-year-old parsonage of debt, a special service will be held at Columbia Heights Methodist Church in New Rome during the worship hour this Sunday morning when Mrs. I. A. Thompson, treasurer of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, will present a check for $2,265 to Henry Warner, chairman of the parsonage committee and chairman of the church building fund.

This check given by the WSCS will complete repayment of a $6,500 loan to the parsonage fund from the church building fund and will mark a rapid advance for the church.

The two-story, brick-front parsonage has been paid for in record time through the cooperation and support of all church members and friends and through the special donations from the WSCS. Dedication and open house at the $16,000 parsonage were held last April, with Bishop Hazen G. Werner and Dr. John Taylor Alton, district superintendent, presiding. Rev. Elwood L. Rose is in his sixth year as pastor of the church.

Looking Ahead with J. W. WORREL

Life is an exacting business. While we are healthy and vigorous, we are sorely tempted to live from day to day and wait for tomorrow's trouble to turn up. On the other hand, if we can plan for tomorrow, if we can safeguard old age, if we can mitigate the disaster of death, how much easier become the problems of today. That's exactly what Life Assurance does for its policyholders. You can solve many of tomorrow's problems by becoming a policyholder of the Sun Life of Canada, thus giving yourself contentment today.

WARREN AVENUE CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
TEMPORARY PLACE OF WORSHIP — WEST BROAD SCHOOL
Corner West Broad and Hague Avenue
9:30—Sunday School Rally. Guest speaker, Dr. Albert Harper, Kansas City, Mo.
10:45—Topic: "The Trial of Moses."
7:30—Topic: "Hell Fenced In."

There's a town in one of our states that hundreds of American veterans remember . . .

A big train stopped there at four in the morning, and on it were always a few service men who had to "lay-over" until the connecting train came through. And that lay-over didn't sound pleasant on cold winter mornings.

Yet it was.

For every man in uniform who stepped off that train was greeted, and taken to a comfortable home where breakfast was waiting on the stove. There was no charge—ever.

"Why did you do this?" the astounded soldier or sailor would ask.

And his host would smile.

"The church people in this town meet you fellows every night this train comes in . . ."

That's a fair sample of the spirit found in the community churches of today. They are filled with people who gather every Sunday to receive guidance and counsel.

On weekdays, these people practice what is preached.

Perhaps you are looking for such a church. It's not far away. It may be in your block. Certainly, it's in your neighborhood. And in it, you'll find the type of hospitality and friendliness that came from one church in that one town that the service men remember.

That's the town where the people met the train . . .

Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares.

Adventists Plan Third Home Visitation Day

Seventh-Day Adventist Church members will participate Saturday, Oct. 7, for the third time this year in the denomination's worldwide "visit your neighbor" project, planned to make friendly contact with ten million homes.

Pastor R. T. Minesinger reported that the two former occasions had been "most enjoyable and helpful." The two previous "home visitation days" took place on Mar. 4 and June 3. Several million special leaflets were distributed throughout North America during these campaigns. "We have found many people," Pastor Minesinger said, "both church members and those who have no church affiliations, who are glad for a word of spiritual encouragement and hope."

Plans are being made for neighborhood Bible schools, for the showing of Bible films, and through the church's Dorcas Welfare Society, to give material aid to those found in sickness or in need.

Hilltonia EUB Church Planning Building's Finish

Since January 1949 members of the Hilltonia Evangelical United Brethren Church, Columbian and Springmont-av, have been occupying the basement unit of their uncompleted new stone church as a place of worship. The arrangement is proving to meet needs of the growing congregation and trustees are now formulating plans to complete the building by October, 1953.

These plans were revealed at a recent meeting of the finance committee while arranging for the observance of the 24th anniversary of the church Oct. 22.

H. L. Pennell, president of the board of trustees, is chairman of the anniversary day program, G. F. Mugrage, publicity chairman, Mrs. Ursula Roberts, in charge of invitations and Mrs. Gale Hamilton heads the reception committee.

Lutheran Women To Convene This Friday

All local women who are members of the United Lutheran Churches are invited to the annual all-day meeting of the League of United Lutheran Church Women which will be held Friday, Oct. 6, at 10:30 a. m. in Hilltop Lutheran Church. The morning session will be devoted to sewing on towels for the Lutheran Hospice and the student center. Members are asked to bring their own thimbles and needles.

A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon, with members furnishing a covered dish and their own table service. Hostesses will be the Tens Wagner Missionary and Aid Society, assisted by other members of Hilltop Lutheran.

The afternoon meeting includes a business session and an educational film. Mrs. Joseph O'Morrow will lead the devotions.

Youth Fellowship Interest Mounts At Burgess EUB

This will be an important meeting with election of new officers for the society to be held.

Dr. Whitwell again speaks to the youth group and Jeanette Smith will be the leader and will be assisted by Mrs. Mary Ellan Ryerson.

BIBLE COMMENT

Leaders, Unlike Achan of Israel, Must Be Righteous

A LEADER'S contribution to the rise or fall of a nation cannot be underestimated. Achan of Israel is a striking example. A shrewd leader of Israel, Achan succumbed to temptation in the midst of a great victory and greedily stole some of the spoils of his triumph.

Later he confessed his wrongdoing. And for coveting 200 shekels of silver and a wedge of gold, Achan was stoned and burned alive. The people of Israel were merciless, believing that the strength of their nation was weakened and endangered by the extent to which any individual set his personal gain or interest above the safety and welfare of the whole.

The leaders of modern-day nations are not liable to receive such harsh punishment for acts of plunder. But they might well take a lesson from ancient Israel, which, like present-day European nations, was imperiled by surrounding countries.

The besetting sin of the Israelites was idolatry. This was not only a temptation to follow the practices of neighboring peoples; it was a distinct moral decline.

There are idolatries in our American life as gross and perverting as those to which the faithless of Israel turned. Some make a god of money, some of power, some of pleasure.

Our leaders must, by living an exemplary life, guide us along righteous paths. They must use their influence to point out that the way to success in any endeavor is to love God with all the soul, mind and strength.

Unless the ideals of our leaders are mirrored in their personal lives, they cannot justly face the leaders of enemy nations.

Nor can the people of this nation tolerate an Achan in their midst; they must be able to turn to their leaders for guidance.

Mrs. Joseph Buehler, 233 S. Eureka-av, is still another Hilltop lady who hasn't allowed her physical handicap to hamper her too much. Unable to walk for twenty years, she does quite well in a wheelchair, for which a special ramp has been built from her back door to her back yard.

One of my most dependable scouts, "Sandy" Sanford, told me about Mrs. Buehler and I'm so glad she did. Before she was stricken with polio, Mrs. Buehler was an employee of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. and had begun training to become an instructor of the Burroughs Business School. She is a member of Courage, Incorporated and the recently-organized local polio club. Her husband is Lt. Joseph Buehler, a city fireman.

Mrs. Buehler entertains her friends in her back yard, which is full of flowers and birds and squirrels. She enjoys doing telephone survey work. The Buehlers have one daughter and a grandson, also a foster daughter who lives with them. Their daughter is the wife of a naval officer and is now living on Guam. Some day I'm sure Mrs. B. will go places, and under her own steam. She has that kind of courage.

So you're a failure! You spent a few months or years working half-heartedly toward making that dream come true. Now you're going to wallow in self-pity and say to anyone you will listen that the world's agin you. Happy wallowing!

Mrs. Robert L. Clark, 115 Dana-av, asked me to ask you if you have jigsaw puzzles, comic books and phonograph records you'd care to give to shutins who would be happy to get them. If you will call her (Re. 4550) she will call for and distribute the articles. She told me about 11-year-old Esther ("Sugar") Hooper, of Briggsdale, who is a rheumatic fever victim. Sugar likes to sew, and could make doll clothes if you'd care to send her some scraps of material. Mrs. Clark spends much of her time visiting shutins, and would like to interest other West Siders in doing the same.

Somewhere, on one of the roads wandering along for miles north from W. Broad-st, is a large field of mums. The last few years we have gone out to look and to buy, but now we can't find it. I was sure it is on Roberts-rd but the driver of the family bus was as sure it is on N. Hague-av. We went as far as Dublin and it seemed we were on all the roads but we didn't find it. It is along the road, close to a large farmhouse.

If you would enjoy a Sunday afternoon drive out of town, you might try the roads mentioned above. There are wonderful sights and smells along all of them, October smells; wood smoke, apples, and applebutter in the making. There are fields of corn shocks, goldenrod mixed with ironweed and leaves beginning to turn yellow and red. And maybe you can find that elusive mum garden for me.

Typographical errors can be hilariously funny (that is, unless it's YOUR stuff they happen in). Here is an example. If you don't think it's funny just blame Faye Walker for she is the one who told me. She and I think it is funny, anyway.

(A poet tore open the paper which was to carry his masterpiece. When he saw it he almost collapsed. His wife, seeing the anguish on his face, asked what was wrong. He said wildly, "They can't DO this to me," but they had! He had written a poem he was sure would echo and re-echo down the well-known corridors of time and here they had ruined it. The poem contained the line "My son, my pigmy counterpart." It came out "My son, my pig, my counterpart." Another I read some time ago was supposed to read "How did we get into this mess," and it actually read: "How did we get into this, mess."

"Dilly Dally" Wins Acclaim Of Musicians

"Dilly Dally," piano composition by Beverly Hause, of Montpelier, O., granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kirchner, 566 Columbian-av, has been rated superior by Dr. Norman Phelps, head of the theory department of Ohio State University's School of Music.

The number entered in the Ohio State Composition Contest was described by Dr. Phelps as having variety within unity. The character of the material is fully in accord with the title and it is a pleasant, sensible and pianistic work."

Miss Hause, a sophomore at Montpelier High School, has been invited to file a copy of the work with the Ohio Music Education Association for display at national music conferences.

Miss Hause, whose major instrument is piano, is also principal clarinetist of the Montpelier High School Band. She has just spent her second summer as a student at the National Music Camp, Interlochen, Mich.

New Seating Plan Formed At West High

By Myron T. Seifert

When the Irish Terriers tangle with West High Cowboys tomorrow night on Magly Field, football patrons and students alike will be directed to special sections, I. F. Young, principal, said today.

Middle three sections of the upper tier of the stadium will be reserved for adults; and the same three sections in the lower half will be filled with the student cheering section, Mr. Young said.

This seating arrangement is an innovation at Magly Field, and is an experiment designed to accommodate both the football going public and the student body.

It is estimated that the upper three middle sections will accommodate almost 1000 adults, and the lower sections an additional thousand.

Junior high and elementary students will sit on the north and south ends of the stadium.

Visiting team fans will sit on the east bleachers as they have done before.

The homogeneous grouping will greatly facilitate many problems with which West High authorities are grappling, Mr. Young said.

It is suggested that both groups be in their sections one-half hour before the game if they hope to be at the mid-field position to get a good view of the game.

The Low Down On the High Ridgers

By One of Them

Several weeks ago after I gave my description on how to skate I overheard remarks that golf would be a good subject to write on. But since I'm pretty dumb about the game, except players mutter as they putter, and that they call out "fore" when maybe they're just on their third shot, you can see I couldn't give any instructions on the game.

However, since this is the "bowling" season, and after seeing R. J. HUNTZINGER and CARL HUGHES go into their houses with screaming muscles and blistered dispositions, I decided to find out what was behind bowling.

The oft repeated word that bowling is a form of violent exercise, and therefore is good for you, was excluded when it was discovered that bowling is usually suffered in an atmosphere that is composed of 76 per cent cigarette smoke; three per cent pipe smoke; 10 per cent slang, etc.; eight per cent chalk dust; and three per cent "air".

MR. DRUAR told me that bowling got its start during the Spanish Inquisition when hardy souls decided to invent a pastime that could prepare them for the tortures of the rack. Interest lagged for a time but picked up when men, cocky persons that they are, discovered that it was an amusement by which they could show just how much physical punishment they could stand without flinching.

McWILLIAMS claims it was developed as a subterfuge that would permit a man to frequent a pool room and still not get into trouble at home. This, in turn caused its present popularity with WOMEN who had always wanted to go to pool rooms anyway.

One night W. R. BURLEY measured the bowling alley and learned it has the same width as a night club dance floor, but about four times as long. The bowler, as I take it, stands at one end; and the pins at the other —both "before" and "after" bowling.

Along each side of the alley is a trough or "gutter" into which the ball rolls with amazing frequency. According to ALTON SMITH, a set of humps and grooves is provided half way down the alley to facilitate this maneuver.

Behind the pins is a young fellow called a pin boy; but is more frequently called other things. He places ten wooden bottles in a V-formation with the point aimed at you, so that you could not hit all of them with anything less than a tank.

M. A. NEFF tells me that the pins—as the bottles are called—are stuck down with chewing gum furnished by the pin boy. At some alleys, the proprietor furnishes glue—but most pin boys prefer chewing gum even if they have to furnish it themselves (pin boys being like that).

Since chewing gum is somewhat elastic, it allows the pin to lean over and defy all the laws of nature before returning to an upright position after being struck by the bowling ball.

The ball itself weighs so much that throwing it around will wear down the most stalwart of men; yet light enough that you are ashamed to admit you can't lift it after a couple hours of play.

J. VINCENT says there is no truth in the rumor that pin boys pour lead into the holes in the ball and gradually increase the weight!

JACK FISHER says bowling balls are equipped with finger traps. These traps are in the form of holes that are either too big or too small for your fingers.

EARL COSGROVE'S ball sometimes seems to be equipped with an automatic device that reduces the size of his thumb hole just as he releases it. This adds spice to his opposite team because they like to see him roll down the alley after his ball. For the benefit of bowlers who have lost a finger in one of these incidents, some balls are equipped with only two holes, thus giving bowlers a little more chance to come out uninjured.

HAROLD WATTS suffered heavy casualties for a while because he didn't realize that pin boys were staying after work to wax the alleys, with the result that nine out of ten bowlers fell on their faces without ever having pitched a ball.

In a brilliant counter-attack, however, bowlers started wearing rubber-soled shoes. This worked for a time until the pin boys began dropping spots of glue in various places on the slippery surface. This caused the bowler's shoe to stop very suddenly—more suddenly, in fact than the rest of himself. NOW bowlers wear one leather soled shoe and one rubber soled shoe with the net result that whether the approach is slippery or sticky, one foot stops, and the other doesn't.

The first thing to do on your arrival at the bowling alley is to charge feverishly around looking for a ball that suits you. (It is well for TOM LANE to get there early because he devotes from five to 15 minutes to the task of extricating his fingers from the wrong ball.) If by chance you find one that suits you, someone will come along and say it is his personal ball he won selling subscriptions to The HILLTOP RECORD. Bowing with all apologies, you will then search until you find another one which will do.

It is customary at this point to lug the ball all around the establishment waiting for the time to start bowling. Long before this, however, the confounded thing will get so heavy, you'll put it down on a bench for a moment. If you are smart, you will immediately start looking for another ball, because the proprietor retains a group of employees who go around looking for persons who find balls to suit them, in order that they may be hidden for the duration of the evening.

Finally, disgusted with this bad beginning, you just take any ball and stalk over to the alley. Arriving there, you then proceed to explain to anyone and everyone who happens to be nearby that you haven't bowled for 10 years; you forgot your bowling shoes; and your shirt is too tight, anyway.

Tell them also that you used to bowl about 190 like TOM BAIR, or perhaps it would be better to make it 220. The figures really don't make any difference, because no one will be paying any attention to you anyhow—everyone being busy explaining how long it's been since he bowled. The frequent repetition of a high score you "used to make" has the advantage, that after a while you believe it yourself. Anyway, it makes you feel better when you bowl an average of 85.

Watch your first teammate approach the alley, swing the ball around, and finally let it go in the general direction of the pins. When PHIL ROOT turns around and grins sheepishly after having missed them completely, be sure to say something constructive like "tough luck, old boy", because no doubt you'll do the same thing.

Now it is YOUR turn. Don't be nervous. Take your ball and prepare for the big moment. First, wipe your hands on the dirty towel that is hanging on the post. Then stick your thumb, and all your fingers if you want to, in the top of the chalk cone on top of the post.

Despite lengthy investigation we haven't been able to ascertain what good this does, because like JACK BOWIN, we all wipe the chalk off on our hips. However you're paying for the privilege, so you might just as well. Then putting on a determined look, you stalk over to the alley, put your cigarette in the ash tray there and take your stance.

(Next week, folks, we'll conclude our instructions on the fine art of bowling. Stance, delivery, scoring, etiquette, and first aid will be discussed.

It's time to think about planning refreshments for those Hallowe'en revelers. Your baker can supply a variety of tempting doughnuts which fit in perfectly with any Hallowe'en party theme. Glazed, frosted, spiced, or plain doughnuts are an excellent accompaniment to hot apple cider or hot chocolate. An unusual way to serve the doughnuts is to put three or four long skewers into a grapefruit, then hang half a dozen "sinkers" on each skewer.

Medical Progress vs. Political Medicine

The Record today carries a special message from the doctors of America calling attention to the subject of political medicine. This message is appearing in nearly every paper in the country.

American medicine, which has led the world in medical advances, and which has helped to make this the healthiest, strongest nation on the globe, has been made the first major objective of certain ambitious men in Washington who would make the American people follow in the footsteps of the people of England who have found many phases of socialized medicine much against their liking.

We believe hospitalization and medical insurance will provide better hospital and medical care and will result in strengthening rather than weakening our nation. It has long been too easy a matter to fall back on the government for support of this and that program. Government operation of any program is both expensive and inefficient.

The medical men of America are to be congratulated on their efforts at trying to preserve the American system of free enterprise. The people will do well to back them up.

And we take especial notice of the fact that the doctors are awakening to need of looking after their public relations Until they are willing to stand up and fight for their cause they cannot expect the public to do so for them.

Hilltop and West Side Should Have Drivers' License Agency

If you have had a birthday since Sept. 1 you should have a new auto driver's license. The license is thereafter good for three years.

But if you want this license you must at present go all the way down town to get it. Heretofore the yearly issuance of the license was a project of the local Kiwanis Club and they rendered service to the community by making them available right here in this neighborhood.

The state can render a distinct service to the 75,000 or more people of this section of the city and county by appointing a local deputy registrar with the authority to sell licenses, both the driver's permits and auto tags, the year around. We sincerely hope the powers that be will find it possible to do so very soon.

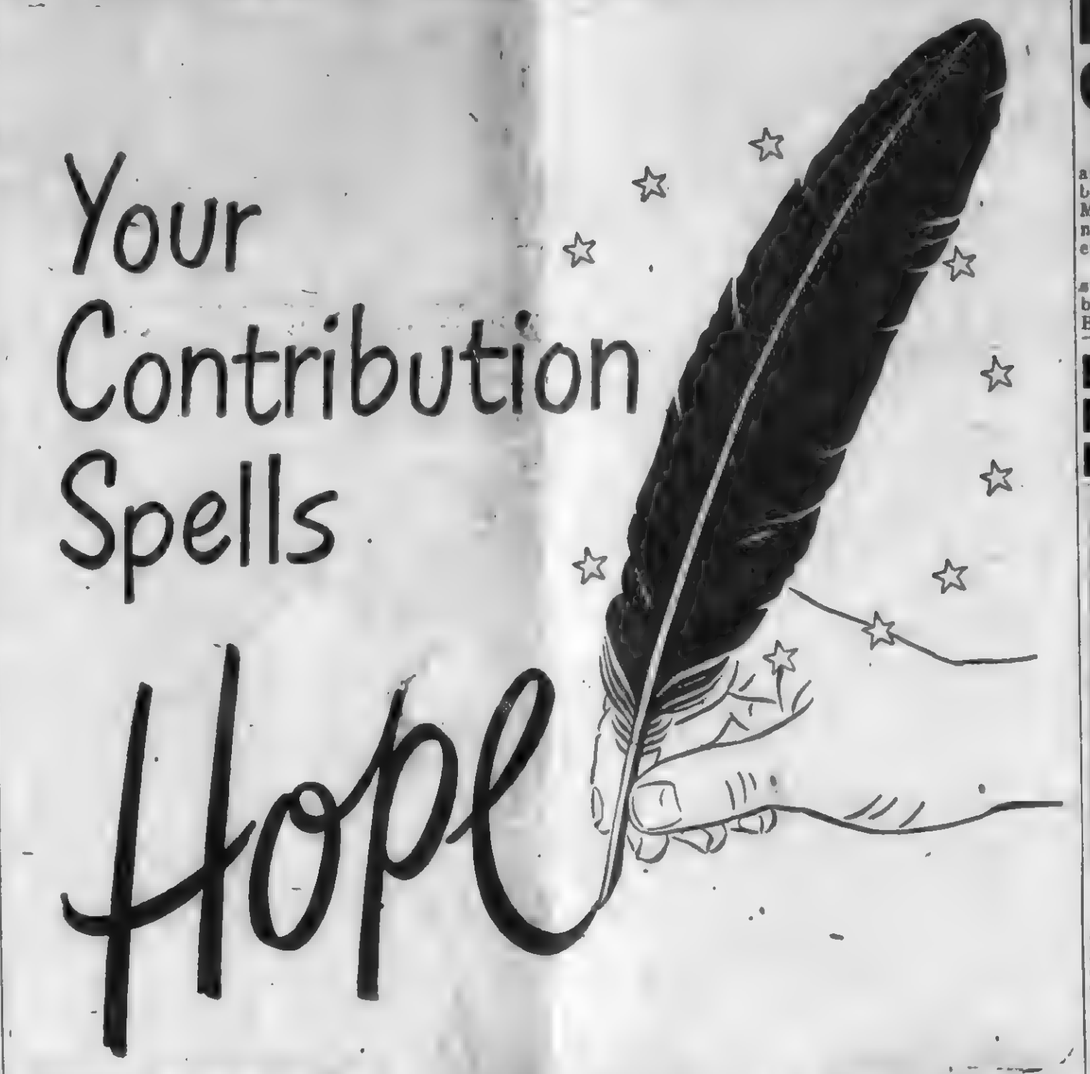
Franklin Twp. 2-Mill Levy Gains Support

A special issues ballot of more than passing interest to voters of Franklin Twp. at the Nov. 7 election is a two-mill current expense levy. This levy if approved by 60 per cent of the voters will provide funds for setting up volunteer fire companies in three sections of the township.



Actively promoting the passage of this levy is the Franklin Twp. Fire Protection Committee with William Maurer, 3732 Sullivant-av, as chairman.

Maurer points out that actually only one additional mill is being asked. One mill takes the place of an already existing mill that is due to expire on the 1950 tax duplicate. The new levy is for a three year period.

Township officials explained that the fire protection program planned for Franklin Twp. would be set up on a basis similar to those already in operation in other townships in the county. Overall administration of the program would be in the hands of a full-time fire chief with assistants responsible for each of the three companies.

The proposed plan has been approved by the Ohio Inspection Bureau and the state fire marshall's office as being adequate fire protection.

The name of C. Carlton Hartley, 1370 Wilson-rd, publisher of the Hilltop Record, has been added to the committee promoting passage of the proposed two-mill levy.

Boy 5, Is Unhurt Following Mishap At Local School

A bruised hand was the extent of injury to five-year-old Gerald Maupin, son of Mrs. Anna Maupin, 667 S. Oakley-av Monday when he ran into the side of an auto in front of the John Burroughs Elementary School.

School officials pointed out that reports that the youngster had been run down by a car were untrue and said that the first grade youngster had darted from the curb into Sullivant-av and ran into a car that was at a standstill.

Cruisermen called by school officials took the boy to his home and he returned to his classes Tuesday morning.

More Hilltop Women To Aid '50 Community Fund Drive

Mrs. Earl Prosser

Mrs. Thomas Kenney

Tomorrow the drive begins!

The 1950 Community Chest Fund drive here on the Hilltop opens in full blast tomorrow and the housewives of the community are fully prepared to do their share in campaigning for a worthy and just cause.

Typical of these homemakers of this area who are lending their time and effort to the support of the drive are three more majors named his week by West Side Chairman Sarabel Henderson.

Active tomorrow in marshalling their captains and workers in an all-out effort will be Mrs. W. Earl Prosser of 392 S. Roys-av who is new to the Hilltop area having moved here last January from Providence, R. I. She is a Beta Sigma Phi and an active worker in the Methodist church along with her husband who is an executive director of Ohio's Citizen Council for Health and Welfare. Besides her interest in the Community Chest drive, Mrs. Prosser is also fond of flowers as her hobby.

Mrs. H. Benedict of 474 Larcomb is another of the Hilltop majors. While her husband is active in milk transportation business, she too finds interest in the DCCW, the Daughters of Isabella, the Agona Auxiliary and the St. Raphael Guild 4 of St. Aloysius Church. Although a major portion of her work is devoted to those activities named Mrs. Benedict fully realizes the worth of the Community [illegible] and unhesitatingly accepted the appointment to work for its benefit.

Third major enlisted this past week by Chairman Henderson is another Hilltop woman of many interests who still finds time in a busy schedule to aid the Community Chest Drive this year.

Mrs. Thomas E. Kenney, 147 S. Eureka-av, is a past president of St. Aloysius PTA, is now Central Deanery chairman of the PTA for the DCCW and active in Cub Scout and Boy Scout work. Her husband, too, is engaged in the transportation business.

Two report meetings will be held next week in the Community Chest campaign for $1,418,868.

First reports will be made at noon Tuesday, Oct. 17. This has been termed "Workers' Day" and will honor the men and women who are giving their time and efforts to raising money for the support of most of the local private health and welfare agencies [illegible]

HBA Schedules Hallowe'en Party, Dance Oct. 25

Jack Morris, secretary of the Hilltop Business Association, today announced that the annual Hallowe'en Party and Dance of the business group will be held at the Columbus Riding Club on E. Broad-st, Oct. 25, beginning at 8 p. m.

Bob Motzer's Band has been engaged to furnish the music for the occasion, according to Paul Leighninger, chairman of the social committee.

Hilltop Mum Festival Officially Underway

The Hilltop's first Mum Festival is underway!

Last night residents and business men of the Hilltop and surrounding communities witnessed a spectacle never before seen in this community as the first annual Hilltop Mum Festival officially opened with a gala parade featuring nine bands, 50 beauty queens and numerous floats and other evidence of the Hilltop's progressiveness.

Surprising to all was the size of the parade itself which stretched out over a mile in length as queens, floats and bands vied for the favor of the throngs which lined W. Broad-st from Wheatland-av west to Brinker. Chairmen in charge of the affair were swamped in their efforts to get the opening feature started, such was the immensity of the undertaking.

The parade, selection of a queen, fanfare of the bands and drum and bugle corps are all now history and three more days of festive merriment lay ahead for Hilltoppers and the rest of Central Ohio.

Tonight at the corner of W. Broad-st and Brinker-av there will be staged at 7:30 p. m. a baton twirling contest, under the auspices of the Baton Twirlers of America, with the finest twirlers of Central Ohio competing for top honors and trophies.

Friday afternoon at 3 p. m. proud mothers of the Hilltop will parade the tiny tots in buggies, in pairs and in unique dress to vie for several sets of prizes offered by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. This parade will form at West Gate Temple and proceed west to 3178 W. Broad-st where judging of the tiny tots will take place. This parade will be led by a group of baton twirlers from Keith School of Dancing assisted by the Hilltop Church of Christ Child's Rhythm Band. Should inclement weather interfere the judging and parade will be held indoors at Schmelzer's Hall, with Mayor James Rhodes acting as honorary judge.

For Saturday's events the doll, pet and bike parade heads the list of attractions beginning in the afternoon at 2:30 p. m. with 21 prizes to be distributed among the more than 200 entries. This contest too, promises to give the judges a workout as the youngsters vie for the prizes which are to be awarded. The parade will form with bikes assembling at the West Broad Street School and dolls and pets forming at the Westgate Masonic Temple. The parade will proceed west on Broad-st for judging of entries at Brinker and Broad.

Housewives of the Hilltop, too, will have their opportunity to display their baking prowess at the cake baking contest which is also scheduled for Saturday under the sponsorship of the Kiwanis Club and Pillsbury Flour Mills, Inc. Contestants competing in this contest must have their entries at the cake tent at Westgate and Broad-st between 4:30 and 6 p. m. Saturday. Judging will take place after 6 p. m. and the winners will be announced at 8 p. m. at which time the cakes entered in the contest will be auctioned off with the proceeds of the auction to go to the Hilltop Kiwanis Welfare Fund.

One of the final events of the Mum Festival is a round and square street dance which is to be staged at Westgate and Broad-sts from 8:30 until 11 p. m. on Saturday. The dance will be operated on the park plan and will feature the Russell Smith 5-piece band with Harold Brown as the square dance caller. Del Pack, 2520 Sutton-av, is the chairman of this event for the Kiwanis Club.

Rope twirling contests, flower shows by the Highland Garden Club are also listed as feature attractions of the affair, along with window decorations which have blossomed out in the past few days along Broad-st store fronts.

Elect Cramer President Of Kiwanis Club

Harold E. Cramer

Results of election of new officers for the ensuing year at the Hilltop Kiwanis Club were announced this week on the eve of the club's initial presentation of the Hilltop Mum Festival. Harold Cramer, 570 Wiltshire-rd, owner of Cramer's Pharmacy, at 871 W. Broad-st, received the nod of the membership to become the new president to succeed Philip V. Stout, local attorney at 2832 W. Broad-st.

Harold Fox of Fox Food Shop, 2422 W. Broad-st, was advanced from the office of second vice-president to that of first vice, and Sam Morrison, 1107 N. Hague-av, became the new second vice-president during the election.

Elmer J. Hegenberger, 106 Binns-blvd, was retained for another term as treasurer of the local club while an entire new board of directors was elected with successful candidates being: Mack Pemberton, John Nippert, Tom Boyer, E. D. Morgan, Beryl Miles, Pearl Spence and Herbert Deems.

At the regular noon-day luncheon meeting scheduled for today the Kiwanians are scheduled to hear Les D. Edwards, executive director of Junior Achievement of Columbus. He will show films explaining this new youth project, wherein boys and girls are taught actual business practices by operating during the school year, their own businesses.

Safe Too Tough For Burglars

Cracksmen failed in an attempt to enter a safe after knocking off the combination at the Luther B. Turner Masonic Lodge, 2925 W. Broad-st, early last Saturday.

L. M. Cathers, custodian of the lodge, said entrance was gained through a window off a second floor fire escape. Oliver Pindell, 175 Letchworth-av, secretary of the lodge, said the safe contained only $1.20.

North Polar Bear Invasion At West Seen As Game Of Week

By Dave Miller

A highly-touted North Polar Bear eleven will invade West's Magly Field tomorrow evening to do battle with West's Cowboys, rated as underdogs for their fifth consecutive game this year.

The Cowboys are determined to make the railbirds "eat their words" in tomorrow's fray as they battle the 14th beat in the state and currently unbeaten in two frays in the City Loop plus two other non-league wins.

Last minute arrangements are being completed in order to set the Cowboys in as good a mood as they were previous to last week's Aquinas game when the Cowboys pulled the surprise of the week with an 18-6 triumph over highly-favored Aquinas.

Tomorrow night, the Cowboys will be rated underdogs for their game for the fifth successive Friday. In their four previous engagements (Marion, Arlington, Lima Central and Aquinas), they were doped all four times as the ultimate loser, but the Cowboys' spirit carried them to an even split of the four frays—topping Marion and Aquinas while bowing to Arlington and Lima.

North's Bears are currently riding through another fairly successful season—especially after their 15-14 edge of Newark's Wildcats in their second contest of the year. This win seemingly inspired the Bears and they have romped over three fairly-rated squads—but individual scores, points or what have you will mean exactly nothing around kickoff time Friday.

West High's Band will add pep to the occasion Friday by saluting the present Hilltop Mum Festival. Following their regular pre-game formation of a football surrounding the block "W" the band will swing into the halftime show. They will form a flower, a stage for the festival to be previewed on, letters "M-U-M" and the usual "W". In addition, the bandsmen will form "HOUSE" saluting Edgar W. House, ex-teacher at West and presently the new principal at North High School.

As yet, it is not known whether a pep rally will be held in the school auditorium following school Friday, although many believe that it was last week's pep assembly that was the "icing on the cake" towards West's upset over Aquinas.

North has trumped Cincy Hughes, Newark, South and Central. Although neither North or West have common foes, something can be accordedby the fact that Aquinas trampled Central, 40-12; West downed Aquinas, 18-6, and North blanked Central, 27-0. Comparison means nothing.

The Bears are tough with their backs, including quarter, Don Wiper, halves, Clark Lawrence and Jim Spung, and tailback, Bob Weinrech. Their defensive

Two West gridders suffered injuries that will probably keep them from participation in the North-West game at Magly Field Friday night.

Morris (Mo) Dobbs, 834 S. Burgess-av, a 12B student, suffered a cracked vertebrae in the Aquinas game, and Carmine DeMatteo, 338 S. Burgess-av, suffered a shoulder separation and knee injury.

Dobbs is first string defensive tackle and his replacement as yet is unknown—probably either Ron Farley, Dave Skipper or Roger Meyer. DeMatteo, first string fullback, will be replaced by Dick Briggs, previously defensive line-backer.

Hilltoppers See Night Blooming Cereus Phenomena

Bob Frederich, son of Mrs. Vernon Frederich of 204 Binnsblvd, was proud of his success as a flower grower this past Sunday evening.

Bob's night blooming cereus, a member of the cactus family, came into bloom much to the amazement of himself, and his family and many neighbors.

The odd plant grew from a leaf given him a year ago this fall and bloomed for the first time Sunday evening. Monday, though at daybreak the bloom closed and wilted away as is the habit of this species of flower.

Bob's mother described the odd flower and its phenomenal bloom as one of the most interesting sights she had ever witnessed.

West High PTA Membership Mounts To Near 1700 Mark

By Myron T. Seifert

West High School again made state and national news when its annual PTA membership drive, completed last week, approached the 1700 mark, Mrs. C. O. Cramer, president, said today.

If an "All American" award were made for outstanding achievement to the school, home, church and community, West High School's PTA would be in the top rung.

Responsible in a large measure for the success of the campaign were several boys in room auditorium C, who sold the PTA idea to almost 150 adults. Super salesmen on this important drive were Joe Wallace, Jack Roberts, Bob Shivers, Bill Wallace, Jim Snider, Lugene Spangler, Gene Urban and Ed Whitehead.

Top civic officials of Columbus became members of one of the largest PTA's in the country by virtue of the efforts of this group of boys.

Members garnered by the boys included Governor Frank Lausche, gubernatorial candidate Don H. Ebright, Mayor Jim Rhodes; county officials Judge Randall, Treasurer Fred Dunn, Auditor N. A. Thatcher and others.

Officers and committees of the local PTA are Mrs. C. O. Cramer, 188 S. Westmoor-av, president; Mrs. Harvey Fenstermaker, 831 S. Harris-av, first vice-president; I. F. Young, second vice-president; Mrs. Albert Shade, 420 S. Richardson-av, secretary; Pauline Sparrow, treasurer.

Council members are Mrs. H. C. Whipple, 2602 Valleyview-dr; Mrs. Earl Fenner, 762 S. Richardson-av and Mrs. Jack Hostetter, 221 Eldon-av.

Alternate council members are Mrs. Lawrence Seibert, 181 Lechner-av; Mrs. John G. Davis, 243 N. Harris-av, and Mrs. J. E. Galloway, 191 Haldy-av.

Committee chairmen are: Membership junior high school, Mrs. W. J. Noltemeyer, 575 Wrexham-av; senior high school Mrs. Bernhardt Swisher, 48 Clarendon-av; program, Mrs. Herbert Williams, 133 Guernsey-av; parent education, Mrs. C. A. Abe: Pretty small.

"A Man Told Me"

About his coat and vest troubles and I'd like to pass it on to some of the "boys" who are in the same "boat" or class with him. He is now in his early sixties and weighs arcund 175 pounds, possibly 180. As a younger man he never weighed more than 135 and was normal chest and back—furthermore he liked properly fitted suits.

Now today—more age—more weight (and most of this added weight is on the "tummy") but he still wants, and rightly so, properly fitted suits.

His troubles—well, the coat collar does not hug the neck, the skirt of the coat flares out in the back, the coat draws around the chest and waist when buttoned and the vest does not cover that tummy and crawls up under the arm pits. Now this fellow is NOT CORPULENT and he is not A REGULAR. He is slightly stout and carries his head forward with shoulders that droop in a careless sort of fashion, all of which makes him "round shouldered."

The cure—tailored to individual measure suits—that's the cure. He should select his woolens from four hundred patterns and have his suits and coats tailored to his own measurements by Bendure Tailoring Co., 2767 W. Broad at Hague. Phone RA. 5539 Suits and Coats for Men and Women, $43.50 up.

Would You Have Enough Insurance To Cover Your Loss?

Perhaps you say to yourself . . . "Oh I have enough insurance, if fire should damage my house or its contents."

But, have you? Are you sure?

You know, of course, that most things you own cost far more today to replace or repair.

Unless you want to dig into your own pocket in case of a loss, we suggest you see one of your local Hilltop agents and talk things over. His advice will help you to determine just how much insurance you should carry to adequately protect what you have. Remember . . . it's not safe these days to be under insured. Especially since adequate protection costs little more than not enough protection.

A Modern Miracle

Even skeptics cannot but be impressed by the speed with which supply lines to the Korean beachhead have been built up. From a standing start less than three months ago a sizeable army has been moved across six thousand miles of ocean and sent into combat. It is impossible for laymen to appreciate fully the magnitude of such a task.

A single U. S. infantry division, for example, needs a staggering 17,000 tons of equipment—weapons, trucks, fuel and food—just to get started in combat. From then on, if it is fighting a delaying action such as the war in Korea has been until the past two weeks, it needs an extra 436 tons of equipment a day, including medicine and replacement parts to keep it going. When it goes on the offensive, its daily needs jump to 580 tons. Life magazine has made an illustrated feature of this great undertaking. It shows a map of the Pacific Ocean with a worldwide network of supply lines—planes and ships—converging on a tiny white dot on the shores of Korea. This dot is our beachhead. Life then described the movement over these supply lines during a 40-day period. The Military Air Transport Service, flying 236 planes, delivered 15,000 passengers and 3,000 tons of cargo. Each round trip took from 72 to 120 hours. Turn around time for the planes in Japan and the United States was 12 hours. Simultaneously, the Navy-run Military Sea Transportation Service, in 300 ships — transports, tankers, and cargo vessels—delivered more than 50,000 men, and 500,000 tons of cargo. Round trip for one of these ships from Pacific coast ports required 40 to 75 days.

In the words of Life: "To accomplish all this within nine weeks, U. S. logistics experts have had to improvise a major miracle."

The fact that a miracle of transportation and supply is now being accomplished does not excuse the tragic miscalculations in top management of the American defense program. Rather, it is another magnificent demonstration of the vast reservoir of resourcefulness and stamina so characteristic of this country. Very likely the present effort will go down in history just as Life described it—a major miracle.

Credit for achieving it must go to the people who have taken part in it; the pilots of the planes, the captains of the ships, workers and managements in the oil fields and factories and mines, the hard-bitten Marines, the Navy Air Force and the Army. The performance of these people has impressed the world and is doing more for the cause of freedom and Western Civilization than most of us realize. If anyone can, they will make the United Nations a workable organization.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

It is possible that soon Congress will plug a leak that has existed in the anti-trust laws for 35 years. That would be the passage of H.R. 2734 to amend the Clayton Act passed in 1914.

Briefly the Clayton Act forbids corporations to buy out the stock of competitors for the purpose of eliminating competition. But for years the purpose of the act has been defeated, as corporations have been able to legally buy up the assets of competitors.

For years Congressmen have fought to plug this leak.

In addition, every President since Wilson has tried to plug this leak.

Now the situation has become desperately critical. In 1947, the Federal Trade Commission found mergers reached a new high.

This trend was speeded up by the huge profits in recent years of the big corporations. At the end of 1945 the 62 largest corporations held $54 billion of net working capital — sufficient to purchase the assets of 90% of all the manufacturing companies in the nation.

Congress has found in practically every line of business, from dairy products to farm machinery, monopolies composed of as few as four companies are doing as much at 93% of the business.

In every case, it was found this was accomplished by purchase of the assets of the independent competitors: often after a disastrous price war launched by the eventual purchaser forced the independent business to the wall.

As it stands now, the House has passed the amendment to the Clayton Act which would stop this abuse. The Senate Judiciary Committee has also recommended passage.

Organized independent business is aggressively working for passage in the Senate. The battle is bitter, but Sen. Herbert O'Conner (Md.), who is chairman of the Judiciary Committee, reports that never in 25 years has the reform measure been closer to passage.

Washington now expects, barring unforeseen intervention by new hostile forces, an early end to Korean fighting.

But it also expected that the drive to increase taxes; place further controls on business will continue, unless, of course, the November elections result in many major upsets.

Western manufacturers who attended a small business clinic in Northern California for specific information on defense contracts writhed in their seats as an official devoted a large part of his time to eulogizing Louis Johnson.

But they also derived a hearty laugh. The speaker was called to the phone; red-facedly reappeared to announce the removal of the Secretary of Defense.

West Rises To New Heights In Defeating Aquinas

Looking Ahead with J. W. WORREL

"Look," said an acquaintance of mine the other day, "I'm a firm believer in insurance. I think it's a wonderful idea for people who have their future plans cut and dried and who know just how they are going to be situated this time next year. But how can I choose the type of insurance that I should carry when my plans are all so indefinite? Why should I saddle myself with a policy that may be entirely unsuited to my needs in a year or so?"

"No reason in the world," I retorted, "But how would you feel about a policy which is really four policies in one, with five years allowed for deciding which one suits you best?"

"You can lead me to it," he said. "If there is such a plan I'd like to get in on it while I'm still young and healthy."

The Adjustable Policy IS such a plan. For the first five years the assured is covered for the full face amount of the policy. At the end of this period he can choose a Limited Life Policy, an Endowment Policy, or a Whole Life Policy for a considerably increased amount. He can, if he prefers it, continue the policy on the Whole Life basis for the original face amount but at a much reduced premium. Thus, at no additional cost, and without evidence of health, the assured can limit his period for paying premiums or have the policy mature to his own benefit, increase the amount of insurance or decrease the amount of his premiums.

Could anything be more adaptable? Why not obtain further details of this plan-of-many-purposes? Call me today. You will incur no obligation, and I shall be glad to be of service to you.

Upset Victory Places Local Gridders At City Loop Lead

By Dave Miller

Keyed to the very highest pitch, West's footballers put all they had into an 18 to 6 upset victory over the Terriers from Aquinas in the City League opener for the Cowboys played under the arcs at Magly Field last Friday.

Coaches Mack Pemberton, Dave Randall and Fred Heischman in addition to the cheerleaders, band, followers and the like had the Broncs "really up" for the game — determined to give their neighbors quite a battle royal and according to the results they did just that.

Aquinas Coach Bob McQuade, ex-Aquinas himself and a graduate of Xavier University, stated after the game that West was going to be hard to beat.

"That team is going to give somebody trouble in the league this year," said McQuade following the fray. "We gambled to win by passing and lost. That's the story."

The Terriers, to explain McQuade's statement, had driven to the West four with first down and tried to pass to knot the score but Dick Briggs of the Cowboys intercepted the aerial on the goal and raced exactly 100 yards downfield to sew up the contest at its ultimate score.

Following the fray, the West locker room was full of happiness and confusion. No one knew where they were going — and really didn't care. The win meant everything to everybody. Aquinas was sure that West was going to be a pushover but the Cowboys threw the book at 'em.

All Coach Pemberton could utter after the game was "It was a dandy—awful dandy." "Silent Fred" Heischman, backfield coach, expressed he was plenty happy but said hardly anything while Dave Randall could well have been mistaken for one of the fellows the way he carried that grin around. "You'll never see three runs like that in one ball game," was Randall's comment following Briggs' long jaunt preceding Ronnie James' two long gallops for all three of West's touchdowns.

Probably one of the top factors of West's success last week was the pep rally held in the school auditorium at the close of school Friday afternoon. Following cheers by the students and pep songs played by the band, Coach Pemberton spoke a few moments on the new seating situation at the stadium, and then concluded proceedings with a true salute to his gridders.

"We're going to give Aquinas a real battle, because I believe that this team is one of the best I ever coached in their attiude department. They all like to play football and they all give their best. They might not have as much ability as some West teams but they try the hardest of any of them."

This fine tribute to a fine bunch of guys seemingly inspired the West gridders to no end. The Cowboys knew what they had to do and did it.

On the statistical side of the game, Aquinas gained 229 yards rushing and 89 on passing (completing nine of 16), to 143 yards rushing for West and the Cowboys gained a total of 42 yards by passing, completing four of 11 throws. Aquinas had 15 first downs, seven by running and six by passing, the remaining two by penalties. West had nine first downs, one by passes, six by running and the two remaining through penalties.

Although the statistics show the Terriers a bit superior, West to anyone's eyes, wes the best team on the field without a doubt. They showed considerable spirit and had plenty of drive in their line whereas the Terriers, who were supposed to have a hard-charging forward wall missed tackles and blocks throughout the game. To sum it up, West was "up" for the fray while Aquinas was a little bit too sure of themselves.

Aquinas scored first, but waited until 6:10 had elapsed in the initial quarter until they counted. Aquinas received the opening kickoff and in seven plays advanced to the West 25 and with fourth down and nine, a long aerial from Russ Reckling to Paul Bean was incomplete with the Cowboys taking over.

Ronnie James squirted around end to the 29 and in two more running plays by Charlie Hunter and Carmine DeMatteo, West went to a first down on their own 35. From there, their attack bogged down, with James being held to a total of three yards in two attempts and Hunter being held to the 39. Sophomore Jerry Trabue punted to Bob Mangan who was downed on his own 36, but a West offside infraction forced Trabue to punt out of bounds on his second attempt at the Aquinas 46, thus setting up the Terriers' first and only six-pointer of the evening.

Another West offside gave the Terriers the pigskin on the West 49 with first and five. Bob Mangan hopped around left-end and a key-block on End Jim Ealy of West by Aquinas' Tony Eramo paved the way for him to go to the West 25 before Ronnie James could knock him out of bounds. Jack Schmidt pulled the same run before being stopped on the West 10 and Eramo plunged to the six. Mangan set up the TD, diving to the three, whereupon Schmidt darted through off-tackle on the next play and went over untouched for the score. Robert Burke split the uprights with the conversion, but a holding penalty took the ball back to the West 17, where Reckling's aerial intended for Mangan was incomplete for the second attempt for the extra point. Aquinas led 6-0 but West wasted no time in tying up the contest.

Burke kicked off to James who went up the middle on the return before being stopped by John Verhoff on the West 29. James gained nothing around the right end and a Chuck Leibensperger to Jerry Trabue pass was incomplete. However, James, on his now famous double reverse cut around the left end to the West 43 for a "turning-point" first down—the play that set up West's initial counter. Carmine DeMatteo and Hunter failed in line bucks, but James came through in fine style, racing through left tackle and jumping over at least four would-be tacklers and reversing his field—going all the necessary 57 yards for West's tying score. Dave Lazenby's attempted conversion was blocked in the face by Tony Eramo, keeping the two squads deadlocked at a 6-6 count.

Following the West score, the first period ended about a minute later, and nothing resulted throughout the period although West did threaten in the waning moments of the quarter.

After four exchanges of the ball via punts in the second quarter, West halted an Aquinas threat on the Cowboy 23 by Ronnie James' interception and run back to the midfield stripe. Charlie Hunter, on the first play from scrimmage raced along the left sidelines to the Terrier 28 before being shoved out of bounds there. Quarterback Leibensperger then called for three straight long passes in order to break the deadlock but the first half time ran out as West was attempting its final down.

A rather dull third quarter prevailed after halftime with neither team penetrating within its opponent's 30-yard stripe. Jerry Trabue punted after a failure of downs by the Cowboys on the opening play of the fourth period—initiating the fireworks of the night.

Aquinas failed to gain, and John Masdea of the Terriers stepped back to boot from his own 22. Halfback Ronnie James of the Broncs received the kick on his own 21 (on second bounce) and behind beautiful blocking, and cutback running, James carried the pigskin the entire 79 yards downfield for a great—and rather surprising touchdown. Lazenby's extra point attempt was wide of the crossbars and West entered the midway portion of the final period in the driver's seat, 12-6.

The Terriers weren't a team to lie down and quit though. Schmidt ran back Lazenby's kick to the Aquinas 32. Fullback Tony Eramo, a rather short tailback—but full of plenty of speed and drive, edged down the right sidelines of the Cowboy 45 for a first down—and West knew they were far from "in."

Schmidt went off-guard to the West 38. Reckling then threw a complete pass to Masdea on the 25, but an Aquinas clipping infraction took the ball back to the West 42 with first down and 25 to go. Needless to say, Aquinas' hopes were seemingly gone—but doggone if those Mt. Vernon Avenue gridders didn't drive for that first down in three running plays to the West 15 — thanks mainly to the quickly-tiring Schmidt, Mangan and Eramo in addition to the line play of Ben Nye, Dick Fogo, Al Peirano and Jim Boggs—who constantly opened up holes for the aforementioned runners.

After Schmidt dove to the 15, he drove to the West five where it was now second and goal to go. Eramo dove to the four, and Reckling, and the next play, stepped back to pass, and seeing his favorite target, John Masdea, in the right corner of the goal in the clear, he shot the ball goal-ward, and Masdea, just a split-second from catching the pass and tying or probably winning the fray jumped high for the toss—but Dick Briggs, defensive half for the Cowboys jumped from behind—snared the aerial and raced down the right sidelines all the necessary 100 yards for the cinching touchdown—turning a possible loss or at least a tie into a sure victory. A block by "Chappie" (or "Lefty") Chapman at the 25-yard line of Aquinas was the main factor in Briggs' jaunt.

An Aquinas player, as yet unidentified, was about to make a grab at Briggs, when Chapman, who had played a tremendous line game all evening, threw a cross-body into him—paving the way for Briggs' long jaunt—the longest ever at Magly Field.

SPORTSLANTS

By Dave Miller

Most of the recent successful 1950 Columbus Red Birds breathers ... [illegible] last week as their Birds won their sixth Junior World Series since the rivalry began between the two triple A leagues, the American Association and International League.

Many fans, however, as one writer has already stated, were a bit stunned by the accomplishments of the '50 Birds after the totals were added up last week. But we agree with Lew Byrer in asking "Why shouldn't they win the series? After all they've played the best ball of any club in either league since July 1—which indicates they were a great "stretch" team which always counts when the green stuff is handed out."

July 1 brings us back to memories. I remember sitting at Red Bird stadium the evening that the Cardinals had just called up probably the most sensational ballplayer in the minor league setup in Glenn (Rocky) Nelson—and with the Red Birds battling to stay out of seventh place, I agreed with the Bird fans chatting about during the intermission of a doubleheader that Columbus' hopes were definitely faded now that Nelson had gone.

One sports editor in Columbus even went so far as to bicker the Cardinal organization for an entire two weeks while the others and many Red Bird faithfuls sat back and were sure that the Cardinals, the Bird parent team, wouldn't leave its Columbus team helpless.

They didn't. The Cards shipped a peppery lad down the same evening they swallowed up Nelson—and he, by name, was the now popular Solly Hemus—who, in my mind, was the difference in the present Bird accomplishments. Some 27 Red Birds can pat Solly on the back—for the leadership of this stocky second baseman not only brought more than $1000 in each player's pocket—but established the Birds as probably the most surprising team presently in minor league baseball.

Hemus really put on a show and it was worth a fan's money just to watch the numerous actions this pepper-pot second-sacker would go through in an individual game. The way he fielded throughout the year, he could've batted .300 and still remained in the starting lineup, but Solly batted .289 for the season while coasting into the second base post on the AA all-star team for the season, and missing the most valuable player award of the loop by the slightest of margins. Without a guy named Solly Hemus, it's 50-1 that the Red Birds would never have landed in the association first division.

Of course, Solly wasn't the whole team—we don't mean that, but he was one of those guys who was a field general wherever he went. More teams need guys like Hemus—who, I think is major league bound for keeps.

No, Mr. Needham, the Cards are ok. Although they were quickly falling into the National League second division during August and September, they did not pick on the Red Birds for help — not once. They let the Birds finish out their season before they started "robbing" them. However, here's an odd fact. The Birds played ball three more days this season than the Cards—the Birds winning the Junior World Series Wednesday night—three nights after St. Louis concluded its season the previous Sunday afternoon.

Here, if you don't mind, we'd like to pass out some bouquets to the living. There's a guy, who, for about 30 years has been sports editor of the Columbus Citizen—by name, Lew Byrer.

Through thick and thin he followed those "hot and cold" Red Birds—away and at home—and he did an excellent job. Although there are plenty of writers over the nation that may write a better style than Lew—none of them can compare with the way he followed the Birds this season. And believe me that takes plenty of patience. They throw away ball games all season—and after you brag highly about them—usually. However, Lew, the dean of Columbus sports writers, deserves every credit given him. He's a true sportsman and a real credit to any team he follows.

SHORT BITS: West and North will renew their long high school football rivalry at West's Magly Field tomorrow evening in the yearly battle between two teams that love to compete against each other . . . If you doubt me, watch the way 22 guys battle tomorrow night against each other at west . . . "West likes North no better than North likes West," as one West footballer put it last week and that summarizes the whole thing . . . individual stars seemingly always blossom out of the annual North-West football clash . . . In 1946, North's Dick Widdoes was the star of the afternoon fray played at West, scoring the only touchdown of North's 6-0 victory while completing 11 of 17 forward passes. . . . Several players in that fray are currently members of the Ohio State varsity . . . In addition to Widdoes, who is defensive half of the present Buckeye eleven, Roger Moritz and Bill Ternemt were subs for North in the fray . . . They both are sophomores at State and both saw action in last week's Pitt-OSU battle . . . West's Dick Slager, who was first string quarterback in that North-West 1946 battle, was a member of the OSU varsity in 1948 . . . In the battle in 1947, West's Jack Thrush was without a doubt "the man of the hour." West took a 10-7 victory over the Polar Bears at North on Jack's 11-yard field goal with 55 seconds left in the game . . . West went on to be acclaimed the fourth best high school team in the state of Ohio and Thrush made first string All-Ohio . . . In 1948, West went onto another undefeated City League season by trumping North 19-0 in the year's top game of the year played in a sea of mud at West . . . Paul Theisen was probably the star of this fray scoring two of West's three six-pointers . . . Last year, as a lucky North squad edged West, 19-13 at North, Clark Lawrence of North stole the lime light in this one as he recovered a West fumble on the Cowboy 20 and the first play from scrimmage going over for the winning touchdown with less than five minutes remaining in the game . . . By the way, North has that same Lawrence back for duty tomorrow night against West in addition to other top-flight backfielders like Jim Spung and Bob Weinrech. These Polar Bears are tough—but our Cowboys are ready with their ropes.

Worthington Stops Hilliards By 26-7 Score

By Richard Hansen

Worthington was the victor over Hilliards last Friday night with a score of 26-7 on the Cardinals' field

This was Worthington's first triumph of the Mid-Six League and marked Hilliards' second setback in two league games. Worthington scored in every quarter except the third

Jim Tarbuttor's hard running through the middle of the line and the teamwork of the tackles had Hilliards in hot water most of the time

Chuck McKnight was high scorer for the Cardinals with two TD's to his credit. Jarret and Dickson also scored for the Worthington team.

Joe Winkler made the lone score for Hilliards in the third quarter, with Armstrong kicking.

North - West

line is big, headed by an all-city returnee from 1949, Herb Jones, in addition to Dick Bovle, Jim Held, Joel Spain and John Palmer.

Palmer, although a guard, has scored two touchdowns this year, on both occasions, once against South and also against Central, he pulled out of the line, grabbed a handoff and scored. Against Central he went 21 yards and against South 27

Scores of the North-West gemes date back to 1912. The statistics show North, 509; West, 247. Since 1913 (when North beat West, 53-0), North has won 22 games, West 10 and the 1920 and 1935 games have resulted in deadlocks.

Although North holds a sizeable edge, enthusiasm is always plenty high for the annual North-West battle and the 1950 clash is no exception.

It's turkeys, turkeys and still more turkeys as shown above at Southworth Poultry Market, 1510 Sullivant-av, where business in anticipation of the forthcoming holiday season is now stepping into high gear. This week-end more than 800 of the festive birds were prepared for freezing on a special order. Locally, however, fresh dressed birds will be available during the holiday season.

Southworths have no compunction about Friday the 13th being an unlucky day for this Friday they will observe their 16th anniversary on the Hilltop at the same location. Their initial start in business in 1932 saw them housed in a three stall garage. Today they are recognized as one of the largest and most modern equipped poultry markets in central Ohio.

Woman Says Slip On Spilled Milk Is Worth $15,000

A little spilled milk may mean nothing to most persons, but to Lillian Dennis, 57 S. Oakley-av, it means $15,000.

She alleges that on July 18 she slipped on spilled milk on the sidewalk in front of the radio shop and suffered a fractured left arm, which she claims is now permanently injured. She also claims she suffered head injuries.

The Rea-Bow Association News

The Saturday night socials, held in Rea-Bow Hall, have been suspended for a few weeks.

Plans are being made to purchase a much larger place, somewhere in the country, not only for the entertainment of the many friends and members of the Rea-Bow, but to have a year round camp for "The Rangers," the youth organization of the Rea-Bow Association.

The recent ruling of the City of Columbus not to furnish water for new applicants from outside of Columbus is not expected to effect the Rainbow Addition, as it is understood the city had already approved this project.

The board of directors has given final approval to the two-mill levy to be voted on by Franklin Township so the township may purchase its own fire equipment.

The association will hold its Hallowe'en party Saturday, Oct. 28.

George Wolfe, the association president, and Mrs. Wolfe entertained the following members at a wiener roast at his residence, 856 Midland-av, Saturday, Oct. 7. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Reed, 1451 Hamlet-st, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thacker, 1559½ Oak-st, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Young of 864 Midland-av.

Among the projects of this council for the past year were the operation of an office at Memorial Hall for veteran claims and relief as well as sale of automobile and drivers' licenses, sending 200 underprivileged children to summer camp, operation of a Junior Baseball League and the Legion Charity Show on Sept. 1 at Red Bird Stadium to provide funds for further junior activities also for the recreational program for the patients at the VA Hospital at Chillicothe.

Delegates elected, along with the new commander, Marlo Smith, are William E. Boothe, Elmer A. Young, John E. Martindale, Robert Daggett, William Ferguson, D. Clark Finneran, Fred Holladay and Robert Jones. The alternates are Vincent Welker, Dewey A. Stout, George Skeen, Wilbur Minnemeyer, Jack Judd, Donald Novak, Clarence Fuhr, George Levisay and Joe Worthen.

Camp Chase Post will again have its much talked of Armistice Day breakfast. This will be the third of these occasions.

Chairman Dewey Stout and John West are scouring the countryside for enough hams, eggs and potatoes along with what goes with it to feed the many Hilltoppers as well as those from other parts of town who plan to attend. This is a community breakfast, where neighbors and friends meet and eat together with the Legionaires.

WEST BROAD SCHOOL NEWS

"Home Made Butter"

During September Miss Birch's and Miss Sperry's 1B groups at West Broad Street School took "The Farm" for a unit of work. The cow, milk and butter were of special interest. The children looked at pictures of cows, drew cows, and learned the source of two very essential foods.

This study was followed by a trip to a milk company. Upon arrival at the plant the students were met by two men who were their guides through the plant. They were shown all of the important steps from the receiving and weighing platform to the machines that turned out carefully bottled milk. They learned about sterilizing, pasteurizing and homogenizing.

Then came the high spot of the trip. In the assembly hall each child found, on his chair, pictures of the plant and a token, "Elsie the Cow", to wear. Each one was served a bottle of chocolate milk with the straw fitted into the cap to avoid accidents. Cookies were also served.

As a follow-up of this trip a day was set apart for butter making at school. The teachers furnished cream and crackers and the children brought bowls, beaters and cream whips. The tables were arranged in a circle with a work table in the center.

The children donned aprons and awaited a turn at the churns. While some churned, others passed napkins and arranged crackers on plates. It seemed at first that the butter never would come, but at last the cream thickened and soon yellow lumps appeared. Now Oh's and Ah's filled the room. The yellow lumps were soon worked into a pat of butter, salted and ready to spread on the crackers. Plates of crackers were passed. Other children passed plates to other rooms.

The children, deeply satisfied with their accomplishments aprons. Butter making was over. cleaned up the crumbs and hun-

Her headpiece was a half hat of satin, and lace to frame her face, and to this was attached a finger tip imported silk veil of illusion, edged in Chantilly lace.

She carried a beautiful cascade bouquet of white stephonitis, and a white orchid, from which hung white satin streamers.

The bride wore a white garter, made by her roommates at the Mt. Carmel Hospital School of Nursing.

Preceding the bride to the altar were her attendants, Mrs. Carl E. Sheldon, sister of the bride, Miss Anna Lou Riepenhoff, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Patricia O'Rourke, close friend to the bride.

in Dutchess slipper satin too, the matron of honor in chartreuse, while the bridesmaids were in moss green. The gowns were designed with a fitted bodice, and tiny covered buttons to the waistline and a stand up collar. Bows of self fabric were throughout the skirt of the gown and they wore matching mitts and head bands. They wore rhinestone earrings, a gift of the bride.

They wore elbow length mitts to match their gowns and their corsages were of bronze pom-poms in colonial bouquets.

The bride was met at the altar by Dr. Riepenhoff and his best man, James Klatt, from Lansing, Mich.

Preceding the impressive double ring ceremony, Carl E. Sheldon, Jack Coyle, Bob Manian and Joseph Schultz seated the guests.

A wedding breakfast for 100 relatives and friends followed at the Elk's Home. For the afternoon reception Mrs. Hummell, the mother of the bride, received her guests in a beautiful brown crepe dressmaker suit. She wore a becoming off-the-face brown velour hat, brown velvet pumps and champaign doeskin gloves. She pinned to the shoulder of her frock a yellow rosebud corsage.

Mrs. Riepenhoff, mother of the bridegroom, chose for the occasion a rose crepe and satin gown with which she wore a matching hat with blue veiling. Her accessories were blue. She wore a white rosebud shoulder corsage.

After the couple cut the initial piece of the wedding cake, Mrs. M. C. Wise, Mrs. Mary Kollister and Miss Audra Hummel, aunts of the bride, served the cake. Pouring during the reception were Mrs. O. W. Cole, Mrs. William Crooks, Mrs. W. F. Sellers, Mrs. R. A. Houghton and Mrs. Ben Morgenroth.

Hostesses at the reception were Miss Nancy Norton, Miss Jean Schroeder, Mrs. George L. Comstock, all of Kenton; Miss Mary McCann, Columbus, and Miss Joan Thomas, Cincinnati.

Later the couple departed for their ten-day wedding trip to Orlando, Fla. The bride changed to a very smart brown dressmaker suit of imported gabardine and matching brown nylon blouse with matching accessories. With her suit she wore a small hat of tangerine felt, trimmed with matching ostrich tips. She wore brown suede opera pumps and long brown doe skin gloves. She pinned to the shoulder of her suit her white orchid from her bridal bouquet. Around her shoulders she wore a beautiful five piece mink scarf, a gift of the bridegroom.

The former Miss Hummel was graduated from Kenton High School and attended St. Mary of the Springs College, Columbus, and Mt. Carmel School of Nursing, Columbus.

Dr. Riepenhoff is a graduate of Aquinas High School, Ohio State University, and the Georgetown University school of medicine, Washington, D. C. He is a member of Phi Kappa fraternity. He is now practicing pediatrics at Columbus.

Art Show At Library

By Wm. "Doc" Campbell

The Hilltop and all West Siders have another grand opportunity to view the third parade of "name artists" free, at the Hilltop Branch of the Columbus Public Library, during October.

Frank Tibbitts is a truly "practical artist". By that I mean that many of his pictures could be used commercially and yet leave him the distinction of being a real painter. His library collection of 15 canvasses, some very large, is typical of the artist. You can divide his work into three categories. First, character studies; second, splendid modern technique, and third, his exceptionally ingenious frames.

Three of his paintings on display at the library are definitely worthy of attention by either onlooker or critic. In fact all of his paintings are so clever in subject matter that even a child would derive joy and happiness in gazing at them.

The large canvas called "Secret Mission" is dark, sinister and a "mystery thriller" in paint, similar to a "mystery" over radio or television. Tibbitts told me that he used a well known local artist as the model and bought the "full dress suit". I believe, for a dollar and the "opera hat" (old style) for about 50 cents.

Study this intense canvas and you perceive the artistic side of Tibbitts. Then run your eye along the collection until you reach "White Face", brilliant in technique and gay in color—a glorious clown that will always demand attention, as any real clown would. It would make a great billboard head in tremendous size of any "ad" carnival.

The loveliest picture, or rather portrait, is named "The Shawl". I personally think it is a delightfully painted young lady's face—so full of charm and character. Tibbitts has surrounded her with a gracious simple frame of wood tinted in pale gold. With the portrait of "Mary Hamilton" at the extreme left end of the collection, you have before you, charm, paint quality and character.

I cannot close this review without mentioning the "Old Gents" or the "Devils In Me", several studies in typical coloring of poor "down and outs." Tibbitts knows how to portray characters who pose for little money and the utter thrill of being asked to pose.

Don't miss this free and different art show, open during the month of October, daily except Sunday, from 1 to 9 p. m., and Saturdays, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Tomorrow IN THE MAKING

Quiet, please . . .
This is genius at work!
This is tomorrow in the making!

What will come from the interior of this test tube, bubbling quietly over the flame of the Bunsen burner? Will it be a cure for cancer? A new plastic? Or will it be a new killer—silent, odorless, colorless—that can destroy life in all that it touches.

In these breath-taking days of new scientific discoveries, the ancient truth of one of the greatest of religious sayings becomes sharper day by day.

"Where there is no vision, the people perish. . . ."

Today our greatest scientists admit that vision must accompany the results of their work if the world is not to be consumed in the fires of its own advancement. That is why you will find the churches of America working to lengthen the vision and sharpen the focus that must belong to everyone that advances toward the new horizon of our tomorrow. The achievement of America must be matched by a morality that comes from hearts touched with the wisdom of God.

We shall not fear the test tube—if in back of it are the scientists, the churches and the people working toward a common cause.

And the cause is our tomorrow in the making—a brighter tomorrow for all. . . .

. . . Be not afraid, only believe.

Parishioners See Army Film On Communism

Sgt. First Class William C. Breeding, Troop Information and Education NCO for Ohio Military District, presented the Armed Forces Information Film "Communism" before men of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary Magdalene Parish last Thursday night.

A recent release from the Armed Forces Information Service, the film depicts the manner in which communists infiltrate, and how they gain important positions in various organizations.

Movies Planned For Westgate Youth Program

The Youth Program at Westgate Methodist Church has gotten off to a fine start with an average of 25 young people present. Next Sunday night there will be an hour and a half of movies shown after the group meetings during the recreation period.

Supper is offered at 6 p. m. with worship in the sanctuary at 6:45 and group meetings at 7 p. m.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The Northeast District will hold its fall camporee, "Indian Trails Trek" on Oct. 21 and 22. It has been in the planning stage since last spring and now those plans are all but complete.

The trip will be made by auto convoy and hike to the Indian country of Licking County. Emphasis will be placed on Indian lore and historic legends of the territory. The treasure hunt and campfire events will highlight this theme.

This is a father and son campout, arranged to interest fathers in scouting, in their sons and their activities and should be a fine opportunity for the dads themselves to enjoy a little outing.

The group will leave by automobile from Grandview Park, at the corner of Grandview-av and Goodale-blvd, at 2:15 p. m. Oct. 21, 1950. They will be conveyed to and from the Licking County Camp by the State Highway Patrol, if at all possible. Included in the trip is a visit to the Newark Mounds. The group should arrive back home at 4 p. m. Sunday, Oct. 22.

All scouts and fathers in the Northeast District are urged to contact their Scoutmaster of Scout Headquarters, for reservations.

The Low Down On the High Ridgers

By One of Them

"Swing high, swing low, — watch it go" teased C. L. GROOMS as R. F. McCREA stood up ready to bowl an easy 300. He squinted his eyes and narrowed them to notice his alley looked a bit slanted. For one solid moment he stood still as a statue trying to remember that STANCE means a lot.

That's what I want to explain now. STANCE is of terrific importance. Most persons stand on the side, to knock off the "hard to get" ones. But that might cause a "Brooklyn" which would be all wrong, — of course — ahem. Go right up and throw your ball immediately. Your team might think you are just a beginner and give you a big handicap. But no, we better stick to the rules.

Wipe off the 7th to the 10th dusty floor board with your toe. Put your ball up to your nose, take 3 waltz steps, give a mighty heave, and let 'er roll.

When the ball rolls into the gutter after traveling only three yards, shuffle your feet around a bit before turning. Then remark, "Heh, heh! slipped!"

Unfortunately, the pin boy will now return the ball to you and you have to try it again. This time don't throw it quite so hard, — and picking yourself up from the floor, you'll be able to say, "Well, I got the hard one, anyway." Your team mates will give encouraging remarks with "Yeah, you're doing all right now."

Then you sneak away and crawl under a bench. This is necessary in order that HARRY PEARN may have the fun of looking for you when it is your turn to bowl.

Now take JOE ROBINE. This guy puts body English on his ball that a chiropractor couldn't takeoff. And McCLEARY? Why, if he talked to me the way he talks to his ball, I wouldn't do anything for him, either. AL PICKENS should be charged 20% amusement tax the way he dances as he swings his ball. And BILL ORIOR throws an "Iffits" ball. If it's on the alley, it's a surprise.

The next bowler will be a woman! Yeah, GEORGE!

She worries more about whether the seams in her hose are straight and her hair in place, than she does all those bobbie pins she drops on the floor to make her opponent trip.

However, I have to shed a tear at the gal who's being kibitzed into a dislocated shoulder by a guy who opens his yap "eyes up," "arm stiff," "relax", etc. when he himself has a score the size of his collar.

Although some of these women bowlers impersonate a pretzel and get more knots in their right arm than an ocean liner, — our Hi-Ridge women aren't like that. They can beat the men to a frazzle, — what with their "handicap," "talk" and "spilling coke" on the floor.

The pin boy will kick over the corner pins in order to have a chance to remove the chewing gum that he was using to hold them in place and all will be in readiness. Advancing right up to the near end of the alley, the woman will run daintily forward, and let the ball roll out of her hand. Five minutes later, just as it is about to come to a dead stop, the ball will reach the head pin.

One by one, the pins will fall down and roll lazily around, knocking others down until there is only one left. This, the pin boy will obligingly knock over.

How women like GLADYS MOORE get strikes with a slow motion bowling technique remains one of the big mysteries of modern sports. If a man like C. F. CLARK tried the same thing, he wouldn't knock two pins down.

The ball leaves some women's hands at the terrific speed of about two feet a minute, — dawdles slowly along the alley, and finally gets to the other end, — whereupon all the pins fall down — perhaps out of sheer amazement that the ball got there at all.

After watching all the pins fall down, the woman will turn around and come skipping back to the score to stand and gurgle happily as she watches it being recorded.

You yourself contemplate your dismal showing and feel like a sap — which is very bad. It is bad enough to be a sap, but to feel like one - - - !

Consequently, the next time it is your turn to bowl, you decide to shelve your brute strength technique like PAUL CAMPBELL, roll the ball slow and straight. It goes straight all right! Straight at the corner pin! One out of ten! Nuts!

You then grab any ball, without waiting for yours to return. Start your run clear back in the 3rd row of seats (where CORWIN MILLER smokes his pipe) and let fly at the pin boy who has been standing there leering at you.

Crash! Pins fly in all directions, and your team-mates slap you on the back and say "Nice Going!"

Well, well, — a spare! You forget that what you were really trying to do was kill the pin boy, and you decide that you're back in form again.

As the game proceeds, and you watch your neighbors do some silly tricks in acrobatics, you begin to feel "not so foolish." "Ah," you think to yourself, "I'm not so bad, I guess," and you can't wait until it's your turn again to "show off."

Here let me warn you! That's a dangerous feeling. That's when your ego goes up and your score starts on the downward trend. So beware of self-praise.

The next time you shake hands with your next door neighbor like BERT KIRBY for "luck," and try again. You start from the same place and give it the same stuff. The ball starts down the right side of the alley, curves in (like AL DAILEY'S ball) at just the right time and WHAM! A strike!

You turn around to accept the congratulations and - - - a bell rings. You whirl around and sure enough - - - - . There above what is left of the pins is a nice circular red light with "FOUL" across it. Perched up on a rack on the wall to your left (where you can't get at him) is a "%&()" — a pin boy who got to be "foul judge" by being more obnoxious than any of the other pin boys. There he sits grinning like an ape because he has deprived you of your strike.

In order to make sure that you stop so far from the foul line that even he won't have nerve to say you crossed it, next time you let the ball go when your weight is on the wrong foot. It goes over in the next alley and joins your opponent's ball to give him a strike he didn't deserve and you meanwhile have got so tangled up in your own feet that you end up in a heap against the ball rack.

When you sink into a seat to rest your aching bones, one of your opponents will announce proudly, "we've got five more marks than you."

This sort of thing will go on all evening. After each game you'll learn that your team got the highest score but the other team got the bigger handicap, and therefore gets credit for the game. It's all very scientific and confusing.

But now you're really bowling. You've got the idea. Anyhow it's an excuse to get out once in a while.

Next week we'll return with our news and gossip with our neighbors. Be seein' you.

West High Girls Gain Experience As Diet Aides

By Myron T. Seifert

The hobby—and a useful one—of half a dozen West High girls on week-ends is carried on at Grant Hospital on Saturdays and Sundays.

The girls, known as Diet Aides, arise early, and report for work at the downtown hospital about 7 a. m., where they don blue, immaculate uniforms, and help prepare the appetizing breakfasts for hundreds of patients in the hospital.

The Hilltop Aides are Suzanne Johnson, 285 S. Chase-av, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson; Sharon Clarkin, 135 N. Chase-av, daughter of Mr and Mrs. W. Clarkin; Sally Billingsley, 2222 Amherst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Lemaster; Joan Dew, 145 S. Roys-av, daughter of Mr and Mr J. R Dew; Shirley Mercer, 274 Wrexham-av, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Mercer; and Barbara Stewart, 687 Chestershire-rd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Stewart.

Cleaning up the kitchen, washing dishes, disposing of garbage, etc., are a part of their training.

The noon trays have to be set up with two girls usually working together in a kitchen. After the noon meal is served the girls clean up the kitchen and scrape dishes again. Then the supper trays are set up. The girls leave at 4 o'clock while another shift of girls come in. These work only during the supper meal.

Visitors From France

Girls in home economics were honored Monday morning, Sept. 18, by four visitors from Paris, France, who observed the morning classes.

The visitors, three women and one man, were sent here by the French government through Ohio State University. Since they had been in the United States only two weeks none of the women could understand English. The man interpreted to them by a set of earphones which they wore. They were sent here to observe home economics teaching.

The lesson they observed was on making friends and succeeding in high school. After class the visitors inspected equipment and food used in the cafeteria. They were to return to France by next Monday.

New Sanders Arrive

New equipment has been added to the industrial arts shop this year, including two new sanders. One is a vibrator. Small sheets of sandpaper clamp to the bottom and a small motor vibrates very fast. It is used mostly for finishing work. With it came a buffing cloth for polishing, waxing and bringing finishes to a high luster.

The other sander is much larger. It is similar to the old, but is much better. Attached to it is a sack which catches all of the dust. The sandpaper belt is driven by a roller in the gear. Adjustments are on the front roller to keep it running level.

A few chisels, screwdrivers, a desk, waxes, brushes, paints and other supplies, were added this year.

Housing Problem Is Presented

Webb's Lady Candicy, more familiarly known about the Charles Squier household at 49 S. Eureka-av as just plain "Candy", recently presented her young mistress, Betsy Ann Squier, age seven, and the balance of the Squier family with a new housing problem when she bore a litter of eight miniature dachshund pups. Normally, according to Mrs. Squier, the litter for a miniature dachshund such as "Candy" is only five and the pups at lunch with "Candy" in the above photo are regarded as more or less of a rarity.

Who Runs America?

the Congress? the President?

OR YOU AND THE MAN NEXT DOOR?

RUNNING AMERICA is the joint job of 150,000,000 people. It's the biggest job in the world today—keeping it running for liberty and for freedom. And the whole world's watching to see whether Americans can do it!

IN MUCH OF THE WORLD today, the people have resigned from running their own countries. Others have been quick to step in—first with promises of "security"—and then with whips and guns—to run things their way. The evidence is on every front page in the world, every day.

FREEDOM COMES UNDER ATTACK. The reality of war has made every American think hard about the things he's willing to work and fight for—and freedom leads the list.

But that freedom has been attacked here recently—just as it has been attacked in other parts of the world. One of the most serious threats to individual freedom has been the threat of Government-dominated Compulsory Health Insurance, falsely presented as a new guarantee of health "security" for everybody.

THE PEOPLE WEIGH THE FACTS. In the American manner, the people studied the case for Socialized Medicine—and the case against it.

They found that Government domination of the people's medical affairs under Compulsory Health Insurance means lower standards of medical care, higher payroll taxes, loss of incentive, damage to research, penalties for the provident, rewards for the improvident.

They found that no country on earth can surpass America's leadership in medical care and progress. They found that able doctors, teachers, nurses and scientists—working in laboratories where Science, not Politics, is master—are blazing dramatic new trails to health for Americans—and for the world.

THE "GRASS ROOTS" SIGNALS CONGRESS. In every community in the Nation, people stood up to be counted on this important issue. Thousands of local women's clubs, civic groups, farm, business, religious, taxpayer, medical, educational and patriotic organizations spoke out—giving the great United States Congress its unmistakable Grass Roots signal from home!

And ever watchful, ever sensitive to an alert people, The Congress saw that signal, and heard the people speak out, loud and plain. That's democracy in action. That's the American way!

Today among the 10,000 great organizations on militant public record against "Compulsory Health Insurance" are:

- General Federation of Women's Clubs
- American Farm Bureau Federation
- National Grange
- Veterans of Foreign Wars
- National Conference of Catholic Charities
- American Protestant Hospital Association
- American Legion
- National Association of Small Business Men
- United States Chamber of Commerce
- National Association of Retail Grocers
- National Retail Dry Goods Association
- American Bar Association

• Doctors of this Nation are grateful that the people refused to be wooed by the fantastic promises of this un-American excursion into State Socialism. • Doctors of America are dedicated to serve their fellow citizens at home and their comrades in uniform, wherever service to this Nation may take them. • And the thing they stand ready to fight for—to sacrifice for—to die for—is not the alien way of life of Socialism, but the prideful security of a free and self-reliant people!

THE VOLUNTARY WAY IS THE AMERICAN WAY!

• Throughout the Nation, free men and women, working and planning together, are finding the American answer to every question of medical service, care and cost. Hundreds of Voluntary Health Insurance Plans are in healthy competition—sponsored by doctors, insurance companies, hospitals, fraternal organizations—by industry, agriculture and labor. • Today in America—70 million people are protected by Voluntary Health Insurance! • Throughout the Nation, families are insuring themselves against the major costs of illness—at reasonable, budget-basis prices. Voluntary Health Insurance takes the economic shock out of illness. Protect your family now. • For information, ask your doctor—or your insurance man.

An American's greatest heritage is the right to learn the facts—and to speak his mind. Maintained with honor and used with sincerity—that right will guarantee forever that

by C.C. Hartley

Gettysburg Address Revised (For the Taxpayers)

One score and sixteen years ago our fathers brought forth upon this nation a new tax, conceived in desperation and dedicated to the proposition that all men are fair game.

Now we are engaged in mass calculations, testing whether that taxpayer or any other taxpayer so confused and so impoverished can long endure. We are met on Form 1040. We have come to dedicate a large portion of our income to a final resting place with those men who spent their lives that they might spend our money.

It is altogether anguish and torture that—we should do this. But in the legal sense we cannot evade—we cannot cheat. We cannot underestimate this tax. The collectors, clever and sly, who compute here, have gone far beyond our power to add and subtract.

Our creditors will little more note nor long remember what we pay here, but the Bureau of Internal Revenue can never forget that we report here. It is for us, the taxpayers, rather to be devoted here to the tax return which the Government has thus far so nobly spent.

It is rather for us to be dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these vanishing dollars we take increased devotion to the few remaining; that we highly resolve that the next year will not find us in a higher income bracket.

That this taxpayer, underpaid, shall figure out more deductions; and that taxation of the people, by the Congress, for the Government shall not cause our solvency to perish.

"Not original with this corner but plenty good enough to pass on.

Flowers of the Week

For a good job as chairman of the Hilltop Mum Festival Committee a bouquet of Rosebud posies to C. H. Campbell, who put in hour upon hour in this job. And a verbal bouquet to each member of the committee for the fine cooperation given at every turn. And a new necktie to Leo McComb for his part in the festival planning and all the work that led up to it during the many months before.

Hilltop's First Mum Queen Is Crowned

Gail Grubb, 311 Cypress-av, blonde and petite entry of the Hilltop Swimming Pool, Wednesday evening was crowned "Mum Queen" to reign until a new queen is chosen next fall. Despite a downpour of rain, the more than a mile long parade draw a goodly sized crowd to the W. Broad-st area to witness the opening spectacle and judging of the queen contest. In the above photo, "Her Majesty Queen Gail" receives the congratulations of Kiwanis President Philip V. Stout and Columbus City Council President Henry Koontz. In winning over a field of 57 contestants Miss Grubb was awarded a $100 savings bond and a silver trophy. Her attendants selected by the judges and audience were Kitty Lou Kline, 33 Powhatan-av, and Elaine Taylor, 38 N. Chase-av.

Men Share Honors In Cake Contest

Judges of the cake baking contest sponsored jointly by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and Pillsbury Flour had no easy time making decisions at the first staging of the contest at the Mum Festival Saturday evening. Twenty-five entries faced the judges in the contest.

Grand prize winners in the contest with prizes awarded by Pillsbury were, first, Mrs. C. W. Walton, 39 Eldon-av (electric Mix Master); second, Mrs. George Matson, 32 Orel-av (electric waffle iron) and third, Mrs. Curt Wilcox, 2997 Palmetto (electric iron).

In two of the six divisions the men of the Hilltop stole a march on the ladies by also displaying their prowess in the kitchen and came up with prize winners. Gordon Wilcox, 2488 W. Broad-st, took down second prize money with a spice cake and in the yellow cake division an entry tagged Alford Shroyer, 2553 W. Broad-st, won third place honors. The latter entry, it was later learned was entered by Sam Alford and Lowell Shroyer who used a combination of their names to enter the contest and likewise came up with a stack of pancakes for that division. They claimed the pancakes to be yellow and won third place.

Other winners listed by the judges, Jeanne Montgomery (Betty Newton) of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., Ona Prather, home economist of West High, and Miriam Yantis of WOSU were:

Devil's food cake, first, Mrs. Curt Wilcox, 2997 Palmetto; second, Mrs. Howard Laymon, 624

Womens Chorus Presents Community Fund Benefit

While other women and men of the Hilltop are busy in the solicitation of funds and pledges for the 1950 Community Fund campaign a group of local women are making another type of approach in an effort to contribute additional funds to the project.

The Hilltop Womens Chorus on Tuesday, Oct. 24, will present a musical show at the Glenwood M.E. Church beginning at 8 p. m. with the entire proceeds of the program being turned over to the Community Fund, according to the group officers.

The show will be emcee'd by Bill Coon and present in addition to the musical program, Norman Menge, well known Hilltopper in the field of magic, a pantomine solo by Grace Martin, a ventriloquist act by Garnet Menge and Mitzi, a duet by Garnet Menge and Harry Masters and a Community Sing of several members.

Observing their fourth anniversary the chorus will render five different numbers during the program. The renditions will be: "Bless This House", "Lovely Things," "Southern Croon", "The Sleigh" and Moonbeams".

Soloists on the program are to be Charlotte Kloss, Garnet Menge, Dorothy Lose Young and Feryl Embry.

Accompaniest for the presentation will be Bertha Woodin, while the chorus director is Bertha Masters.

The choral group which was organized four years ago is led by Margaret Brophy, president; Anita Hagans, vice-president; Thelma Neal, treasurer; Grace Martin, secretary and Sarah Hoffman, as chaplain.

Membership of the chorus is composed of Mary Ramond, Ernestine Schumann, Betty Gilmore, Emma Etzler, Vera Johnson, Charlotte Kloss, Ferryl Embry, Elizabeth Burch, Garnet Menge, Helen Stewart, Catherine Hughes, Katherine Hamilton, Wilma McDonald, Minnie Dhume, Ruth Patterson, Margaret Purkey, Cornelia Boyer, Violet Baus, Ruth Rinear, Clarabelle Anderson, Mary Baker and Pearl Paul.

Chest X-Rays Start Monday

Approximately 1075 students, faculty members, and employees of West High School will be offered chest X-rays at the courtesy of the Columbus Tuberculosis Society, starting Monday at the high school building.

All X-rays will be free, provided through receipts from the 1949 Christmas seal sale in Franklin County, according to Principal Irvin F. Young.

West High School X-rays are a part of a six-week project of the Columbus Tuberculosis Society embracing six city high schools and 9000 persons. X-rays are now being conducted at Central High School.

Hallowe'en Contests Are Scheduled

"Barrels of fun! . . . No damage done!"

Such is the theme that will prevail among youngsters of the Hilltop on Hallowe'en night as they gather at West High School, Oct. 31, from 7 until 10 p. m. under the guidance of the civic and fraternal groups which make up the Hilltop Community Council and provide funds for the annual observance of the "witching night" in a safe, sane and non-destructive manner.

The local clubs have spared no effort to provide the youngsters with amusement, fun and prizes. A costume parade featuring goblins, witches, ghosts and other varied and sundry types of creatures that are prominent on Hallowe'en is one feature of the party, with prizes being awarded in each age group.

In addition there will be soft drinks, hot dogs, coffee and donuts; fortune telling and dancing in the West High gym; free movies and a dance revue by the Keith School of Dancing.

Beginning on Monday, Oct. 23, the Hilltop will blossom out in another splash of color as the young artists of the community try their hands at decorating of many Hilltop business windows with water color paints. This feature of Hallowe'en observance is sponsored through the local schools by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club in cooperation with the merchants of the locality.

Chairman Sam Alford, with his committee composed of C. C. Hartley, Bob Cramer, George Williams and Herbert Deems, this week outlined rules for the forthcoming contest and the prizes which will be awarded.

Alford said that the contest is limited to pupils of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the Highland, John Burroughs, West Broad Street, St. Aloysius, St. Mary Magdalene and West Mound Street schools.

A student eligible to compete for the prizes must first secure the permission of a merchant to decorate his window. After he secures the permission of the merchant, the student must then obtain an entry blank either at the school or at the Hilltop Record offices. This entry blank is then placed on the inside of the window where the student's painting is made.

Beginning Monday the youthful Hallowe'en artists can go to work with all the paintings being completed before the week is ended so that judging can take place on Oct. 30. Cups and assorted water color paints will be delivered to the schools by the early part of next week and distributed to the children who are participating in the contest. The Kiwanis Club is furnishing the supplies for the various schools.

Progress Edition Coming Nov. 5

Work is under way by The Hilltop Record staff on a special invitation to the public to visit the newly enlarged Record plant and see the new Wood newspaper press as well as other equipment. The special invitation will be in the form of a Progress Edition to be delivered to each Hilltop home on Sunday morning, Nov. 5.

The Progress Edition will be made up of a collection of stories about the Hilltop community during the past 50 years with numerous photos of the community as it is today.

Advertisers who are interested in getting their message into 12,000 homes that day will do well to reserve their space immediately. A call to RA. 1125 right now will bring a Record ad salesman at your convenience.

Deadline for news copy for that issue will be Oct. 30. Advertising copy will be accepted only until Oct. 28.

West 11 Rated Over Linden For Homecoming Game Friday

West's footballers will host to Linden's Panthers tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in a City League battle that will prevail as the 1950 Homecoming game of the season.

Both squads enter the fray with marks that don't necessarily indicate champions—but rivalry will be in the air between the city's two biggest districts. The Panthers have won two of five frays thus far this season while the Cowboys experience the same mark.

"Queen Pat" Culbertson will reign over the festivities at halftime of the game while her court will include four lovelies—Judy Brock, Judy Banning, Nancy Krull and Peggie Morris. Queen Pat will plant a kiss on the West co-captains for the game — Halfback Ronnie James and Tackle Dick McDermitt, elected at a recent meeting of the team Monday.

The West High Band will salute Pat in their halftime show. After uniting with the Linden band previous to the game in a huge block "UN", in tribute to the present United Nations Week, the bandsmen will form at the halftime, a stick figure of a girl (representing Pat); a baton twirler's hat (she is a majorette in the band) and a picture frame on which the entire halftime show will be held. Following will be the usual LMc (for Linden) and the block "W."

The football squad in two practice sessions thus far this year have proved to be keyed high for the Linden fray. Rated for the first time this year by the league predictors as a favorite, they are far from over-confident—but are sure that they will give the Panthers a battle.

The Panthers will be out for revenge from last season's 6-0 eke that West handed them. Halfback Ronnie James, present top ground-gainer on the West squad, made the only score of last year's fracas on a double-reverse play from 47 yards out.

The gridders are wasting no time in preparing for their encounter with the Panthers—going right into the "rough stuff" immediately following their usual Monday afternoon meeting. Scrimmages were on the agenda for both Tuesday and Wednesday with just a light drill this afternoon.

West will probably be starting their same backfield unit that saw action last week against North. Chuck Leibensperger will be calling the T-formation signals while Ronnie James and Charlie Hunter compose the halves with either Jerry Johnson or Carmine DeMatteo at fullback. DeMatteo was injured last week and was unable to play in the North fray, but will probably see action tomorrow. Mo

Flower Show Rated "Very Successful"

By Myron T. Seifert

Hilltop's first competitive amateur Mum Show, held Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 14 and 15, at Ralph Schmelzer's restaurant club room, 3178 W. Broad-st, under the sponsorship of the Highland Garden Club, and the enthusiastic cooperation of the Hilltop Kiwanis and the Columbus Chrysanthemum Society, aided substantially the movement to make the Hilltop "The Mum Community of the United States."

With 136 entries and many for display purposes only the initial show was a riot of colors on parade and a fitting climax and finale to the Hilltop's Mum Festival Week.

The Highland Garden Club members, all of whom did a remarkable job in staging the exhibition, are indebted to a legion of folks who helped bring to the Hilltop this outstanding show that will compare favorably with any in the country. These, in particular, went "all out" with the local Garden Club in the new community project; the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, Leo McCombs of the Rosebud Floral, Frank Morgan and R. R. Sidwell, president and secretary of the Columbus Chrysanthemum Society, Ralph Schmelzer and Fern Sharp of WBNS.

Judges of the show were Mrs. Paul G. Perry, 1243 Glenn-av; Mrs. C. F. Neiswander, Grove City; E. H. Gildersleeve, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thompson and Jos Learenbee.

Hundreds jammed the Schmelzer club room during the two-day show, and Proprietor Ralph Schmelzer, proud of the exhibit, invited many of his patrons to see the floral extravaganza. Folks from far and near trekked to the flower center.

Grand prize winner was Mrs. G. W. Huffman, 2555 Jackson-pk, who won seven out of ten entries. She tied with Richard Huff, 2711 Bellwood-av for four firsts, nosing out Huff on the number of seconds. Both are avid mum enthusiasts and friendly rivals at other shows.

Take it from Mrs. Huffman who avers that the Hilltop has the best mum show that I have ever seen."

Winner Mrs Huffman, who has followed mum growing for eight years, has at present some

Baby Parade Draws Attention Of Many

Beauty Queens weren't the only center of attraction at the Hilltop Mum Festival last week. Babies in the arms of doting mothers also came in for their share of attention from the judges and the Hilltop populace Friday afternoon when mild weather prevailed long enough for the first contest of this nature to be held on the Hilltop.

Beautifully decorated buggies and tiny tots made their way along W. Broad-st from the Masonic Temple led by the Kiddies Rhythm Band of the Hilltop Church of Christ and a quartet of cute majorettes from the Keith School of Dancing.

Judges Joe Dobbins, Sally Flowers and Tom Gleba found themselves in a quandry on several occasions in trying to determine winners in several of the classes of competition and on one occasion in the instance of the boy twins had to resort to actual measurement in order to determine winners of the classification for the most identical twins.

Final winners determined by the judging trio were:

First Division. (6 months to 1 year) "Master Personality" Lynn Houston, Algonquin-av. Miss Personality, Elizabeth Rupp, 117 N. Warren-av.

Second Division. (1 to 3 years) Daintiest Girl, Judith Lesch, 287 S. Southampton-av; "Most Robust Boy", James K. Hill III, 875 Sullivant-av.

Third Division. (Twins) Donna Lee and Diane Lin Ruffner, 219 S. Eureka-av, and Garry and Jerry Proper, 57 S. Wayne-av.

Fourth Division. (Decorated Taylor Tot) Harry James O'Connor, 183 Whitethorpe-av.

The baby parade committee was composed of Mrs. Lou Raush, 3061 Palmetta-dr; Mrs. Phil V. Stout, 616 Binns-blvd; Mrs. Edward Johnson, N. Hague-av; and Mrs. Evelyn Shroyer, 2553 W. Broad-st.

West PTA Plans Open House Tues.

By Myron T. Seifert

On Tuesday night, Oct. 24, at 7 p. m. the school bell will toll again at West High School for mothers and fathers of West High boys and girls, under the joint sponsorship of the West High PTA and faculty.

Mom and Pop will have a chance to sit in the same seats as their children, look teachers in the face, and learn, not from books, about the progress John and Mary are making in school.

Commonly called "Open House" lights will burn brightly from 7 to 9:30 p. m., and teachers will be at strategic locations (for the most part at their respective registration rooms) to receive the parents.

A miscellaneous bazaar sponsored by the PTA will also be held in the school corridor, the publicity chairman, Mrs. Mary Lou Nippert, said today.

Refreshments will also be on sale in the halls along with Christmas cards, baked goods, handiwork and candy.

Donations will be accepted in the school offices the day of the bazaar and anyone who wants to donate but has no way of getting the donation to the school may contact Mrs. Merrill Griffiths at Ra. 4088.

Membership committee will be set up to receive any new members, and all parents will register at the door.

Mrs. Merrill Griffiths is chairman of the bazaar and the following mothers are in charge of the different booths: decorations, Mrs. Herbert Williams; candy, Mrs. H. R. Keller; baked goods, Mrs. Lawrence Seibert; Christmas cards, Mrs. Frank Laderer; doughnuts and coffee, Mrs. H. C. A Human Relationship

REQUIRING Concept • Skill • Personal Interest • Understanding
AMERICAN PRACTICE OF MEDICINE is not strictly tied up with statistics and dollars. It involves the skill of hands, the experience and knowledge in the brain of the physician. It also includes human intangibles — such as personal interest and understanding.
Almost all doctors have understanding and exceptional character, because the physician's training brings him close to fundamental things—the sufferings, emotions and joys of human beings.
Your Doctor comes into contact with elemental life and death, and is called upon constantly to help work out emotional, as well as physical problems. Such understanding is based on close interest in the patient, and is valuable in the cure of illness.
Don't allow any sort of legislation to become law that would make you and your Doctor cogs in a political wheel.

Westgate EUB Will Observe 21st Anniversary

Dr. Heininger

The 21st anniversary of the Westgate Evangelical United Brethren Church will be celebrated Sunday, Oct. 22, at 10:30 a. m.

Dr. Harold Heininger, president of The Evangelical Theological Seminary at Naperville, Ill., will give the address, "Constructive Faith."

In the last several years the membership has nearly tripled and plans are now in progress to build an educational unit this conference year, at a cost of approximately $30,000.

The pastor, Harold Dutt, extended a welcome to the entire Hilltop to attend.

Cleopatra Visits Festival

The Professional Men's float which appeared in the opening Hilltop Mum Festival parade elicited many "Ohs, Ahs" and outright laughter when realization dawned that "Cleopatra" was in fact Noble Allen, Sr., and that the queen's attendants shown above were Dr. Jim Miles and Dr. R. J. Miller. Although attired as the Egyptian queen, complete with court, slaves, etc., "Cleopatra" refused to compete against Hilltop beauties in the parade, with the contention, "I'm already a queen."

A Real Home Freezer
A DeLuxe Refrigerator
Both For One Surprisingly Low Price
ONLY $399.95

THE VERY LATEST . . . the very finest . . . of today's refrigerators offers you the advantage of having both a refrigerator and a home freezer in one cabinet:

But—when you decide on that type of refrigerator—you want to be sure that the freezer is a real home freezer . . . one that can maintain zero temperature at all times.

And you can be sure, when you buy the new, dependable General Electric Refrigerator-Home Freezer Combination.

This is what to look for. This is what you get.

Each compartment with individual cold control
Look for separate compartments, separate outside doors!

Top compartment is a real home freezer, because it's separately refrigerated, insulated all around, and has its own outside door.

A real home freezer, because it maintains zero temperature—for quick freezing foods and ice cubes and for storing up to 70 pounds of frozen foods (10-cu.-ft. model) or 53 pounds (eight cu.-ft. model).

A real home freezer, because its zero temperature keeps frozen foods in prime condition for as long as 12 months—four full seasons!

In lower compartment alone (either 8- or 10-cu. ft. model) there is fresh-food storage space equivalent to that in the conventional 8- or 10-cu. ft. refrigerator.

It is the last word in a spacious fresh-food refrigerator. Separately refrigerated, separately insulated, and with its own outside door!

It never needs defrosting! Dishes need not be covered! Cold is moisture-conditioned. Big, deep drawers keep fruits and vegetables just right! The butter conditioner, easily accessible in door, keeps butter at proper temperature for easy, wasteless spreading.

8-Cubic Foot Models
The General Electric Combination is available in 8-cubic foot models—just right for your household. We think you'll agree they provide the most that's offered in a home refrigerator today.

This model is very much in demand and we have just received a very limited supply for immediate delivery.
If you are planning to purchase a refrigerator for your home for Christmas now is the opportune time to buy it and have it put in layaway.

More than 2,500,000 General Electric Refrigerators have been in service 10 years or longer!

And the chief reason, of course, is the famous General Electric sealed-in refrigerating system. Airtight and oiltight, this dependable system has never been excelled for efficient, economical operation . . . year in, year out.

"RESOLVED! I Will Not Bother To Vote In Any Election!"

Sounds silly? Yet, in effect that was the resolution of 45 million American citizens who failed to cast their ballots in the last national election!

The right to vote is fundamental to freedom. Failure to vote invites the loss of our rights—freedom of speech, freedom of worship, the right to trial by jury. These rights came to us from our forefathers, who won them at terrible sacrifice of fortunes, homes and lives! To protect them is a full-time job—it's a 365-days-a-year job for 150 million Americans.

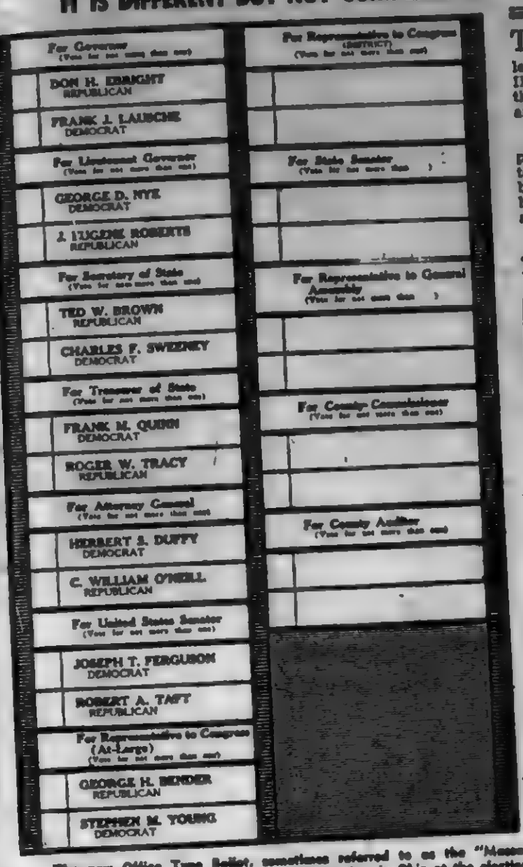
Let's do our share! Let's get out and vote at every election—national or local; make our voices heard in union, stockholders' and school meetings. Serve on juries gladly. In short—let's be active full-time citizens.

Are You A Full-Time Citizen?

What a Difference!

A while back the Russians made a great to-do of the fact that, by government decree, retail prices on a long list of items had been sliced as much as 50 per cent. This was made the subject of a Chattanooga News Free Press cartoon which is both amusing and instructive. The cartoon points out that the average Russian worker is paid the equivalent of $34.61 per week. It then shows what, after the wonderful price cuts, he must pay for various commodities.

Pork costs him $4.00 a pound and rice $1.67. A pound of bread comes to 68 cents, and butter is $5.00. A man's suit can be taken off the shelves for a mere $280.00; while a woman's dress is given away at $110. A table model radio can be had for $272, and a midget motor car for $2,000. All the worker has to do is to save enough each week out of his $34.61 to buy what he wants!



Here are the fruits of total government ownership and control of production and distribution. Retailing in Russia, for example, is non-competitive as we understand the word. The state runs the stores—aside from a few luxury emporiums which can be patronized only by the ruling class—and determines what will be stocked and what will be charged. The customer can like it or lump it.

Contrast this with the stores which are found right here on the Hilltop. The results of a free, competitive market are evident on every side—better goods, attractive service, and the lowest possible prices.

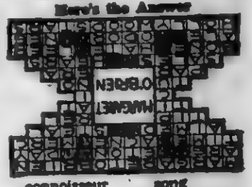
VOTERS NEED NOT FEAR NEW BALLOT— IT IS DIFFERENT BUT NOT COMPLICATED

The new Office Type Ballot, sometimes referred to as the "Massachusetts Ballot", which will be used for the first time in Ohio at the election November 7 is different but it is not complicated. It abolishes the old style "straight-ticket" voting with a single X. With the new ballot you simply mark an X in the square at the left of the name of EACH candidate for whom you wish to vote.

The new ballot is similar to the ballot used in the Primary elections to which voters have become accustomed.



It will be noted that the party designation is indicated immediately under the name of each candidate.

There has been no change in the separate non-partisan judicial ballot which will also be handed to each voter and on which there is no party designation given under the candidates' names.

West Becomes Victim No. 5 For League Leading North

By Dave Miller

Taking advantage of the breaks handed them by West's Cowboys, North High's defensively-minded footballers squeezed past the locals, 6 to 0, last Friday evening at Magly Field before a throng [illegible].

North scored on the sixth play of the game and looked from this that they might turn the game into a rout or at least a fairly even scoring duel. However, neither resulted with that score by the Polar Bears, set up by a West bobble on the Cowboy 37, deciding the contest some 48 playing minutes later.

The Cowboys took the defeat in a rough mood. The game meant a lot. And they knew it—but there's still four more league frays to be played and anything can and probably will happen.

North High's Bob Weinrech literally tore the Cowboy line to shreds. But he was the lone North back who could go anywhere. Ace halfbacks Jim Spung and Clark Laurence were bottled up all evening through line-bucks and end sweeps—but the Cowboys couldn't seem to halt Weinrech who constantly would take a handoff from Quarterback Don Wiper from his tailback slot and barrelled right over the center of the West line.

The big fullback didn't plunge or dive—he galloped—that similar to the style of Arlington's star Halfback Doug Goodsell. Weinrech took long strides and after given a two or three yard jump on his defenders he was hard to stop. Time and again the big No. 97 would dive into the West forward wall for needed yardage for a first down.

However, Bob who has a twin brother, John, on the team) showed signs of tiring in North's attempt to hold onto the ball in the final moments of play—and the Polars without their tailback's services were lost as they repeatedly miscued and committed penalties which gave West every opportunity to tally.

The entire story of the game as far as the actual scoring was concerned can be nutshelled into about three or four plays. The Cowboys knew that North was the type of team that will take advantage of any opportunity their opponent's afford them.

They knew this previous to the game's opening kickoff. And they had it proved to them on the sixth play of the game. Every team gets breaks but to take advantage of them is another thing entirely. The Cowboys learned the hard way.

Halfback Jim Spung kicked off for North and the ball, on two bounces went to Fullback Jerry Johnson, who was in the tailback slot replacing Carmine DeMatteo, injured in last week's Aquinas fray. Johnson couldn't quite "find the handle" on the pigskin, and after dropping it once and picking it up he was hit from behind and fumbled again with Fullback Dick Albrecht and Tackle Jim Bovie, both of North, falling on the loose ball on the West 37.

North got their break and the veteran North mentor, Mike Hagley, serving in his 31st year as grid coach at the Arcadia-av school, made his footballers take advantage of it.

Jim Spung took the ball on the initial play from scrimmage and raced through off-tackle down to the West 13. Guard John Palmer pulled out of the line to try the left end but was stopped by George Crissinger and Johnson on the 13. Paced by Bob Weinrech, the Bears wasted no time at all in gathering their touchdown. Weinrech went to the five on the next play and followed this by crossing the double stripe, but he had the play called back through a North offside. However, the same Weinrech plunged over for keeps on the next play—scoring untouched right through the middle of the line. Sophomore Stahle's attempted kick was low of the crossbars. A bad pass from center hurried the kicker.

The remainder of the initial quarter was dull as neither team penetrated within its opponent's 25-yard stripe. In fact, aside from the North scoring drive, neither team got within its opponent's 10-yard stripe—which made for a rather dull evening for the overflow crowd on hand.

North's Jim (Footsie) Ferguson did a terrific job of punting for the Bears—averaging 38.2 yards per try, while Jerry Trabue, sophomore end for the Cowboys, did almost as good with a 33.0 average. These averages indicate the fact that each team was held pretty well in its own territory throughout the fray. Both lines did an outstanding job on defense.

Jim Ealy played his usual bang-up game at the end post while Spike Ringer, Bill Orcutt and Dick McDermitt were constantly thorns in the Bears' side. North's linebacker, Paul Eckelberry, probably stole the entire defensive show for the visitors, along with Jim Bovie, Herb Jones and Keith Miller.

With three minutes gone in the third quarter, West's gridders threatened seriously to get back into the game.

Neither team did much in the opening stanza of the second half at first with two exchanges of punts occurring. Ferguson punted out of bounds on the last of the two boots on the North 47. Fullback Dick Briggs on a quick opener raced around the North right end before being shoved out of bounds on the Bear 27. A backfield handoff was bobbled on the next play from scrimmage and Eckleberry recovered for the Maroon and Gold. However, no sooner had each team sent in their defensive platoon than the ball again changed hands. Weinrech raced off-tackle to the North 27, but he fumbled when hit by Bill Vauwters and Ealy and Ronnie James recovered for the Cowboys—handing the locals another opportunity to score.

They failed, however, to take advantage of it. Charlie Hunter and Dick Briggs were stopped in two running plays and a pass from Chuck Leibensperger to Jerry Trabue was incomplete. Another failure by Briggs handed north the pigskin on their own 26.

West's final opportunity in the game came as the Cowboy fans were woefuly watching the clock with less than three minutes remaining in the fray. After North failed to advance in their third chance with the ball in the final quarter, Ferguson kicked to Charlie Hunter who returned to the North 47.

Ronnie James squirted through guard for four yards but Dick Briggs failed to gain around end, and with third and six, two consecutive plays by the Cowboys failed and North took over on their 43.

On the Polars first chance from scrimmage, Clark Laurence fumbled and Tackle Bill Vauwters recovered on the North 40. A Leibensperger to Crissinger aerial was incomplete, but on the next play, Jerry Johnson, attempting to pass threw incomplete to Trabue and James, but North was charged with a 15-yard "roughing the passer penalty" and the ball was set on the North 25 with first down and 10 to go and 2:10 remaining in the contest.

Here the West offense again bogged down. Ronnie James gained two around end, but three consecutive attempts—two from Leibensperger and one from Trabue failed and North sewed up their fifth straight win of the year and their third in the City Loop play. West's defeat evened their City Loop mark at 1-1.

The lineups:

North—Ends: Ferguson, Spain, Kavanaugh, Wells. Tackles: Jones, Bovie, Hedges, Spengler. Guards: Needles, Burgess, Palmer, Bauer. Centers: McIver, K. Miller, Bash. Backs: Wiper, Laurence, Spung, B. Weinrech, Lawyer, Stahle, J. Weinrech, Albrecht, Eckelberry, Blackford.

West High Drum Major Leads In Other Fields Too

By Myron T. Seifert

That high-stepping lad, bedecked in buff and brown with the salutary headgear and plume spear-heading the celebrated West High Marching Band, is Cliff Everett, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Everett, 464 S. Powell-av.

Drum Major Cliff spends countless hours in training as the vanguard of the West High musical contingent that adds color to every occasion where the West band is in evidence.

His role as drum major, however, is secondary only to his church leadership where he also excels. Member of the Warren Avenue Church of the Nazarene, he is church librarian, one of the choir luminaries and a leader in the Nazarene Young People's Society. Upon graduation from West High School he plans to attend the Olivet Nazarene College.

A winsome smile and pleasant personality mark him as a favorite among his church friends and school classmates.

Gene Autry has nothing on the West drum major. Cliff can warble Autry style in a manner that would deceive the radio singing cowboy himself. With guitar in hand Cliff is a natural.

All around American boy best describes the West drum major.

The blond haired, five foot five and one-half inch boy is chaplain of the West Hi-Y Club, and takes an active interest in the Allied Youth organization there. He recently treked to Camp Wilson for the Hi-Y retreat with other club officials.

Past-master in twirling the baton, he was a protege of John Glass, former West High drum major in 1946.

SPORTSLANTS

By Dave Miller

The recent development of Central's football squad this season has prompted many to believe the old thought that is quickly developing around the City Football League the past three or four years.

The Pirates, defending champions from last season, are currently in the midst of a rather disappointing season, after losing some 22 lettermen from last year's champs.

West, champions of the city in 1947 and 1948 lost 21 lettermen in '48 and last year went through a rather dismal season, winning only three of nine contests.

So, on this basis, defending champions going into a new season will mean practically nothing from here onward. It is merely a sentence exclaiming the fact of the defending champ of the loop. Minnesota, Ohio State's opponent Saturday is a highly changed ball club from last year through graduation losses—missing are some 16 letter winners from last season's club that was the lone club to down OSU last season (27-0), in fact.

West's hopefuls this season turned out some eight strong for the gridiron sport, and all are currently playing first string. Tackle Dick McDermitt; Guard Bill Orcutt, End George Crissinger returned for line duty while Jerry Johnson, Charlie Hunter, Carmine DeMatteo and Ronnie James returned in the backfield.

SHORT BITS: West is currently preparing for a gala pep rally tomorrow afternoon following school to get the enthusiasm plenty high for this year's homecoming tilt . . . Queen Pat Culbertson will reign with Judy Brock, Judy Banning, Peggie Morris, and Nancy Krull . . . The West Band will salute Pat, the queen, in its halftime show, forming a baton twirler's hat (Pat is a majorette in the band) and will also form a stick figure of a girl, first in a skirt and then into a formal dress, priming things for the Homecoming Dance to be held in the West gym at 8 p. m. Saturday evening . . . the West Junior High Band will make its initial appearance of the year at halftime also—forming a heart and the letters P-A-T. Incidentally, Queen Pat is the sister of Dick Culbertson, all-city halfback for West in their championship 1948 season . . . He currently is playing for Eastern Kentucky College.

West will play next week's game, hosting East's powerful Tigers under the arcs at Magly Field on Saturday evening . . . The reason for the change is a teacher's meeting to be held on Nov. 3 . . . The All-Ohio Coaches' Basketball Clinic will be held this Friday at East High School . . . As yet the clinic speakers have not been announced. The clinic was held last year at West under the sponsorship of the Ohio State Athletic Association and the West High Athletic Department.

West's basketball practice sessions are currently being held at the West Gym after school on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday under Head Coach George Williams. However, the team is awaiting some returnees that are presently playing football. Coach Williams plans to really get down to action once the football season climaxes (Nov. 10) and have some three full weeks to shape up his squad for its initial game in the first week of December.

Camp Chase Post News

By John Martindale

Coming Events

Friday, Oct. 20, 8:15 p. m.—Regular post meeting. Monday, Oct. 23—post banquet for 1950 Junior Baseball teams. Thursday, Oct. 26—Hallowe'en dance, round and square. Saturday, Nov. 11, 6 to 9 p. m.—Armistice Day breakfast. 10:30 a. m.—Armistice Day parade. 12 noon—Armistice Day open house.

The annual membership drive is well along.

The post officers and the membership teams are urging present members to pay their 1951 dues and are extending an invitation to veterans of World Wars I and II to join the Legion. The Legion dues, small as they are, enable the local post to set up a program of activities that will bring the members closer together as well as provide service within the community. In addition to this the state and national programs of rehabilitation, veterans' relief, legislation and child welfare, etc., are made possible.

Among the many Legionaires who attended the 1950 national Legion convention just closed in Los Angeles were two of the past commanders of Camp Chase Post, Michael H. Austin and Vernon C. Fiscus. These two are among the many who attend these conventions not just for fun but for the hard work of the convention. They have both given years of service to the Hilltop Legion post and are serving on the executive committee of Franklin County Council. Both attended the 1950 district and state conventions as delegates of Camp Chase Post and then went to the national as delegates of the 12th District.

Something to think about: How long will the Stars and Stripes continue to wave over this land IF national economy forces a disabled veteran to give up a much needed hospital bed?

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

Glad to see MR. BORCHERS back in circulation again. Your leg will soon be as good as new, PETE.

HENRY HIGHFILL traded in his car for a Nash. Do we all go for a ride, now?

Two new television sets are in our vicinity. The RODGERS family with a Magnavox console; and the BOBBINS with an Admiral.

Now that BOB BORROR'S garage is finished he's going to keep his motorcycle and boat in there: He says he's not worried about a car yet.

MARY MARVIN will no doubt be the most popular wife in our crowd, since they bought that new spinet piano. She sings too.

The BARRETTS are in style with the new nylon furniture. They were lucky to get the last suite since it's another one of those "hard to get" articles.

MYRTLE BROWN won a cake at a bazaar last week. She never won a thing in her life, and almost fainted when she won.

Since ANN WILSON learned to drive, their car is never in the garage anymore. Not out in front, either. She has the car on the "go" all the time.

This is the last straw—but it's a good one. MYRON WHEATLEY gave his wife a home-made permanent. He did pretty good, too. Now he's being teased about going into the business.

Pets Of All Description Vie For Prizes At Hilltop's Mum Festival

A bevy of strange pets numbering more than two hundred were put on display Saturday afternoon as the final parade of the Hilltop Mum Festival was staged. Dolls, bikes and pets of all description ranging from cats, monkeys, goldfish, dogs, rabbits, white mice and even "Guppies" paraded for nearly two hours before the judges ere final selections were completed.

Chairmen of the parade, Dr. R. J. Miller and Harold Cunningham expressed complete satisfaction with the number of entries in the parade and competition. Loud in their praise of the youngsters who responded with entries, they indicated that next year's planning would be started earlier in order that accommodations could be made for even more entries.

Children who did not win one of the major prizes in the competition were at least rewarded with candy bars for their efforts and the pride of showing off their prized pets.

Seven different divisions were set up for the parade and contest with ribbons and cash awards made to winners in each classification.

The winners of ribbons and cash prizes were:

Largest pet, first Pat Hartley, 1370 Wilson-rd; second, Sharon Washburn, 244 Eldon-av; third, Robert Blake, 241 N. Sylvan-av.

Best decorated girl's bike, first, Lynn Schmidt; second, Holly Hunt, and third, Sandra Jean Anderson.

As an added inducement to early entries in the parade an offer of theater tickets to the first twenty-five entries was made and winners in this group were, Carol Linebrink, Joyce Brunner, Shirley Ritter, Judith Newkirk, Clark Andrews, Brenda Colwell, John Ingram, Robert Elliott, Geoffrey Rausch, Kail Linebrink, Jerry Ogdin, Carolyn Preston, Zo Ann Stanfield, Arthur Newkirk, Sharon Washburn, Larry Washburn, Carol Sue Denner, Susan Porter, Betsy Ann Squier, Jane Adams, Bob Howells, Janet Wesley, Julia Kazee, Carol McWilliams and Mike Close.

Gourd Fanciers To Exhibit For Three Days

By Myron T. Seifert

Fourth annual Gourd Show, sponsored by the Ohio Gourd Society, to be held at Lazarus Assembly Center, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Oct. 19, 20, and 21, will attract a multitude of fanciers, including Hilltoppers, to the downtown exhibition, Mrs. Howard Hamlin, officer of the group, said today.

Outstanding feature at the recent Ohio State Fair the show will again bring all types of the fruit, and its utility and decorative values, to the many visitors at the exposition, including antique gourds, craft gourds, etc.

Mrs. Floyd Ruble, Grove City, is one of the avid gourd fans, and much interest is being elicited from Hilltoppers in the unusual gourd show. President of the group is Everitt Lowray, Coshocton.

St. Aloysius Parish Conducts Second Holy Year Tour

On Sunday, Oct. 15, the St. Aloysius Parish Council of the DCCW conducted its second Holy Year Tour with an attendance of 60 adults.

The tour began at St. Aloysius Church, progressed to St. Joseph's Cathedral, to Holy Cross and finished at the Chapel of Our Ladys of Sorrows St. Joseph's Cemetery, where they attended benediction services with members from St. Catherine's, Holy Rosary, Immaculate Conception and St. Mary's, Groveport. An approximate 200 people made this tour.

West Alumni Homecoming Plans Listed

The month of October has gained added recognition by virtue of the fact that Homecoming Day at West High School is listed as another Hilltop highlight on its calendar.

Tomorrow evening's game between West and Linden McKinley will again feature a spectacle of Columbus high school football flavored by traditional ceremonies at the local grid arena. The principal attraction for many, of course, will be the football game, but for many old grads, renewed friendships and the halftime ceremonies will be considered worthy of attendance.

West's contribution in terms of a "Nifty Fifty" is Pat Culbertson who will reign with her court attendants Judy Banning, Nancy Krull, Judy Brock and Peggy Morris as queen of the festivities. These lovely girls will be introduced to the crowd along with the other speakers of the evening at half-time in addition to a promising performance by the West Senior and Junior High bands.

Alumni President Bill Hawes this week cordially welcomed all West grads to attend this annual event and announces that membership cards held or purchased prior to the game at the north and east entrances will be honored as admission to the homecoming game and dance.

The dance will be in the school gymnasium the following evening, Saturday, Oct. 21, from 9-12 p. m. Tom Dale's orchestra will be featured for dancing pleasure while the intermission ceremonies will consist of the queen, her court, the coaches and some forty page boys of the football team.

West - Linden

Dobbs, tackle, who also missed the Polar Bear game due to an injury, is on the doubtful list. His injured neck is still giving him some trouble.

West's offensive line may be subject to some changes although Monday and Tuesday both the defense and offense was the same that saw action last week.

Assistant Coaches Pat McMillian and Jerry Fedderson, who scouted the Linden team last week, report that the Panthers have two hard-running backs in Myron Hutchison and Don Stein. The latter runs from the tailback slot and was reported as the offensive ground gaining star of last week's upset over Central. Hutchison is a halfback and is very fast although he is also adept at line bucks. The Panthers, for the first time in several years, are running from a single wing formation—at present the lone City League school doing so.

Girls Invade Drafting Domain Of Boys At West High School

By Myron T. Seifert

Practically every occupation and profession is now represented by women . . . and West High School, in its curricula, makes possible for girls a training in what once was considered a "man's world."

Yes, the field of mechanical drawing at the Hilltop school is now jointly a bi-partisan, cooperative course, open as an elective to both boys and girls—and two West High girls are enrolled in the work.

Judy Ward, 17 year old West High senior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ward, 31 Haldy-av, is taking her second year in the work, after completing the basic fundamentals, along with several other girls, last term.

"I am taking mechanical drawing because I enjoy it, and hope to use it to advantage sometime," she said. Judy looks to the School of Nursing at Ohio State next year.

Sue Vawters, a 16 year old junior, is also a second year student in mechanical drawing, and a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew F. Vawters, 2185 Springmont-av, is adept at manipulating the square and compass, and has "designs" on interior decoration.

"I find the course enjoyable and worthwhile, and hope to follow work in interior decoration," Sue observed.

C. S. Kennedy is instructor of mechanical drawing at West High School. His boys and girls generally sweep the boards in premiums at the Ohio State Fair.

Looking Ahead with J. W. WORREL

Many of my readers must have heard of the Better Business Bureau. It is an institution which may be found in every important city in Canada and the United States. Its members are the great business and industrial organizations of the nation who have combined to destroy all dishonest trading practices, rackets, and any shady attempts to deceive the public at large. It is a non-stock, non-profit organization designed to increase public confidence in making purchases and to protect the public by exposing and prosecuting to the utmost limits of the law any who seek quick returns from rapacity and falsehood. This institution which is independent and will not endorse or recommend any product or concern, has this to say about life insurance. I quote:

"Life insurance as an institution is of immense benefit to society. The question — What kind and how much life insurance should I have? — is one that cannot be answered in generalities. It can be answered only by you yourself after you have consulted responsible life insurance agents, have studied what they offer, and have — equally important — made at least a general plan of your own for the protection of your dependents and your own old age. Your life insurance purchase should become a regular part of your budget. In the purchase of life insurance, the intelligent, convinced purchaser is likely to be not only the most satisfied customer of the life insurance company, but the most convinced supporter of life insurance as an institution. If and when you have made a decision to buy life insurance, it is risky to postpone action. One cannot foretell the future. Tomorrow may be too late."

Local General Motors Plant Checks Health of Employees

It has always been the policy of General Motors to give primary consideration to the employe's welfare in the planning and construction of its many plants.

In view of this policy an area over fifteen hundred square feet of floor space was set aside for a Medical Center in planning the construction of the local Ternstedt Division, General Motors Corporation plant.

The original plans were carried out and the area now houses an Industrial Medical Center of latest design and furnished with the most modern equipment.

The unit is provided with modern treatment rooms, an operating room, doctor's office, nurses' quarters, separate men's and women's wards, a treatment room exclusively for eyes, a clinical laboratory, and a physiotherapy department offering infra-red and ultra-violet treatments, hot and cold soaks, contrast and whirlpool baths, surface and deep diathermy. A fully equipped X-ray department completes the facilities.

A well-qualified industrial physician devotes his full time to supervising the Medical Department. The unit is further staffed by a full complement of graduate nurses and clerical personnel.

In accordance with these policies and its constant effort to make "Ternstedt a Better Place to Work," the local plant of Ternsted Division, General Motors Corporation, on May 23, 1950, insugurated a policy of taking chest X-rays of all employes, both salaried and hourly rated, to determine the presence of tuberculosis and other lung conditions among its workers. When this program is completed, more than 4400 men and women will be surveyed, of which, to date, almost a thousand employes have been X-rayed, only two cases have been found necessitating the employe to seek treatment from his doctor. It is anticipated that this program will be completed in the next few months.

The chest X-rays are a part of the pre-employment examination of all employes, both hourly and salary.

The X-ray equipment used is of the latest design, photographing a fluoroscopic image of the chest on a 4x5 photographic negative. In cases where there are suspicious findings, a large 14x17 inch film is taken to double check the condition.

In cases where active tuberculosis or other lung condition is found, the employe is notified, and told to consult his family physician for further studies and treatment.

BIBLE COMMENT

The Bible Proclaims Life's Sacredness; So Must Soldiers

WITH UN and enemy casualties mounting daily on the blood-stained beachheads of Korea, all peace-loving people in the world are confronted with the problem of proclaiming the sacredness of human life.

It is not enough, however, for us to wring our hands and deplore war in the presence of ruthless aggression and the perpetuation of atrocities. Instead, we must make it plain for all to see that we are at war only because we condemn war.

To [illegible] to the world the sacredness of human life is the greatest purpose of all who are involved in the fight against brutality. Scourging mankind throughout history, war has been a disease, infecting the minds of leaders with a desire for power. The immediate thing to do is to fight the present epidemic with every possible weapon and resource.

And in this conflict to reproclaim the sacredness of life, what textbook can better serve us than the Bible?

In Genesis, it is asserted that man is made in God's image and that man is an intelligent being with power of control in God's world. In Romans 14, we are reminded of our obligations to one another. Still another reminder that it is man's privilege to be the temple of the living God is contained in Corinthians 6.

The reading of these books may some day serve to help modern-day man find the light that will illuminate his proper value and relationship in God's world. But unless his actions are clear and incisive, new dictators will always spring up to replace their fallen predecessors.

And the sacredness of human life will continue to be a hollow mockery in the face of epidemic wars.

Hilltopper Has Lead Role In Y-Teen Church Service

Climaxing National Y-Teen Roll Call Week, a candlelight recognition service for new Y-Teen members was held in Trinity Episcopal Church, on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 15.

Danetta Adams, 95 S. Harrisav, president of the Columbus Y-Teen Inter-Club Council, lighted the candle of all club presidents as a symbol of the unity of the clubs. Rev. J. Albert Clark, director of the youth division of the Ohio Council of Churches, spoke to the group.

THE Village Square

In the heart of your town—in the heart of any American town—lies a part of the real heritage of America: the village square.

Over this square have passed the steps of your sons on their way to school—the same sons who are now citizens of the town themselves, or respected figures in our national life. Your town's future has been decided, in public debate, on the bandstand. Above the quiet waters of the little fountain in the lazy, timeless days of summer has risen the talk of young lovers with their future before them, the voices of old men talking over old times, the laughter of children whose sturdy legs and clear eyes are in themselves a guarantee of our American future.

Not far from that square is another landmark—the church. It has given youth its faith. It has brought serenity and vision to the lives of old men. It has seen young lovers become man and wife before its altar. It has given steadiness and steadfastness to the citizens of your town.

In one respect, these squares are not important in themselves. Yet what they hold is of vital importance in the life of your community. For one holds memories of the past that will never be forgotten. And the church, as always, will continue to point out the only true path into the future.

Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord. I Cor. 15:58

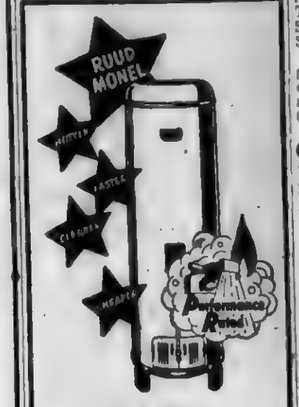
Hilltonia EUB Church Observes Anniversary Day

Anniversary Day will be celebrated in the Hilltonia Evangelical United Brethren Church, 514 Columbian-av, next Sunday. Three services have been scheduled for the day, morning, at 9:30; afternoon, at 3:30; and evening at 7:30.

Dr. W. R. Montgomery of Dayton, O. will be the guest speaker for the day. Dr. Montgomery is the director of Adult and Brotherhood Work of the EUB denomination and has been a personal friend of the pastor, Rev. R. S. Parr, for many years.

Marion Embleton, guest soloist, will sing in morning and afternoon services. In the afternoon former pastors and visiting ministers will give brief messages. The brotherhood will sponsor an all musical program at 7:30 in the evening. Carole Lee Robinson, Richard Harris and a men's chorus will contribute special features.



The observance of this year's anniversary will mark the beginning of a three year program planned by the Board of Trustees to culminate in the completion and dedication of the new stone sanctuary.

"A Completed Church in 1953" has been adopted as the anniversary slogan.

Youth Fellowship Gains Stature At Burgess EUB

Youth Fellowship will have definite bearing upon the evening evangelistic service at the Burgess Avenue EUB Church this Sunday night. The young people will have complete charge of the service, with the exception of the sermon which will be delivered by Rev. Lane, the pastor.

The choir will open with singing, "Thank You Lord." Mary Lou Mitchell will lead the song service; Ronnie Grant will be the presiding officer; Barbara Upperman will play the piano; Nancy Farley will read the scripture; Bill Grims will play the saxophone; Eleanor Kozad and Kenny Carpenter will play an accordion duet for the offering; Rosemary Ryerson, Fay Jones, Eddie Thomas, and Jim Sharkey will act as ushers and receive the offering; Danny Grant will sing a solo, accompanied by Rosemary Pinkerton at the piano, and Suzanne Hoover will read a poem.

On Thursday night, Oct. 26, the Youth Fellowship will enter into an evening of fun and fellowship when a Hallowe'en Party will be given in the church basement.

Hoge Memorial Fellowwship Officers Chosen

Officers for the 1951-1952 season have been elected by the Fellowship groups at Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church. The Senior Westminster Fellowship will have the following officers: Moderator, Audrey Smith; Vice-Moderator, Howard Merriman; Stated Clerk, Ward Cassell and Treasurer, Janice Buckingham.

The Junior Westminster Fellowship has elected the following: Moderator, Martha Merriman; Vice-Moderator, Katherine Thomas; Stated Clerk, Carolyn Smith and Treasurer, Carolyn Stilwell.

Fred Wells is leader of the two groups which meet each Sunday evening at the church, the Juniors at 5:00 p. m. and the Seniors at 6:30 p. m.

Olive St. Man Finds Ready Buyer For Water Tank

The ad read:

"Used galvanized 30 gal. hot water tank with stand, gas burner and pipe fittings. RA. 0801."

Result: An alert Record reader saw the ad, called at 5 p. m. Thursday, and by 7 p. m. had bought the water tank from W. J. Monaghan, 2915 Olive-st.

Seller meets buyer through the Classified columns of The Hilltop Record, and both are benefitted through this convenient, inexpensive medium.

Whether you're buying or selling goods or services, you'll be wise to follow the example of thousands who are using Record Want Ads to good advantage. Dial RA. 1125 to place your ad in next week's issue.

Hallowe'en Party

Prize awards will be made on the basis of first prize, $15, second, $10, third, $5, and ten other consolation prizes of $1 each. Alford pointed out that the youth winning prizes for himself will also win an amount similar to his prize for the school which he or she attends.

The complete cooperation of local merchants was urged by the Kiwanis Club for this Hallowe'en project which is now in its fifth year on the Hilltop.

"If you could see how much fun the kids have at West High School on Hallowe'en night you would understand why there is so little damage done in this community by vandalism," says Russell Carter, president of the Hilltop Community Council which is a representative organization of all Hilltop business, professional and fraternal groups.

So remember the slogan: "Barrels of fun . . . No damage done!"

Genevieve Gilbert Funeral Rites Held Wednesday

Surviving are a daughter, Nellie B. Gilbert; two sons, Ray H. and Curtis H. Gilbert, Los Angeles, and two grandsons.

Rev. A. J. Wold conducted the funeral service at 2 p. m. Wednesday in Hoge Memorial Church, and burial was made in Glen Rest Cemetery.

The second week of the Community Chest campaign for $1,418,868 will be marked by two important report luncheons for all volunteer workers.

Reports on Tuesday, Oct. 24, called Pick-a-Project Day, will honor groups which have selected projects in the campaign so far.

The pick-a-project plan, introduced this year, gives contributors a number of agency services with their pledge. In this way a club group giving a pledge of $62.08 may buy 10 visits by a district nurse to some one who is seriously ill, five free examinations for worried persons at the Cancer Clinic, six months of activities at a settlement house for a boy or girl and a couple of weeks care for a smaller child at a day nursery.

Individual givers may buy hospital care for one child for one day with a pledge of $8.50 or give one week's care in a good foster home for another child with a contribution of $14.

The second luncheon of the week, Thursday, Oct. 26, will be Women's Day in honor of the 2100 women who are working in the five residential divisions. Mrs. Claris Adams, 2709 E. Broad-st, vice chairman of the campaign, will preside, and Mrs. Walter Rumsey, Marvin, head mistress, Columbus School for Girls, will speak.

The campaign ends Nov. 3.

Letters to Editor

Dear Sir:

Many of you reading this may be potential TB sufferers. In that event you will want all possible medical attention and treatment available. You will want no effort spared to give you a safe, speedy, and sure cure. You may find yourself waiting weeks, maybe months, until a bed is available to you in the sanatorium.

Being a patient in Benjamin Franklin Hospital, I am familiar with these "possibilities." There are over 300 of us who are fighting this dread disease, as well as learning to live with it. None of us want to be dismissed from the hospital before our cure is complete, as may be necessary due to lack of sufficient funds.

Each year medical science is making more advancement in the treatment and control of TB. Not too many years in the past, surgery for TB was fatal in many cases due to post-operative complications. With the discovery of streptomycin it has become almost foolproof. Other drugs have been discovered to speed the cure of TB in individual cases. But this research is expensive and the battle is far from won.

We need your help to fight and control TB. You can help by voting for the tax levy in the November election.

Sincerely yours,
Mary DeConnick,
Benjamin Franklin Hospital

Beware of GUM in gasoline. GUM coats pistons, cylinder walls, valves—causes stalling, hard starting and expensive repairs. Power-packed Sinclair Gasolines stop gum 2 ways. First, by careful and expert refining, Sinclair produces gasolines with minimum gum-forming characteristics. Second, as an extra safeguard, two different anti-gum chemicals are added to prevent gum formation.

Consider the Person Who Does the Work

If you have ever worked on a community fund drive or any of the various fund raising campaigns for public welfare you will know that a hearty greeting and cooperation from the person you are calling upon is most appreciated.

And needless to say it is most disgusting to be told to come back. In very few instances is it a hard decision to make. A person is either going to give or he isn't, and it should not be necessary for a volunteer worker to call back, possibly to be told he will have to pass up the prospect this year, or be given a small contribution.

All contributions to such drives are welcomed but the giver should also give of his cooperation and recall that the volunteer worker is giving of his or her time and should not be asked to make the task more difficult.

If you haven't already given to the Community Fund why not be prepared to give your solicitor a hearty welcome and have a decision ready so he or she can move along.

Franklin County's First Traveling Library Makes Initial Trip To New Rome School

Students of the Third Grade at New Rome School, accompanied by their teacher, Florence E. Weber, were the first school children of Franklin County to make the acquaintance of the new "Bookmobile" on its maiden voyage into the rural areas of the county.

By Mrs James W. Whalen

A lively and enthusiastic audience had a preview of a "First" for Franklin County when the Columbus Public Library Bookmobile made a trial run Monday, Oct. 23, to the New Rome School. Mrs. Virginia Case, extension library supervisor, and Margaret Armour, librarian, 90 S. Ogden-av, guided students and teachers through the "library on wheels" and cheerfully and confidently answered questions.

Mrs. Case described the bookmobile as "the most wonderful thing in the world," Miss Armour added, "I am delighted to be given an opportunity to enjoy personal contact with children and adults again in the suburban districts. We noticed today quite a run on cowboys and Indians." Mrs. Case continued, "I know this will be a successful program because it affords the pupils safety, convenience and variety of reading materials right on their school grounds. Parents will not have to worry about the children crossing the streets to borrow and return their books. We have already enrolled 5,770 children to date."

Miss Armour indicated that they had appointed a representative in each school. The young lady appointed in the New Rome School is Ruth Owen. She will be given the bookmobile scheduled visits from time to time.

The verbal expressions to the bookmobile were many and varied. "We appreciate it very much to give the children out here accommodations that were not possible before," said James A. Groves, principal of the New Rome School.

Florence E. Weber, third grade teacher, enthusiastically remarked, "I think that it will be wonderful. The children definitely need something like this, because so many of them do not have the conveniences to get books from the library. The bookmobile brings books direct to the children and permits them to do their own selecting. I have always taught my children that a good book is the same as a good friend."

Billy Hackensmith (student) said, "I think it is a good idea. The kids will enjoy the books very much. I'm interested in cowboy and Indian books."

James Whalen (student) replied, "You can READ all those nice books."

Linda Richey (student) responded, "I think it is nice. I wonder how long we can keep the books."

Sharon Streitenberger (student) remarked, "It was great that it came."

The bookmobile, with its interesting cargo of adventure, romance, etc., numbers approximately 2,400 brand-new colorfully bound volumes and covers the territory of 27 districts. Library days at New Rome will be at three week intervals. Library hours will be from 9 a. m. to 11:30 a. m.

Dates scheduled for New Rome, Alton and Georgesville will be Nov 6, Nov. 27, Dec. 18 and Jan. 22. The librarians urged adults as well as children to take advantage of the services of the bookmobile.

The bookmobile is an important and vital link in Will Collins (head librarian of the Columbus Public Library) plan to bring books to as many people as possible.

Mrs. Dum also announced that the goal of 900 memberships for the local school's PTA drive had been exceeded by 100, enabling the group to accomplish early completion of the public address system project.

Hallowe'en Party Will Be Held Tuesday

The good citizenry of this community will quake and shiver from fear this coming Tuesday evening, especially if they are in the vicinity of West High School where little witches, junior size goblins and half pint ghosts will be much in evidence.

There need not, however, be much fear for the oddly masked figures flitting about the West High vicinity will not be visitors from the yonder side of the "River Styx." It's quite the other way around, for it will be Hallowe'en and the occasion of the gathering at West High School . . . the annual Hilltop Community Council Hallowe'en party which will be in full swing from 7 to 10 p. m.

There is no admission charge and everyone is invited to attend the festivities which this year are based upon the slogan of "Barrels of fun . . . no damage done."

Here is what is in the barrel of fun for youngsters and old alike who will converge upon West High School Tuesday night, good eats, soft drinks, fortune telling and a fish pond in the cafeteria.

In the auditorium, free movies, a dance revue by Keith School of Dancing, and award of prizes for the window painting contest.

In the gymnasium: Costume parade of junior size hobgoblins with prizes awarded in each group. Dancing will follow.

Aiding the Hilltop Community Council in the promotion and carrying out of the expanded Hallowe'en program will be the following organizations and individuals:

West-East Game To Highlight City Loop Action This Week

By Dave Miller

Priming for an upset, West's footballers will host to East High's Tigers Saturday evening at West's Magly Field in the game set as the high school spotlight contest of the week.

West will be waiting to stop the alert and tricky fast running of the visiting Tigers, who have romped over three City League opponents while holding the top limelight of the week presently through their speed which many believe will be supreme enough to outclass North in the two squads' big battle next Friday at North.

West's defensive unit is expected to be given quite a battle royal Saturday night due to the superiority to the East squad to hold onto the ball. Which, incidentally, was West's downfall in their fray with North two weeks ago. The Bears managed to hang onto the ball more than two-thirds of the time—and thus West had a hard time scoring.

According to reports on the East squad, the Tigers, as usual, play their "open" type of ball, which of course will be tough for West to penetrate. East's top flight backfielders, Ralph Hammock and Virgil Rhea will be up against powers of their same strength in Ronnie James and Charlie (Sonny) Hunter of West.

Rhea scored both East's touchdowns in Newark's 38-12 win over the Tigers on romps of 74 and 72 yards. In East's surprising 21-21 tie with a powerful Zanesville eleven, Rhea was held without a point, although Hammock, Rollie Harris and Wyman Smith were standouts in the backfield.

From this fairly unimpressive non-league record, East, a fast-running aggregation, swept to three consecutive league wins in the following trio of Fridays, topping Linden, 46-7; South 40-0 and Central, defending city champs 31-7. Between the Linden and South frays, while the Tigers drew the loop bye, the Orange and Black dropped a 41-19 verdict to a powerful New Philadelphia squad.

During this four game outing, in which the Tigers racked 136 point, Rhea and Hammock led the way. Rhea has tallied six touchdowns in that four game stint while Ralph Hammock, copped five; John Johnson, 3; and Fred Davis, 2, with Ernie Mackey, Bob Nichols, Jack Cherrington, Bill Truss and Wyman Smith one six-pointer apiece.

As compared to East's overall record of 3-2-1, West has an even 3-3 record on which they

Local Man Ends 38 Years Railroad Service

"I've been working on the railroad" is the tune that Fay Green, 693 S. Wayne-av, is humming to himself these days as he putters about his Hilltop home doing the many things he "just never got around to." And as he hums the ditty he places special emphasis on the "been" because he no longer is a railroader, having retired from active duty from the New York Central after 38 years of service on Oct. 17.

For 24 years, Green piloted a locomotive over the NYC lines from Columbus to Toledo and for the past three years occupied the engineer's seat on a Diesel engine, which in his opinion "is just like driving a car down the road and a lot different from the old steam locomotive type." At one time he was a fireman on the old T. & O. C. railroad.

A resident of the Hilltop since October, 1926, he has resided at the Wayne-av residence since that time and prior to that date lived on the West Side at 307 Cypress-av for a period of five years. Now 68 years young he plans to devote his time to his hobby of growing flowers and assisting his wife, Eva, about the house.

Green has one son, Carroll, at home, a step-daughter, Mrs. Nellie Slaughter of 480 N. Harris-av; 10 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren, all of whom, plus a host of friends, are today congratulating him upon his retirement.

Religion In American Life

During November, 1950, national advertising and publicity will blanket the country with news of a nation-wide, non-sectarian movement, Religion In American Life (RIAL). Its purpose is two-fold: To emphasize the importance of all religious institutions as the foundation of American life. To urge all Americans to attend and support the church or synagogue of their individual choice.

Sponsored by 21 national religious bodies, the program is conducted for its second consecutive year by a National Laymen's Committee with Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric, as chairman, and will extend throughout the month of November, 1950.

The RIAL program marks the first time in the history of religion that modern machinery of mass communications has been placed at the service of a national religious movement. American business and the advertising industry, through The Advertising Council, have pledged full support. The car card industry will contribute car card space in buses, industry will contribute thousands of giant billboards. Hundreds of the country's leading daily and weekly newspapers, as well as local advertisers, will contribute newspaper space. Virtually every network advertiser, the four major networks and television stations will donate radio and television time.

Millions of Americans will become familiar with this year's slogan—"Take your problems to the Church this week—millions leave them there."

The Hilltop Ministerial Association in cooperation with community organizations will supplement the national program with a local publicity program.

Free X-Ray Survey of West High Students And Teaching Staff Now Underway

Only one second—time enough for the click of the shutter—and another picture has been recorded. Not for posterity, this time—but possibly for the life of the subject!

At West High this week, close to 1100 senior students, teachers, and school empoyees are having some mighty important photographs taken. The pictures are made by the all-seeing X-ray camera of the Columbus Tuberculosis Society. There is no charge for the X-rays, but in a sense they have already been paid for by those participating. For they are made possible through the Christmas seals purchased by Franklin Countians in 1949.

The Columbus Tuberculosis Society is interested in photographs of the chest area only. In one second its machine has revealed on microfilm the condition of the lungs and chest cavity. The X-ray reader can then read a story that might otherwise never be known—can read it in time for corrective action!

The film reveals a healthy chest, or a chest area afflicted by tuberculosis or other pathology. Such chest pathology might include an enlarged heart or perhaps a lung tumor.

If a chest picture proves suspicious, the subject is then asked by the Columbus Tuberculosis Society to report to Ben Franklin Clinic for a follow-up X-ray, also free—or if he prefers, to secure the same from his private physician. Such an X-ray, plus important information obtained from the patient, enables the chest doctor to make a definite diagnosis. In case tuberculosis is discovered, the Columbus Tuberculosis Society will aid the patient in taking the proper follow-up steps.

The number of those having chest conditions, as revealed through X-rays, can be expected—on a community-wide basis—to number four in every hundred. But among teen-agers this number is somewhat lower than that.

Why, then, bother to X-ray high school students at all.

Because each unknown, and therefore untreated, case of TB eventually leads to at least nine more cases. And students—teachers, too—who have broad-scale contact can spread the disease rapidly.

Because TB aims its deadly blow at the productive years, between the ages of 15 and 45—and almost every case discovered early can be cured.

The X-ray program at West High is voluntary, but to shrug off the opportunity would be folly. X-rays, which might otherwise be prohibitive to many, cost the Society only 45 cents each on its mass production basis. The X-ray procedure is the epitome of simplicity. No undressing is necessary. No preparation is required. The time involved lasts as long as the click of the shutter. And all X-ray results are strictly confidential.

West High's X-ray program is part of a six-week project by the Columbus Tuberculosis Society to X-ray six Columbus high schools. The entire project — in fact the Society itself — is financed entirely by Christmas Seal receipts.

Proposed by the Columbus Tuberculosis Society, the program was heartily approved by the Board of Education and will be repeated every three years for as long as the Society is able to offer the service free of charge.

Plane Crash Claims Life Of Hilliards Council President

Ralph M. Chenoweth, 33, president of the Hilliards Village Council, was killed instantly when his small private plane crashed in flames near Hilliards on Scioto-Darby Creek-rd late last Sunday.

An eyewitness account of the fiery crack-up was given to sheriff's deputies by Carl Rogers, owner of the farm where Chenoweth crashed.

"I saw him try to make a landing," Rogers said. He veered near a fence and then soared straight up, apparently to make another landing attempt. But then he made a complete loop and dived into the ground.

Rogers and four neighbors attempted to free the pilot from the burning wreckage, but were driven back by the intense heat.

Deputies said Chenoweth's wife, Marjorie, was in an automobile parked near the scene of the crash, waiting to drive her husband home. He normally quartered his small Piper Cub plane on the Rogers farm.

A member of the Hilliards Junior Chamber of Commerce, Chenoweth operated the Hilliards Machine Shop and served with the village's volunteer fire department. He also was a member of Immanuel Baptist Church in Columbus.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Marjorie Jane Chenoweth; two sons, John, 12, and David, 10; mother, Mrs. Faye Chenoweth; sister, Mrs. Roger Scott of Dayton, and two brothers, Leslie, of Columbus, and Thurman Chenoweth of Kankakee, Ill.

Funeral rites were held under the direction of Jerry Spears Funeral Home at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday in the Hilliards Methodist Church. Burial was made in Sunset Cemetery.

House In Street Startles Local Housewives

Housewives on Clarendon-av last week probably thought they needed eye examinations when they saw houses walking down the street.

Not just one, but two homes were moved from Clarendon-av to Midland-av in connection with the future building plans of St. Aloysius Parish.

"It's the first time in my life I ever slept all night in the middle of the street," laughed Mrs. John Laubmeister, whose home at 28 Clarendon-av was the first to be moved.

Mrs. Laubmeister had planned to eat breakfast in the house before it was pulled from its lot, but apparently her timing was off, for the house began to move before she had finished eating. At the time, no one knew she was still in the house.

Resigned to her fate, Mrs. Laubmeister stayed in the house, did some housework. She later went to the attic and looked out the window to see that tree branches did not damage the roof. It was almost noon when the house stopped moving and she was able to climb down on a ladder to watch from the outside.

The Laubmeister house was moved on pulleys and rollers, but the smaller home at 32 Clarendon-av was able to be moved on airplane type wheels.

Franklin Twp. Expects Delivery Of New Fire Truck This Week

Delivery of the first fire truck to Franklin Township Trustees is expected the latter part of this week, Otto (Gus) Peoples, 1300 Hart-rd, president of the board, announced. The pumper is the first of three trucks expected to be purchased under a program of local fire protection being planned by township officials.

Completion of the overall program of local fire protection for Franklin Township is dependent on passage of a two-mill current expense (fire protection) levy at the Nov. 7 general election, Peoples pointed out.

This levy is being asked for a period of three years and is expected to provide funds for purchase of additional equipment needed, sites and purchase or erection of buildings to house the three fire trucks in various areas of the township. One mill of the new two-mill levy will take the place of an existing one-mill current expense levy due to expire with the 1950 tax duplicate.

The Franklin Township Fire Protection Committee, a group of residents from all parts of the township, is actively sponsoring passage of the two-mill levy. William Maurer, 3732 Sullivant-av, is chairman of this committee.

The first fire truck will be housed in a garage operated by Angelo Dallas at San Margerita. It will be used temporarily for training purposes only. It will not be put in active service until additional fire fighting equipment can be obtained and manpower trained to set up the local program for the township. At the present time a training class in fire fighting is being conducted each Wednesday evening at the Jones Flying Service. More than fifty men are enrolled in this course taught by Walter Lauter. These men will use the new truck to get first hand experience at handling equipment and for fighting actual fires in demonstration tests.

The new truck is an Underwriters' approved pumper equipped for operating from fire hydrants with added special equipment for fighting rural fires. It will carry 500 gallons of water for use in fighting fires where there are no regular water supplies.

For Today's High Priced Perishable Foods

A Real Home Freezer
A DeLuxe Refrigerator
Both For One Surprisingly Low Price

ONLY $399.95

THE VERY LATEST . . . the very finest . . . of today's refrigerators offers you the advantage of having both a refrigerator and a home freezer in one cabinet.

But—when you decide on that type of refrigerator—you want to be sure that the freezer is a real home freezer . . . one that can maintain zero temperature at all times.

And you can be sure, when you buy the new, dependable General Electric Refrigerator-Home Freezer Combination.

This is what to look for. This is what you get.

Each compartment with individual cold control
Look for separate compartments, separate outside doors!

Top compartment is a real home freezer, because it's separately refrigerated, insulated all around, and has its own outside door.

A real home freezer, because it maintains zero temperature—for quick freezing foods and ice cubes and for storing up to 70 pounds of frozen foods (10-cu.-ft. model) or 53 pounds (eight cu.-ft. model).

A real home freezer, because its zero temperature keeps frozen foods in prime condition for as long as 12 months—four full seasons!

In lower compartment alone (either 8- or 10-cu. ft. model) there is fresh-food storage space equivalent to that in the conventional 8- or 10-cu. ft. refrigerator.

It is the last word in a spacious fresh-food refrigerator. Separately refrigerated, separately insulated, and with its own outside door!

It never needs defrosting! Dishes need not be covered! Cold is moisture-conditioned. Big, deep drawers keep fruits and vegetables just right! The butter conditioner, easily accessible in door, keeps butter at proper temperature for easy, wasteless spreading.

8-Cubic Foot Models

The General Electric Combination is available in 8-cubic foot models—just right for your household. We think you'll agree they provide the most that's offered in a home refrigerator today.

This model is very much in demand and we have just received a very limited supply for immediate delivery.
If you are planning to purchase a refrigerator for your home for Christmas now is the opportune time to buy it and have it put in layaway.

More than 2,500,000 General Electric Refrigerators have been in service 10 years or longer!

TB Levy Is Necessary

The financial crisis facing the Franklin County Tuberculosis Hospital — Benjamin Franklin Hospital on Alum Creek Drive — should be of direct concern to every voter in the city and county.

This county hospital performs a very necessary service by providing a place where unlucky persons who become infected with tuberculosis may be treated and cured.

It also performs an equally important secondary service by isolating these sick individuals so that they will not infect the rest of us with their disease. Tuberculosis is a "catching" disease. The germs can be transmitted through the air like germs of the common cold. And tuberculosis still causes more deaths than any of the other contagious diseases.

The crisis facing the Tuberculosis Hospital is a financial one, and it should be easy to understand. The costs of operating a hospital have gone upward just like everything else. But also this hospital added a new wing last year, providing beds for 100 additional patients; and yet it has had no more funds for operating this year than last year.

If additional funds are not provided, it is going to be necessary to close 100 beds. This will mean sending 100 sick persons back into the community where their chance for recovery will be greatly reduced and where they also may give their disease to other persons.

Actually, more beds are needed. Even with the addition of 100 new beds last year, there still has been a waiting list this year, averaging 75 persons who have waited as long as four months for admission to the hospital after discovery of their illness.

We can answer the critical need of the Tuberculosis Hospital by voting for a small tax levy at the November 7 election. This levy will cost only 65 cents for each $1000 of property valuation. But it will be enough to continue proper care of those now in the hospital and to add enough more beds to take care of those on the waiting list.

We believe that every voter should vote FOR the Tuberculosis Hospital tax levy. It is good citizenship to provide care for those who are stricken with this serious disease. It is also good citizenship to provide isolation which will help protect the community from further spread of tuberculosis.

Freedom's Birthplace

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

You can expect the newly created permanent Senate Small Business Committee to start launching headline making investigations soon.

There may even be another intra-government battle brewing.

Under the Defense Production Act of 1950, the Department of Commerce is authorized to set up allocations and priorities on scarce materials and goods.

Almost as soon as the measure was passed, Washington observers noted the return of the monopoly representatives. It is presumed they are in Washington, as they were in pre-OPA days, to influence drafting of these regulations.

However, the Wherry Amendment, which became a part of this law, provides that all business receive a fair pro-rata share of supplies.

However, enforcement will depend on complaints being received and acted upon. Senate Small Business Committee members have already expressed their intention of investigating all complaints of discrimination. And complaints have already been reported.

One powerful motive for making the present safeguards work is the general reluctance to set up another OPA which would be the only other alternative.

Nobody wants to introduce a tax bill to provide the money to run another OPA.

In addition, there is another compelling reason.

Many responsible people are demanding that government interference in business be decreased, not increased. Not many more steps can be taken, it is argued, before the nation will be socialized.

This fact, just brought to light, is causing a lot of discussion in Washington. Expect to hear more about it.

Immediately following the Korean outbreak, the Defense Department employed 263,978 more civilians, adding to an already existing staff of 738,799.

No one, least of all Congressmen, seems to have any idea of what a million civilian employees are doing.

Even the estimated 240 press agents included in this group have not released any information on this interesting question.

The revived fight on increasing the excess profits tax to finance defense expenditures was forced into the open by public protest.

Senator George has been opposing an action on the grounds that nothing can be done until hearings are held.

This argument has not been too popular, except with those who would pay an excess profits tax.

"Since when," it has been asked, "has it ever been felt necessary to hold public hearings in an increase in personal income taxes?"

The first round of government conducted clinics on small business defense work has been concluded.

The Senate Small Business Committee which sponsored these meetings is getting reports and recommendations for future proceedings.

Attendance by independent manufacturers was heavy. An impressive array of officials has conducted the meetings.

But the reports indicate too little specific information was given; too much time was devoted to giving speeches.

"Oh, Judge, must my husband die on the gallows?"

"Of course not, of course not, lady. All we do is to tie the rope around his neck and shove him off. From then on it's entirely up to him."

"Yes, I heard a noise and got up and there under the bed I saw a man's leg."

"Good heavens. The burglar's?"

"No; my husband's. He had heard the noise, too."

West Outclasses Linden 26-6 In Annual Homecoming Game

By Dave Miller

Striking almost at will in the opening minutes of the game, West High's football eleven racked up its second City Loop win in three tries by trouncing a completely outclassed Linden McKinley squad, 26 to 6, in the 1950 Homecoming Game played at Magly Field last Friday evening.

The Cowboys are presently setting their sights toward East High's powerul Tigers, who will invade Magly Field here Saturday evening. It will be the final home game of the season for the Cowboys as they travel to South and Central the following Friday nights to conclude a rapidly-progressing

It was Homecoming Night at West last Friday and West's gridders did their share toward making the evening a successful one by opening up with a quick barrage in the first quarter.

Queen Pat Culbertson was crowned by 1949 Queen Betty Roederer at half-time in addition to her court which consisted of Judy Brock, Judy Banning, Nancy Krull and Peggie Morris. Their escorts were Paul Thompson, 12A class president; Ralph VanAtta, 12B class president, and Russ Friend and Jim Murray from the student council.

The Cowboys gave the fans plenty to cheer about—and a little earlier than expected. They took advantage of three bad breaks accorded them through Linden miscues early in the fray and marched within three minutes of the first quarter to two quick touchdowns—which, alone, would've been enough for the remaining 45 minutes in the game.

West concluded with only seven first downs at the finish of the fray while the ultimate losers had five. West, however, outrushed Linden some 167 yards to 54 for Linden. West's initial two touchdowns were scored without the aid of an earned first down—which proved the Cowboys were adept at taking advantage of the breaks handed them—Something they couldn't do against North.

There were no individual stars because no one player had that much time in the game. After West had romped to a 26-0 lead with less than three minutes remaining in the third period, Mack Pemberton turned the game over to substitutes. The final three minutes were played with third string junior players—and so the final period and a half more or less developed into a midfield battle.

Charlie Hunter, ace Cowboy halfback, was probably the most outstanding player on the field—scored three touchdowns on jaunts of six, 20 and 74 yards. The flashy Negro back was a constant thorn in the sides of the visitors all evening and he ended the evening with a 8.2 yard average per carry—which is mighty good in any league.

Linden's No. 44, Ronnie Thompson, a blond bomber, was their shining light. He played his wingback in great style although quite a few bad snaps from center forced him to lose yardage on occasions. From the way he handled himself, he looked as though he was the lone Linden backfielder who knew how to play the single-wing. His trap plays up through the end-tackle holes were bogged on numerous occasions but he would ramble for that extra yard or two. Thompson, who incidentally scored the lone Linden touchdown of the game, was the only backfielder of the visitors to have a plus average yardage per carry. He averaged only 2.4 per carry (although his touchdown run went 46 yards) while six other Linden men had minus averages.

No one could attribute the above fact to whether West's line was a little better charging this week or whether Linden was a bit confused at their own game of a rather complicated single-wing formation (complicated to the extent of high schoolers).

One of the main factors of West's upset of Aquinas was the hard-charging forward wall of the Cowboys who constantly broke through to spill a passer or runner before he had hardly had enough time to think. In the North fray, however, West charged, maybe not as extraordinary as Aquinas, but certainly as well as expected although they went down to a one-touchdown loss.

West wasted no time at all in getting their scoring machine in action. Dave Lazenby of the locals kicked off to Don Stein, who returned to the Linden 22. However, the visiting Panthers suffered their first bad break of the long evening, on a clipping penalty—moving the ball back to their own 7, where Myron Hutcheson stood in his own end zone and booted out of bounds on the West 47.

On the initial play from scrimmage, Hunter grabbed Chuck Leibensperger's handoff and raced on an end around to the Linden 12. Beautiful blocking around the end by Ringer, Crissinger and McDermitt set up the drive. Hunter quickly took another handoff and went through the middle to the Linden six, from where Ronnie James, on West's third play of the game drove over into the end zone standing up for the first score. Lazenby split the uprights with his kick to make

West again kicked off and Linden, failing to gain on two bucks at the West forward walls (both by Stein), sent Hutcheson back to pass, who heaved to the West 36 where safety man "Wimpy" Pitts intercepted for the Cowboys and skooled back to the Linden 9 before being knocked out of bounds by the passer.

With three more plays, West had hopped away to a two-touchdown margin. Hunter, on two consecutive bucks at the line went to the Linden six and Ronnie James drove to the four—where Hunter again grabbed a fourth-down handoff and went over for West's second score. Lazenby's kick again was successful and with only 3:45 elapsed in the opening period West had jumped a 14-0 cushion lead that never was threatened.

No more scoring resulted until the second quarter although West did have chances. Linden never penetrated into West territory until two and one-half minutes were left in the first half.

After West's second touchdown, the Cowboys kicked off, and Ronnie Thompson and Don Stein of the Panthers failed to find any holes on their end sweeps and on the third down, Thompson fumbled a bad pass from center and Guard Spike Ringer of West recovered on the Panther 25. However, West could not take advantage of the break—moving only four yards in their maximum number of downs and Linden took over.

Here, on Linden's fourth opportunity with the ball they picked up their first first downs of the game. However, after their second straight first down on the Linden 45, they failed to gain and Hutcheson kicked to Ronnie James who returned to the West 15. Charlie Hunter bucked for three yards but James lost 'em on the next play—being trapped on an end around, ending the the first quarter.

On the initial play of the second period, Dick Briggs drove to the West 26 for a fourth down and a one yard set up. Here, Chuck Leibensperger called for a quarterback sneak, taking a big chance—but it worked and thus set up the longest run of the night.

After Leibensperger drove to the West 26 for a first down (West's first), Charlie Hunter displayed his wares with a beautiful 74 yard touchdown run. After cutting around left end and simply outracing three tacklers he picked up great downfield blocking by four West players and he raced the entire 74 strides for the cinching touchdown of the evening.

Hunter, only a junior this year, and a standout last season as a sophomore, had trouble picking up early blockers this season That is to say, he couldn't quite get started, but once given a two or three yard jump—he's gone.

Hunter scored his third touchdown and final of the night for the Cowboys with less than six minutes remaining in the third period. It was set up when Hutcheson's attempted punt on a Linden fourth down was blocked by Spike Ringer of West and Lazenby and Jim Ealy recovered for West on the Linden 28.

Leibensperger's aerial intended for George Crissinger was incomplete and Ronnie James hopped to the Linden 20—thus setting the stage for the next play as Hunter galloped along the left sidelines behind more good blocking for West's final score of the evening. Lazenby's kick was wide to the left and West led 26-0.

A West fumble recovered by George Popovich on the West 49 set up Linden's lone score of the evening—(and what an odd one) Ten Linden men lined up on the other side of the field on an angle from where the ball was and Quarterback Hutcheson centered the ball back to Thompson who raced along the right sidelines for the only Linden six-pointer. Frank Wasch's attempted kick was blocked.

The remainder of the game was turned over to both teams' substitutes with the majority of the play remaining being around midfield.

bank going into Saturday's fray. The Cowboys, under Mack Pemberton for the fifth consecutive year, have lost all of their games to the top-ranking team in the state of Ohio.

Losing to Lima Central (14-7), the Cowboys experienced action with the eighth best team in the state and then again against Upper Arlington (47-12) they bowed to the sixth top team in the state, while losing to North (6-0), they bowed to the 15th in the state.

The Cowboys own wins over Marion Harding (21-7); Aquinas (18-6) and Linden McKinley (26-6), the latter two City League affairs which sets their loop mark at a 2-1 standing; and the East fray tells whether West can stay in the thick of the pennant race. If they lose, they're out for sure but a victory would increase hopes for a Cowboy championship — shared possibly, however.

The Cowboys hope to be at full strength, in their stint with the Tigers Saturday with Fullback Carmine DeMatteo, out of action for the last three weeks, having his shoulder and knee troubles pretty well solved—so Pemberton hopes; because his return will take some of the ball-lugging chores off the shoulders of dependable Hunter and James. Give the above trio some interference, and West will have a backfield as superior as East's highly-touted array.

Hilliards Swamped By Westerville In 54-2 Rout

Westerville launched an attack on Hilliards Friday night to set a new school scoring record and spoil the losers' homecoming. The Dry Towners thus remained in the race for the Mid-Six League championship. Their record is four wins and a tie.

Bob Loar made the evening unpleasant for the Wildcats by chalking up four touchdowns to his credit. Three of the T.D.'s were made from long runs of 99, 68, and 62 yards.

Westerville scored on the opening kick-off when Center Joe Mann covered the kick in the Hilliards end zone for an unexpected touchdown. The referees claimed the ball had touched a Hilliards man.

Westerville's 54 points were six more than the team scored in its first four games.

West Reserves Score Win Over St. Charles By 32-0

By Dave Miller

West High's re... football squad took its second straight last Thursday evening, downing St. Charles seconds, rather handily, 32 to 0 at Magly Field.

The locals, under the direction of Pat McMillian and Jerry Fedderson had previously taken an 18 to 2 win over Aquinas' reserves at West the week previous.

In the St. Charles fray, no one individual was the star of the trouncing by the Junior Cowboys although Don (Whitey) Smith, Paul Cochran, Doyne Bayse and Elva Cunningham again played sterling ball throughout the fray.

Time after time, West's charges would take advantage of a Carolian miscue or pass interception to set up scoring opportunities. West took advantage of every break afforded them by the visitors, which coupled together with alert playing made quite a rough afternoon for St. Charles.

Five minutes had nearly elapsed in the initial period before West finally bounced over for their first score of the day. After three exchanges of the ball, twice on fumbles and once through a failure to gain on downs, the Cowboys took over on their own 48 and in three plays galloped to the visitors' 42.

Doyne Bayse, West halfback, who is a junior, took a quick handoff from Quarterback Paul Cochran and went over right-tackle and straight through the Carolian secondary for the necessary yardage for the six-pointer. The amazing feature was that Bayse was untouched—the West blocking was that perfect. A low pass from center caused place-kicker Don Smith to be rushed and the kick was blocked.

Midway of the second period, Smith, back in an attempt to lateral, failed to find a man alongside of him, and raced along the left sidelines from some 32 yards out for West's second score. The play was set up when Cunningham recovered a St. Charles bobbie on the latter's 43. The final score of the initial half came after Smith's recovery of a Carolian fumble on their 10 and Paul Cochran, signal-caller for the Cowboys, faded to pass and being rushed he ran through the middle and over the necessary territory for the third West touchdown of the half. Doyne Bayse made the score 19-0 with his buck over from the two on the extra point attempt.

West struck early in the second half and turned the remainder of the fourth period over to the second-stringers. A pass interception ran back to the St. Charles' 22 set up the locals' initial six-pointer in the third quarter. After Bayse and Smith drove to the 16, Cochran tossed to End Bob Reed in the end zone for the

In the first minute of the fourth period, West took over the pigskin on their own 33 after a St. Charles drive bogged down via downs. The Cowboys marched in four plays to the visitors' 41 where Cochran tossed a fourth down aerial to Back Elva Cunningham, who dodged would-be-tacklers and merely outraced at least three others as he crossed the double-stripe for the final score of the afternoon. Cunningham, a track man from last year's Junior High co-championship team, is only a sophomore and shows great promise. Cochran jump-passed to End Louie Proper for the extra point that sewed up scoring activities for the rather long afternoon.

The summary:

West	12	7	8	7	—32
St. Charles	0	0	0	0	— 0

West touchdowns — Bayse, Smith, Cochran, Reed (pass from Cochran); Cunningham (pass from Cochran). Extra points—Bayse (plunge), Proper (pass from Cochran).

United Nations Assembly Held At West High

By Myron T. Seifert

United Nations was observed at an assembly and in social study classes at West High School during the past week.

Wednesday, Oct. 18, two school assemblies before 2000 students featured U. N. ideas.

Students Gerald Witherspoon, who pronounced the divine invocation and Roy Martin, who presented a discourse on the operations of the U. N., gave impetus to the program. Also Dick Wray's Pledge of Allegiance was impressive.

On the agenda also were two movies, "We the People," and "Now the Peace." West High Orchestra did patriotic scores.

Sixty Hilltop Girl Scout Troops Observe National Girl Scout Week

Left to right, packing "Schoolmates' Kits" to send to girls overseas are Lynn Bohanan, Mrs. Mearl V. Weaver, leader, and Gail Wills, of Troop 113.

By Elsie Ireland Weaver

Sixty Hilltop Girl Scout troops and their leaders will find many reasons to celebrate in the coming week. Oct. 29 to Nov. 4 is National Girl Scout Week. It is a nation-wide occasion for the whole Girl Scout family, one and a half million strong, to honor the memory of the founder of Girl Scouting, Juliette Gordon Low.

Hallowe'en Day will meen more than a day of pranks and fun to Girl Scouts. It is the third day of Girl Scout Week and anniversary of Mrs. Low's birth.

The seven service days of Girl Scout Week highlight the basic interests and activities of the Girl Scouts. Sunday is Girl Scout Sunday. Many Hilltop Girl Scouts and leaders will wear their uniforms to Hilltop churches, and some will go in a body to Hilltop churches. Clergymen will make special mention of Girl Scouting, and some will call upon the girls to repeat the Promise or sing the Girl Scout hymn.

Monday is Homemaking Day. Many a Hilltop mother will be treated to dinner cooked by daughter on that day. Tuesday is Citizenship Day. Ten Hilltop Girl Scout troops will prove themselves good citizens by helping to serve refreshments at the annual Hilltop Community Council Hallowe'en party at West High School. Mrs. David W. Caton, West High School neighborhood chairman, is in charge.

Wednesday is devoted to health and safety projects. Visiting nurses or doctors will talk to groups of Scouts on first-aid methods.

Thursday is International Friendship Day. Many troops will be mailing their "schoolmates' kits" to children overseas that day. The kits have been made by the girls themselves and they will be packed with used but good warm clothing, school supplies, small toys, sewing materials, soap and hankies. One troop which will mail its bags on this day is Troop No. 113, a West Junior High troop under the leadership of Mrs. Mearl V. Weaver.

On Friday, arts and crafts projects are in the spotlight, and the last day of Girl Scout Week, Nov. 4, is out-of-doors day. On this day many local troops will hit the open trail for hikes and cook-outs. Hilltop Senior Girl Scouts from West High School will attend the city-wide Senior Girl Scout barbecue and square dance to be held from 5 to 11:30 p. m. at the Indian Village Camp. This outing is sponsored by the Senior High School Planning Board, Hilltop members of which are Linda Hardacre, Meredith Chambers, Billie Joe Proctor and Sandra Timmons. Troop 146, under the leadership of Mrs. H. C. Booth and Mrs. Frank Brady, will bike to Clime Road Day Camp for a cook-out and Scouts' own ceremony.

Youth Fellowship Group Conducts Sunday Services

Youth Fellowship at Burgess Avenue EUB Church this past Sunday took over the entire service with the exception of the sermon which was delivered by the pastor. The meeting was highlighted at the close by four decisions from young people who came forward.

Attendance is keeping a high average from Sunday night to Sunday night. Eleanor Kozad will be leader this Sunday night at 7:30 p. m. A unique program is planned.

Indian Summer

This is America's show-time.

This is our Indian Summer, when field and hill and woodland unite in glorious blazes of color. Never have the clouds seemed so full, the skies so blue, the days so right for living.

It is also the time when we prepare for things to come. Granaries are filled. Fences are mended. Roofs are repaired.

And over town and country alike drift the autumn's two most beloved trademarks:—the sharp, clean scent of burning leaves, and the familiar aroma of the kitchen, where fruits and vegetables are slowly simmering into goodness on the fires. . . .

The hand of God—the "Great Provider"—is everywhere evident now. But throughout the year, God provides for us in an even more important way, if we but give Him the chance. Through Him, we can all prepare for coming events by fortifying our souls with a faith that cannot be shaken, no matter how severely our hearts and minds are tried.

We need the material security so evident everywhere in America in Indian Summer. But we also need a spiritual storehouse of moral reserve that only our churches can help us to build. No man can neglect it. And by attending church regularly, he will learn a great, though simple truth:—that the strength of God is also his own. . .

Be of good courage, and he shall strengthen your heart, all ye that hope in the Lord.
PSALM: 31-24

BIBLE COMMENT

Western Literalism Has Spoiled Bible Reading for Many

A TENDENCY to employ cold, western literalism has spoiled the reading of the Bible for many persons. The Bible is an eastern book; it is full of the imagery that has chafacterized the literature, both sacred and secular, to emerge from the east.

Many misinterpret the Parable of the Sower, which was intended to be symbolic rather than literal. In this age of agricultural machinery, methods of sowing seed have for the most part changed. The essential details of the parable, however, have not changed.

The parable poses a challenge concerning the sort of hearts and minds we are offering to God's seeds of truth. No matter how good the seeds may be, the sowing will be futile if the ground has not been prepared.

Designed to remind us that God will do His part if we do ours, the parable tends to confuse some with its use of the word "broadcast," a word that has come to have a new meaning in this world of radio and television.

References to the Parable of the Prodigal Son also indicate that many readers refuse to exercise leniency in their Bible study. In the Prodigal Son Parable, Jesus may have had some one actual father and his wayward son in mind; but it is more likely that He was telling a story designed to fit any such situation.

Another—the Parable of the Mustard Seed—serves to illustrate how great things in God's divine economy grow from small beginnings. The actual details of the parable are inconsequential alongside the inspirational theme of the incident.

And for those whose lack of faith must be bolstered by cut and dried proofs, the growth of Christianity itself authenticates the moral of the Parable of the Mustard Seed.

There is no substitute for "Human Interest." Our American way of life is nurtured and sustained at high levels when the total welfare picture is normal.

The "Red Feather" effort is the vehicle for "Human Interest" expression.

We've all heard the hearty cry of the young athlete at the beginning of the season as he comes from practice with his teammates. He's certain from the way his group is "clicking" that "It's a winner" this season. Yet the coach, in his maturity, is not always certain because he knows that winning combinations are determined finally in scheduled games and not on the field of practice. And so it is with the Hilltop. We have a winner in our community on the basis of its record; and on the basis of our farsighted planning for the future.

Try First

On The Hilltop

We want to be certain we have and keep that winning record. That's why the Hilltop keeps right on "training on the practice field" . . . so that in the finals it will measure up and truly earn the title of "Winner". We know the Hilltop can be that "Winner" by offering the best in merchandise . . . through friendly services . . and through careful price planning so that those who "back" the Hilltop get real values for their money spent here. And YOU can let us know how we can serve you even better, you can "coach" us on your needs and preferences.

INFORMATION

JOE BRIGGS Says:
There's safety in numbers — that's why poor singers form choruses.

Alertness and preparedness, the margin of safety that protects you against the danger and destruction of fire. Have you checked your electrical wiring lately? Are there only rags in the open, exposed and ready to burn into flame? Do you have a fire extinguisher handy to stop fires in their tracks? Are you too big? Be alert! Be prepared. Guard that margin of safety. Above all, be sure your insurance coverage is adequate.

Hallowe'en Baton Twirler

Saundra Sue Morris and Judy Young, students of the Keith School of Dancing, will appear in a baton twirling act at the Hallowe'en program Tuesday night, Oct. 31, at West High School.

Saundra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Morris, 703 S. Wayne-av, and Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Young of Plain City.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

Although the tea at Mrs. Russell Ealy's home was a triumphant success, we wish more of the W. Mound PTA mothers could have attended that afternoon.

Mrs. Fred Evans' burn on her arm caused her more trouble than she expected. Infection set in and had all of the neighbors worried about her for a while. Now she's coming along fine, thanks to one of our Hilltop doctors.

ANNA DELVER made 10 pies for a social last week. At least we're going to give her credit for 10. Two got rained on pretty bad in a downpour when she delivered them. She took the two back home.

The little tree that WILSON BAKER trimmed last month was accidentally sheared when he himself was using the scythe on his reeds in the back yard.

RALPH EARLE and his wife went to last week's game that Minnesota gave to us. They came back "all smiles", especially since he won the pool at his office.

BESSIE couldn't get her husband BEN HURLEY in for a meal last Friday. He was playing football in the park with the neighbor kids. He's probably just getting acquainted so he'll have electric trains to play with when the boys get them for Christmas.

The rise in income tax evidently did not affect the CURL'S household. They bought a new dinette outfit this last pay. It's a sharp suite.

The BOB THORNE'S and BURT THOMAS' started taking dancing lessons. They say it puts them in a new spirit. Maybe that's what we all need for a change now that cold weather will be keeping us closer to home.

Add More Acts For Fidelis Class Modern Minstrel

More entertainers and special numbers are gradually rounding into shape for the presentation of "Moden Minstrels" by the Fidelis Class of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church at 29 S. Eureka-av on Oct. 26-27.

The new numbers of the presentation announced this week are a specialty dance by George and Jackie Hardy; a quartet composed of Roland Jones, 207 Powhatan-av; Richard Nash, 717 S. S. Eureka; David Hastings, 65 S. Ogden-av, and Hayden Jones, 190 S. Roys-av.

Newly added vocal soloists include Marilyn Ring, of 681 S. Wayne-av, and Jo Ann Heischman, 621 S. Harris-av, while comedy numbers added will present Mrs. Arthur Corcoran of 1261 Virginia-av and Mrs. George Busenberg of 273 Valleyview-dr. An accordion solo is also slated by Shirley McCarley, 3499 Clime-rd.

Mon-E-Bak

Mrs. Clyde Wilson, Canal Winchester, visited Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gray, 3586 Brookside-blvd, Sunday. Mrs. Wilson is a sister of Mrs. Gray.

Frankie Adkins, 3779 Plainview-dr, fell from a tree this week and fractured his right arm.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fowler and family, 3266 Dover-rd, visited Mrs. Fowler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thompson, of Hilliards recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Smyers of near Groveport and Mr. and Mrs. David Henery, Columbus, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Fowler, 3266 Dover-rd, last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Lealie West and daughter, Georgia Lee, 3397 Plainview-dr, attended the boat races at Briggsdale recently.

A wiener roast was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore, 3429 Dover-rd, recently. Twenty guests were present.

Our condolences to the O'Harra family, 3467 Plainview-dr, in the death of their son, Robert, who was killed last Friday in an accident at the Columbus Motorways Speedway.

Camp Chase Post News

By John Martindale

Ghosts, goblins and fiendish looking characters galore will assemble tonight (Thursday, Oct. 26) at Camp Chase Club rooms. The witches promise to lay aside their legendary mode of travel—via the broom—and join the other characters present in such mortal contortions as the round and the square dance. Legionaires and their friends are sure to be in for a good time. Vice Commander John West suggests coming early; bring your best and let your conscience be your guide as to how you dress. The Auxiliary unit will be on hand to operate a canteen with sandwiches and also coffee for those who may not care for the usual ice cube and ginger ale dust settlers.

On Monday, Oct. 23, the post honored the boys who played on its three junior baseball teams during the past season. Not only did these boys play the American Legion Junior baseball but also entered the City Recreation Department Knot Hole League play and came out champions in the Intermediate Knot Hole division. The banquet not only honored these boys but also Legionaires Homer Burke, Vincent Welker and Bill Ferguson for their work in supervision of these teams. Much credit is due Burke for his continued efforts in this field as it is because of his planning over a period of five years that more and more Hilltop boys have an opportunity to play the American Legion Junior baseball.

Coming events: Friday, Nov. 3, 8:15 p. m.—Regular post meeting. Saturday, Nov. 11, 6 to 9 a. m.—Armistice Day breakfast. Open to public. 10:30 a. m.—Armistice Day parade. 12 noon till (?)—Armistice Day open house.

MIX ADDITION

Mrs. Robert McMillin, Mrs. Alfred Kelley, Mrs. Charles Justus collected donations on Sullivant-av for the annual fall festival to be held at Alton Township Hall Friday night, Oct. 27.

Donna Mae Kelley, Helen Gray, Betty Lou Snyder, Mary Cathrine Kelley, Tommy Sherry, Rodger Davis and Roy Tenny attended the Old Trail Theater Sunday.

Henry Travis is ill at his home with the flu at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Grubaugh and children visited in Paintsville, Ky., over the week-end.

Another business meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Alfred Kelly. Those present were Mrs. Robert McMillan, Mrs. Chas. Justus, Mrs. Guy Gray, Mrs. Henry Travis and Mrs. James Hart. All the plans were completed for the coming fall festival.

Mrs. Frances Hughes, Becky Gray, Mrs. Helen Hale, Mrs. Stella Monk of Eakin-rd attended the Dollar Derby Friday morning at the WLW television studio.

Looking Ahead

by J. W. WORREL

"Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today" is a fine old proverb, but for too many of us it runs: "Never do today what you can put off till tomorrow." We in the Life Insurance business run into this "put it off" attitude only too often. I am not speaking of those infrequent cases where a man postpones signing a life insurance contract for a day and is killed, thus leaving his family penniless instead of comfortably off as he intended. I am thinking more of the man who believes in insurance and intends to purchase it — but always tomorrow, never today. This is an average man, and he doesn't die suddenly — but let us see what he is losing.

The longer he puts it off the more expensive his insurance will be, for insurance purchased at an older age costs much more than that bought at an early age. Also, he runs the risk of becoming completely uninsurable — in which case he could not buy protection at any price. Then again, both he and his family are becoming accustomed to spending money which should be invested in future security. Should he finally get around to buying insurance he may find it necessary to give up what his family then regards as essentials.

Have YOU been risking your loved ones' happiness by giving them luxuries now, in exchange for dire need should you die? Or have you made sure that they will have a reasonable standard of living always?

Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today. Ensure the security of your family now. Remember, it IS important. It MAY BE vital.

Third row: Judy Edwards, Cynthia Weatherhead, Anna Trump, Mrs. James Matheny, Maxine Gessman, Gayle Landau, Gail Gulfman.

On Sept. 20, at St. John's Lutheran Church several young ladies met for the first time, to form the the Pat-Ki-Ga Group of Camp Fire Girls. There are nineteen 10 and 11-year-old girls working on the Trail Seeker Rank. The group is sponsored by the women of the St. John's Lutheran Church.

At the first meeting an election of officers was held and the following chosen: Gayle Landau, president; Lois Ann Fox, vice-president; Linda Matheny, secretary; Leona Linn, treasurer.

On Friday evening, Oct. 13, a beautiful Council Fire was held at the church. Four girls; Rosemary Head, Suzanne Elliott, Patricia McCormack and Carole Hess "flew up" from Blue Birds to Camp Fire. Ten new girls, Gayle Landau, Anna Trump, Leona Linn, Dora Nan Linn, Maxine Gossman, Barbara Wilson, Judy Edwards, Lois Ann Fox, Anita Beckwith, and Gail Gulfman, were received into Camp Fire membership. Every mother was present to tie the official Camp Fire tie on her daughter. The group was divided into committees and the girls planned and executed the whole affair.

A "hard times" hike is planned for Saturday, Oct 28, at Blacklick Reservation. The girls will take a nature hike and conclude the afternoon with a "cook out" Camp Fire Style.

Arrangements have been made for the Pat-Ki-Ga to go on an "overnight" at Camp Wyandot on Nov. 11 and 12.

Mrs. James Matheny, 179 N. Warren-av is the leader of this new group and she is assisted by Pat Snider, 458 Eldon-av, a 10th grade student at West High School.

Cub Scout News

At the annual inspection of Cub Scouts in Pack 88, which met at John Burroughs School, an average grade of 90.3 was earned by the Cubs for uniforms and personal appearance. Inspecting officers were Elmer Hegenberger, district commissioner, assisted by Bill Zimmer and Mr. Holladay from Post 98, American Legion.

A graduation ceremony was held by Cubmaster Ed Johnson for graduating Cubs Ned Johnson, Billy Galentine and Gary Shively. Life Scout Bill Walton of Troop 79 from Burgess Avenue EUB Church accepted the three boys into Boy Scouts and assisted the ceremony.

After the inspection and graduation a bubble gum blowing contest was held, in which all Cub Scouts participated. Winners of Cub medals were: Den 1, Billy Gallentine; Den 2, Bill Dixen; Den 3, Billy Krull; Den 4, Danny Morris, and Den 5, Jack Sims.

Bill Dixen of Den 2, being grand winner, won the Honor Den flag for his Den for one month.

As a surprise for the Cubs and their parents, brothers and sisters, cider and doughnuts were served to all present.

When The Army Calls

Entire Hilltop Family Dons Uniform and Joins the Ranks

By Myron T. Seifert

Patriotism knows no bounds—and members of a prominent Hilltop family are splendid examples of the type of citizenship in the top rung of our democracy. They are the Howard R. Davis family, 2700 Dibblee-av.

Copy of The Bayonet, sent to Myron Seifert this week by Hilltopper Jack Helman, stationed at Fort Benning, gives a prominent spot to the Davis family, erstwhile Hilltoppers, and reads:

"Something new in the way of an Army family has arrived at Fort Benning in the persons of a master sergeant, veteran of two world wars, and his sons, one a commissioned officer and the other a private first class.

"The father is M-Sgt. Howard R. Davis and the sons are 2nd Lt. Evan D. Davis and Pfc. Richard E. Davis, all members of the 112th Transportation Truck company of the Ohio National Guard, with which they arrived on the post this month after the unit was ordered to active duty.

"Taken together, the family covers quite a few army activities. The father is in operations for the organization, the lieutenant is in Battalion S-4 and the other son is in the group's message center.

"Both Lt. Davis and Pfc. Davis are unmarried. The former put in three years with the Navy during World War II, and has a degree from Capital University at Columbus, O., the family's home city. He was enrolled at Ohio University when his unit, in which he has served for three years, was ordered into service.

"The youngest son, Richard, was in his first year at Capital University when his call to active duty came.

"Two more of the Davis family are scheduled to arrive at Fort Benning. They are the wife and mother and the third child, Laura Lee, 18, a sophomore in high school.

The Army is old stuff to Mrs. Davis. The sergeant was a member of the 37th Infantry Division during World War I, with which he served in Europe.

"Following World War I, he enlisted in the 166th Infantry, Ohio National Guard. At the start of World War II he again went on active duty and served throughout the war years, re-entering the guard at its close.

"For the benefit of those who wonder how a sergeant father gets along with a son who outranks him, Sgt. Davis says:

"I take from him until he's broke. Then I give it to him."

The fourth grades are using stories, poems, clay figures and art illustrations for booklets.

Fifth grades are learning about what other countries do to celebrate Hallowe'en and the unusual costumes worn at this time.

The sixth grades are planning games for their own house parties and making decisions about how they can "make merry without mischief." One class is devoting the Safety Club meeting to plan for a safe Hallowe'en.

All upper grades are working on sketches and plans for a window painting contest sponsored by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Children are planning to attend the Hilltop Community Council Hallowe'en party at West High School.

The primary grades at West Broad Street School have been busy planning and doing things around the theme "Hallowe'en Without Vandalism." The groups have planned with their teachers to listen to and tell the good old Hallowe'en stories that stress fun rather than destruction.

Hallowe'en games that can be played both at school and at home are being introduced. Hilltop organization plans will be discussed.

In most of the rooms the children are expressing their ideas of Hallowe'en fun in drawings, poetry (some of which they are composing themselves), songs, making masks, and jack-o-lanterns, and brief dramatizations.

Hallowe'en Party Draws Thousands

Goblins, witches, spooks and gremlins and other masked and costumed figures roamed the vicinity of West High School Tuesday night in numbers that far surpassed any other gathering in past years on Hallowe'en night, according to Russell Carter, president of the Hilltop Community Council, Wednesday morning.

The annual Hallowe'en party based upon the principle of "Barrels of fun . . . no damage done" and sponsored jointly by the Community Council and the Hilltop Kiwanis Club, drew nearly 4,000 to the affair and according to other reports materially lessened the activities of Hallowe'en pranksters in the Hilltop area.

Free movies, a dance revue by the Keith School of Dancing, fortune telling, candy, cider and doughnuts were the main attractions at the annual affair.

Winners in the costumed parade were divided into four different classifications according to age groups and cash prizes were awarded to winners.

In the first group of contestants aged two to six years, winners were, funniest, Linda Baughman, 2704 Valleyview-dr; prettiest, Susan Weber, 220 S. Richardson; most original, Beverly Stout, 202 N. Chase-av.

In the seven to nine age group winners were, funniest, Norman Brobst, 221 Letchworth; prettiest, Ruth Ward, 337 S Ogden and most original, John and Charles Graham, 45 S. Harris-av.

In the 10-12 age group winners were, Helen Ann Hart, 148 S Terrace-av, prettiest, Patricia Wright, 2969 Fremont and most original, James Dunmore, Clarence Dailey and Charles Dailey.

Winners in the 13-15 year classification were, funniest, Bud[illegible] Wharton, 232 N. Burgess-av; prettiest, Patty Snow, [illegible] Wheatland and most original, Gene Piall, 142 N. Ogden-av.

Sponsors of the annual affair were unanimous in their praise of all who aided in making this the best Hallowe'en party yet staged on the Hilltop.

Special Issues Face Franklin Twp. Voters

Voters of Franklin Township will have an opportunity to approve a two-mill current expense (fire protection) levy on a special issues ballot on Tuesday. If approved by 60 per cent of the voters, it is expected to provide funds for setting up fire protection on a local basis like the other townships in Franklin County.

"Franklin Township is the last one in the county to have to depend on the City of Columbus for fire protection," said Otto (Gus) Peoples, 1300 Hart-rd, president of the Franklin Township trustees. "We would like to be able to provide the same type of protection for residents of our township," he continued.

The system as planned by the trustees calls for the purchase of three fire trucks to be manned by approximately 100 volunteer firemen under trained supervision. All men would be approved as firemen after taking a required course of training The three pieces of equipment would be stationed at three strategic locations in the township for easy access to all areas of the township.

The first phase of the program became a partial reality last Saturday when the first fire truck arrived from the factory. It was being exhibited in various areas of the township throughout the week to give voters a chance to see the type of equipment being purchased.

The two-mill levy is being asked for a period of three years effective on the next tax collection. After the next tax collection it would be an increase of only one mill since a one-mill levy for the purpose of paying for present fire protection expires.

It was pointed out that it requires almost a full mill to pay the cost of maintaining a contract with the City of Columbus for fire protection in the township In areas where there are no fire hydrants, this protection is not too effective since the city fire trucks carry only small quantities of water Trucks to be pur-

'50 Chest Fund Drive Lags In Hilltop Area

The Hilltop section of the West Side division was lagging behind in the current Community Chest Drive, with but 90.1 percent of its quota achieved according to Sarabel Henderson, local director of the drive for the West Side division. The lower West Side or "O" section, on the other hand, has already achieved its quota and is over the 100 percentage figure.

In the over all picture of the Community Chest Drive 79 percent of the goal of $1,418,868 has been reached. The South Side division thus far is the leader in the race having a total of 103 per cent.

With the end of the drive but a matter of hours away local campaign leaders urged workers and others to put forth the maximum effort in order to attain the goal which has been set, pointing out that this year's goal includes $30,000 for services to the armed forces, funds for operating expenses of two agencies, Boys' Club and Children's Mental Health Center, and additional funds for chest agencies which in recent years have held separate campaigns for operating expenses These agencies have agreed to hold no such drives in 1951.

Locally, the colonel in charge of the drive on Hilltop, is Mrs. Harrietta Knipp of 211 S. Burgess-av who is appealing to all her majors to redouble their efforts in order to bring the Hilltop area to the top of the heap at the final tabulation Mrs. Knipp has during the campaign devoted much of her time to the cause of the Community Chest Drive and is especially urging her majors to drive just a "bit harder" in these closing hours of the campaign.

To those of the Hilltop who have not yet made pledges to the current drive Mrs Knipp and her majors are making a last minute appeal in order that the Hilltop community be in the top ranking of those who would "give from the heart for a worthy and just cause."

Colonel Knipp asked that if any Hilltopper is desirous of adding their bit to the current fund drive that they call any of her aides who are listed below and that they will call personally for the contribution.

Majors in the Hilltop division who may be contacted in this last minute drive to put the Hilltop "over the top" are: Mrs. Anita Hagens, 141 N. Powell-av, Jo 1282; Mrs. Delbert Pack, 2520 Sutton, Ra. 4173; Mrs. Fred Marsch, 38 Demorest-av, Jo. 2595. Mrs. Joseph Briggs, 34 S. Algonquin-av, Ra. 2394; Mrs. Thomas Kenny, 147 S. Eureka-av, Ra 4562; Mrs. Thomas Pettis, 248 S Wheatland-av, RA. 9402; Mrs. L. D. Ehret, 124 Columbian-av, Ra 9376; Mrs. Earl Prosser, 392 S. Roys-av, Jo 3449; Mrs. Clarence H Schneider, 592 Oakley-av, Jo. 2176; Mrs. Harry Benedict, 474 Larcomb-av, Ra. 5517, and Mrs. Clifford L Seale, 1858 W. Mound-st, Jo 5286.

Said Sarabel Henderson and Colonel Knipp, "We need the help of everyone on the Hilltop. A contribution no matter how small will help. Call any of our majors or Ra. 3213 and someone will call for your contribution to the Community Chest Fund Drive. Remember the drive ends on Nov. 3 and that is tomorrow."

Annual Hallowe'en Window Paint Contest Draws 359 Entries; Winners Announced

Judging of the record number of entries for the Hilltop Kiwanis annual window painting contest was no easy matter for Judges Reynolds and Gingery shown above with Sam Alford, contest chairman, and two West Broad Street School students who added their kibitzing. The window being inspected above was at the new Hilltop Post Office.

Announcement was being made today of the winners in the Annual Hallowe'en Window Painting contest originated and staged by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club in cooperation with the local schools. According to Sam Alford, chairman of the annual event, this year's entries saw a record number of Hilltop merchants' windows colored by school children. The total was 359 windows adorned with witches, ghosts, goblins, owls and what have you?

Top money winner of the contest was Patricia Koyro, 643 S. Hague-av, a fifth grade student at St. Mary Magdalene school. Her entry at The Home Bakery, Harris and Sullivant-av won for her the $15 first prize award.

David Shafer, Mound-st and Wayne-av, a 6B student at John Burroughs school, won $10 second prize money for his decoration of the windows at Lyons Market, 886 S. Wayne-av.

Third prize of $5 was awarded to Karla Helen Dorr, 451 Guernsey, a fifth grade pupil at John Burroughs School, with her window painting at Mead Jewelers, 2820 W. Broad-st.

Ten other prizes of $1 were awarded for other windows painted by the school artists. In some instances two children collaborated on entries and in some instances they divide the prize award, according to the rules of the contest.

The other prize winners are, Jim Graham, 688 S Richardson, John Burroughs School, fourth, Peggy Hastilow, 37 Letchworth-av Highland Avenue School, fifth; Sandra Mary Ruznick, St. Aloysius School, sixth.

Michael Donaldson, 198 Oakley-av, and Zo Ann Stanfield, 78 N Oakley-av, Highland Avenue School, seventh: Marcia Bolzappel, 44 S Roys-av, West Broad Street School, eighth; Rita Ann Dorr, 451 Guernsey-av, John Burroughs School, ninth; Leona Linn, 278 N. Harris-av, and Shirley Glassburg, 2534 Dibblee, tenth; Tommy Bridges, 108 S Wayne-av, Highland Avenue School, 11th; Donna Smith, 48 N Harris-av, and Ronda Graham, 84 N Westgate, W. Broad Street School, 12th, Harry Sherman, 665 Butler, and John Hyer, 1971 W. Mound-st, West Mound Street School, 13th.

Schools represented by the various prize winners will receive awards of the same amount as won by the various contestants in the contest, according to rules established by the Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Judges of the contest were Common Pleas Judge Dana F Reynolds and Sam Gingery of the Columbus Board of Education. Judge Cecil F. Randall of the Common Pleas Court, was also to have served as a judge in the contest but was unable to aid due to his confinement to his home with the "flu."

W. Mound Bus Line Extension Is Seen

The completion of an 11-block segment of improved paving on W. Mound-st, from Wayne-av westward to Binns-blvd, may start a movement by Hilltoppers to get extension of the present Mound-st bus line.

The neighborhood was given substantial encouragement last spring that the bus line would be extended to Binns-blvd from Wayne-av, if the street were improved.

The broad new street is scheduled to be re-opened this weekend or early next week when a two-inch asphalt wearing surface is laid, reported Robert F. Werner, city engineer.

"We've been waiting now for three years for the bus to come out here," comented one Mound-st housewife

The major snag in the bus extension idea, however, rests with the City Council and the Columbus Transit Co Although the plan is under construction, no definite plans for carrying it out have been formulated

Residents of the area have been talking about circulating a special petition to the City Council to demand action on the issue.

Broad and smooth, Mound-st, say residents, would be an ideal throughfare for fast and efficient bus service to the downtown section Automobile drivers say they will be able to drive downtown in 12 to 15 minutes without exceeding the speed limit when their street is re-opened.

Early this year the city rebuilt Mound-st between Central and Whitethorne-avs, so that the bus service could be exended from Central to Wayne. The Whitethorne-Wayne segment had been improved several years ago.

At the present time, bus riders walk to Wayne-av or northward to Sullivant-av. When a delegation asked for extension of the bus service some months ago, they were told that the buses could not ride the dips at the intersections beyond Wayne-av.

The new segmnt from Wayne-av to Binns-blvd is being rebuilt to conform to this request. New curbs and gutters are being installed, and the bumps at the intersections are being removed.

Property owners along Mound-st offered little protest at the large assessment levied against them for the street improvement.

Furnaces Are Fireproof Too!

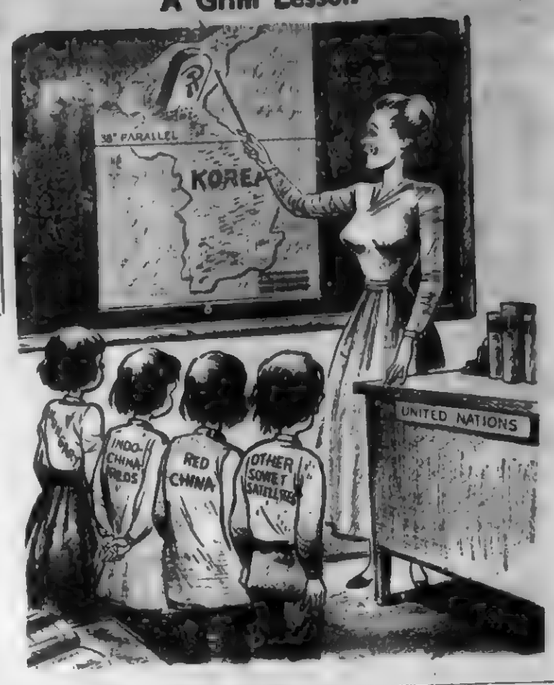
Many costly fires have resulted from the fallacy of neglecting insurance on "fireproof" buildings. Today, with replacement costs soaring, this neglect can be doubly tragic. Recently a hospital which was not insured against fire because the building was considered fireproof suffered a $4,000,000 blaze. Afterward the administrator of the hospital wrote: "It is impossible for us to think of rebuilding . . . Before the great fire, our debt was still $400,000, and it is estimated that it would cost $4,000,000 to restore to its former state what was so badly destroyed. Of course we had no insurance against fire in our building for it was 'fireproof.'"

Fire engineers constantly point out that many fires occur in buildings which are considered fireproof or fire-resistant because these structures usually are filled with highly combustible furnishings, decorations or materials. "A furnace is fireproof too," they add, "but that doesn't keep the material inside the furnace from burning."

The moral of this little story is, don't rest on your laurels where fire is concerned. Ceaseless vigilance in all respects is the price of safety. Even the security factor of the best type of construction can be cancelled out by a home-made wiring job, trashy basements or careless smoker. Clean out those dangerous collections of bric-a-brac and refuse. And if you are doubtful about such facilities as wiring, call on someone who can properly check up for you. One of the greatest hazards are overloaded circuits—two or three double sockets on one outlet.

Look about you! Are you the occupant of a safe structrue, perhaps a "fireproof" building, or a potential furnace?

The Folks Back Home



One of the healthiest current signs is the growing concern of the people over excessive government spending, deficit-financing at a time when the national income is running at record levels, and the depressive effects of present-day taxes. But it is also apparent that a great many people are not putting the blame entirely where it belongs.

It is all very well to criticize Congress and the Administration for their fiscal sins. However, the forces that make for wasteful government are right at home in the grass roots. Virtually every chamber of commerce, every civic organization, every industrial council, farm organization and labor organization constantly pounds the drums for more tax money for their special benefits. Economy is okay for the other fellow, but the more money the Treasury pours out in their direction the happier they are. There are honorable exceptions to this, but they are too few in number.

This is also true of a great many businessmen—who, of all people, should know better. They are the first to point to the need of economical government as a bulwark to the national security. Yet time and time again, as members of the various civic groups, they are at the forefront of those who demand that endless amounts of Federal tax money flood into their regions, as pure political handouts.

The members of Congress are only human. They generally follow the wishes of the "folks back home" who pack the votes. We will have sound, stable and economical government when, and only when, the people demand it.

A Grim Lesson

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Small businessmen seeking defense contracts in Washington are saying that they are confused.

"But," they report, "as confused as we get, it is nothing compared to the confusion we find in bureaus."

Here is an example of how this feeling of confusion is created. The Defense Production Act of 1950 is quite clear. The Act provides explicitly what agencies should have the power to set up priorities and allocations.

Yet, an agency not given that authority, the Rubber Reserve Section of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, has through some unknown means, taken over the allocation of "Camelback," used by small business engaged in repairing and recapping tires.

Justification for this move of questionable legality by which a bureau seizes new powers is based on alleged "know-how" on handling allocation of this material without inconveniencing the public or industry.

But the rule for allocation of this material set up by the Rubber Reserve Section of the R.F.C. is held to be quite elastic, indeed.

For example, for anyone to get an R.F.C. loan, it is necessary for the applicant to establish credit responsibility.

But the reverse is true to secure an allocation of tire servicing materials from the R.F.C. The applicant to qualify for an allocation must first prove irresponsibility and show that his financial position is precarious, or even destitute, to get supplies.

This has led observers to comment that the R.F.C. is writing new social doctrine.

The doctrine is "financial irresponsibility in many lines of business besides haberdashery is now officially recognized as a virtue."

Other examples of bureaucratic fantasy are creating extensive comment; may result in a full scale investigation after elections.

A contract for 100,000 steel lockers has been awarded to a large tire manufacturer with no qualifications for the work. Throughout the nation there are thousands of small steel fabricating firms who could have handled the order as a routine matter.

Other evidence shows that the time-honored American practice on all public purchasing, from local school boards to national bureaus, has been thrown out the window. That practice is the well established one of advertising contracts for the lowest bids.

But Hubert E. Howard, Chairman of the Munitions Board, has already gone on record with a statement that 90% of this year's mobilization buying will be done by negotiated contracts. He said there is no need to pamper small business.

This statement, observers say, is very significant. The involved mental processes of bureau policy makers have arrived at the conclusion that securing the lowest possible prices is really, after all, merely "pampering" small business.

But at the same time, wide publicity is being given to the fact that, due to increased costs, the recent defense appropriations will not buy as much as they were intended to buy. In World War II the GI's had a word for it: SNAFU.

Better Health PROGRAMS—

Medical Science Leads the Way

More efficiency, better living conditions and better health through education and preventive measures — these are the prime objects of modern medical science. Preventing people from dying, as the doctor's chief function, has evolved into earnest, unceasing efforts toward keeping people from being sick.

In 1892, Dr. L. F. Rick of Philadelphia established a society for prevention of tuberculosis. A national society for prevention of venereal disease was established in 1905; in 1913 one for controlling cancer; in 1915 another for prevention and relief of heart disease. Such public health programs are based on adult education through newspapers, radio, bulletins, lectures, exhibits, pictures, public health nurses, intensive drives and activities of public health physicians.

Dr. L. Emmett Holt laid the foundation of effective health teaching in schools, in 1918. Study of physiology has been augmented by vital programs of physical education, health habits and examinations by school physicians, dentists and nurses. The average school child knows much more about health fundamentals than his grandfather did 20 years ago.

Tigers Of East Claw Cowboys In Final Home Game Of Year

A determined but outclassed crew of West footballers gave into East's Tigers in a City League game played last Saturday on the local gridiron,, 20 to 0, before an overflow crowd in what was the final home game of the season.

Thus the Cowboys enter tomorrow night's fray at South with an even 2-2 mark in the City Loop with a 3-4 record in overall play. The win by East was their fourth without defeat, handing them a tie with North, both even records after games last week. The stage is thusly being set for the two teams' struggle probably for the loop championship at North on the last day of the season (Nov. 10).

East hosts to Aquinas this afternoon and Linden is at North tonight in the two teams' final battle with other City League opposition—and both are favorites in their respective frays.

In last week's East fray, both teams were keyed to a very high pitch and the tempers started to flare near the end of the first quarter and things stayed at about the roughthouse stage the remainder of the game.

The Cowboys were deeply discouraged over the fray. As a whole they didn't look too good—they failed to take advantage of some costly East fumbles in the second half, preventing them from taking a quick lead which may have made a lot of difference in the outcome of the game.

East's backfield trio of Ralph Hammock, Virgil Rhea and Johnny Johnson made it quite a rough evening for the Cowboys. Rhea was especially adept at the delayed line buck while Hammock and Johnson were ahead on the power drives. Rhea was a very clever runner and given a wide space of territory around the ends on occasions, he was hard to stop. He finished the night's activity with a 7.2 yard average per carry—which speaks for itself. Throughout the game Rhea would grab Ernie Mackey's handoff and constantly shoot up the middle for seven or eight yards.

The Tigers managed to capitalize on the bucks in the second half but found it especially rough going in the first half as numerous East fumbles kept the visitors in hot water. The Tigers fumbled five times in the first half (four by Rhea) and all five were recovered by West.

East had three serious drives abruptly stopped via fumbles and it was very noticeable to the Tigers in regards to how it helped their morale. West had one drive, successful as far as the visitors' nine, but had it halted when East's forward wall stepped to the occasion to halt the Hilltoppers on downs.

East, after numerous drives in attempts to score finally found the "glue jar and started their drive to their initial and ultimate deciding tally of the evening. Previously, East's fumbles, numbering four up until that time, had been covered respectively by Dick McDermitt, Jim Early, Ronnie Grant (2) and Phoney Chapman all of which added insult to injury to the visitors.

Hammock in the first canto, on a quick opener up the middle went to the East 42, and Wyman and Smith, on an end around sped to the 45 for a first down. Ernie Mackey took a pitchout from Johnson and fought his way around end to the West 39 for another first.

In three consecutive plays by Fred Davis, Hammock and Johnson, the Tigers drove to the West nine-yard stripe where the 67-yard drive was climaxed when Halfback Virgil Rhea scooted over guard and into the end zone for a 6-0 East lead. "Booth" Crawley quickly split the uprights with his placekick and East had hopped to a 7-0 margin with only three seconds over a minute remaining in the first quarter of play.

The Tigers, after a rugged halftime talk by Coach Ralph Webster, stepped out in the second half and played practically the reverse from their first half showing.

They fumbled only once in the last half, and literally tore the West line to shreds on play after play with Johnson, Rhea and Hammock pacing the way. The Cowboys found their visitors hard to stop offensively and in addition failed to go very far themselves. West had the ball just a little more than one-third of the time in the second half.

The Tigers showed their real power in a tremendous drive from the opening kickoff of the second half. Dave Lazenby kicked off to initiate the third period to Rhea who returned to the East 32. Following were 12 successive plays in which the Tigers drove the necessary 68 yards for their second score of the evening—which all but took the heart out of the Cowboys.

As far as West fans were concerned, the remainder of the game was a dull affair. The visitors had jumped to a two touchdown lead and it looked like a pretty big order for two touchdowns in the fourth quarter—especially when East became extra adept at holding onto the ball.

The final East six-pointer came quick. It was too sudden for words as the Tigers had kicked off to West, after their second score and the Cowboys drove to the East seven for the biggest penetration into East territory the whole evening.

Summary:

East	7	0	7	6	20

East touchdowns—Smith, Johnson, Rhea. Extra points—Crawley, 2 (placements).

Officials: Referee, Kent Pfeiffer; umpire, Charles Koterba; head linesman, Bill Rush; field judge, Jack McClain.

Managers' Tasks Are Many

Joe Wallace, Joe Behling and Jim Hallestine, West's manager trio.

By Dave Miller

A thankless task around a sports scene, both local and otherwise, is the position of manager—whether it be football, basketball, baseball, track or what have you.

West High's football trio of managers includes Joe Behling, Joe Wallace and Jim Hallestine, all of which go through plenty of work not only at the football games but at the daily practice sessions.

The managers must be present as must the coaches and players—to issue equipment, help at odd jobs like lining the field or such. Numerous other duties, too many to mention art part of their job.

Bob Brooks, Don Trimmer, Bob Glassburn and George Brown will be managers of the basketball team this year. Trimmer, who graduates in February, and Brooks, however, showed their prowess in the athletic field this year by running on the cross-country—both having very successful years.

Earl Cline and Jim Snyder were managers of the cross-country team this year in addition to Wallace, who is also football manager. Hallestine, Brooks and Dick Wilson will be the baseball managers this season.

Many thanks should be attributed these fellows who sacrifice their time and work in order that others may have the opportunity to play.

In the K. of C. late Bill Rains had 201 and Jack Sherick 566. In the K of C early, Ernie Mulholland had 226 and Orv Parisey 553.

Anne Krupick had 215-591 as Corner Cafe had 811-2345. Adella Davis had 185-510 in the Friendship. Chubby's Market had 810 and West Side Motors 2254.

Three Hilltop Residents Hurt In Car Crash

Three Hilltoppers were injured when a car driven by Joseph Burch, 28, of 3698 Plainview-dr, crashed into the rear of another auto driven by William King, Jr., 25 S. Powell-av, at W. Broad-st and Southampton-av, last Sunday.

King suffered head cuts and bruised knees, Burch suffered a possible neck injury, and Richard McSavaney, 21, of 144 S. Brinker-av, received cuts over his right eye and a cut right knee. All were treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital.

SPORT SLANTS

By Dave Miller

The local Camp Chase American Legion post recently hosted to its baseball representative teams in a banquet held at the post—and according to reports the meeting was a splendid success.

Special tribute should be paid to the post and its respective members due to their fine cooperation in putting forth a thankless job of American Legion baseball on the Hilltop.

The Camp Chase post certainly is doing its share in keeping West Side and Hilltop boys busy with baseball activities this summer. Due to an undyng effort by about three individuals the Camp Chase post was able to sponsor some five different baseball teams.

The post sponsored three American Legion teams and in addition added two other knotthole entries in the respective brackets of intermediate and senior loop play.

Only one of the five teams, however, was able to award the post with a trophy. The intermediate knotholers walked off with that league's championship—going through an undefeated season in addition to cinching the championship on Aug. 22 in the Red Bird stadium—a mighty big thrill for some of 'em.

Bill South, a senior at West and a pitcher on the baseball squad, was the coach of the champions. Jim Kimball did most of the pitching with Kenny Garber the catcher. Bill Haire was at first; Ellis Easterly at second; Jimmy Vincent at shortstop; and Rich Orr at third; Herb Brown, Jimmy Hughes and Dick Hutchison did most of the outfield duties.

Probably the highlight of the team's season came when they pulled a triple play against the Cherokees in the knothole playoffs contested at Ohio State. The play, started on a grounder to pitcher Kimball with men on first and second, "went around the horn," with Kimball tossing to Orr forcing one runner and Orr relaying back to Haire to complete a double play. Haire quickly tossed back to Orr, who tagged the runner previously on first base.

Homer Burke, Bob Welker and Bill Ferguson came in for special praise at the banquet for their fine coaching throughout the year—and of course numerous others, too many to mention.

Hats off to a fine Legion post which sees into the future of the local lads on the Hilltop!

SHORT BITS: West High's reserve football squad tucked another win away at Linden last Thursday, bopping the baby Panthers, 19-0. . . . Elva Cunningham scored twice and Doyne Bayse once with the extra point coming on Paul Cochran's pass to Louie Proper . . . The reserves were scheduled to meet East's undefeated seconds yesterday at Harley Field in the game that will probably decide the championship. Incidentally, only a safety has been scored against the locals, that coming as West trumped Aquinas in the opener, 18-2; following were wins over St. Charles (32-0), and Linden (19-0).

Tomorrow night's game between West and South to be staged at Maffrey Stadium at South will mark the Bulldogs' homecoming game . . . And, (West fans take notice) according to reports from the South end, those Bulldogs are really waiting for the Cowboys . . . There's going to be a hitter battle staged on the Ann-st layout tomorrow evening with two teams of about the same caliber hooking up against each other.

Apologies to Drum Major Cliff Everett of the West High Marching Band. When yours truly was making out the review of West's halftime show by the band to be read at the intermission, I left out Cliff's name in the list of seniors who were playing their final home halftime band show . . . Excuse it, please.

West High's cross country team is currently setting its sights toward the state meet to be held this Saturday at Mansfield . . . The Cowboys took the city crown for the second straight year, and also for the second successive season copped the runner-up spot in the district last Saturday morning. Both meets were held at the Beacon Light Golf Course

Letters to Editor

The Editor,

Recent publicity has emphasized the need for the .65 mill levy for Benjamin Franklin Hospital and the fact that 100 beds will have to be closed if the levy fails. The press and radio are doing a fine job of presenting the needs of the hospital to the public.

I would like to address a few words to those voters who intend to vote against the levy because they say it is all a bluff to extort more taxes from them. Such voters should recall the failure of a similar levy in 1941 which caused the complete closing of one entire building with 100 beds, for most of 1942.

The false economy of the voters was proved when 100 patients had to be discharged before the completion of their cure. Many returned later, only to spend many extra months in the hospital. Extra months of care were also needed by newly discovered cases who could not be admitted for lack of beds—and early hospitalization and treatment is much more effective. All of those extra months of care cost the taxpayers much more than they saved on that levy. Even worse they were needlessly exposed to many cases of active tuberculosis who would otherwise have been in the hospital getting well!

Don't gamble with the health of your family and your community. Keep Benjamin Franklin among the top 10% in the country so it can continue the valuable service it renders the community.

Vote YES for the .65 mill levy
E. H. WILSON,

West Rated Possible Favorite Over South In Friday's Tilt

A team of almost the same size will encounter West's Cowboys tomorrow evening as the Hilltoppers travel to their initial away City League tilt to be played at South High.

The Cowboys, hoping to uneven their mark in the City Loop, will enter the contest with a 2-2 rating in the league, and with a 3-4 mark in all games. South, also with an even 2-2 mark in the league, sports a slightly better 4-3 record than West.

However, West has played teams superior to South, and thus will be the probable favorite by kickoff time tomorrow evening. South has taken the measure of Grandview, Cambridge, Linden and Central while dropping decisions to East, North and Upper Arlington.

West and South have played four common foes—Linden, East, North, Upper Arlington. South downed Linden, 34-7; West beat them 26-6; and West was toppled by mighty Arlington, 47-12 while South lost 44-6. North edged South, 26-19 while the Bears squeezed by West, 6-0; and East shut out South, 40-0, as compared to West's 20-0 blanking by the Tigers.

The Bulldogs have a serious threat that is all-city material for sure—judging from his performance against Central last week. Coaches Mack Pemberton, Fred Heischman and Dave Randall—who had a chance to see South and Central in action Friday night were amazed by the South back's ability and savvy.

His name, Jim Tuff, will be heard plenty of times before the South-West game is over next Friday night. His number, 39, will probably be a thorn against the Cowboys. The big Negro fullback, against Central, had an 8.2 yard average per carry, caught two touchdown passes and an extra point aerial on the offensive side, and on the defensive portion, he recovered three Central fumbles, intercepted two passes and blocked a punt.

However, the South Siders have numerous other threats. Guard Williard Brumfield is outstanding on the line in his junior year while Dick Ruh, serving in his third year of varsity football at the Ann-st school, is a dangerous pass catcher, and the favorite target of South's tiny but mighty quarterback, Dale Rowell. The Bulldogs also have two backfielders in Buddy Lucear and Billy Banks who are capable of pacing the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds. Both were track stars on the South cinder team last spring.

West will be mixing their passing of Chuck Leibensperger or Jerry Johnson with the running of Carmine DeMatteo, Charlie Hunter and Ronnie James. Plenty of passes will probably be sent skyward in the fray tomorrow evening with West's duo of Leibensperger and Johnson going against South's Banks and Rowell.

Major Clyde Good Serving In Korea

One of the many Hilltoppers serving with distinction in the present Korean conflict is Major Clyde Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Good, 334 S. Roys-av.

A veteran jet pilot with 55 missions already behind him, Major Good first saw service on Okinawa before moving to an air base in Japan.

Hilltopper's Honesty Aids N. Side Widow

A Hilltop internal revenue collector and his son turned from police suspects to heroes this week when a North Side widow lost her wallet containing $77.

Mrs. Lillian Fowler, 1417 12th-av, was shopping in a downtown department store with her 12-year-old daughter when she lost her billfold.

They drove to police headquarters to report the loss and described two men who apparently had picked it up.

Shortly after Mrs. Fowler returned home a telephone call informed her that the billfold had been found. She learned that Fred Bianco, of 497 S. Ogden-av, a deputy collector with the internal revenue bureau, and his son, Fred, Jr., 14, a West High School student, had found the wallet. It was returned intact.

Mrs. Fowler, employed in the statistical department at the Columbus General Depot, said the bulk of the $77 was to be used for rent and bills due this week.

chased by the township would have 500 gallon tanks and would be adaptable for pumping from fire hydrants or out of local sources of water supply in addition to the 500 gallons of water on hand at all times.

Another of the special issues which will face voters of Franklin Township is the issue of whether or not to repeal the current zoning laws now in effect in that township. Opinion as to whether to retain or reject the law is fairly evenly divided at this time with argument pro and con on the issue.

Burgess Ave. EUB Youth Fellowship Sets New Goals

The Burgess Avenue EUB Youth Fellowship entered into a month of goal setting . . . the month of November. Each night of the month (Sunday night) an attendance goal has been set up and efforts to reach that goal will be made. A varied program each Sunday night will also be in the offering.

This Sunday night the entire Youth Fellowship will attend the Youth Fellowship at the Hilltonia EUB. Several cars will meet at the Burgess Avenue Church at 6 p. m. to carry the passengers to their destination. The pastor will accompany them.

Church Loyalty Is Stressed At Burgess Ave. EUB

The theme of this coming Sunday's thinking at Burgess EUB Church will center about church loyalty and church attendance. Two sermons were preached from the texts found in the fourth chapter of John's Gospel, these having to do with the character at the "well of Sychar." This Sunday will conclude the series of four messages from that chapter. The text will again be taken from the fourth chapter of John and will center about the same historical setting as of last Sunday.

Attendance goals for Sunday evening services have been set up for the month of November. Likewise for prayer meeting on each Wednesday night, goals have been set up.

Adventists Urge Abstinence Program

"Moderate drinking is the school in which men receive an education for the drunkard's career," Eastwood Seventh-Day Adventists were told Saturday, Oct. 28, at their regular morning service.

In a special temperance day program observed by the denomination's churches throughout the world, Richard T. Minesinger, local pastor, warned church members that liquor's influence upon the taste is so insidious, the "highway to drunkenness is entered upon all unsuspectingly." He urged the church to participate in a nation-wide drive toward total abstinence—not moderation.

Sales Tax Stamp Collecting Nears Hobbying Stage

By Myron T. Seifert

"Always ask for sales tax stamps," when buying taxable merchandise is a current, popular statement among the younger set.

Collecting sales tax stamps, especially among West High students, has assured the proportions almost of a hobby—and a worthwhile one.

The individually garnered ducats are tossed into a clearing house committee, who classify and tabulate daily the total stamps.

Processed and presented to the state auditor and treasurer the school receives money in return.

Used for many laudable purposes, the money this year is allocated for two purposes: To provide funds for a new loud speaker system and for a curtain in the school auditorium.

The octet of girls who process the stamps include: Shirley Rein, Mary Kimball, Patty Pryor, Joan King, Marilyn Cramer, Marilyn Story, Dixie Young, and Joyce Fyffe.

Miss Margaret Campbell, Latin teacher, is advisor for the group.

The trip proved to be an experience of a life-time to the artists of tomorrow.

STARLING NEWS

United Nations Flags

On United Nations Day three pupils from Starling presented Superintendent Fawcett with a United Nations flag. This flag was made by pupils of Starling. Jean Parker presented it. Richard Farrell and Bonnie Allis, who had a part in the making, accompanied her.

Mr. Pittenger and Miss Gaughran were the faculty supervisors in the construction of the flag. A flag was made for every room in the school.

United Nations Day

Miss Gaughran's sewing class cut and hemmed the cloth for the blue and white United Nations flag. Mr. Pittenger's boys made the white emblems for them. One flag was put up in each home room and will be left there for at least a week.

Starling had a standing assembly at 10:45 Tuesday morning. Mr. Hicks gave the introductory speech.

Richard Davis, Robert Nestor and David Sowers led the pledge to the flag. Everyone sang the national anthem and the "Song of the United Nations". To end the program Miss Miller led the prayer for the United Nations.

This day was celebrated over the entire world at 11 a. m. by the ringing of bells.

Correction

Due to an error it was reported that Mrs. Rishell's class had won the annual sales tax stamp contest. This should have read Miss Miller's class, room 21, had $1808.15, and Mr. Helphrey's room 17 had $744.32.

Miss Miller's class makes a game out of it. First one starts in the lower ranks and builds up. Knighthood is the reward for the boy who has brought the most tax stamps. The girl who has brought in the most tax stamps becomes a queen.

Looking Ahead

with

J. W. WORREL

Spring, so the poets say, is the season when a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love. That may be. But Spring affects many other people in a very different way. To most home owners, for instance, Spring means house-cleaning-time — time to put one's personal affairs in order — to take stock of oneself.

This year, when giving yourself and your possessions the annual going-over, don't overlook your private papers, especially your life insurance. Circumstances may have changed since they were last reviewed; someone whom you named a beneficiary may have died; a policy purchased with a particular intention in mind may no longer be required for that reason, but for another; the insurance you considered adequate a year or more ago may now fall far short of meeting actual requirements as you see them today. Here is where I may be able to be of service to you. It is a part of my job to solve problems like these almost every day, and I will be very glad to discuss them with you, in strictest confidence. Call or write me if you have any questions on matters connected with Life Insurance.

The Pat-Ki-Ga Group of Camp Fire Girls had an ideal day on Saturday, Oct. 28, for their hike at Blacklick Reservation.

The nineteen girls, Mr. and Mrs. James Matheny and Patty Snider, Mrs. Matheny's assistant leader, left St. John's Lutheran Church, crowded into the truck and were off for an afternoon of fun and adventure.

Gayle Landan, Anna Trump, Leona Linn, Dora Linn, Cynthia Weatherhead, Rosemary Headd, Linda Matheny, Barbara Wilson, Patricia McCormack, Suzanne Elliott, Sharon Washburn, Judy Edwards, Lois Fox, Carole Hess, Anita Beckwith, Gail Gulfman, Judy Brokaw, Anna Thompson, and Ziann Pospichel were the girls making the trip. Only one girl was unable to attend and for a good reason—maxine Gassman submitted to a tonsillectomy on Friday morning.

A very interesting nature hike was taken through the beautiful autumn woods. In addition to the new (to the girls) trees and bushes observed, many other beauties and oddities of nature were discovered. Each Camp Fire Girl must take a hike with her group in order to pass the Trail Seeker Rank.

A delicious "cookout" was enjoyed by everyone. A number of games were played and songs sung before the group started home.

First Federal To Open New Bexley Office

The First Federal Savings and Loan Association—an outgrowth of the Hilltop Building and Loan—announced plans this week for the construction of an office at 2450 E. Main-st, between Cassady av, and Cassingham-rd in Bexley.

Work on the new building is already underway, but completion is not expected until sometime next spring.

In 1935 the Hilltop Building and Loan Association was converted to the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, when it secured the first federal charter in this area.

"We decided on the new office location so that we could better serve our many saving and home loan customers of long standing who live in the Bexley area," W. C. Eidson, president of the association, stated. "We also want to make our services available to folks in the entire eastern area of metropolitan Columbus."

The new office will be a colonial-type building with a portico across the front and fluted stone columns. The interior is designed to facilitate the giving of prompt service to the public. A modern vault is being installed complete with safe deposit boxes. The building will be air conditioned.

The First Federal will join with Mykrantz's Sportsman Store at 2488 E. Main-st. to provide a parking lot between their two buildings. This parking area will accommodate approximately 40 cars, and will be made available to the shoppers of the community.

Services to be offered by the First Federal will include: Savings accounts, home loans, safe deposit boxes, travelers checks and Christmas Club accounts.

Their other two offices are downtown at 53 E. State-st, and on the Hilltop at 2369 W. Broad-st.

Mrs. John Afkew and children, Marilyn and Johnny, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Mrs. Lems Afkew of the same address, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Rogers of Columbus were Thursday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Evans and family, 477 Lawrence-av. Mr. Evans accompanied his guests to Cincinnati.

Voters of Franklin Township

VOTE YES ON 2-MILL FIRE LEVY

Help Yourself To Better Fire Protection!

Learn What the 2-Mill Fire Levy Provides

WHAT IS THE 2-MILL LEVY?

It is a 2-mill current expense (fire protection) levy to run for three years starting with the 1950 tax duplicate. (December 1950 and June 1951 tax collections.)

HOW MUCH WILL IT INCREASE MY TAXES?

A 2-mill levy means a tax of 20c on each $100 of tax valuation. Actually, after the taxes are collected on the 1950 duplicate, it will be an increase of only one mill over the present tax rate, as the present one mill current expense (fire protection) levy will expire at that time.

WHAT WILL IT PROVIDE?

It is intended to provide funds for the purchase of equipment, locations, erect or purchase buildings and provide funds for the operation of three volunteer fire companies under experienced direction to protect Franklin Township life and property. This program will take the place of the protection now provided by the City of Columbus on a contract basis as equipment is available to send out of the city. Actually, under the present plan if the city had a major fire at the time a call was sent in from Franklin Township, the Township might find itself without fire protection.

WHAT ABOUT MY INSURANCE RATE?

Most property owners will get a reduction of insurance rates by virtue of having fire houses located within approximately 3 miles of all property and because the equipment to be purchased will be specifically designed to fight rural fires. In many cases the savings on insurance will more than offset the cost of the levy. These volunteer fire companies will not take over the responsibility of furnishing fire protection until they are properly trained.

WHAT ARE THE ADVANTAGES OF LOCAL FIRE PROTECTION?

(1) Regular fire equipment with special features added to effectively fight rural fires. Trucks will carry 500 gallons of water at all fires. (2) Equipment and manpower (under adequate and experienced supervision) available at any hour of the day or night. Under present arrangement with the city, city fires have first call on use of equipment and in case of a major fire may not be able to answer the Township's call. (3) Volunteer fire fighters from your own neighborhood are interested in protecting your life and property. These men will be thoroughly trained in fire fighting techniques and will be a part of a county-wide organization already consisting of 19 departments operating 41 fire trucks with 480 trained volunteers. These departments all work together on a mutual assistance basis.

HOW DOES MY TAX RATE COMPARE WITH OTHER TOWNSHIPS IN FRANKLIN COUNTY?

The rates of taxation for 1949 (issued by the County Auditor) show that Franklin Township enjoys the lowest rate of any of the 18 townships.

Camp Chase Post News

By John Martindale

"For God and country, we associate ourselves together for the following purposes:" to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America; to maintain law and order; to foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism; to preserve the memories and incidents of our associations in the great wars; to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation; to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses; to make right the master of might; to promote peace and good will on earth; to safeguard and transmit to posterity the principles of Justice, Freedom and Democracy; to consecrate and sanctify our comradeship by our devotion to mutual helpfulness."

That is the preamble to the constitution of the American Legion. Veterans, of any race, color, creed or political conviction and who really believe in God and America, should have little trouble subscribing to an organization with such a plan and purpose. If you read it again you will find that it can all be boiled down to one word—Americanism.

Many veterans of World Wars I and II have been working to make this a reality in practically every community in this nation, as well as it other parts of the world where a group of them come together. They continue to invite other veterans of the World Wars to join with them solely for the reasons contained in that preamble. Think it over and tell your friends. Tell Joe Stalin too. Also remind him that there are several hundred vets right here on the Hilltop that do belong, many of them in Camp Chase Post. Joe won't like you if you do but he don't like the Legion anyhow.

Last week I told you of the Hallowe'en dance that the post would have. There were no witches there but you should have seen the others. Although Chet Wagner, Bill Ferguson and Madge Martindale were selected as prize winners all the other guys and gals added their own grand fixens and what have you, to make it a swell party and dance. Tommy Lewis can tell you that, Dewey Stout sure had trouble figuring out just which one his Laura was, even if he has been married as long as he claims. Also Mary Fiscus came in looking like something long over ripe that crawled out of a WAC foxhole.

There are still a few tickets available for the Armistice Day breakfast. Don't forget this is not just for Legionnaires but for all of our Hilltop, Grove City, Hilliards, Worthington, Westerville, and greater Columbus friends who like a good breakfast. We are not trying to compete with the local restaurants or with mom because we are just trying to start a day that means a lot to us by bringing together good friends and good food. Get your ticket now.

Next post meeting Friday, Nov. 3, at 8:15 p. m.

The Low Down On High Ridgers

By One of Them

"ELECTRIC" WATT shocked us all with his rushing off to the hospital and everything. He's back home now, minus his appendix, just in time to enjoy his ninth wedding anniversary which he and Katie celebrated yesterday.

ALLSHOUSE'S sharp Nash is the newest in the neighborhood, folks. Come and have a look. We all did!

RED HAWLEY can't get used to his new "specs". He says the sidewalk comes up to meet him now as he walks along. He'll soon get used to them. Can't see how he needed glasses very bad—he always sees everybody else's cards when he plays poker.

With RUMFIELD'S tree down now, we can see the airplane advertisements. Seems like every day an airplane will have a different ad. Ought to advertise muscle lotion for all of us who are craning our necks.

The BILL OYERS are gone from the Hi Ridge section. They settled here on the Hilltop so they're still one of us.

MILLIE HAWKINS had her hair cut for a part as a man in a play. Now after she curls it she brushes and brushes and still it won't lay down. "Never again," she says.

DORA SEEDS was boiling potatoes and got too interested in Kate Smith's program. The water boiled dry before she realized it. She served the potatoes anyhow and her husband thought they were baked spuds. My! how some women can fool their husbands.

NINA FERGUSON lost her wristwatch. An ad in the Record found it for her. It was picked up among the chrysanthemums on W. Broad-st.

The ROBINES now have an Admiral TV set. "Sports Fan JOE" enjoys it the most in his family.

Read your letter, you Hi-Ridge members. Don't just read it—let it sink in. If you don't want improvements—well—if you don't—WE DO.

We're proud of what you've all done. Don't let us down now. Come to our aid or bust. And if you choose the latter—don't do it at home. Come burst your steam at our meetin's. That's the kind of cooperation we want.

It's your last chance. Sink or swim. It's YOU and YOU and YOU who will be profited.

The public is invited. No admission is charged.

The association is still seeking cigarettes and jig saw puzzles for the show, being sponsored by the association Dec. 3, for the Veterans at the Chillicothe Veterans' Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Murlin of Dayton, visited Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brokamp over the week-end, and were guests at the Hallowe'en party. Mrs. Murlin is Mrs. Brokamp's sister. Mr. Marake of 1950 Hunt-av, was the Sunday guests of the Brokamps.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thacker were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Wolfe, Saturday night.

Mrs. David Henry, daughter of Mrs. Laura Fowler is home from Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Paul Walters has entered the armed service of the United States. James Taylor entered the Navy some time ago. A service flag will be dedicated in Rea-Bow Hall Nov. 11.

BIBLE COMMENT

Jesus Knew When To Speak Out and When to Be Silent

AT the United Nations General Assembly, where representatives from 60 nations are gathered, it is the diplomat par excellence that knows when to be silent and when to speak out.

Jesus was just such a man, as evidenced by His dealings with the shrewd-tongued Pharisees. When He healed the man with the withered hand He knew quite well that the bigots were watching Him to see whether He would dare to perform a miracle on the Sabbath Day.

Although Jesus on many occasions had no words to match with those of his disparagers and critics, He met these critics on their own grounds. His antagonized onlookers were left answerless when He asked them whether it was lawful to do good and save a life on the Holy Day.

Many of the Pharisees were truly skillful orators yet none could deceive or mislead Jesus with their polished rhetoric. Jesus, when He answered His critics, did so for their own good and when Jesus met with men, they either became better men or their stubborn willfulness drove them deeper into evil designs and ways.

It is well to remember that while the word Pharisee has come to have an ignominious meaning, some of the Pharisees were among the most sincere and earnest Jews of their time.

The diplomats meeting in New York to decide the fate of the world might well remember that there are moments to cry out against deceit and moments to be patiently silent.

And for guidance in their immense task, they would do well to find moments for prayer in which they can silently search themselves and cry out for strength and forgiveness.

LEGAL NOTICES

JOE BRIGGS Says:

Stock is an unreliable commodity bought and sold by gamblers: if you win, it's an investment; if you lose, it's speculation.

It never pays to gamble against the possibility of property loss. Every day someone's uninsured valuables are lost, stolen or destroyed. Protection isn't expensive — and it promotes peace of mind. See JOE BRIGGS at 2590 Sullivant Ave., RA. 3194.

Location Of Ternstedt Plant Here A Definite Indication Of Progress

Church Housed In Courthouse

When Dr. James Hoge was called to become the pastor of the Presbyterian church in the frontier village of Franklinton he was installed in the new courthouse.

It was not until 1812, after more than five years of work, that the congregation found itself in a position to erect a suitable church building. But even then it was destined to bitter disappointment and disaster. Hardly had the project got under way and the War of 1812 broke out and Franklinton was on the war-road to Canada. When General Harrison arrived at the village in October of that year he found accommodations none too numerous and the unfinished church building was taken over by the army for its needs. But it was destined to be of slight service to the soldiers for a severe storm laid the building low.

The little flock that Dr. Hoge had collected was not to be scattered by such disaster as wars and tornadoes. Three years later, in 1815, a new building, more commodious than the first, was dedicated for the purpose of worship. This building was used until Nov. 19, 1821, when the church of Franklinton was united with the one at Columbus, the latter place now becoming the center of Dr. Hoge's labors.

The administration building of the Fisher Body-Ternstedt plant is one of the most modern factory office buildings in the world. This view is from the northwest corner.

Ternstedt Plant Providing Many Here With Steady Employment

With the erection of a new Ternstedt Division plant on the Hilltop, the state of Ohio assumed an even more important role in the highly intricate network of General Motors operations. The new manufacturing unit became sixteenth Ohio plant in the GM system.

The local plant was one of the first of General Motors' new post-war plants to get into production. Architecturally, and from the standpoint of equipment and facilities, it is considered to be one of the best of the more than 100 plants in the corporation. In its design engineers incorporated into it the latest thinking in factory architecture, work layout area, entrance and exit, lighting, mechanical material handling, and general working conditions.

The total plant area is 198 acres, located midway between W. Broad-st and Sullivant-av on the Georgesville-rd. The manufacturing building itself as a roof area of 15½ acres, while the administration building and other structures comprise an additional 1½ acres. All manufacturing is confined to the upper level of the two-story building, while service facilities such as cafeteria, locker and wash rooms, are on the lower level.

A special type glass is installed throughout the building which holds back the heat producing rays of the sun. In addition, the glass eliminates the sun glare which might be a possible hazard to a workman on a machine. Artificial light is provided by more than 14 miles of fluorescent tubes and most of the flooring is of wood block, said to be less fatiguing to workers than hard surfaces.

Strategically located in the heart of the corporation's traffic network, the Hilltop plant ships an increasing number of automobile body hardware and interior fitting to various assembly plants throughout the nation.

The expansion of the Ternstedt Division was a natural step to fill the requirements of GM automobile production. It was also part of GM's conversion to peacetime production after a three and one-half year all-out war production effort that saw the huge corporation taking its full share of the emergency load.

A large manufacturing operation, such as the new plant here, does not "grow like Topsy." It requires months, even years, of preparatory work. One executive describes it as representing ample quantities of "minds, money and planning."

Planning for the Hilltop plant began as far back as early 1944. For almost a year it was merely known as "Plant X" as a site had not been fully determined. GM officials however, thinking ahead toward post-war automotive production saw the need for a new Ternstedt plant to produce hardware and fittings.

First, came the job of determining what would be manufactured at the new plant. In pre-war years all Ternstedt work was done by plants in Detroit, and Trenton, N. J. In planning for a new plant there was an infricate problem to be worked out on allocation of parts to be produced. Pertinent questions were: Which parts will be taken from Detroit and Trenton and assigned to Plant X? Which parts will be produced in greater quantities at Detroit and Trenton to replace those assigned to the new plant? Will any parts be manufactured at two plants, or all three?

Paul L. Jones
Resident Manager

Best possible answers had to be found while the actual problems of production were still distant for all GM plants were devoted entirely to war work.

Meanwhile, with preparatory work on "Plant X" underway, studies were started on strategic sites. These involved consideration of rail and highway facilities, availability of labor, distances from sources of raw materials and also from various plants to which the finished product would be shipped.

After numerous areas were considered, Columbus was chosen. Then there were problems of finding an actual site for the plant, of water and utility availability, and countless similar questions. Finally the present area was selected and some 191 acres were purchased from the late Judge Edward C. Turner estate on April 30, 1945. Actual construction then began in July of 1945.

All the preliminary planning then began to show results. It already had been determined, at least generally, just what would be made in the plant here, so it had been designed specifically to make the products it now produces.

The local plant was designed so that production flows from west to east. Raw materials enter either by rail or truck at the southeast corner of the building, adjacent to which is a large storage area. In manufacture they move eastward and after being finished are packed and shipped out on another railroad spur. At the shipping area there is another large warehouse area. This is necessary because production is set up on a cycle basis for efficiency. Many parts have several sub-assemblies which must be stored in the warehouse area until all are completed so that shipments of assemblies can be made in complete sets.

The local plant utilizes the latest developments in the handling and routing of raw materials during the entire manufacturing process, with the principles of straight line flow of materials and a reduction of unnecessary physical exertion as governing factors. Practically every handling operation is completely mechanized through the use of monorail conveyers, conveyor belts, chutes, hoppers and portable hoppers with large wheels for easy movement. Altogether there is 9,062 feet of such monorail conveyors in the plant.

In October of 1948, two years after actual production work at the Hilltop plant began production, the local plant embarked upon manufacture of automobile seat springs, a product that was not only new to Ternstedt but was also new to General Motors which again not only increased employment opportunities for Hilltop residents but also for those of surrounding communities.

In September of 1948, the three Ternstedt plants were separated from the Fisher Body Division and established as the Tednstedt Division of General Motors Corporation.

Every one of the more than 4400 employees of the local plant when hired for work was given the instruction: "You are not required to perform any job which you consider to be unsafe."

Safety is, therefore, a paramount consideration. The Hilltop's plant safety standards, however, are such that it ranks high in General Motors and in industry generally as a safe place to work. An employee, in fact, may be discharged if he repeatedly violates safety regulations when the plant would rather dismiss him than have him work in a manner which might result in injury to himself or others.

The plant itself has installed guards around hazards wherever possible. These are installations such as fly-wheel guards, bumper guards, pulley guards, and guards over tripping pedals. Perhaps the greatest danger lies in working on presses and catching a finger or hand between the dies. To avoid such accidents, Ternstedt operations are so devised that under no circumstances is an operator ever permitteed to place even a finger between the striking area of the dies. If guards or notches cut into the dies are not believed to be a sufficient safety factor on some of the presses the operators are provided with a pair of metal safety tongs for nesting the pieces into position and for removing it.

From the resident manager to the newest employe, safety is stressed constantly at the local and that such a program pays dividends is proved by figures which show that fewer accidents occur in the plant than occur in the homes of the employes.

Ninety-four per cent of the employees at the local plant are residents of the Columbus area. For operation of the local plant General Motors sent in a key group of veteran men and then hired all remaining employes from the immediate area.

Since hiring the first employe in August, 1948, the residents of the Hilltop and the surrounding area securing jobs with Ternstedt have been provided with steady employment. This steady employment didn't just happen but was made possible through the planning on the part of local management who, with a sincere interest in the welfare of workers pushed schedules forward and dropped them back to a dangerous point in order to level out production to give more people the opportunity of steady employment.

Paul L. Jones is the resident manager of the local plant and is representative of the 27 men who form the nucleus of the plant's management. He, as did, the other men who form that important center of operation in the local plant, started as a factory employe and worked himself upward to his present position. He was born in Orlinda, Tenn., and his first job with General Motors was as a punch press operator in 1923.

Here on the Hilltop the Ternstedt story is one of constant progress, but even more than that it is a specific example of how free men, working together in a free economy, can plan, build and dream to the end that there will be more and better things for more people. This is the American way . . . and the establishment of this large firm in this area and its continued growth is a healthy indication that of all areas in Columbus the Hilltop community has the best opportunities to offer to business and to the home owners.

Hilltoppers — "Count Your Blessings"

With this the Progress Edition of The Hilltop Record recording the advances made on the Hilltop in the past decade it is well that we Hilltoppers pause just a bit in our everyday battle of earning a living and consider the blessings with which we have been endowed. We can point with pride to new streets, to new schools, our church edifices, healthy business conditions here on the Hilltop, our parks, recreational facilities and wide-awake civic organizations.

But . . . have we given consideration to the basic concepts of freedom which have made it possible for this community to thrive and grow in the spirit of democracy and community effort which has prevailed? Are we really cognizant of the freedom we Hilltoppers enjoy? Do we as free men and women really know the meaning of Liberty?

Let us then for the nonce consider how our liberty would be regarded by those who today would change our living and endeavor.

Liberty, in our sense of the term, cannot exist in a communist state—or in any state which subscribes to the totalitarian doctrine.

We need not turn to the anti-communists for support of that statement. A book written some time ago by A. Y. Vyshinsky provides remarkable proof of it. Vyshinsky is the Soviet foreign minister, a top man in the politburo, and a leading exponent of Marxism as practiced behind the iron curtain. In defense of Soviet laws he wrote this: "Having given the toilers freedom of speech, assemblies, street parades, press and so on, the Soviet government explicitly excluded the non-labor classes from enjoyment of this freedom . . . Having assured genuine freedom of the press to the toilers, the Soviet government did not extend this freedom to the non-laboring strata."

A page or two later he expanded on his theme in these words: "In our state naturally there can be no place for freedom of speech, press, and so on for the foes of socialism . . . Freedom of speech, of the press, of assembly, of meetings, of street parades, and of demonstrations are the property of all the citizens in the USSR, fully guaranteed by the state upon the condition that they be utilized in accord with the interest of the state and to the end of strengthening the socialistic order."

That is worth reading again, word for word. What he said if it means anything at all, is that the people can be perfectly free so long as that freedom consists in following the line laid down by their masters. They can speak freely—So Long as they do not criticize Soviet policy. They can have a free press—So Long as it shouts the praises of Stalin and sternly demands the death or deportation of dissidents. They can assembly freely—So Long as the prime purpose of the assembly is to sing the praises of the "workers' fatherland." This is very much as if one of our political parties took over the government and passed a law which said that everybody could speak freely and enjoy the freedoms with the exception of members of other political parties.

Finally, it is enormously important to remember that socialism, no less than communism produces the same kind of "freedom" of which Vyshinsky spoke. It may not do that in theory, but it always does in practice. When we concentrate all power in the government no matter what name that government goes by, tyranny follows as surely as night follows day.

And thus it is that we . . . living here on the Hilltop should well take time to count our blessings . . . blessings granted us under a freedom that has no strings attached . . . we send our children to good schools, we own our homes and properties . . . we do business with whom we please and we are blessed with the right to worship in churches of our choice. This then, is true progress . . . the type of progress with which the community, state and nation is blessed.

Witch Way Will He Go Now?

Community Thanksgiving Will Mark Thirtieth Anniversary

When Hilltop residents gather next month in a community Thanksgiving service at a local church it will mark the 30th anniversary of this traditon, so vital a part of Hilltop life.

The first union Thanksgiving service, under the auspices of the Hilltop Protestant Churches was held at Hoge Memorial Church in November, 1921.

In spite of the downpour of rain on this momentous occasion, the church was well filled.

Revs. Shields, Hodkins, Seezholt, Johnson and Dr. Robbins assisted with the service, while Rev. Stimmel gave the Thanksgiving message.

Worthy of special mention was the music furnished by the choir of the Hillcrest Baptist Church, led by William Knox.

Collection taken, amounting to $25, was given to the Associated Charities.

From Record Files of 1918

The annual outing and picnic of Westwood Lodge No. 770, K. of P., is arranged for July 4, from 1 to 7 p. m., at Mr. Tom's Grove, N. Hague-av. Conveyances will be at Broad and Hague at 1 o'clock to take anyone to the grounds.

W. H. Deems and family, formerly prominent Hilltop residents, who have been located in Oklahoma for some time, have returned to Columbus. It is hoped they will again decide to make their home on the Hilltop.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Walton, 59 N. Terrace-av, observed their golden wedding anniversary by the gathering at their home of the members of their family to feast and enjoy the occasion.

Dr. C. E. Sharp, who is doing medical service at Camp Sevier, S. C., has recently been appointed a member of the General Court Martial staff at that place.

The Hilltop Improvement Association, in addition to sponsoring a community picnic, with or without beans, back in 1920 sponsored a community sing and spelling match. This was held at the West Broad Street School. Prof. W. E. Knox led the singspiration, preparatory to the celebrated match.

Pioneer Grocer Recalls Early Hilltop Days

By Myron T. Seifert

Remember the old cracker barrel—the animal crackers — sugar in bulk—the spice cabinet, etc., at the corner grocery store? Hilltopper Clarence Stout, 406 Wilson-rd, is the epitome of all that was best in the grocery man of 40 years ago when he operated a grocery from his stand at the southeast corner of Broad and Hague-av.

Stout dispensed food and sundry articles from this location when the Hilltop was largely farm and pasture land.

Nostalgic in his remarks, the genial Mr. Stout recalls vividly many of the happenings of early Hilltop life. The Hagues, Binns, McGrews, Scotts, Sperrys, Mix, etc., were among Mr. Stout's early acquaintances.

Plot of the ground, on which Mr. Stout has resided for 45 years, belonged to John Hussey (his mother's cousin) who bought the farm directly from the government.

Stout averred that most of these early families came from Smithfield, and migrated here from Harrison and Jefferson Counties, all of whom were Quakers. The house at the northeast corner of Wilson and Broad-st, occupied by Dr. Parks, was the site of the old Quaker Church, and from which stemmed many of the stalwarts who found and guided the destinies of what we call the Hilltop today.

Quakers First Settled On Site of Camp Chase In Early Days

Quakers from Jefferson County were the first men with their families who settled on the site of old Camp Chase in the early days on the Hilltop, according to veteran newspaperwoman Clara M Bogenhardt. Several of the old homes established by these families of Quaker folk are still standing on the Hilltop.

Among the early settlers of the friendly clan were Robert Hague, Jonathan Binns, David Binns, Nathan Pettit, John C. Hussey, Miller Gibson, James McGrew, Del Ong and Thomas Patterson.

It is said that these first settlers in the area of old Camp Chase came to the Hilltop in covered wagons from their former homes in Jefferson County.

Chautauqua Was The Substitute For Radio And TV In Early '20's

Cultural minded Hilltoppers during the Chautauqua era were not slow in bringing to this section the best instruction and entertainment talent available. Without the benefit of radio and television, the natives of this period doted on seeing first-hand stars. Here's what the Record of May 6, 1920, had to say about this enterprise:

At a meeting to make arrangements for the Hilltop Chautauqua this summer, Mr. W. E. Dolby was chosen as chairman, C. J. Kohn, secretary, and M. H. Prior, treasurer. The committee to look after a location for the meeting was also selected, consisting of Messrs. W. L. Milliken, H. G. Butler, T. C. Mitchell, L. M. Sellier and A. F. Elliott.

The Chautauqua meetings will be held, beginning July 21, and ending July 27. These are the first meetings of this kind and the Hilltop is fortunate in being able to enjoy some of the best talent given in other assemblies.

Dunbar's Royal Dragoons, a singing band of 18 pieces, and the great American comedy, "It Pays to Advertise," are two of this season's Hilltop Chautauqua headliners that are worth the entire price of a ticket for the week. This is the belief of the local committee, through whom the Redpath Company has just announced some of the stars of the seven-day program.

Music lovers will be especially pleased, for the Chautauqua is to bring the College Singing Girls, the Great Lakes String Quartet, the New York Opera Singers, a skilled violinist and harpist, and other vocal and instrumental stars.

In the lecture field the program offers Roscoe Gilmore Stott, humorous writer and speaker; Detective Harry J. Loose, of Chicago; Dr. Robers MacGovern of Pittsburg and Sir John Foster Fraser of London, England. Adrian M. Newens is to give his interpretation of "To Him That Hath."

Pamahasika's Pets are scheduled for Chautauqua's last afternoon. Children, especially, will enjoy the 40 trained birds and animals. Domestic and tropical birds, ordinary house cats, an educated pony, a monkey comedian and other phenomenal pets are to be presented. For this performance alone the Redpath Chautauquas are to carry nearly a ton of baggage as well as a trainer and two assistants.

Chautauqua is to close with Joy Night, under the leadership of Ethel Hinton, comedienne, and "Her College Gang."

DURING THE CIVIL WAR DAYS OLD CAMP CHASE PRISON ONCE QUARTERED NEARLY 8000 CONFEDERATE SOLDIERS

Camp Chase Prison was the receiving place of thousands of Confederate prisoners during the Civil War, who were brought there and held for exchange, etc. The greatest number there at any one time was in 1863, when about 8,000 prisoners were quartered within the stockades.

Naturally the congregation of a large number of men like that would experience more or less sickness, disease, etc., which resulted in a large death roll; hence the present Confederate Cemetery, which was the burying ground for those prisoners during the days of the war. (It is said that three Union soldiers are also buried there.)

A disease that infected the camp a good deal was smallpox, which broke out among the prisoners and took a large toll. In order to combat this disease and care for the afflicted, a separate building was erected south of the prison ground along the east line of the camp, and was known as the "pest house" (It is said that an old thorn tree which still stands along the west side of Hague-av a short distance north of Sullivant is the same one which stood beside that building.) A wagon known as the "black Mariar" conveyed the dead from that place to the graveyard.

There stood at that time, on the south side of Sullivant Road, opposite the site of the present Confederate Cemetery, a large farm house which was occupied by a Mr. Lacey, with a large family. One of the members of this family was an ambitious son of about 14 years, named Henry. He, like most farmer boys, was the possessor of one member of the farm's livestock. In this instance it was a pig. Though Henry was raising the pig for the purpose of supplying the wants of the inner man, the piggie was developing his talents for a "roadster". It was one day in late spring of 1864 when this valued possession of Henry's resolved then and there to embark upon a foraging expedition, probably taking the desire by seeing the soldiers' exploits. He hadn't wandered far from his own "fireside" until Henry started in pursuit, and was about to overtake him when, with a grunt, he quickly threw his gear in "high" and ran for the guard line, then made a shoot for the smallpox shed, where he took refuge beneath its floor.

Now Henry had just one idea on this occasion, and that was to recover his pig. He also started across the guard line, but was ordered to stop by the guard—which Henry didn't do. The guard told him he'd shoot. Henry told him to blaze away, but he was going to get his pig; which he did by crawling under the shed, grabbing the squealing pig and withdrawing it, smallpox germs and all, from under the shed with an attitude of victory and satisfaction that can well be imagined.

But the victory was not all on Henry's side, for in "the fullness of time" Henry was down with an A-1 case of smallpox. Twelve members of his father's family contracted the disease, and four brothers died with it.

Henry Lacey now lives at 353 Clarendon-av. He is one of the oldest residents on the Hilltop, having never lived further than three miles away, except 18 months, since 1857.

He tells of a little joke some of the boys of the 88th Regiment, which was doing guard duty at Camp Chase, played on some "squirrel hunters" (new recruits for the Union Army). An army mule was confiscated and decorated all over with canteens, old kettles, cans, etc., and turned loose and headed into the camp to the place where these new recruits were stationed. Then a cry went up that General Morgan was on his way to attack Camp Chase, and this, one of his mules, was loaded with all kinds of explosives and was liable to blow up any minute. Of course the joke worked, with the result that a lot of those victims are reported as having run faster than some of Columbus' citizens the day the "dam busted" in 1913.

DEMS OPPOSE LINCOLN

The Democratic County Central Committee, March 7, 1863, advertised a "Law and Order Meeting" in front of the Court House. "to consider and adopt such measures as may be judged necessary to protect the rights of the citizens in his person and property from mob violence."

This party had opposed the election of Lincoln and the freeing of the slaves.

Luther B. Turner Masonic Order Second On Hilltop

The Luther B. Turner Masonic Lodge, U. D. (under dispensation), second Masonic Lodge on the Hilltop, was instituted at West Gate Temple, 2925 W. Broad St. in April of this year, with 101 petitioning members, 87 years following the organization of Hilltop's first Masonic body, West Gate Masonic Lodge, No. 623, back in May, 1913.

The petitioning group of the newly formed Luther B. Turner Lodge embraces names of Masons from 43 different lodges. Eleven are from seven states outside of Ohio, and 23 are from Ohio lodges outside the concurrent jurisdiction Officers named in the dispensation are: worshipful master, Gaylen L. Shank; senior warden, Maurley Sutton.

The organization meeting was scheduled for Friday, Apr. 14, 1950.

Prompted by the need for a second Masonic Lodge, a group of Hilltop Masons decided to petition the grand lodge of Ohio for a dispensation to form a new lodge. West Gate Lodge acted as sponsor for the new group.

Unanimously named in honor of the late Dr. Luther Brown Turner (1863-1948), the new group will be a friendly adjunct to West Gate Lodge, which has a membership of almost 1700 and is among the most active Masonic Lodges in the country.

During his lifetime Dr. Turner contributed much to Masonic bodies, especially on the Hilltop. By virtue of his unselfish motives and his services to Freemasonry it was decided by members of the petitioning group to perpetuate his name in identifying the new lodge.

Achievements of Dr. Turner are legion. He was a Mason for more than 65 years, during which time he served as top official in many bodies. He was first master of West Gate Lodge, master of Vinton Masonic Lodge, high priest of West Gate Royal Arch Masons, illustrious master of royal and select masters and held active membership in the Knight Templar and Scottish Rite bodies.

His Masonic honorary affiliations included the 50 year medal of the grand lodge, Masonic Veterans Association, Order of the Silver Trowel.

Dr. Turner was also a chronicler and historian for Hilltop Masonic bodies. He was a scholar and authority on Masonic history.

Not only is it appropriate that Hilltop's second Masonic Lodge bear his name, but the story of West Side Masonry, in which he had a major part, is preserved in the memoirs which he recorded.

School And Park Opened Westgate Expansion Plan

With the selection of sites for a new West High School, containing 10 acres, and a new city park of 14 acres, in the Westgate Addition, lying between Broad-st and Sullivant-av west of Hague-av, work in the opening of this tract was advanced by the Johnson-Pavey Realty Co. in May, 1924.

For more than 75 years this property was controlled by the Hussey family, and as it was the old family homestead no development was permitted, despite its nearness to the city.

Since passing out of the control of the Hussey estate it was made available to the city planning commission for park development and to the board of education for the site of a new high school. These two public acquisitions have taken 24 acres. The balance of the tract was platted into a highly restricted residence section, made up of 328 building lots, none with a street frontage of less than 40 feet.

While the planning commission suggested that the restrictions prohibit the building of any residence within 25 feet of the lot line, the realtors finally fixed the limit at 30 feet, making uniform beauty of building sites all the more certain.

"Members of the planning commission believe that Westgate Park, when fully developed, will become one of the finest beauty spots in the city because of the natural charm furnished by the woods and brooks in the piece selected," opined the Record in May 15, 1924.

Need For A Hilltop Library Expressed In Record Years Ago

A forerunner of the luxuriously appointed new Hilltop Library, dedicated Sunday, Mar. 19, 1950, was the Holmes Library back in 1922.

Two stories published in The Hilltop Record 28 years ago expressed the spirit that prompted the first organized library movement on the Hilltop.

On Aug. 7 the following editorial appeared:

"The Hilltop public should deem itself indeed fortunate to be the recipient of so valuable a gift as the library of the late Col. Holmes, to be known as the Holmes Memorial.

"This library now lies idle in storage in the Glenwood Shelter House, and nothing has been done toward providing funds for its maintenance or removal to a settled and central location for its use by Hilltop residents.

"The value of this library is well known throughout the state, and several colleges have tried to secure it for their own usage.

"Mrs. Karl T. Weber, Mrs. Lafayette Woodruff and Mrs. C. E. Sharp, who are boosters of the plan, think that this library should be made available to the West Side, and especially to the Hilltop, as we have none. To this end, they have asked that the matter be brought up for discussion at the next meetings of the various Parent-Teacher Associations and welfare organizations of the West Side.

"The Hilltop Chamber of Commerce now has the project before it for consideration and development.

"Col. J. T. Holmes, who was formerly a member of the Columbus Bar Association, was always in sympathy with and interested in the West Side. It is for this reason that his heirs have offered these books to this section of the city.

"Would it not be fitting and proper for us to get together and discuss ways and means for the upkeep of this noble gift, which has been so generously offered?"

The success of the editorials is evidenced by the story that followed a few months later on Nov. 9, 1922.

"The new Holmes Library is an assured fact for the Hilltop. It is the gift of the late Dr. Holmes, and contains over 3000 volumes, being valued at between eight and ten thousand dollars. The books are very valuable, containing fiction, science and history. It will be especially valuable to school pupils, as it contains many volumes of history of the great wars as well as science.

"The library will be located on the second floor of the Hilltop Branch of the Citizens Trust & Savings Bank Building at the corner of S. Park and Broad and it is expected to be opened about Dec. 1 and will be open every afternoon and evening. A reading room will be in connection, to which everybody will be welcome.

"A campaign to raise funds for the support and upkeep of the library is under way. Captains for 10 teams have been appointed by the Hilltop Chamber of Commerce, the names of which are as follows: Rev. R. E. Shields, Rev. R. T. Stimmel, Dr. Howard Whitehead, Frank Cussins, C. E. Heimbrecht, J. W. Worrell, A. F. Elliot, W. L. Millikin, Mrs. Karl Weber, R. G. Hauntz. One of these persons will probably call on you.

WOOD FIRE USED

Hickory, sugar and beech wood were used to heat the first State House. Contracts were let for 700 cords at a time.

200 LAMP PLANT

In September, 1883, a group of capitalists were pondering on a plan to furnish electric lighting in Columbus. A plant, capable of generating current for 200 lamps, was contemplated.

Diary Notes Trace West High School's Background

In the first years of this century high school pupils from the West Side attended Central High School at the corner of East Broad and Sixth-st. In 1907, it was decided that the West Side should have a high school of its own. Early in the summer construction was started on a building at the corner of Central-av and W. State-st. This building was completed late in the summer of 1908.

On Sept. 7, 1908, the Columbus Dispatch carried a picture of the building announcing the opening of "Columbus' Fourth High School." The caption called the school the West Side High School, and announced that the principal would be Otto H. Magly, formerly an instructor at East High School. This building contained twenty class rooms, auditorium, office and rest rooms. The approximate cost of the building was $67,000.

On Sept. 8 school opened. The faculty, in addition to Mr. Magly was comprised of Augusta Connolly, Robert C. Schroth, and W. W. Wager. These three teachers taught only high school subjects. There were nine other teachers who taught both seventh and eighth grade or elementary subjects, and high school courses. These teachers were: Louise Coffey, Laura V Smith, Olive Flowers, Alma L. Wirth, Laura J. Connell, Elizabeth Sessions, Gertrude Blose, Alice B. Goodell, and Neva Collins.

The first day, there were registered in the first and second year of high school 125 pupils; in the elementary grades, 194. This enrollment increased steadily until the end of the first month there were 136 high school students, and 214 elementary.

At first, as there were no seats in the auditorium, it was not possible to hold assemblies. This hindered administration but classes were held the third day. A schedule of six 45 minute periods, and a 30-minute lunch period was followed. School began at 8:30 and was out at 1:30.

As there was no one on the faculty to teach music, at the end of two weeks Miss Naddy, of the Central High faculty, was assigned two days a week to West High School.

In February, 1909, Clara Earnest was assigned to teach music and history.

A formal dedication of the building was held March 26, 1909. Superintendent Shawan and J. J. Stoddard, president of the board of education, were speakers. A flag was presented the school by Chaplain Fritner, McCoy Post, GAR.

In the spring of 1909, with Mr. Magly coaching, a baseball team was organized. Due to the fact that there were only two classes of high school, West was not successful in the High School League, the pupils of the seventh and eighth grades won the Spaulding Trophy, emblematic of the championship. This trophy was again won in 1910 by the team and became a permanent possession of the school.

In September, 1909, the school began its second year with an enrollment of 196 high school pupils and 201 elementary. A third grade of high school had been added to the curriculum. In order to relieve congestion at Chicago Avenue School, the 6A's were brought to West High School. Miss Blose of the original faculty, had been transferred to East High. Additions to the faculty this year were Margaret Flynn, F. L. Leahy, Jenny Harmon, and Grace Ingersoll. In addition to the duties of mathematics instructor, Mr. Leahy was appointed coach of the basketball team.

On January 11, 1910, holding a rally for the basketball team, Mr. Leahy introduced the official yell, W-E—W-E—S-T—S-T, etc.

In Mr. Magly's diaries covering this period, we find many references to deep snow, low temperature, and poor car service, with notations that teachers were late, half the students were absent, and many times, classes would not get under way until an hour after the usual starting time.

On April 29, we find only 90 pupils in their classes. The reason for this was the car strike, but Mr. Magly succeded in rounding up the balance of the students on Broad and Town Streets. The first period did not get under way until 9:20.

June 10, 8 p. m., West High presented its first dramatic effort. It was an adaptation of Schiller's "Der Neffe als Onkel," the English title of which was "Dorsigney." Frank Randall had the male lead in this play, which was directed by C. H. Leahy.

September, 1910, we find the registration is now 430. The faculty, with the addition of four more teachers, reaches the total of 20. These additions are Miss Burns, Miss Maltby, Miss Eisenbies, and Miss Miner.

Now, with the first class beginning their senior year, we take up the story as told by excerpts from Mr. Magly's diary and the Occident.

Tuesday, Mar. 25. About one-half of school present, very nervous and excited. Mr. Kinkead and Mr. Jones called, making a round of the West Side schools, advising all be dismissed on account of high water. All assembled in time and at 8:45 advised all pupils to go home immediately and assist in any moving upstairs. Did not believe that water would reach many homes but best to be prepared. Pupils left immediately to assist in any moving upstairs. Teachers hurried for cars. Adele (Mr. Magly's daughter) and I remained for some time closing up and leaving instructions. Car service very poor as power was weak. No cars running on W. Broad-st. Camp Chase line moving very slowly. Managed to catch last car east. Crossed Town-st bridge at 10 a. m. Police had closed all bridges to traffic but at the request of the inspector, car was permitted to cross. At 11:10 a. m. West High and surrounded by roaring deluge, a levee having broken at Central-av. At 1 p. m. water stood 23 inches above first floor and remained until 4 p. m. B&O crossing at Sullivant-av gave away, releasing water for a fall of about four feet. About 150 refugees in the building. Supper cooked in the domestic science room. Boats began bringing people to the school and all fairly comfortable.

Wednesday, Mar. 26. Building began to cool. Gas off at 3 a. m. No electric light. No water service.

Tuesday, Mar. 27. Institution for feeble minded sends supplies and medical attention and boats began taking people to higher ground. Mr. Roney last to leave building at 5:25 p. m.

Was able to get down the drive to within 100 yards of Central-av, but not having boots, could not cross the running water. School yard now out of water. Much debris on Central-av. Many inquiries about pupils from whom there had been no report.

Saturday, Mar. 29. Secured pass to get to West. Crossed Rich Street Bridge to T&O tracks north of Broad and west to edge of water about Davis-av. Joined by Francis Swain, who had heard nothing from folks since Tuesday. Jumped on wagon crowded with men and drove through water to the hubs most of the way to Dana-av. Met Mr. Roney at corner of Brehl-av and we went to the building. "What a sight." Mud, debris and wreckage everywhere. Made brief inspection of damage. Arranged to begin cleaning Monday.

Sunday, Mar. 30. Remained at home. Too many sightseers.

Monday, Mar. 31. Managed to reach building by walking most of the way. Some stretches of water still across Broad-st. Mr. Romey had several of the boys at work, Claar, Randolph, Todd, Millay. Homer Wood looking on. Put him to work at 10 a. m. Went to car barns for cup of hot coffee. Mr. Ashton furnished two bacon sandwiches. Purdum went to work on bicycle, placed in condition in order that he might ride to and from the school as there was no car service.

Tuesday, Apr. 1. Herbert Deems and Sheldon Mann joined the laborers, tackled the mud. Oh, what a mess! Scoles went on at noon.

Saturday, Apr. 5. Mopping and cleaning mud. About all out of basement. No chance to begin school work on Monday but a reunion announced through the papers.

Local Athletic Club Sought Recreation Center In Early 20's

For years much talk and action has been taken to establish a recreation center for the youth of the community.

Back in 1921 and 1922 much agitation ensued over this problem. It was fostered mainly by the Hilltop Athletic Club. Plans were suggested providing for bowling alleys, swimming pool, shower baths, library and gymnasium floor large enough to accommodate all sorts of indoor sports.

Officers at the time were C. E. Helmbrecht, president; R. S. Fairchilds, vice-president; E. J. Drye, secretary and treasurer. The board of governors included W. L. Millikin, Jean W. Worrel, W. E. Dolby and Brown Turner.

MARRIED IN PENNSYLVAINIA

Society note of July 8, 1920: Miss Bessie Jane Swaney was married to Rev. Arthur Russell Groves of Somerset, Pa., at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Upton George Swaney, 28 Midland-av. Rev. Peter H. Fry, assisted by Rev. Postle E. White, read the nuptial rites.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Well-known Hilltop couple, still residents, were married in April, 1923. Frank Kenneth Dickerson and Sarah Elsie Westlake were married by Rev. R. G. Stimmel at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Westlake, 1499 W. Broad-st.

First Of Hilltop Banks Opened Business In 1920

No story of any community is complete without its financial institutions which enable it to grow.

First modern bank on the Hilltop was opened more than a quarter of a century ago. Much fanfare was in evidence among Hilltoppers. The Record on Dec. 16, 1920, speaks in glowing terms of the new enterprise:

A brand new bank, in a new building, with new modern furniture and equipment, a courteous gentleman for a manager with a polite lady assistant — that's a brand new Hilltop possession we're all "puffed up with pride" over. And why not? We needed it, and we're going to help it be a success, too.

The Hilltop Branch of the Citizens Trust & Savings Co. opened its doors for business Saturday, Dec. 11, 1920. From the crowd that thronged the banking room all day one would think the natives of this neck-of-the-woods had been "saving up" for a long time for this stunt, as 306 accounts were opened that day, of which 55 were checking accounts and 253 were savings accounts.

There seemed to be a scramble for "firsts" to do business among some of our enterprising business men. Whether he was a faster runner, or stayed up all night to do so, L. M. Seiller "beat W. L. Millikin to it" for No. 1 savings account book, but J. H. Kramer, whose money burned his pocket all night, got up before breakfast that morning and deposited the first savings. C. J. Kohn got it in his "noodle" that he'd get the first checking account, and did make the first application, but J. M. LaDow, being more used to covering real estate, got there on the first deposit on a checking account.

Councilman W. L. Millikin started the business on safety deposit boxes, he having Box No. 1.

At this writing there have been 79 checking accounts and 204 savings accounts opened, the bank has given out 350 pocket savings banks and 292 Liberty Bell home savings banks. Also 39 Christmas savings accounts for next year have been taken out to date.

The manager, Mr. J. W. Worrel, and Miss Iris Clover, stenographer and assistant, invite all Hilltop people to come and get acquainted.

West High Note Book

West's first mid-year class, January, 1932, had a membership of 26 students.

Ed. Fox won the Central Ohio District singles tennis championship. He played on the West High team that tied East for the title.

In 1845 school hours in Columbus school were 8:30 to 12 and 2:30 to 5.

In 1845 the board of education passed a rule which forbade any Columbus boy over 10 years old from attending school taught by a female teacher.

The first full-time librarian was assigned to West High in February, 1922. The library at the time contained 2,000 volumes.

Girls were first permitted to take physical education at West High during the 1921-22 semesters.

At the opening of the 1922-23 school year, Rodney Ross became the Cowboy coach.

Francis Fuller was named West High's coach, succeeding Rodney Ross, in December, 1924.

The class of 1926 presented Seven Keys to Baldpate that year, the final West High class play to be presented in the old building. Soon after the play the auditorium was razed and work begun toward its conversion into a gymnasium.

In September, 1926, the new addition was occupied.

More than 3,000 Hilltoppers visited the new West High School when the open house was held there Apr. 7, 1930.

The first class play presented in the new West High building was "The Road to Yesterday" by the 1929 class.

During the school year of 1929-30 the Otto H. Magly chapter of the National Scholastic Honorary Society was organized.

Jack Miles was first drum major of West High's first marching band in 1931. He was also president of the class.

Paul O'Brien was president of the last class to graduate from the old building in June, 1928.

Stage-Struck Girls Of Hilltop In 1921 Formed Own Club

Liveliest and happiest bunch of girls in the community in 1921 were the Sunshine Club gals.

A Mr. Dyer, 148 Midland-av, turned over a part of his garage to the aggressive girls. They, in turn, converted the garage into a veritable theater, with "a stage on which they exhibit a program of Hindu stunts, trapeze performances, songs, recitations, etc.; also a movie, gotten up and carried on by themselves."

They performed regularly to a packed house, and their public relations were in evidence on about every telephone pole and store window in the business district.

First Hilltop Business Establishment Was Grocery At Whitethorne, Broad

The first business place opened on the Hilltop was a grocery and meat market in 1883 at the corner of W. Broad-st and Whitethorne-av where Moorman's Confectionery now stands, and was a little one story dwelling that was converted to this use.

The first school east of Hague-av was built about 200 feet south of Broad in the vicinity of Whitethorne and Midland-av in the year 1887. William M. Tucker, William Ong and Thomas J. Madigan were at that time the three township school directors. It was also used for Sunday School and religious

The first residences built on the Hilltop included a brick by Thomas Thomas, a dairyman, that stood south a few rods from Broad-st on Whitethorne-av. The two-story double frame at the southeast corner of Broad-st and Belvidere-av was built during the construction of the State Hospital and used as a boarding place for men therein engaged. The Joseph Ong residence opposite the Hilltop Engine House, still standing, was on a 60-acre plat of ground. Adjoining the Ong dairy farm was the Scott farm and residence.

On Mar. 1, 1882, William M. Tucker, a telegraph operator, and Thomas J. Madigan, a supervisor at the State Asylum, broke the ground and erected the two double frame dwellings Nos. 1997 and 1999 at the Madigan stop on the Hilltop. After the building of his home Tucker resigned his position as telegraph operator at the State Hospital and went to Cincinnati for five years, then returned to Columbus and worked as a telegrapher with the Columbus & Cincinnati Railroad (now B & O), serving three and one-half years; then two years with the Big Four here and in 1893 was transferred to Indianapolis to the Superintendent of Telegraphs department, where he served for 20 years, when he moved back to the Hilltop in 1911 to his residence where he now resides at the Madigan stop.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gould, 114 Whitethorne-av, came to the Hilltop with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Watts, about 1877. They lived on a farm south of present Sullivant-av, near Oakley and Wheatland. To the east of them was all woods. The territory between Belvidere and Lechner-ave, about halfway to Sullivant, was swamp land.

Circuses coming this way traveled by wagon along the National Road, but the elephants were detached around the Sullivant-rd and their tracks in the mud were great attractions for the youngsters along that route.

Glenwood Methodist Church first held services in the little brick township schoolhouse on Clarendon-av (now a residence). The first members of that church were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Watts, and Ella Watts, Mr. and Mrs. Harman (deceased), Mr. and Mrs. Riddile, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Six.

After the abandonment of Camp Chase the land became a grazing land and was afterward settled very largely by members of the Friends congregation who came from the southern and eastern parts of the state. A brick church building was built on the north side of the National Road, a short distance west of the C. S. & C. (now Big Four) Railroad, in which the Friends and Methodists worshipped, using different hours for their services, but both joining in the same Sunday School.

Lucas Sullivant Termed Hilltop Garden of Eden

Lucas Sullivant, who owned 4,000 acres of land extending from the Hilltop to Darby Creek, being a surveyor, believed this to be the Garden of Eden. He set out to build a city that would surpass Franklinton, which was started by his son, Michael Sullivant at Sandusky-st. He laid out small tracts which were made into town lots and from which grew the Hilltop.

People soon learned that the Hilltop was a healthful place to live and homes were being built on these lots as fast as people could get their lots paid for and save enough money with which to build a little home. This made progress very slow for home builders for many years.

J. W. Dinsmore, retiring as president of the Central Bank of Coshocton, made a trip to the Hilltop. Being very much impressed with the location, he decided it would be a fine place to live, and to make it a better place for his fellow men he began to think of a building and loan association.

After some little time, the Hilltop Building and Loan Association was installed at 12 S. Park-av. The association was made up of Hilltop business and professional men who had money, influence and the community interest at heart, an institution where the patrons would get the full worth of their savings. After about a year of rapid growth Mr. Dinsmore, acting president and manager, persuaded Harley Culp, who had been connected with the City National Bank at Gay and High-sts for more than 20 years, to come over with the association. After three years of strict attention to business and fairness to all, they had deposits totaling $600,000.

Real Tailoring Art Practiced Locally In The Early 1920's

Best dressed folks in the country are found in this community. The Everyweek Sewing Club, back in 1921-22, must have read the fashion plates aplenty, for their activities were more than social. They learned the real art of tailoring. Some of the ambidextrous needle members of that era were Mrs. D. H. Harlor, Mrs. C. M. Kagay, Mrs. C. W. Hefflin, Mrs. T. C. Stewart, Mrs. Karl Lucas, Mrs. N. N. Matthews and Mrs. Gail Henery.

Descendent Of Fippin Clan Recalls Grandfather's Tales

By Myron T. Seifert

Bess Sperry, popular West Broad Street School teacher and descendant of the Fippin clan, pioneer of this area, vividly recalls stories told by her grandfather of backwoods thrills on the Hilltop.

K-rations of the Civil War days on the Hilltop—hardtack—was used extensively among both Union and Confederate soldiers, and was a common commodity especially in the Camp Chase area, Miss Sperry said.

Prisoners at Camp Chase then, without aid of Spam of World War II vintage, were given an ample supply of the delicacy, hardtack.

Following the removal of Camp Chase prison from the Hilltop, an abundant "war surplus" of barrels of hardtack was left on hand. Much of it was disposed of to neighboring Camp Chase farmers.

Its bubble-gum or Wrigley's in the 1860 era. The young folks, and old too, carried hard tack in their pockets and bags, chewed hardtack constantly, purchased by or given to the Camp Chase natives. It was a popular Hilltop commodity—everybody apparently ate hardtack galore.

Grandfather Fippin donated land for the original Skidmore School on N. Hague-av, Miss Sperry advised. First Skidmore School was built on the Fippin plot, across the road from the present Skidmore structure.

Revivals were held every winter at the Skidmore School, and the farmers and their families for miles around would hitch up Dobbin and travel to the celebrated Skidmore Meeting House.

"Sister Hestor," as she was commonly known, was always on hand at every revival—and got her religion by the shouting, dancing route.

To get "happy" Sister Hestor arose nonchalantly from her church pew, would spin a dance down the aisle to the altar, and fall prostrate at the pulpit.

During her prolonged trance, the parishioners, including Miss Sperry's grandfather, would carry her out of the church into the near zero weather, rub her body with snow, causing her to break the "spell." A character she was, and her "spun dance" was the talk of the early settlers.

During Sister Hestor's "happy" exploit she would dazzle the congregation. Miss Sperry recalls the story told by her Grandmother Fippin about how scared she was when the Hestors act began. So frightened, in fact, was she that she crawled under the seats of the church during the "horrible ordeal."

The Fippin farm was located west of the present Wilson-Fisher-rd area, where Clarence Stout, et al, now own real estate.

Grandfather of Herb Deems, popular executive of the First Federal Savings and Loan Co., was the first postmaster at Camp Chase.

Civic Group Formed Here In Early Days

Boosters' Club, Hilltop Business Association, Hilltop YMCA and Kiwanis were organizations unheard of 35 to 40 years ago on the high plateau—the Hilltop. However, there was a civic organization that might have been the progenitor of the above mentioned groups in name called the Hilltop Improvement Association, which accomplished much for the young growing community in that day.

Meetings were generally held at the West Broad Street School. Early officers included Dr. L. B. Turner, president; M. W. Westlake, vice-president; C. J. Randall, recording secretary; W. E. Dolby, financial treasurer, with Fred Postle and Dr. Martindale, trustees.

This group influenced the city of Columbus in providing many improvements, including Glenwood Park.

Charles W. Walton resigned his work with the Beggs Co. and accepted a position with the F. G. and A. Howald Co. in March, 1914 . . . Dr. Martindale was championship speller at West Broad Street School in a bee sponsored by the Evangelical Church . . . Dr. Compton of Wooster College occupied the pulpit at the Hoge Memorial Church . . . Winter picnic held at Hoge . . . Seiler's sold pianos and sewing machines . . . West Side Lumber Co. at same location; two phones, Citizen 6277, and Hilltop phone 177 . . . R. Bair, jeweler and optician, 2345 W. Broad-st . . . William L. Dunn, 2227 W. Broad-st—Coal, feed and expressing . . . Spence & Rawn, 2275 W. Broad-st, dealers in groceries, fresh and cured meats, feed and notions . . . W. L. Millikin, hardware . . . T. C. Mitchell, Union barber . . . Hilltop undertaker was F. L. Sifrit, 2573 W. Broad-st, with "Auto funerals and lady assistant."

Draper & Cussins, dry goods, notions, 2250-2 W. Broad-st . . . Remarked a Hilltopper, "Of course we freely admit there is a profusion of everything desirable in the lower West Side, but during March (flood month) we prefer to live on the Hilltop, above the profusion of thick river water." . . . Hilltop had four churches . . . Hilltop Band of 18 pieces rendered service gratis at all local entertainments . . . Said another Hilltopper, "The pool room formerly located next to the Empire picture theater has been removed to parts unknown, which goes to show that we are growing better each day." . . . Estella Burnside, local realtor, once was one of the editors of Hill Weekly News, also had millinery establishment at 2402 W. Broad-st.

Pioneer Residents Of Hilltop Find Home Here The Best

Pioneer residents on the Hilltop were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Tucker. They erected the home at 1897 and 1899 W. Broad-st in the spring of 1882, at which time there were only three or four other dwellings on the Hilltop. They resided in this home until the spring of 1884, and moved to Cincinnati where they lived for five years, returning again to their home on the Hilltop. They remained until the summer of 1893, and then removed to Indianapolis, Ind., where they resided for 19 years, again taking up their residence on the Hilltop.

Nine Years of Engineering 'Know How' Created New Record Press

The Spectator
By C. C. Hartley

A Service That Has Grown With The Community

Back more than 35 years ago S. J. Westlake conceived the idea of a neighborhood newspaper for the then small Hilltop community. It was called The Hilltop Record and consisted of a four page paper about nine inches by twelve inches.

Today, after changing hands twice and having gone through two major moves, this community newspaper has grown to the place where it is one of the finest publications of its kind in the country.

Back of the growth of the newspaper has been a constant desire to provide a community newspaper service in keeping with the type of community we serve. And so it is with great pride that we this week present for public inspection our improved and enlarged printing plant, modern in every respect.

Back when I started with the Record in 1926 I learned to print the paper on the old hand-fed Babcock cylinder press. When we printed eight pages in those days we went to press on Saturday with two pages, did the same thing on Monday, again on Tuesday and brought off the final two pages on Wednesday. We printed about 6500 papers at a speed of about 2000 an hour. They then had to be hand assembled and folded.

Today on our modern new Wood Cosmopolitan press we print as many as 24 pages at a time and on runs of 12 pages or less can print as many as 36,000 per hour. In addition it is possible for us to print as many as four colors per page on certain combinations.

Today we have four modern typesetting machines and a complete printing plant that makes it possible to produce everything from a calling card to a newspaper. Commercial printing aside from our regular newspaper publications makes up a good portion of our work. Last month we produced one order of newspapers for 1,250,000 copies.

Today the plant and office personnel is made up of 27 employes and 11 regular correspondents.

Today, as we extend an invitation to the public to visit our enlarged plant, we express our desire again to continue to be able to provide an ever improved service to an ever growing community.

A Pleasure To Do Business With Wood

It has been a distinct pleasure to do business with the Wood Newspaper Machinery Corp., of Plainfield, N. J., manufacturers of our new Wood Cosmopolitan newspaper press.

Back when we first saw this new press on the floor of the Wood factory last April we were impressed with the cordial reception we were given and on every occasion since that time our contacts with the various representatives of this outstanding company have been most pleasant.

It has been a pleasure to do business with a firm that has been so much concerned about our problems.

On the occasion of our "Open House" we extend a great big hand of greeting and a "Thank you" to Mr. Tornberg, Mr. Griffoul, Mr. McFarlin, Sam Oderman, Bill Harvand, Bill Kihn, Julius Toro, Eddie Rehm, John Smero, Charles Caffrey and all the others who have been so cooperative.

The Hartley Printing & Publishing Co. is equipped to print anything from a calling card to a newspaper.

Wood Newspaper Machinery Firm Had Early Start

The Wood Newspaper Machinery Corporation, although the youngest of the four printing press builders in the United States, has antecedents dating back to the earliest days of newspaper press development.

Its history began with Andrew Campbell who built presses in the 1850's, '60's and '70's. The firm became known as Andrew Campbell and Sons, then the Campbell Printing Press and Mfg. Co. Later it became the Henry A. Wise Wood Co. In 1910, the Autoplate Co. of America was formed and merged with Wood in 1914 to form the present firm.

Prominent in the development of the Cosmopolitan Press are Oscar C. Roesen, president of the Wood Newspaper Machinery Corp., and I. Tornberg, vice-president and sales manager.

Mr. Roesen, who has been president since 1935, was born in 1888 in Brooklyn, N. Y. After graduating from Stevens Institute of Technology, he was employed by R. Hoe & Co. and in 1926 he joined the Wood organization as vice-president and sales manager. His entire career has been in the newspaper machinery business.

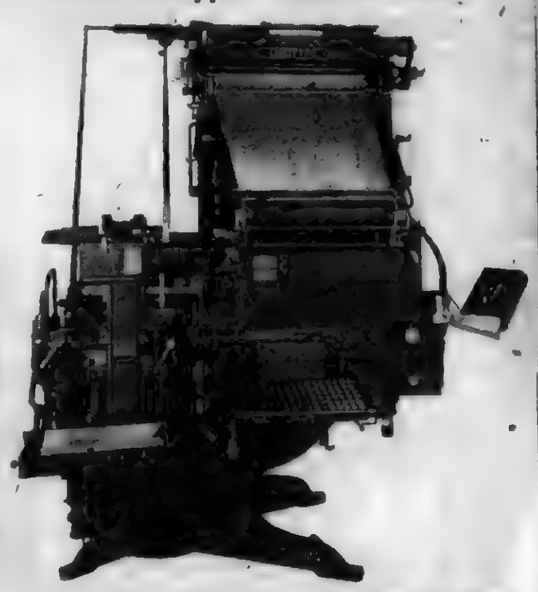
Mr. Tornberg was born in Europe and came to the United States at the age of 13. Upon graduation from the Waterbury, Conn., grade schools in 1905, he worked for several years in a machine shop and, in 1907, joined R. Hoe & Co. as a junior draftsman. After leaving the Hoe Co. in 1919 he joined the Wood Newspaper Machinery Corp. as a designer. He became a sales engineer in 1929 and 10 years later was elected to the vice-presidency in charge of sales. Among the inventions of Mr. Tornberg is included the "Intrasertor".

Other officers of the firm instrumental in the development and manufacture of the press are R. G. Griffoul, vice-president and works manager, P. L. Tollison, vice-president in charge of development, and Kirk McFarlin, treasurer.

Shown here is the semi-cylindrical plate from which your newspaper is printed on the high speed rotary Wood press. These plates are cast, shaved to size, and cooled in successive operations at the rate of about two per minute.

27 Employees On Staff Of Printing Firm

Twenty-seven persons comprise the working staff of the Hartley Printing and Publishing Company, which is engaged in the printing and publishing of The Hilltop Record and West Side News.



In the business and editorial departments are C. Carlton Hartley, publisher; Reynold E. Greene, editor; William R. Coon, Robert E. Maxwell and Al Theado, advertising; Judy Jones, society editor; Harold Cunningham, circulation manager; Jean Trott, chief bookkeeper; Carolyn Charles, assistant bookkeeper; Lorene Washburn, circulation; James Yasinov, reporter; Iris M. Cathell, proof reader, and Carl E. Henry, classified advertising manager.

New Linotype Added To Plant

With a great deal of satisfaction the publisher of The Hilltop Record and West Side News announces the installation of a new Blue Streak Linotype. This mechanical marvel qualifies the firm to serve more efficiently the large number of persons who look to the publications for enlightenment and entertainment, and who patronize the commercial printing department.

The Blue Streak enables the firm to set many forms of composition that previously necessitated tedious work by hand. The plant is now capable of turning out composition of correct type faces in many different sizes, and the change from one size to another is made at high speed.

Besides enabling the operator to set various faces and sizes of type, the new Blue Streak makes it possible for him to produce the rules and dashes and borders used in various advertisements in each issue of our publication and in booklets, catalogs, and many other kinds of printed matter.

New Fairchild Engraver Speeds News Pictures

The Fairchild Photo-Electric engraver is the newest innovation in the graphic arts field for the manufacture of halftone engravings. Its recent advent into the newspaper field has proved a boon to publishing firms which in the past had to rely on hour consuming acid etch engraving methods.

Adoption of the Fairchild engraving equipment by The Hilltop Record makes it possible to produce a full 8x10 halftone engraving in a matter of 20 minutes or a single column cut in only five minutes.

O.C. Roesen, President Wood Newspaper Mach. Corp.

Jones Is Old Timer

Henry Jones, 60 Powhatan-av, pressman, has the longest tenure of service with the Record, having started to work here in 1928. Publisher C. Carlton Hartley has been associated with the paper since 1926 and has owned the firm since 1941.

To Give Away New Dodge

Some subscriber to The Hilltop Record will receive a new Dodge sedan as a Christmas gift with the compliments of the paper. The only requirement to be eligible to receive this car absolutely free is to have a receipt for a one-year subscription dated after Sept. 15 of this year. Entries will continue to be received until Dec. 23.

Hilltop Record Is "All Dressed Up" To Begin New Era Of Progress Here

Today The Hilltop Record comes to you all dressed up and in a style that is comparable to the leading metropolitan newspapers of the country.

We've dressed up the pages in new format, introduced color, installed new presses, new linotype machinery and now, modern type faces to increase your reading pleasure.

The new Corona body type which is a product of the Mergenthaler Linotype Company of New York is a new type of maximum readability and is specially designed to neutralize distortion and provide clear printing that reduces eye fatigue. This is the newest in newspaper body type and is rapidly being adopted by the leading metropolitan dailies as the most readable and the best type for reproduction on high speed rotary presses such as The Hilltop Record now owns.

New headline faces also make their appearance in this first dress-up edition of The Hilltop Record. Great types have design distinction with the emphasis being placed on the ease with which the reader can see and read the printed message which type imparts. Ever mindful of the first duty of a newspaper to give to its readers the news in a manner that is easily read and understood with a minimum of effort, the Record has adopted new headline faces of the Spartan, Metro and Erbar families in order that the headlines and the advertising messages may be easily read at a mere glance and with a minimum of effort.

It's a new RECORD . . . all dressed up. We would like the opinions of our readers on the new appearance of the Record.

First New Cosmopolitan Press Now Owned By The Record

Early in 1941, a typewritten sheet of paper was placed before the engineering staff of the Wood Newspaper Machinery Corp. at Plainfield, New Jersey. Its contents were easy to read, simple to understand, short and straightforward. It listed, step by step, general specifications and overall performance requirements of a proposed new type newspaper printing press.

Cosmopolitan Press Combines Many Features

The Cosmopolitan Press upon which this issue of The Hilltop Record was printed embodies a practical combination of desirable features which were determined by the Wood Newspaper Machine Corp. after years of research and experience in the metropolitan press field. Cognizant of the wide gap which existed between the large metropolitan presses and the flat bed operation, such as the Record formerly used, they developed the Cosmopolitan as an intermediate press to meet the needs of the smaller-city weekly and daily newspaper.

The new Record press embodies 16 features which were outlined in the original typewritten sheet handed the engineers in 1941. It consists of one unit of 16-page capacity with a half-unit of eight-page capacity superimposed above the unit, a full-size folder with single former, a paper roll stand, turning bars, motor drive integral with press, fully-enclosed control cabinet and "Intrasertor", a device which permits two additional pages in one section of a two part newspaper or four additional pages in a paper of tabloid size. Thus through economy of design, the new press offers greater production and occupies less floor space than any other comparable press in the publishing field today. The complete press requires only an area of 23x23 ft. with a 14 ft. ceiling, working room included.

The use of color in regular editions of The Hilltop Record is now a reality with the advent of the Cosmopolitan Press. The only limiting factor in the use of color is purely quantitative, and this will vary between the total number of pages used and the number of color pages desired.

At the time, the feasibility of designing such a press was highly problematical. The reason: No one had ever before conceived a press like the one outlined in the memorandum, let alone build one. Today, however, there is evidence of the ingenuity of those engineers at the Hartley Printing and Publishing Co. printing plant. The newspaper you now read is a product of that press.

Nine years have passed since that first typewritten sheet was placed in front of the engineers. Today the press bearing Serial No. 1 occupies the pressroom of The Hilltop Record plant. It is the first Wood Cosmopolitan Press to be installed in a newspaper plant in the United States.

Formerly, The Hilltop Record was printed on a flat bed press of the slow reciprocating type which printed direct from individual letters or lines of type. The printing plates used in this operation were flat and rectangular in shape in contrast to the semi-cylindrical or curved stereotyped plate used on the modern high speed rotary press such as the new Wood Cosmopolitan.

Today's production of this newspaper presents a marked contrast to the methods employed just a few months ago when pages were made up into a chase, locked tight and the chase placed into position for printing direct on the flat reciprocating bed of the press. Contact of paper and ink with the original form produced the newspaper.

Gone is that method of reproduction from The Hilltop Record plant today. First, the page of the newspaper is set up in a metal frame, called a chase, which surrounds the individual type, lines of type and half-tone photo engravings or pictures, and locks them firmly into place. A soft, moist, blotter-like piece of thick paper is placed over this flat form, a cork blanket is placed on top and all of this is passed under a heavy roller so that the moist paper which is called a mat receives an impression of the complete page.

This mat is then baked to take out the moisture and trimmed on its edges to fit the Pony Autoplate machine (stereotype casting mechanism). Since the mat is flexible it can be bent into a semi-cylindrical form and placed in the semi-cylindrical casting box. The concave surface of the casting box carries hundreds of minute holes which are connected to a vacuum pump and thus the mat is sucked (or drawn) snugly to the curved casting box surface over its entire area.

Molten metal is then pumped into the casting box at a temperature of 600 degrees F., where it fills all the characters which were impressed into the face of the mat. In less than a minute the metal is solidified by means of water passing through a jacket in the casting box, so that the mold may be opened to remove the plate. The mat is peeled off, and reveals a plate which duplicates the printing material used in the original form to a high fidelity. The mat may then be placed in the casting box for the making of another plate if necessary.

While the plate is still warm it is clamped in a curved arch where a rotary saw removes excess metal, a beveling tool cuts a bevel on the curved edge and a shaving knife takes a cut from ribs in the concave surface of the plate, thereby insuring a uniform thickness of the plate.

The plate is then placed in the cooling station of the Autoplate machine where water is sprayed on the under surface to cool it. Following this the semi-cylindrical plate is then ready to be clamped on the cylinder of the rotary press, and when properly inked and pressed against the paper, will leave a sharp impression of the letters and pictures. This modern method produced the page of The Hilltop Record you now read.

Public Invited To Open House, November 8-9

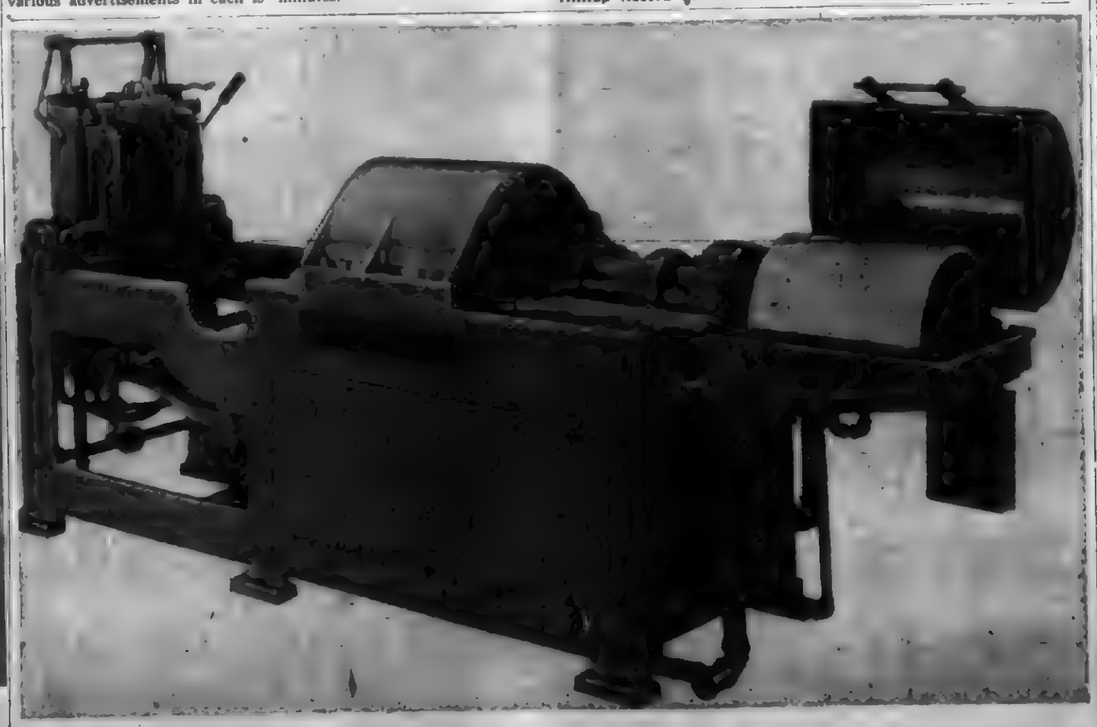
Wednesday, Nov. 8, and Thursday, Nov. 9, have been designated as "Open House Days" to the general public by the Hartley Printing and Publishing Co., at 2465 W. Broad-st. The firm is extending an invitation to all to visit the new modern printing establishment and to see the new Wood Cosmopolitan Press, the first to be erected in any newspaper plant in the United States.

In the interest of better, faster printing of its various publications the Hartley firm has completely modernized the local printing plant. New and latest types of typesetting, printing and reproduction machinery have been installed to place the local firm on a par with the best.

Hours for the "Open House" dates are: Wednesday, 1 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.; Thursday, 8 a. m. to 11 a. m. and 1 to 5 p. m. Everyone is invited to see a modern printing plant in action.

Eleven Correspondents Serve

Serving as editorial correspondents to The Hilltop Record are 11 persons of the community who contribute weekly to the news columns. They are Myron T. Seifert, JoAnn Kidd, Dave Miller, Mrs. Harry C. Downing, Mrs. Eva Ramey, Elizabeth Stoll, Esther Weakley, Gene Urban, Mrs. Frank Wolfe, Mrs. James W. Whalen and the High Ridger.



Publish West Side News

The West Side News is a sister paper of The Hilltop Record, published by the Hartley Printing and Publishing Co., 2465 W. Broad-st. The News serves the area east of Central-av down to the Scioto River, and has a circulation of 7400.

New Press Specialists

SHOWN ABOVE are two of the representatives of Wood Newspaper Machinery Corp. who have been in constant touch with The Hilltop Record during erection of the new press and assisting in operation of the Cosmopolitan. Left to right are William Harvand and Sam Oderman. Both of these men have been frequent visitors to the Record publishing plant.

Speed and ease of handling is an essential in today's modern newspaper plant. Shown here is the Wood Pony Autoplate machine which casts the semi-cylindrical plates from which your newspaper is printed. On the extreme left is the casting box; the arch in the center is the shaving arch where the cast is shaved to correct size. The cooling stand is on the right and a stereotype plate is shown, ready to be removed and locked up on the press.

Shown is a detailed view of the intrasertor, a distinctly new innovation of the Wood Cosmopolitan Press which enables the inserting of a single sheet into a newspaper.

Reminders Of Early National Road Days Of Construction Still Evident On Hilltop

Did you ever notice, while riding out the National Road (W Broad-st) the numerous large stone culverts along the way? They were put there many years ago, and they were hauled there from long distances, some from the northern part of the state, on wagons, at a very great expense.

This National Highway was built from Cumberland, Md., through Columbus to Bloomington, Ill. Passing through large tracts of timber there were also hundreds of loads of stone hauled from the quarries north of the asylum grounds, and dumped along the line; then men with long-handled hammers worked from morning till night, week in and week out, breaking the stone and placing them in the road-bed of this highway.

Jonas Wilcox was superintendent of construction of the road from Zanesville through Columbus to Springfield, and was constantly traveling over it between these early points. The expenses of early maintenance of the road were met by the toll gates established at intervals along the road every few miles.

Toll for a two-horse vehicle was about two cents a mile, and was made for vehicles going to and from church services. There was a toll gate where Central-av and Broad-st cross, then it was moved to about where Midland-av is now located, and then near where the present Wheatland and Broad intersection is located. The next move was to the present location of Ogden and Broad, then to the last place near the crossing of the C. S. & C. Railroad (now Big Four) where it was later abandoned.

The toll gate house that stood at Wheatland and Broad is said to have been moved onto Highland-av and converted into a dwelling, where it now stands, at 433 on that street.

The story is told that some mischievous boys "swiped a duck late one night and, approaching the gate, aroused the toll gate keeper, and when he came out they asked him how much he charged for a duck to go through. They had to make a quick getaway.

Along the National Road, at stated intervals, a hotel, or "tavern", was located to take care of the traveling public and the men working on the road.

The toll gate was a long pole extending across the road and fastened to a post near one end with a few feet of the post extending over the short end and wedged so that by releasing the rope at the long end of the pole it was lifted into the air high enough to allow the passing of the horse or vehicle wishing to go through. The man operating the affair was called the toll gate keeper. Following is a partial list of toll charged at these gates in 1840:

Score sheep or hogs, 5c to 10c; score of cattle, 20c; each horse, mule or ass, led or driven, 3c; horse and rider, 5c; horse or ox drawn sled or sleigh, 5c; one horse, buggy or sulky, 10c; additional horse, 5c; vehicle with tires from two and one-half to six inches wide, from 10c down to 4c, according to the size of tire.

These prices prevailed, with some changes at various times, as long as toll gates were used.

The Jaybird Hotel stood on the south side of Broad-st in front of the razed property of Karl Weber, near Ogden-av. East of that a deep ditch bordered the south side of the road, lined by a long row of willow trees. A saw mill at one time stood south of this section. Next west of the Jaybird Hotel stood the old Four-Mile House on the north side of the road, about where the Hilltop Transfer Co. is now located. The road was originally under national control, but was afterward turned over to the various states through which it ran, for the upkeep.

Michael and William Sullivant, two of the first settlers in this part of the county, owned, at one time, all of the land on both sides of the National Road from the Scioto River nearly to where the village of Rome now stands. This was all timber land, with several saw mills kept busy; one large mill standing a short distance north of the road, a couple of miles west of the Hilltop.

The timber was oak, ash, walnut, hickory, sugar, elm and some beech. Some of these trees reached an immense size, being six feet in diameter, and about one hundred feet high. F. P. Speery, now living on S. Harris-av, says that in his young days he helped cut an oak over five and one-half feet in diameter, and three trees over six feet in diameter. Some black walnut trees were said to be six feet across.

Stagecoach lines used this road for many years during the early days but after Columbus and Xenia and C. S. & C. Short Line Railroads were built, stage coaches ceased to run along the thoroughfare, and went out the Harrisburg-pk to Washington C. H., thence south.

About this time there were only three residences on the National Road west of where Davis-av is now located. One owned by a Mr. Seely, one by Dixon St. Clair, and a farm home on the Dr. Hawkes farm, where Hawkes-av is now located.

Speedoline Was Early Auto Gas Saving Product

Before the day of Ethyl gasoline extra octane, etc., Hilltoppers were using an inferior fuel in their motors more than a score of years ago, especially during the war years.

In fact, back in 1919, W. H. Rankin and W. G. Barnhart, respectfully, declared that Hilltop motorists were able to get more mileage from a new product, called Speedoline, on their cars. Rankin averred in his testimony that one gallon of gas, treated with Speedoline, could go 25.9 miles. The test was made on a Maxwell touring car of the Jack Benny vintage.

The Speedoline Co. agreed to pay $100 reward "to anyone who can prove that Speedoline will not do what we claim for it, or that it will in any way injure the finest motor or carburetor." "Speedoline increases power of motor, saves 25 to 40 per cent of gasoline, prolongs life of the motor," so stated the Hilltop Record in its edition of May 8, 1919.

Improvement Group Held Early Community Picnic

Hilltop Improvement Association, progenitor of the HBA, likewise sponsored a picnic dinner, including beans, during World War I days. Messrs. Dolby and Mart Seiller spearheaded the social movement for Hilltoppers. In May, 1915, the same group held a Fourth of July celebration "in the nature of welcoming home all Hilltop soldiers." Herbert Gibson and William Barnhart constituted the committee in charge of the event.

Literary Club Was Active In 1919

"Our Medical Women in the Great War" highlighted the meeting of the Sunset Literary Club in May 1919, when Dr. Ada Wright was the guest speaker of the local society. Officers elected at the same meeting included: president, Minola Haines; first vice-president, Mrs. C. V. Williams; second vice-president, Mrs. Malcolm Groves; treasurer, Mrs. W. M. Simpson; secretary, Mrs. Carl C. Hutt; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charles W. Lentz.

Dropping Of Harrisburg Pike Toll Occasioned Celebration

J. M. Briggs of near Briggsdale heard a noise in his front yard in an early day. The family rushed out to see what was the matter, where to all appearance a comet had struck, but upon investigation it was found to be the neighbors jubilant over the Harrisburg Pike being free.

They had formed in a company and celebrated with fireworks and for over an hour made a grand display. Mr. Briggs was the largest stockholder in the road, hence the display being in his yard.

A short history of this road would be in place here. About the year 1810 the Chenoweths settled where Harrisburg now stands and the only road to Franklinton (as Columbus was not yet laid out) was to go by the way of Georgesville.

But there was a settlement of Indians near there who sold their furs in Franklinton, as hunting and trapping was their business. In the winter they would cross Big Darby on the ice and take a straight course for Franklinton. Mr. Chenoweth and one of the neighbors mounted horses and followed the trails of the Indians and blazed a route through and very soon opened a road, the whole country being a vast wilderness. They kept on high land road.

As the country became more settled and Columbus was laid out and grew so rapidly they saw the necessity of a better road. Consequently they formed a company and stockholders were solicited, the merchants being a part of them as they well knew good roads meant a good trade, and in 1848 the contract was given to build a pike of the old High Land Road, with very few changes.

An Englishman by the name of William Ashton took the contract and of course he hired a great many of his countrymen. He built shanties near Big Run and there boarded a number of them. They were very fond of card playing and of Saturday nights indulged until a late hour. So one night four played until late, when one of them laid his head on the table. The others thought it would be a good joke to slip off to bed and let him sleep until morning and accordingly did so. In the morning when Mr. Ashton arose and went through the dining room and discovered Billie sitting there, he went to him and gave him a shake, but lo and behold, he was dead.

The next thing was to prepare for his burial. He was found to be stiff as a poker and in the position he assumed at the table. The only alternative was to get a coffin and put him in, then put weight enough to straighten him out. So two big Englishmen got on the coffin and straightened him out, then put in the screws about half way. In the afternoon the people began to crowd into the room to see "poor Billy" and while the room was full of women they heard a crash in the direction of the corpse. The lid had come off and Billy was sitting right up in the coffin with his glassy eyes staring at them.

The original stockholders in the road, numbered 150. Included in this number were J. Searls, George Parsons, H. Bancroft, J. Cherry, M. Halm, H. Colt, J. Eberly, T. Nash, H. Peters, W. House, G. Walton and J. Linebaugh. The cost of construction of this road was $40,000. After a few years William Miller of Columbus bought up all the stock he could obtain. That gave him controlling interest.

It remained in his hands about 20 years, and paid well, the toll amounting to about $500 per month. About 1869, on account of failing health, he sold to William Briggs for the sum of $14,000. It remained in his hands until J. M. Briggs purchased it for $12,000 and it has now been turned over to the county commissioners for a little less than $700.

Old Four Mile House Once Located At Chase and Broad

Who remembers the old Four Mile House that once stood where a grocery store now stands at Chase-av and W. Broad-st? The house was just four miles from the west end of the Scioto bridge and got its name in that fashion.

Stories of the old house were told by the late Mrs. D. B. Ong, 2900 Crescent-dr, who recalled many events of the time. Her father, Timothy C. Bigelow, moved there Apr. 1, 1862, and the family remained there during the Civil War and until 1892.

Mrs. Ong stated that stories printed recently in another paper then concerning the tavern are untrue. It was not the headquarters for Camp Chase soldiers. However many of the soldiers boarded their wives there during the war.

Camp Chase stood across the street, enclosed by a six-foot board fence. There were 160 acres in the plot running from Hague-av to Binns-blvd.

Formerly it was vine covered and well kept, making a much nicer looking place. In fact it was once called the most beautiful house on the road from Springfield to Columbus. When it was built no one seems to know. It was first a log cabin and then additions were made.

Mrs. Ong recalled that it was a stopping place for all the traveling shows of the time. The circus went by way of the National Road at that time and drivers always rode ahead to warn farmers to get their loads of cabbage or whatever it might be out of reach of the elephants.

Whereas the modern tavern on the National Road charges a higher price for meals, it is interesting to note that a full meal in those days could be purchased at the Four Mile House for 25c. In addition to meals at the tavern one could purchase a good lunch of bologna, crackers and cheese or replace his paper collar with a new one or buy a dime novel to read on the journey westward.

One time the officers in charge of Camp Chase ordered all the soldiers to stay away from the Four Mile House. The food was so good in comparison with army rations that they soon spent their small salaries. Guards were stationed about the house for a few days to keep the men away, but this did not prove successful.

Then on New Year's night zero weather set in. It was so cold that the guards even took turn about in partaking of hot coffee and sandwiches, exactly what they were supposed to keep others from doing. After that the order was rescinded.

Mrs. Bigelow was famous for her pies and had special designs on the crust that served as trademarks among soldiers, who would not buy them unless they had the usual key insignia on them. The key was said to be used in locking the juice in.

T. L. Bigelow, a brother of Mrs. Ong, sold pies at Camp Chase. He would take his basket of pies to the camp and play marbles. When he was ready to return home he would find the basket empty and the money for the pies in their places. The soldiers were always honest.

One evening there was much excitement in the vicinity. News had reached the Four Mile House that Morgan would come to Camp Chase to free the prisoners. The signal for the escape from the camp was to be "Fresh Fish." Mr. and Mrs. Bigelow retired about midnight after a heavy day. Soon afterward there was a noise as of horses running! But no, it was a false alarm. The old wood slats had fallen from the bed.

Mr. Bigelow bought bread for the tavern twice daily from Renner's Bakery downtown. Two spring wagonloads were used daily. Three cents toll was paid at the toll gate each trip.

Eldon-Av Club Set Early Tradition

Singularly a Hilltop tradition, the Eldon Avenue Club, composed of 16 families, had met from time to time to honor some of its number. Typical of the good times had by these neighbors was one held in January, 1923, in the form of a surprise birthday party on the birthday of Mrs. C. F. Prior, then of 101 Eldon-av. The neighbors met at the home of Herbert Gibson and then went to the Prior home in surprise fashion.

The club presented Mrs. Prior with a reading lamp and a huge birthday cake. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Seiller, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Linville, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walton, Mrs. Orebaugh and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Royal Milliken, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Six, Rev. and Mrs. J. N. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Postle, Mrs. C. W. Roush and daughter, Areminia Smith, Mrs. Frank Smiley, sister of Mrs. Prior, and Mrs. M. H. Prior.

Early Days Of Hilltop's History Recalled By Laura Mix Cromwell

By Myron T. Seifert

Hilltop's foremost scholar of local history, Mrs. Laura Mix Cromwell (who lives with her sister, Mrs. Edward Bentz, 211 Eldon-av, and whose looks and activities belie her actual age) is a remarkable person.

Her vast reservoir of information, her charitable disposiiton and her attitude — sometimes serious, sometimes humorous—mark her as a rare individual.

An omniverous reader of practically every worthwhile subject, Mrs. Cromwell's versatility enables her to fit in almost any situation. She's a jewel, and one that can't be purchased with worldly goods. This we know when we have had other occasions to call upon her for aid.

No, we are not writing a "living obituary". We are merely saying her modest, unassuming ways of getting things done—and well done—and her service to Hilltop-pers in particular are a credit to any community.

In a nostalgic mood she relates her still vivid recollections of the Hilltop wilderness that she knew as a girl.

Her father, Emmitt Mix, migrated to the locale still known as the Mix Addition, west of the present corporation limits, almost a hundred years ago. Her father attended the first Columbus high school, at age 14, in the year 1854, via horses, and when the National Lane, now Route 40, was impassable on foot.

Report cards given students in Columbus' first high school, on Rich-st, at the end of each grading period, show the remarkable scholastic records of student Emitt Mix. The cards are now in possession of Mrs. Cromwell. Her mother was Nellie Helen Little.

Mrs. Cromwell, as a student at old Central High School, then at Sixth and Broad-sts, traveled 12 miles daily with her sister, Fannie, down the dark, lonesome lane, now Broad-st, to school.

Flanking either side of the Broad-st lane was a dense underbrush and forest from the Mix home to Sandusky and Broad, Mrs. Cromwell so well described.

The only homes seen along this primitive road were few and far between.

Called Camp Chase in Civil War days, this included the Mix addition, where Mrs. Cromwell lived.

The old Quaker meeting house, now the Dr. Parks residence remodeled at Wilson and Broad-sts, was attended by the Mix family for purposes of worship and on Christmas Eve, when the rural neighbors brought their family presents and displayed them on the huge tallow-lit evergreen Christmas tree, trimmed with cranberries and popcorn. The wealthier clan, of course, who wanted to make a good showing placed theirs at the top of the huge yuletide tree.

The Judge E. C. Turner home then belonged to Edgar Mix, internationally known balloonist, and an uncle of Mrs. Cromwell.

Other landmarks which could be seen from this lonesome lane included the Four-Mile House Tavern, on the site of the Ed Stauch Market district on Broad-st, between Powell and Roya. Mrs. Ong lived in the tavern and Mrs. Cromwell, as a girl, learned to know the permanent guests there.

The old Appler home with its extensive orchard, was somewhere back from the road south of Broad-st, she recalls.

Then the Thomas homestead, where resided the grandfather of Mrs. Carl Weber (who until recently lived in the former YMCA quarters) and Della Thomas, in the Whitethorne area, was another home on present Hilltop.

In fact the Weber home, across from the Big Bear Market, was built the same year as the Mix home, still standing at the corner of Mix-rd and Broad-st, remodeled and used as a tourist home and camp.

Only other building between the Mix home and Sandusky-st was the old Baptist Church, near the present convent at Sandusky and Broad.

The brick home built by Emitt Mix is perhaps the most substantially constructed edifice in this section. Mr. Mix believed in building a good foundation, and in so doing, allowed the foundation to stand over winter to properly season and settle, making a more solid footing for the structure to be erected over it. The walls in the building were uniformly 14 inches in thickness. Plumbers who found it necessary to get through the walls in recent days during remodeling operations for tourist purposes can tell you how reinforced the walls are. The Mixes moved into the elegant structure on the day Cleveland was elected president of the United States.

There was a building in front of the present Ed Distelhorse residence at 4601 W. Broad-st, used as a tavern, originally belonging to the Mix clan and later purchased by Mr. Grener, 198 S. Huron-sv, now in his 91st year. This tavern was removed to Sullivant-av and razed only two years ago.

Then, of course, the traditional Mix schoolhouse, first frame and later brick, was razed in recent years by the General Motors Corp. to make way for the Ternstedt project.

When Mrs. Cromwell and her sister trekked the long way to old Central High School, with their fringed surrey and fractious horses. Broad-st was a dirt and mud lane, with no cobblestone foundation until they reached the Broad Street Bridge, thence to High-st.

When the road was practically impassable the girls were obliged to "navigate" by horse car from the top of the hill at the asylum terminal to their downtown school.

On one occasion, Mrs. Cromwell recalls, the streetcar ran off the tracks 13 times before they arrived at their destination. The motorman driver would stop, unhitch the horses from the car, pull the car back on the track, and hitch them to the streetcar again for 13 times. Mrs. Cromwell didn't say whether the girls were late to school that morning or not, but they must have had a most singular feeling and experience when they would slide from one side to the other as the car would jump the track.

To help correct the deep holes in the road, crushed and pulverized limestone was used. Mrs. Cromwell well remembers how as youngsters they all loved to trudge barefoot, or with shoes on, through that white road-surface material.

Barnum's Circus caravan, drawn by many spans of horses, made an indelible impression on Mrs. Cromwell as a girl, when she was awakened at night by the noise of the fun-makers, unaccustomed as she was to residents along this thoroughfare. The lights as they trouped along will ever be an important incident in her treasury of memories. Of course the show which may have been scheduled for Franklinton or Columbus next day was probably too far to travel just to see some "nonsense".

Land along Broad-st in the present, Hilltop business district was practically at give-away prices. In the early 1850's before Civil War Days the land along the National Road commanded a magnificent figure of $20 per acre, offered by the owner, Michael Sullivant.

Mrs. Cromwell well remembers when her Quaker Sunday School teacher, Will Ong, pioneer real estate operator on the Hill, resorted to high pressure tactics and tried his best to induce her to buy lots along this route. One lot, in particular, at Eureka-av and Broad-st, where Fox Market is now located, he proffered to her for $50, and on time at the fabulous figure of 25 cents per week with no down payment.

With her music lessons (She was also music teacher for the children in this section) bringing in 50 cents to a dollar or two weekly, she thought she might afford this big investment; however, her father had other designs and discouraged her from buying "land along this mud road", so the deal fell through.

Incidentally, Quaker Ong laid out much of the Hilltop, especially north of Broad, naming many of his streets after girls' names and a variety of fruits, which monikers are attached to many to this day.

A great many of the earlier Christmases on the Hilltop are tied in with the old Quaker Church at Wilson-rd and Broad-st, where families vied for bringing the nicest presents to the church on Christmas Eve or Christmas Sundays. Competition was keen and families with the most resources were peers on the huge Christmas tree. The Mixes had perhaps the most ornate sleigh in the country. It was a double sleigh, sculptored and carved by hand with a knife. When the Mix family moved to the city in later years they gave the vehicle to a farm neighbor, who took little or no care of it and allowed it to deteriorate with time. The sleigh provided many happy moments for the Mixes and their friends.

Presents exchanged were simple but good ones. In the old Mix home, still standing, a huge fireplace provided places for children to hang their stockings on Christmas Eve. Mrs. Cromwell has handpainted alphabet blocks received on an early occasion. She likewise has many early Christmas ornaments, including a bud vase, given to her by a teacher, which added much to the color and brilliancy of early Hilltop Christmas trees.

Sleigh rides and hay rides for the young folks were "tops" in entertainment. Ample blankets and snow robes protected the youngsters. Occasionally young people went en mass via sled or wagon to the Quaker Meeting House. Witty Mrs. Cromwell advised that she was not sure whether "these rides were always for the pleasure of the meeting."

Much of the romance and adventure in early Camp Chase, as the Mix section was called, even during Civil War days, was attached to the Mix school.

School Director James Fippin, she recalls, upon his visitation there, almost invariably addressed the 70 some students with a famous declaration on the great improvements in schools since his tenure as official in Holmes County. He always told the pupils how he trudged through the snow and inclement weather four miles daily to reach his school, frequently without any footwear. In order to keep his feet from freezing or getting cold he made it a habit always to carry a board under his coat, warming it, and at frequent intervals placing the coat-warmed board under his feet. Mr. Fippin was a grandfather of Teacher Mrs. Sperry here on the Hilltop.

Other teachers whose names live on in the history of Mix School are Quaker Mr. Simpson, "Triv" C. L. Hoover, and Nellie Gill, who lived in a lane that originally stemmed from the National Road on the present GM tract.

Mrs. Cromwell is now working on a monumental research project of her genealogy, having already traced one side of the family to 1638, showing that she had eight Revolutionary grandfathers.

Mrs. Cromwell avers that she could probably belong to every patriotic chapter in America by virtue of her ancestry — if she could afford it—humorously admitting that there may be some in the seven or eight generations she already knows about who have cast a shadow on the family escutcheon.

Mrs. Cromwell's husband passed away in 1932. Her son, Carrol, a former West High student, is identified with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Philadelphia.

At some future time we anticipate that we may bring the reader a series of articles about the Hilltop, gleaned from sources in Mrs. Cromwell's possession. In fact, Mrs. Cromwell has assured us that "when she can get around to it," she will be glad to share her experiences in preserving Hilltopiana with all her fine neighbors on the Hilltop.

HONOR GENERAL

Columbusites proud, patriotic, banqueted General George W. Morgan of the Second Ohio Volunteers in the Mexican War, at the American House, December 7, 1847, and gave him a $300 sword which is now in the Smithsonian Institute.

Forerunner Of Local Community Council Organized In 1920

Counterpart of the Hilltop Community Council of today was the newly formed Hilltop Community Association, in October, 1920.

The object of the organization then, as now, is getting together of all residents of the Hilltop for the purpose of helping each other socially, physically and in any other way tending to make the Hilltop an ideal place in which to live.

Hilltop community spirit, known far and wide, was given further impetus a quarter of a century ago by the inception of this organization.

Old Account Book Reveals Low Cost Of Living In Past

A document of 100 years standing, now the property of Mrs. Laura Cromwell, 211 Eldon-av, is an account book of Emmitt Mix, Mrs. Cromwell's father.

The century old booklet reflected "prices current" at Camp Chase in pre-Civil War days, and is one of the few Hilltop written documents that has been preserved for posterity.

His personal ledger, beginning in 1855, is legibly written, and commercially lined, with various entries then of much import to Hilltop folks.

Matt Stuart, the book states, was debtor to Mr. Mix in March, 1855, to the extent of $5 for a ton of hay, which was liquidated in October of the same year.

Cider of 1857 vintage at $2 per barrel, sweet we assume, satisfied the thirst of pioneers in the wild, and wooly lands of Camp Chase.

Mr. Mix sold one sow and litter to Mr. Stuart for $8, five head of hogs (weighing 974 pounds at $3.50) for $34.09.

A second account was with William Taylor with butter at 12½ cents a pound in "the good old days on the Hilltop." The Mix family evidently sold large quanties of this commodity. Huge loads of wood were frequently sold for $2.50.

To John Shoof, Mr. Mix sold beef at 5c per pound; and potatoes, 50c per bushel.

Other early Camp Chase accounts, with whom Mr. Mix did business, included the names of Jacob Lusk, Jon A. Evans, E. Gill, Dr. Hamilton, N. Hopper, William Murray, Mr. Hayden, and William Anderson.

Mr. Mix, according to his records, received $1 and $1.50 per month for "horse at pasture." Cows at pasture, same rate.

SWIMMERS IN HOLTON PARK ORDERED TO WEAR TRUNKS

Holton Park swimming pool, in 1921, was the rendezvous of boys who swam the currents in the nude. Neighbors complained, but to little avail. Finally the Columbus Recreation Department issued orders that "all swimmers using the swimming pool at Holton Park must wear trunks or be subject to arrest." Boys will be boys!

Hilltop YMCA Program Provides Recreation For Local Youth

In January, 1948, the first board members of the Hilltop YMCA were elected to office and assigned the task of establishing a YMCA in the community.

Their first major responsibility was to plan a fund-raising campaign and secure a trained person to direct the activities. In April, 1948, the campaign for membership and building fund monies was launched and $9800 was raised for current expenses and $1550 was raised for the building fund.

In May, 1948, Averille M. Thorn took over as executive secretary of the Hilltop YMCA. At that time the Hilltop YMCA became responsible for the operations of the Teen-Canteen Center, making it a part of the YMCA program.

As part of the growing program for the youth of the community in 1948, a Camera Club was organized and drew 24 high school boys, a Leaders' Club for boys, Sewing Club for girls and two basketball leagues caring for 133 boys. A Craft Shop was opened to the teenagers. A marble tournament was held for the grade school boys.

The activities of the Teen Club, numbering 109 members, included dances of various types, wiener roast, hay ride, jam sessions and other parties. In addition to this, the youngsters make use of the pool table, ping-pong table and any other games available on their weekly club nights.

Various other groups, such as the Wing Scouts, Hilltop Little Theater, the Community Council, the Blue Star Mothers' Club, T. B. Clinic, Friends Church Social Group, and the High Twelve Club all made use of the facilities for their monthly meetings.

In 1949 seven Gra-Y Clubs were organized for boys in the three elementary schools. There was a total of 177 boys from nine to 12 years old. During the summer months hikes and swims were held for these boys.

Basketball leagues were carried for the high school age boys and numbered 25 teams representing 304 boys and eight girls.

Softball leagues for summer activities keep 145 boys busy. There were 10 teams and 1,856 in attendance at the games.

Boys' and girls' bowling leagues were organized, composed of two leagues and 16 teams, permitting competition by 40 boys and 35 girls.

A weekly movie program showed full-length movies to the youngsters in three different centers on the Hilltop. There were 109 sessions and a total of 3,482 attendance.

The Teen Club was in operation as were the Camera, Radio and Hobby Clubs, up until the old center was closed in September, 1949. The Teen Club attendance was 3,846 and the Hobby Shop attendance totalled 435.

During the football season 209 persons watched the football games in a YMCA supervised center and local church. After moving from the old building at 2585 W. Broad-st, the Girls' Craft Class continued to meet in the Hilltop YMCA office.

A talent search was carried on by the Hilltop YMCA during the months of October and November. This gave 40 talented youngsters an opportunity to appear on the stage before the public.

The program in 1950 saw an expansion into three new club areas. The grade school boy had the Gra-Y Club for his interest and to this program was added in February, 1950, a basketball league, which was held at Hoge Memorial Church gym. In the early spring a Junior Hi-Y Club was organized at West High School for the boys in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. For the younger boys an Indian Guide Tribe of fathers and sons got under way with the program centering around Indian lore. With the beginning of school this fall the Hi-Y Club at West High School became a part of our four front program for boys. This gives opportunity for all boys between the ages of six and 18 to participate in an organized YMCA program.

Averille Thorn

In the field of athletics the basketball league for Gra-Y Junior High and Senior High boys was completed in March and will be started again in November. There were seven different local churches with teams entered in these leagues. The bowling league for boys and girls finished up their play with a banquet in May. The summer softball also had their league, with 16 teams of boys participating. The movie projector which the Hilltop Business Association donated to the "Y" has been in constant use throughout the year. Movies were held in three centers during the spring, in four centers during the summer and on into the fall More than 300 youngsters saw the movies each week during this period.

Plans for the future include the immediate organizing of a second Junior Hi-Y Club at West High School; the expansion of the Gra-Y and Indian Guide program as the demand necessitates; organizing, with the cooperation of the Glenwood Recreation Center, of a girls' basketball league. With the eventual advent of a building on the Hilltop for our YMCA program, the facilities will be expanded tremendously.

Friends Rescue Residents Periled By Fire In 1922

Fire of unknown origin was discovered on the third floor of the Friends Rescue Home on N. Hague-av in February, 1922. A hurried alarm was turned in and the building was vacated by its occupants in eight minutes and before the fire department arrived. The entire third floor was badly damaged and the clothing of the 17 girls and the matron was entirely destroyed. The first and second floors were badly damaged by water.

There were at the time of the fire 17 girls and six babies, besides the home officials. The girls were temporarily placed in the Protestant (now White Cross) Hospital and in various homes.

In 1921 there were 73 girls taken care of there and nearly that many babies were born. Of this number of girls, the Record reported, more than half of them left the home fully converted to the Christian life.

CORNERSTONE LAID IN 1921

Hilltop Church of Christ, in May, 1921, held impressive cornerstone laying ceremonies on the site of its proposed new building at the corner of S. Burgess-av and Olive-st.

Camp Chase American Legion Post First Organized In 1919

Camp Chase Post No. 98 of the American Legion was organized in 1919 when 26 men met at 12 S. Wayne-av for the purpose of establishing a veterans' organization on the Hilltop. The post name was taken from the name of Camp Chase, the Confederate prison camp, located in the area now known as the Hilltop. The number "98" was requested in memory of the boys who served during the Spanish-American War in 1898.

Claude V. Hasson was the first commander of the post and the first stand of colors was presented to the post at an impressive ceremony held at West High athletic field May 26, 1919.

The colors were donated by Theodoes J. Arnold, a member of the GAR, and presented by Myers Y. Cooper, then governor of Ohio. The attending crowd was estimated by local papers as "exceeding 2500."

The post has always been active in community service. An outstanding bit of service was rendered in the dark days of the depression when the post conducted a house-to-house canvass on Thanksgiving Day each year to collect food and clothing for needy residents.

The post's safety committee was responsible for the establishment of "No Parking" zones around our Hilltop schools and has participated in many other civic projects.

One of the outstanding projects is the Hilltop "Man of the Year" award, which is made each year. The object of this award is to encourage citizens of the Hilltop to be more active in service to their community.

Marlo Smith is the present commander of the post, which is one of the larger and more active posts in the city.

Post service officers invite any veterans on the Hilltop to bring problems to them for assistance. Regular post meetings are the first and third Friday of each month and are held at 10 S. Burgess-av.

During the recent war the members of Camp Chase Post No. 98 and the Camp Chase Auxiliary unit decided that there should be a veterans' memorial on the Hilltop honoring the men and women who were serving in the armed forces. Some money was donated at that time and more has been promised at the time the building project gets under way.

However at the end of hostilities building restrictions and the high cost of materials made it impossible to start construction.

It is the hope of the building committee, headed by Ray McVay, Sr., as chairman, that this project can be started within the very near future.

Names of the men who have served as commander of Camp Chase Post follow: Claude V. Hasson (deceased); Edgar G. Planck, Mose Williams, George M. Ward, Dr. A. C. Myers, James F. Hurd, William M. Rogers, D. Clarke Finneran, Ray F. McVay, Sr., Arthur J. Bellar, M. P. Hain, E. H. Brown, E. A. Young, C. W. Wagner, H. J. Swain, M. H. Austin, L. G. Scales, V. C. Fiscus, John Martindale, Dewey A. Stout, Robert Daggett and Marlo Smith, the current leader. The 1950 paid membership is over the 500 mark and still growing.

The members of Camp Chase Post have always been active in county and state legion affairs. Camp Chase has been honored by having three county commanders, Robert S. Harsh, 1934, George M. Ward, 1939, and D. Clarke Finneran, 1946.

Finneran has served for two years as a member of Legion state executive committee, one year as district vice commander and chairman of membership committee, and as commander of the 12th District.

Larry G. Scales has served 12 years on the state department junior baseball commission and has seen the program grow to one of the biggest projects of the Legion. Camp Chase Post sponsors two teams in local leagues.

Current officers of the post are Marlo Smith, commander; William B. Ferguson, first vice-commander; John H. West, second vice-commander; Don A. Novak, third vice-commander; William E. Boothe, adjutant; Vincent D. Welker, personnel adjutant; Robert Jones, finance officer; Frederick S. Holoday, chaplain; Walter W. Zimmer, sergeant-at-arms; Joseph F. Worthen, historian; and R. Frank Schmidt, service officer.

Veteran H'top Newspaper Woman Recalls Many Early Local Events

By Myron T. Seifert

Dean of Columbus newspaper women, Mrs. A. F. Brogenhardt, 1925 Fairmont-av, likes to reflect on the many and varied experiences that began before the turn of the century.

Steeped in journalism history and lore, Mrs. Brogenhardt looks back—and ahead—to a past of color and grandeur and a future which promises much to career-minded girls in this important field of our American way of life.

Of the original Ohio Newspaper Women's Association, Mrs. Brogenhardt is the only living charter member, and in point of service holds senior rank in the Columbus Women's Press Club.

Christened as Clara Markeson (Markeson with an "e" id the name), she married A. F. Brokenhardt, a native of Sweden.

Her father was an extensive real estate operator, and laid out and developed many sections of Columbus, including the South End, where the family name Markison (which is inadvertently misspelled on the original abstracts of title, Mrs. Brogenhardt avers; should have been MARKESON) denotes one of the thoroughfares in this district.

Her visits to Sweden, following her marriage, broadened her journalism perspective and familiarized her with the life of another interesting people.

This Christmas will find her lovely home with an atmosphere of Sweden. Her yuletide tree will be laden with beautiful Scandinavian ornaments, artistic and colorful, including bells, flowers, fruits, leaves, etc.

A huge blue English-made urn, almost a century old, about four feet in height (including the pedestal) will hold the tree, and will be placed in her front window, overlooking the Glenwood Shelter House, where recreation goers can see the unusual decorated yuletide tree.

Noted for their fine food, the good folks in Sweden learn the art of its preparation in the schools, Mrs. Brogenhardt said. Swedish women and even men major in cooking courses, much in the same manner that American girls take up art, music, liberal subjects, etc. Swedish training fits them to experiment and produce some of the finest victuals in the world.

Gerda is to Swedish cooking what Emily Post is to American etiquette, and Mrs. Brogenhardt has constantly at her elbow a cook book, "Gerda", compiled by her personal friend, Gerda, when preparing fods. This is the last word in effecting fine foods.

Coffee is their favorite beverage as tea is that of England; Swedes drink their black coffee just as often as the English drink tea. Shown your reporter was a highly polished antique copper coffee pot with spider legs and holding perhaps a quart or more of coffee. We could well visualize and scent the aroma, made by these folks, even 100 years ago.

A Swedish Epicurean's food diet might follow this pattern, according to Mrs. Brogenhardt:

Before arising from a night of peaceful slumber a member of the family, a maid or servant if finances permitted, would serve the black, potent coffee in bed for that lift so necessary in the life of Swedish folks.

Then, for breakfast proper, they must have hot, steaming fish, prepared to appetizing perfection. Average number consumed at this early meal varies, but six or seven fish about the size of the large finger would appeal to the ordinary citizen, Mrs. Brogenhardt advised.

About 11 a. m. toasted biscuits, which were originally baked, with coffee again, constitute a snack. Then at 2 p. m. comes the heavy dinner. At 5 o'clock they have scones, a cake made of barley, wheat or oatmeal, baked on a griddle, with their coffee.

Then comes the gourmet's period of repast, about 7 o'clock, when the meal begins with a heavy black beer called aqua bits which the natives drink temperately, with schnapps.

The well-known smorgasbord climaxes the evening festive occasion, in which all foods are served cold, except at one end of the festive board are hot steamed creamed combinations which may be used to supplement the cold cuts.

Fish, especially herring, is among the initial offerings selected by the Swedish people and served on their individual plates. They return for another helping of cheeses, celery, cold cuts rarely seen in this country, following which, if "room permits" a delicious hot dinner is served. Parsley is used extensively, especially for fowl, fish or their highly seasoned meat-balls.

Custard puddings of various flavors, with black, hot coffee supplements the meal, and finally a Swedish punch tops off the evening's repast.

At Christmas a white fish and soups made of fruits supplement the interesting smorgasbord.

The interview with Mrs. Brogenhardt was not all food, however. We managed to "squeeze" some personals from the woman who pioneered in journalism in "good old Columbus town."

First society reporter for the Columbus Citizen in the later gay nineties years, she served on the Columbus Press-Post and the Ohio State Journal following the latter's acquisition by the Wolfe interests.

In publicity work a greater portion of her life, she likewise has devoted much time to social work, especially with the day nurseries in this city and other parts of the country. For 23 years she has been identified with local nurseries, founding several of them.

Numbered among her friends are individuals who, during her reporting days, made news for local newspapers. Her news assignments were always interesting. Included among her "scoops" are the celebrated Anna Eva Fay, who made headlines as a mind reader at the old Southern Theater; Queen Stella, of Spanish Gypsy fame; Howard Thurston, world famous magician, and David Bispham, world renowned entertainer, and a host of others.

Covering many conventions, especially for women, she established a reputation as an accurate and interesting writer. One of the first public relations workers, she did a remarkable job in reporting activities of the Ohio Federation of Women's Club, National Federation of Mothers and the National Mothers' Council. She was also a representative of the Associated Press.

Heirlooms of immeasurable value add much to her life and home. Pictures of her immediate family and her "jewels", the many nephews, nieces and grandnephews and grandnieces, keep her occupied in corresponding with them all.

Old Fire House

About the turn of the last century there was a fire engine house at the corner of Hawthorne and Broad (Hawthorne is now called Whitethorne.). The equipment was managed by colored firemen, who won for themselves the reputation of real "smoke eaters." Each day they could be seen pacing their horses up and down Broad, from Highland to Hawthorne.

Early Fraternity On The Hilltop Shocked People

Following World War I, Hilltop young men, feeling the need of a social organization, banded together and organized the Alpha Kappa Gamma fraternity with club rooms at 2277½ W. Broad-st.

Perhaps a bit shocking to natives in that day, their initiations included telephone pole climbing, tricking policemen and scrubbing sidewalks. Some of the finest young men of the community carried membership in this group, and a waiting list of applicants even astounded the founders.

The organization banquet was held at Guyette's Restaurant Saturday evening, May 10, 1919. Covers were laid for 20. Speeches were given by the officers and members of the club, and a "delightful musical program was rendered." The neophytes were entertained with exhibition dances by Messrs. Dickerson and Marsh. An excellent speech was given by the president, Roy B. Hawthorne, setting up goals of the society. Albert Burgoon, as manager of athletics, talked about a baseball team for the club.

Present at the founders' day banquet were Roy Hawthorne, Dana Marsh, Ernest Cady, Kenneth Dickerson, Eldon Lewis, Loren Corder, Herschel Ferguson, Charles Shelby, Kenneth Burgoon, Arlie Crabbe, Arthur Yerke, Ralph Kimes, George Chambers, Ralph Reed, Joseph Wyman, Riley Welch, Charles Calland and Myron Mann.

Masonic Lodge 30 First Recognized Locally In 1815

First fraternal group to warrant recognition in the new frontier town of Franklinton was the Masonic Lodge, then known under the name of Ohio Lodge, No. 30 (the progenitor of present Columbus Lodge, No. 30).

It was originally instituted June 11, 1815, on Broad-st, between Green and Foos.

First officers included the names of Abner Lord, worshipful master; John Kerr, senior warden; Alexander Morrison, Jr., warden; Lincoln Goodale, treasurer, and Joe Buttles, secretary.

The original Masonic temple was demolished past the turn of the century. Treasures from this interesting landmark are preserved in Columbus Lodge, No. 30, at the main Temple on Fourth-st.

Four Winged Chicken Attracted Wide Notice

Mrs. L. C. DeBloom, then of 130 Terrace-av, in December, 1919, was owner of a fowl that attracted nation-wide attention. She missed a young bantam hen that had four wings.

New P. O. Building On Site Of Old Hilltop Landmark

The Hilltop's oldest home was torn down in January, 1950, and where it once stood, at 2696 W. Broad-st the new Don Smith building now stands.

John Bentz, 93, uncle of John Bentz, 62, owner of the Hilltop Plumbing Supply Co., 2333 W. Broad-st, bought the home in 1882. The senior John's father, William, came to this community to help build the State Hospital. In 1890 the property went to Mary Warner, wife of the Hilltop's first dentist, Dr. R. G. Warner. Dr. Warner's office, the first dental office of the area, still stands to the rear of the old home. It, too, will be leveled.

The elder John Bentz is still an active artist in New York City. Recently he was commissioned to reconstruct murals for the New York City Hall.

The old home was 160 years old, according to Attorney Don Smith, present owner and builder of the new edifice.

The abstract shows that Lucas Sullivant, founder of the old city of Franklinton on the west bank of the Scioto River, and one of the first settlers of the area, built the old home in 1790. He moved in on Aug. 10 of that year and owned the place for about 50 years. William Sullivant, a son of the elder Sullivant, sold the home to Elmer Jennings in 1870. For a short time two early residents of the Hilltop, William H. Harris and Henry W. Hague, both wealthy Quaker farmers from the South, owned the deed.

William Bentz lived there several years and raised a family. One of his sons, Frank, is the father of John and his five sisters and brothers. Frank and his wife, Agnes, were the parents of Mary Bentz and Agnes McConnell, both of 384 Wrexham-av; John, 245 Wrexham-av; William, [illegible] Sullivant-av; Frank J., 1470 Fair-av, and John A., 245 Wrexham-av.

Dr. Warner, dentist and later a bailiff in the county courts, owned the home from 1890 until 1924, when he sold it to T. E. Slocum, who now lives with his wife at 26 N. Harris-av. Slocum was the owner of the landmark until 1946, when it became the property of Attorney Smith.

Slocum lived in the house for 40 years, from April, 1946. He is a retired maintenance foreman.

Hilltop Lutheran Church Dedication

Dedication services of the Hilltop Lutheran Church in December, 1920, were unusually impressive. A local news editor said, "As the clergy, followed by the church council bearing the Bible, sacred vessels, cross and candlesticks, then the council of the mother church followed by the large vestal choir, moved slowly up the center aisle, it presented such a majestic scene that the congregation felt they were in a holy place in bonds at times.

Steeple Jacks Hard To Find During Roaring Twenties

Here's a job for which there were few applicants, and there was much room at the top. Next to a steeple jack, this is perhaps one of the most perilous, or so thought the painting contractors for the State Hospital back in the roaring twenties.

William O. Beebe, 150 N. Hague-av, unable to procure men to paint the cornices of the State Hospital building, used the columns of The Hilltop Record in a last minute effort to procure "high-up" skilled workmen and painters.

His advertisement read: "WANTED—Two Hilltop men to paint cornices at State Hospital, men who can work on painter's swinging scaffold without getting cold feet. Very best wages for those who can deliver the goods." The press fails to state who aspired to the lofty jobs.

Early John Burroughs PTA Group Organized As Civic Organization

"John Burroughs Civic Association," forerunner of the present PTA, was organized in 1921. The object of the association was to cooperate with the school board and the teachers, to promote the welfare of the school and the whole community. They were also instrumental in the sidewalk program along Sullivant-av.

The name was later changed to the John Burroughs Parent-Teachers Civic Association. Mrs. M. H. Prior was president; Mrs. J. C. Close, secretary.

Old News Clipping Describes Early Columbus Site

Backward, turn backward, ye residents of the Hilltop who recall hearing tales of former years, and familiarize yourselves again with the city of Columbus as it stood in 1821.

A short description of early Columbus was given in a clipping found in the trunk of William Link, deceased, many years a resident of the Hilltop. It was found by his son, John Link, 158 N. Harris-av.

"The city contains about 200 homes and 1,400 inhabitants. There are also about four or five English schools besides a school for young ladies and a classical seminary. Here are likewise five common mercantile stores, also one book, one drug and a medicine store, a bank, two printing offices, a book bindery and a commodious brick market house.

"The state and court houses stand on the west side of the public square, which is an area of 10 acres, reserved for public use in the center of the town. The penitentiary is erected in the southwest corner of the town and is enclosed by a high stone wall.

"Broad Street is 120 feet wide and High Street is 100. All the rest are 82½ feet. The alleys are each 33 feet broad. All the mercantile business is now done on High Street between Broad and Town Streets."

Hilltop Of Bygone Days Is Vividly Recalled By Presence Of Time Worn Local Landmarks

The tearing away of Broad Street Bridge and wrecking of the old laundry building on the south side of the street in June 20, 1918, brought to mind of the "old settler" some of the old landmarks that one had to pass on his way from Columbus to "Glenwood" or "Sullivant's Hill," by which names our present Hilltop was known back in the early '70's.

In order to make the journey one had the choice of three methods—by horse and buggy, on horseback or walking half way and "hoofing" it the other half. Horse cars had not yet made their appearance on that thoroughfare.

On reaching the Scioto River, just before entering the old wooden covered bridge, perhaps you would stop and watch the landing of a few passengers and the unloading of freight from the canal boat which had just pulled in from the south at Fitch's warehouse, which was the north terminal of that canal system.

If you had time you'd watch them as the empty boat was then pulled north along the east bank under the bridge till the horses or mules reached the roadway on the north side of the bridge, when they were unhitched and probably led up the inclined road to the street to be fed. The boat was then pushed across to the west side of the river by means of long poles to Morypenys' warehouse which stood at the river's edge on the north side of the street, where a cargo of wheat and corn was loaded on it, after which it returned to the east bank, and was again started on its southern trip, the horses following along the tow-path on the river bank until they came to Mound-st, where the canal began.

West Gate Masonic Chorus Was Widely Acclaimed In City

West Gate Masonic Temple, back in 1921, had established a wide reputation as a "singing lodge" and its chorus was acclaimed as one of the finest male musical groups in the city.

A picture of the celebrated group, with tuxedos and fezzes, embellished the sheet of The Hilltop Record June 16, 1921.

Members listed were, D. O. Jenkins, Howell Jones, E. M. Shields, M. W. Bentz, Russell Keegy, C. J. Kohn, Harold Wright, David L. Walters, A. W. Jordan, Albert Peake, Harry Wilson, Clarence Williams, John Evans, Claude Hall Herbert Deems, George Goulding, John C. Morris, Hubbard Jones, Wayne C. Miller (pianist), Will E. Knox (director), Russell Gregg (president), D. E. Wells, Harry Biddle, R. C. Tuller, C. C. Clevenger, John Morgan, Joe Bishop.

West Side Athletic Club Active Locally 25 Years Ago

Active in promoting West Side sports a quarter of a century ago was the West Side Athletic Club.

Officers in 1921 included I. B. Glick, president; Tom Lewis, vice-president; J. M. Moomaw, secretary; J. W. Lower, treasurer.

The board of directors included P. J. Rhoads, I. E. Arnold, Tildon Matthews, G. L. Millay, Lewis Danzinger, J. A. Davis, Chester Springer, Dr. C. S. Shriver, Russell Dennis, Eddie Sullivan, Frank Holycross.

Olympian Athletic Group Honored Teams In 1921

The Olympian Athletic Club of the Hilltop held its annual banquet back in April, 1921, in honor of its basketball team, at the home of Ray Linville, 244 N. Ogden-av.

Early Legion Group Was Curtis-Bender Post

Hilltop American Legion, an important cog in this community's activities, was given its original impetus back in September, 1919, following World War I.

A notice inserted in The Hilltop Record of Sept. 25, 1919, read: "All men who served in the World War in any capacity, whether as soldier, sailor or marine, are invited to come to Highland Avenue School next Friday evening, Sept. 26, at 8 p. m."

The story and announcement further averred that "An application has been made for a charter for an American Legion Post on the Hilltop," adding that "it will be known as the Curtis Bender Post. Bender was a Hilltop boy who was killed at Chateau Thierry."

C. B. Turner at Harry G. Butler's real estate office seemed to be the guiding figure in the post's early years.

West Broad Street Today Reflects Advance Over Yesteryear

SHOWN ABOVE is a typical street scene in New Rome looking east on W. Broad-st. Here along this very stretch of roadway at one time in the history of the Hilltop rolled stagecoach and riders over trails. Today high speed autos and improved highways mark progress.

Ohio Fair Ribbons Of Yesteryear In A Prized Quilt

Most singular work of needle handicraft is a quilt, the property of Mrs. Laura Cromwell, 211 Eldon-

Quilts, of course, are quite common. This one, however, has double significance.

Father of Mrs. Cromwell, Emmett Mix, of Camp Chase, one of the officials of the Centennial Ohio State Fair, back in 1876, when the exposition closed, brought home an abundance of premium ribbons for the children, including Mrs. Cromwell, to sew, etc.

Mrs. Hall, of neighboring Rome, hit upon the idea of using the colorful ribbons as a quilt, whereupon she undertook the job of piecing together satin labels into geometric designs.

As far as known this is the only coverlet made of state fair ribbons, and is as decorative, as it is useful.

LAST MEETING HELD

The Bay View Literary Club held its final meeting for the year in May, 1919, at the home of Mrs. T. A. Bartel.

Old Records Reflect Growth Of Hilltop As A Community

Two pioneers of the Hilltop, now deceased, Mrs. Mary Sperry and Mrs. Hannah Ong, left records that reflect this area's growth.

Mrs. Mary Sperry was born just outside the present city limits, in a log cabin across Wilson-rd from Dr. Parks' home.

Mrs. Hannah Ong came to the Hilltop in 1862, at the age of three, and lived for 80 years at the old Four Mile House.

Here are their stories:

Mrs. Hannah Ong first came to the Hilltop at the age of three in 1862, when her father, Timothy C. Biglow, took over the old Four-Mile House and made of it a tavern known far and wide.

Mrs. Ong lived in this house for 80 years and she recalled many happenings of early days on the Hilltop.

She married Joseph Ong in 1889 and in 1892 moved to a new home at Wheatland and W. Broad. Later the Ongs lived where Borns Funeral Home now stands.

She recalled that she had her picture taken at what was probably the first Hilltop photographer's studio, just west of the Four-Mile House. It was operated by Baker, whose descendant now is in charge of the Baker Art Gallery in downtown Columbus. Many pictures taken of the old camp by Baker were destroyed by fire.

Across the road from the tavern were the two entrances to Camp Chase. The one, known as the Wagon Road, was located near what is now Powell-av. The other, and main gate, was known as the Carriage Road. Mrs. Ong gave an interesting sidelight on one of the Hilltop's first schools, located on what is now Clarendon-av. She purchased that lot with dime savings. It was her mother's custom, she recalls, to pay her for her work with all the dimes that came in. When she was married, her husband, a dairyman, continued the practice for the work she did in making the dairy products ready for delivery.

One of Mr. Ong's customers, who made large purchases, heard of the practice and started making his payments all in dimes. It was after this that Mrs. Ong purchased the lot.

Born in a log cabin just within the present corporation limit of western Columbus, Mrs. Mary Sperry recalled the day she played on the parade grounds of Camp Chase.

At the age of five she once got lost in the camp. At another time, she remembered having peeked between the boards that composed the Confederate Prison and saw the "Rebel" soldiers.

Mrs. Sperry remembered the first Quaker pioneers who took over the camp after the war. She had witnessed the Hilltop's development from woodland into a thriving community of 50,000 people.

She was brought up here, went to school in the earliest school houses, and helped found one of the oldest churches, had seen pioneers come and go and leave indelible marks behind.

The Sperrys, pioneers here themselves, lived on Harris-av since 1906. Mrs. Sperry was born in a log cabin that once stood on Wilson-rd, just opposite the present Dr. Park property.

The land on which the earliest school at Skidmore was built was owned by her father, who helped to build the Institution for the Insane.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

Remember George Dial's Glenwood Park Orchestra that entertained Hilltoppers more than a score of years ago? It was a 12-piece band and practiced Friday evening of each week.

Car Thieves Active On Hilltop As Early As 1919

Thievery and crime takes its toll in every community. Back in June, 1919, the rascals broke into the garage of Robert Carnahan, 2033 W. Broad-st, and succeeded in stealing the $1700 six-cylinder automobile belonging to Clarence Murphy, 2005 W. Broad-st. Murphy was a traveling salesman for the Erner-Hopkins Electric Co., pioneer in radio in the city.

They gained entrance by breaking the lock on the garage door, after which they took the side lights off Mr. Carnahan's car that stood in the same garage with Mr. Murphy's, using them to give light while at work, instead of the garage electric lights. They also blinded the windows. Before departing with the auto they stole about 20 gallons of gasoline, even draining Mr. Carnahan's car of gas.

This was the third attempt to steal Mr. Murphy's valuable car within that year. The car was later found damaged and abandoned. No account could be found to ascertain whether the criminals were apprehended.

Hilltop Chamber Of Commerce Was Sought In 1921

Hilltop Chamber of Commerce was an enterprising movement in the community back in February, 1921, when its organization was perfected.

At its initial meeting at the Carlisle & Kerr Store, 34 business men were present. Reports of committees sowed that 54 business firms on the Hilltop had signed as members. Officers elected included: president, J. W. Worrel of the Hilltop Bank; vice-president, R. G. Hauntz of Hauntz Grocery; secretary, C. E. Helmbrecht of Carlisle & Kerr Co.; and treasurer, Fred Raether of the Economy Store.

Board of directors: M. H. Prior, H. R. Gibson and Dr. L. B. Turney.

TERNSTEDT DIVISION — GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION — COLUMBUS PLANT

TERNSTEDT had its beginning in Detroit, Mich., when in 1917 Alva K. Ternstedt organized the Ternstedt Manufacturing Company to produce a newly-patented closed-car window regulator which was the first completely dependable device of its kind. Practically from the beginning, most of the output of the plant was taken by Fisher Body. On May 1, 1920, Ternstedt Manufacturing Company became a subsidiary of Fisher Body. At that time, its payroll totaled only 351 employes.

In developing Ternstedt to its present proportions, Fisher merged into it three companies: International Stamping Company, Sheppard Art Metal Company and England Manufacturing Company. So, under the name of Ternstedt, for the first time in the automobile industry, was gathered a complete staff of appointment engineers, designers, artists and modelers, prepared to meet the increasing demand for artistic harmony of design in automotive body hardware, interior fittings and similar appointments.

Ternstedt has grown steadily from a small one-product plant until today it manufactures complete lines of automotive hardware in plants located in Detroit, Michigan; Trenton, New Jersey and Columbus, Ohio.

In each G.M. car there are about 400 Ternstedt products, each adding to the car's comfort, facilities and beauty. When you perform the simple operation of turning the key and getting into the car, you use approximately 40 parts produced by Ternstedt. These include the door lock assembly which in itself contains 30 parts—the outside door handle, interior door handle control, hinges, door check and hold-open device.

Mr. and Mrs. America will be unable to see all of the 400 Ternstedt products from a casual inspection of a G.M. car. Approximately 40 percent of them are covered by interior trim cloth or panels. Of course, if these parts did not work properly, car owners would be acutely aware of them. It is a credit to the workmanship of the men and women of Ternstedt that they are trouble-free and can be taken for granted.

In the latter part of 1944, General Motors announced an extensive expansion program to take care of the ever-increasing demand for G.M. cars and again it became necessary to expand the Ternstedt facilities to provide the hardware necessary to meet the higher volume of production in the car divisions.

Excavation work for the Columbus plant got under way on July 5, 1945 and on August 30, 1946 the new plant performed its first productive operation. In October, 1948 the Columbus plant embarked upon the production of automobile seat springs, a product that was not only new to Ternstedt but was new to General Motors, which again increased employment opportunities for the residents of Columbus and surrounding communities.

On September 16, 1948, the three Ternstedt plants were separated from the Fisher Body Division and established as the Ternstedt Division of General Motors Corporation.

Throughout the years, the quality and craftsmanship of products made by Ternstedt have contributed to make the emblem "Body by Fisher" a trademark of quality and integrity the world over. Today, the name of Ternstedt stands for the best in automotive hardware. The men and women of Ternstedt have a right to be proud of the comfort and pleasures of Mr. and Mrs. America's motoring.

The total employment of the Ternstedt Division currently rests at 21,000 in the three plants and offices. Some 4400 are employed in the Columbus plant.

The Ternstedt story is one of progress, but even more than that it is a specific example of how free men, working together in a free economy, can plan—and build—and dream to the end that there will be more and better things for more people. This is the American way—it is our fervent hope that it shall always be so.

Hilltop Kiwanians Are Busily Engaged In Preparation For Annual Christmas Newspaper

Local Kiwanis Club Organization Resulted From Pair Of Sore Feet

Five years have passed since the organization of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club and only a few of the members realize that this progressive civic organization had its inception from a pair of "aching feet". Had it not been for those troublesome pedal extremities of Northwest Kiwanian Robert F. (Bob) Hill there might not have been the strong and active Hilltop Kiwanis Club that exists today.

It was in late 1943 that Hill went to the offices of J. W. (Jim) Miles, Sr., for a set of appliances to ease the pain for those aching feet. In the course of the next year Hill imparted to Miles the enthusiasm he himself held for Kiwanis and they discussed many times the feasibility of organization of a Kiwanis Club for the Hilltop. The plans fostered by these two men over that pair of "aching feet" led to the eventual formation of Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

By 1945 Hill's abilities had carried him into the office of lieutenant governor of Division No. 5 of the Ohio District of Kiwanis International. The plans for the founding of the Hilltop Club were pushed to a rapid conclusion by Ed J. Will, then president, and William K. (Bill) Hall, inter-club chairman of the sponsoring Northwest Kiwanis Club.

Lt. Gov. Hill handled the arrangements with the Ohio District and Kiwanis International while Jim Miles and a small group of Hilltop business men, including Noble Allen, Fred Warden, Dr. Jack W. Miles, Ed Milvin, Herb Deems and Don Smith, superintended the organization of the new Hilltop club.

Through their efforts a charter petition, with the names of 52 Hilltop business men enrolled as the charter members, was prepared and submitted.

In due course the charter was granted by Kiwanis International and the Hilltop Kiwanis Club was under way.

The charter was formally presented at a gala "Charter Party" held at the Seneca Hotel Sept. 6, 1945, with more than 100 Kiwanians and their wives attending.

After an address of welcome by Ed J. Will, president of the sponsoring Northwest Club, and the introduction of honored guests by Pete Land, secretary of the Ohio District, the charter was presented by Herbert C. Doughty, then governor of the Ohio District, to Jim Miles, first president of the Hilltop Club.

Kiwanis dignitaries present to honor the new club included Past International President Edmund F. Arras, Lt. Governor Bob Hill, Div.-8, Lt. Governor David T. Selvar, Div. 9, Lt. Governor Carl A. Frey, Div. 11, and Past Lt. Governors Depew Head and George Fritche.

Guests included delegations from other Franklin County clubs: Northern, Linden, Northwest and Downtown Columbus, as well as from Lancaster, Mt. Vernon, Newark, Circleville and Chillicothe.

Many of the visiting clubs brought gifts and these were presented and were accepted for the Hilltop Club by H. G. Deems.

The initial group of officers of the Hilltop Club included Jim W. Miles, president; H. G. Deems, vice-president; Noble L. Allen, secretary, and Curtis G. Wilcox, treasurer.

The first members of the board of directors were Charles H. Campbell, Ed Melvin, Jack W. Miles, Fred Warden, Lou G. Rausch, Don Smith and Clarence Story.

Since its organization, five years ago, the Hilltop Kiwanis Club has grown steadily and now boasts 100 members. It has developed numerous activities, many of which, in addition to fulfilling its Kiwanis functions, are of real service to the Hilltop community.

Fellowship is one of the major projects of Kiwanis and in addition to the fine fellowship that exists within this club, a warm bond of fellowship between Hilltop Kiwanis Club and the Northwest Kiwanis Club has resulted in almost constant visitation between these two clubs.

Within the short span of only five years, the Hilltop Kiwanis Club has become one of the outstanding clubs in the entire Ohio District of Kiwanis International.

Shown in the above photo are officers of the local Hilltop Business Association who have guided the destinies of this active community civic group for the past year. Left to right, front row, are Joseph Briggs, Phillip V. Stout, Ed Witherspoon, president, John Nippert and Jack Morris. Second row, left to right, are Dr. Paul V. Haught, Sam Alford and Elmer Hegenberger.

Shown in the above photo is Jack Morris, fulltime paid secretary of the Hilltop Business Association, a move which was made earlier during this current year by the association to better correlate the many activities of the organization. In addition to his duties as secretary of the organization Morris also conducts the sales tax agency for the West Side, which is another important stride taken by the association. Contemplated in the near future is the sale of drivers' licenses and auto tags by the business group in cooperation with the local Hilltop Kiwanis Club.

Grace R. Clifton In Race For State Senator

Grace R. Clifton, candidate for State Senator from 10th District, is a housewife, mother, and former school teacher, who has devoted much of her life to public service. She was a member of the Columbus Board of Education for 12 years and has been active in other civic, educational, and religious organizations.

Mrs. Clifton advocates a minimum wage with annual increases for teachers, a maximum pension for retired teachers and public employees, and a school building financing program.

She feels that we also need adequate laws to protect labor to insure comfortable living conditions, and that we need to assure the prices a farmer gets for his products. She also opposes any and all economic discrimination.

Henry J. Linton Is Candidate For Judgeship

Henry J. Linton is a candidate for Judge of the Common Pleas Court on the separate judicial ballot. He is a Republican and received his party's nomination at the primary election.

Mr. Linton is a graduate of Wilmington College and of the College of Law of Ohio State University, having worked his way through both. From 1933 to 1937 Linton was special counsel to Attorney General John W. Bricker. He has served as a member of the Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority since 1941 by appointment of the Common Pleas Court of Franklin County.

Meets Former Chum In Japan

Pfc. John H. Sheren, son of Mrs. Cora Sheron of 105 N. Westmoor-av, in a letter home this past week, reveals he is now stationed in Tokyo and that he has just encountered a West High School chum, Kenneth Sharp who was also in Japan for a few days prior to shipment to Korea or some other station. John, a marine, was on guard duty when he met Kenneth, a sailor, and learned that they were quartered in the same barracks. The reunion was short lived since young Sharp was shipped out in a few days. He stated in his letter that the casualties returning from the Korean front were very pitiful to behold.

Community Cooperation Is HBA Theme

"Community Cooperation" has been the theme on which the Hilltop Business Association, Inc., has operated for the past twenty-five years to compile an enviable record of public service that but few organizations anywhere can match or achieve.

Few Hilltoppers remember back over that span of twenty-five years when the Business Association had its first inception in the fall of 1925. And but few Hilltoppers even today realize how this progressive organization keeps its committees in touch with city, and state programs and officials; how it represents this section of Columbus by intelligently requesting and suggesting civic betterments for the Hilltop. Many of the small everyday problems are taken for granted by the public, but it has been the HBA that has tackled them, large and small.

It was in the year of 1924 that the Hilltop community received its so-called "white electric street lights." A parade and celebration were in order to mark the occasion and this was sponsored by several Hilltop business men who served barrels of cider and hundreds of doughnuts to the many who attended.

The success of this community get-together and far-sightedness of several business men as to the eventual worth of an organization for the common good prompted about 20 business men to band together and form the business organization known as Hilltop Improvement Club. This name was soon changed to the Hilltop Business Men's Association;; which name has since been changed to the Hilltop Business Association, due to the fact that there are business ladies as well as men in the organization.

The first officers elected in 1925 were Carl M. Marsch, president; C. O. Miller, secretary; Fred Sulzberger, treasurer.

Some of the business men forming a nucleus of this association were A. Rogers, Seiller's, George Painter, Dr. T. S. Fox, George Matson, Fred Raether, Roy Hastings, Dr. L. Turner, Wyatt Millikin, J. D. Budd, Dr. Wolfe, Cliff Cohn. Some of these members are now deceased, but the pleasant memory of their work lingers on.

At present the association is composed of approximately 190 prominent business men and women on the Hilltop with the following officers: Ed Witherspoon, president; Dr. Palmer Cordray, second vice-president; Jack Morris, secretary; Elmer Hegenberger, treasurer. Trustees are Sam Alford, Joe Briggs and Dr. R. J. Miller.

The organization has grown not only in membership but also in its activities. They sponsor the well known Hilltop Minstrels, Football Appreciation Banquets for West High football teams. They help and cooperate with other civic organizations in furthering the progress and needs of the Hilltop community, not only in a business way but also culturally, morally and scholastically.

The business men feel that a well educated community is a progressive one, and a truly democratic one, working together for the common good, providing good and pleasant neighborliness, promoting continued church attendance and fostering clean, ethical competition among business men, backbone of national economy.

Proceeds Of Newspaper Sale Aid Kiwanis Local Projects

Hilltop Kiwanians this week leveled their sights toward the holiday season and began formulating plans and putting them into action for the annual Christmas Newspaper edition of The Hilltop Record by Kiwanians. General chairman of the annual edition this year is Dr. Fred Marsch who today announced that the edition will be made on Dec. 14.

Marsch said that plans have all been formulated for the Christmas Edition and that committees are already at work gathering in copy, selling advertisements and preparing for the kick-off lunch which will be served the night of the sale of the newspapers. Marshalling of forces to sell the Kiwanis Christmas edition is also being done and it is hoped that this year's campaign may see nearly 300 workers aid in the project.

Entire proceeds of the paper sale and advertising will be used for the 1951 projects of the Hilltop Kiwanis Club. These projects are designed and planned to reach as many people as possible in the many activities of the club. The youth of the community are the principal beneficiaries of the activities staged annually by the local Kiwanis Club.

Marsch stressed the fact that only nine more days remain in which merchants will be able to have their advertisements appear in this annual Kiwanis Christmas edition and urged that all who may have not yet been contacted by one of the Kiwanis advertising committee, get in touch with him at once. He said that Nov. 14 has been set as the absolute final deadline for all news and advertising copy which is to appear in the edition.

Announced by Marsch this week were the various committees which are aiding in the compilation and other work attendant to the annual edition.

They are:

Committee in charge of arrangements, Ben Knepper, chairman, Sam Morrison, John Nippert, Elmer Hegenberger and Noble Allen.

Publicity committee, Franklin Sparks, chairman; Jack Sensenbrenner, Robert Knealey and Ed. Melvin.

Copy committee, C. C. Hartley and Jack Sensenbrenner.

Advertising committee, Tom Boyer, chairman. Team captains, Bob Cramer, Jim Van Nostrand, Ed Johnson, Martin Van Atta and Charles Preston.

Marsch in a recent statement to Kiwanians promised a new hat to the person who sold the most advertising for the annual Christmas edition.

Rubber And Aluminum Fins Are New Automatic Washer Feature

What do you suppose would happen if little sister Sally would load the washer all on one side of the tub and set it in motion? The answer is nothing drastic if the washer is one of the new ABC-O-washers.

The new washer has the over-flow type of rinse. This means that the tub is filled to over-flowing with rinse water, thus carrying off soap cards, dirt and scum from the top of the water, freeing the clothes of these pests.

And if Sally is the forgetful type and leaves out some of the clothes, she can raise the lid. The washer will stop operation. She can insert the clothes, close the lid and the washer will begin again at the same cycle.

The washer will wash from 1 to 18 minutes in any temperature of water desired. It has one motor which is easily accessible from a door at the front of the machine.

The washer has a top opening, simplified dial controls also on the top surface. It is a gleaming white. Matic washers being introduced in Columbus for the first time.

The makers of ABC washers, Altorfer Bros. Co., have already distributed about 10,000 of them in Pennsylvania, Ohio is next in line.

The automatic washer boasts "centric agitation," in which the two-way start and reverse action is omitted, so that a continuous washing action results. It merely pulsates outward and inward 300 times a minute.

But back to Sally. She'll have no trouble for the clothes will be evenly distributed in the tub in short order by the light aluminum fins, plus the special rubber fins on the agitator. These create a circular and tumbling action which means more washing while they also keep clothes from tangling.

The machine doesn't need to be bolted down. The tub fills with water, washes, rinses, damp-dries and shuts off automatically and any of these operations can be skipped or repeated by simply re-setting the control dial.

Humans will pass, nations of earth will cease, but the truths and principles contained in the Masonic institutions will live and operate to the end of time.—Exchange.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church of New Rome Has Served Community For 59 Year Period

Service to the community has been the aim of the congregation of St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Rome for the past 59 years.

From the time of the formal organization of the church in Oct. 1891 until 1922, services were held in a small brick schoolhouse on Fisher-rd. In 1893, the congregation bought a plot of ground at the corner of Fisher-rd and Rome-Hilliards-rd. The white frame building constructed by John and Rudolph Hiltbrunner in 1893 served the church until 1922. The present structure at 55 Pasadena-av in New Rome, was completed Oct. 22, 1922, at a cost of $26,800.

An addition was completed last April to fill the requirements of the growing congregation. On Sunday, May 7, 1950, in a special thanksgiving and dedication service, the address was given by Rev. Carl Heminghaus, now pastor of the Grace Church of Columbus. Rev. Heminghaus is the son of the first pastor of St. Paul's Church.

At the present time, there are 550 members of the congregation and 330 children enrolled in the Sunday school. It was the growth of the Sunday school that necessitated the construction of the new addition.

Service to the community is provided by the various organizations connected with the church. The first of these is the Junior Mission Band. A children's group, it provides for study and worship, and gives aid to the underprivileged children of the world. They send money, gifts of Christmas cheer, and clothing to needy children.

The Luther League fosters a four-fold program for the children, consisting of worship, work, education, and recreation. The Rhoda Guild, the young women's group of the church, is primarily interested in aid to local church and community projects. They make numerous contributions to charity, and have done much for Lutheran work in greater Columbus. One of their recent contributions of food and clothing went to the Lincoln Project in Columbus.

The Women's Missionary Federation, a group of older women in the church, gives aid to the mission fields and the general benevolence work of the national Lutheran Church.

The Brotherhood of Men, also a national group, is dedicated to devotion, education and fellowship. Similar in work to the Rhoda Guild, the men's group contributes much to the program of education within the church. Recent projects included the purchase of a movie projector, and a cabinet for the housing of choir gowns. The brotherhood also contributed to the redecoration of the church and to the Memorial Bible Camp in Fulton, O., dedicated to the servicemen of World War II.

The church has permitted the use of its basement for classrooms of the public schools in New Rome, due to the overcrowded conditions of the New Rome School. In addition, the church provides meeting quarters for the Boy Scout troop sponsored by the New Rome PTA.

Rev. Arthur P. Rismiller, the present pastor, has been associated with the church since he came to Columbus in June, 1947. He was graduated from Capital University in 1929, and from the Capital Seminary in 1932.

Rev. Rismiller began in the ministry in Baltimore, and later had pastorates in Niagara Falls and Miami, Fla. He married the former Dorothy Moloney of Columbus in 1933. The couple has two children, David, 14, and Karen, 9.

Last year, the Rhoda Guild organized a fund to help provide treatment for arthritis-ridden Dolores Freeman, one of a family of 12. Citizens of the community responded well to the appeal for funds, and the total sum raised amounted to $1600, which was used to secure Campound E, the miraculous new arthritic remedy. Dolores, although still in bed, has responded very well to treatments of the new drug.

Children of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Freeman are presently attending the Sunday school at St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

The church itself sponsors three athletic teams in the city Lutheran League, competing in softball, baseball, and dartball. All contests are played under the rules of the city recreation league.

Rev. Rismiller, in addition to his regular duties, has found time to be a member of the executive board of the Ohio District of the American Lutheran Church, and a board member of the Lutheran Welfare League.

The St. Paul's Church has had a distinguished list of pastors ever since Professor C. Heminghaus was in charge of the group at its beginning in 1891. Following him in order were Rev. Fenker, Rev. Specht, Rev. Klamforth and Professor Rickert, until 1922. Since 1922, when the present structure was completed, Rev. John Lang, Rev. Schmidt, Rev. Ivan Menchhofer, and now Rev. Rismiller have served in this capacity.

Firm To Locate On The Hilltop

In order to keep pace with a progressive community and provide the people of the Hilltop and vicinity with the benefits of soft water, a new corporation has been formed and the formal announcement of the opening of their plant at [redacted] W. Broad-st. will be made in the very near future.

This new service, managed by Sam Morrison, will operate under an exclusive franchise of the Culligan Zeolite Company, sponsors of the nationally famous Culligan Soft Water Service.

Horace W. Troop Seeking Post In Legislature

Election of Horace W. Troop, Republican to the State Legislature will assure the smaller communities and neighborhoods in Franklin County representation in this important legislative body, according to his supporters.

Troop, an attorney, is active in business, being auditor of the Westerville Creamery Co., while at the same time he is a professor in business administration at Otterbein College.

Mr. Troop is a member of various Masonic bodies, being past emminent commander of the Mt. Vernon Commandery No. 1, and the Scottish Rite. He also belongs to the Torch Club, Lions Club, the Columbus Bar Association, and he is a member of the Franklin County YMCA Board.

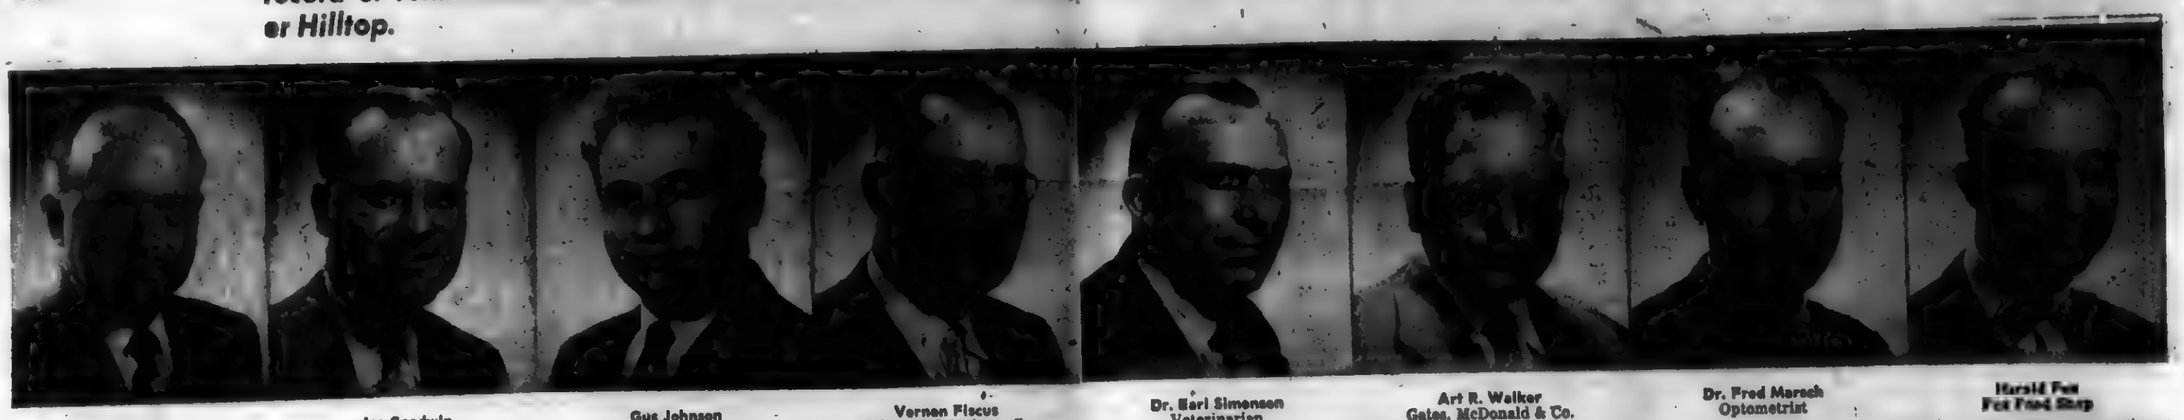
BUILDING A BETTER HILLTOP

Throughout the years the Hilltop Business Association has put the collective shoulders of its many members behind the wheels of every movement that has been good for the Hilltop. At the half century mark it is fitting to observe that this outstanding community, recognized far and wide, has been built through the efforts of community cooperation of its many individual merchants and business people and the citizens they serve.

You are therefore strengthening your community and increasing your own property values when you patronize your handy, dependable and friendly local Hilltop business people who are members of The Hilltop Business Association.



In keeping with an ever expanding program, the Hilltop Business Association has secured for the Hilltop and West Side a sales tax agency. Sales tax stamps are now on sale at the offices of the association, 3183 W. Broad St. Revenue derived from the sale of the stamps will be used by the association to enlarge its civic program. The response of local vendors to this new service has been most gratifying to date. The association takes this opportunity to extend its sincere thanks to these and prospective purchasers and point out to the public that its patronage of these firms is just another way of saying "thank you" for an ever vigilant community spirit.

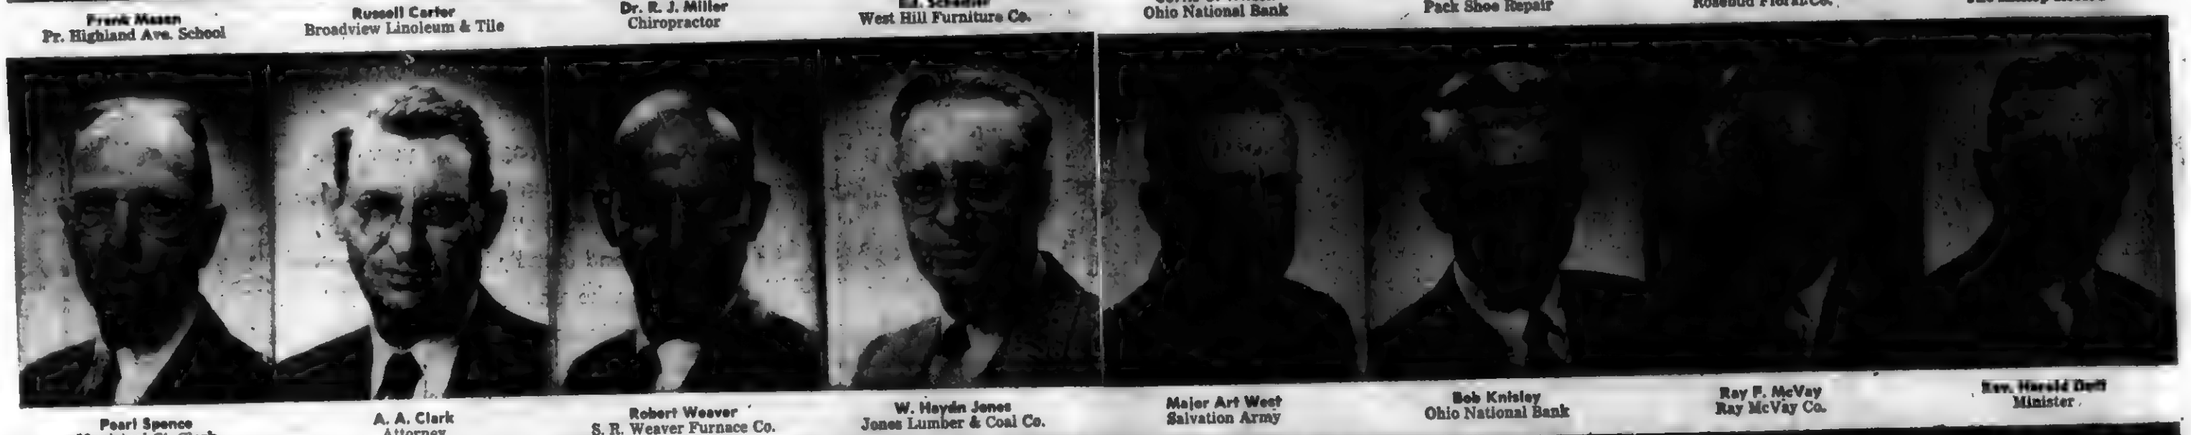
KIWANIS SERVES



As we pause to observe that 1950 marks the Mid Century of Progress for our country it is well to reflect that what has made America strong has been the worthwhile advancements in a way of living that has been developed in just such a community as the Hilltop. We who have made our homes in this community and been so fortunate as to do business with the people of this community are proud of the high type community that has developed during this period of 50 years. While the Hilltop Kiwanis Club is a young organization of only a few years it has in these few years had a record of remarkable success and one that has been one of the contributing factors in the development of an even finer Hilltop.

S. J. Westlake, The Hilltop's Oldest Printer And Founder Of The Record, Recalls Early Days

C. Carlton Hartley, publisher of The Hilltop Record, and S. J. Westlake, founder of the newspaper, exchange pleasantries on the occasion of the expansion of The Hilltop Record plant.

By Myron T. Seifert

Hilltop's oldest printer and founder of The Hilltop Record, S. J. Westlake, 249 S. Burgess-av peered into the future and predicted many more advances in the science of printing.

Since his early printing days were manual, Westlake, in a nostalgic mood, couldn't help recalling early events that transpired during his early apprentice days.

He began his career on the DELAWARE SIGNAL, a prohibition weekly at Delaware, O. At that time he was not quite 14 years old and stood on a box in order to reach the type case.

Wages were low, then, he recalls. He worked 10 hours each day and for the first five weeks received no pay. The next six months his salary was $1 per week.

Westlake recalls that his start at the printing trade was no pleasant experience at first and at times he felt like quitting for something else. As an inducement to keep him interested in the trade, his father took him to the Ohio State Fair, which proved to be one of the outstanding and best remembered events of his life.

Looking back, Westlake states that times have certainly changed and especially has the way of dressing changed. "A fellow dressing to go out in 'society' would don his boiled shirt and a white muslin shirt with a stiff pleated bosom covering the whole upper front and starched to such stiffness that it resembled a heavy six-ply cardboard, splendid for hot weather. It, like all men's shirts at that time, buttoned up or down the back. A fellow these days thinks he has it hard if he has to keep track of one collar button at the back of his neck. But just think of starting overhead at the top button and going directly south all along the spinal column fastening up a row of them and finishing underhanded in a half circle bent position," says Westlake.

"If he had no boiled shirt, perhaps he had a 'dickey' a white bosom as above but without a shirt around it. But a fellow couldn't take his coat off for fear of exposing his other shirt."

"If he had no dickey, he might have a 'Dirty shirt neck tie', a more made tie about three inches wide that covered up the V space above his vest. He usually wore Congress gaiters. The Congress gaiter has a high shoe with leather front and back and rubber sides. To put it on, one had to face north, stand on one foot, point his shoe nearly south; with one finger of each hand he would stretch the top of the shoe apart, stick his foot in, turning the shoe like sixty."

"Women's hoop skirts had just gone out of style. One could occasionally be found thrown out in the alley or dumps."

"Women with bustles were all the go," he continues. He described the bustle as "assisting a woman's dress to stick out behind like a 'lean-to' kitchen on a house."

The state fair grounds were then at Franklin Park, with dusty roads leading to them. Horse cars were used.

At the time there was a double tunnel on the east side of N. High-st where the viaduct is now. Street cars ran through it. A team of horses hitched to the car at the bottom of the incline and helped to pull it out.

High-st cars were white. Nell and Friend (now Main) were green. E. Long cars were red. W. Broad cars came to High-st and were turned around on a turntable in the center of the street. They ran as far west as the foot of the hill.

Fifty years ago the state house dome was a point of interest for visitors to Columbus. After climbing up the 165 steps one could see all over the city. About the tallest building in Columbus at the time was the old Columbus Buggy Co., and the Peters Dash Co. building west of High between Spring and Naughten-sts.

The old "Bad Lands," between High-st and Fourth-sts from Gay-st to the Union Station was considered about the toughest place in Ohio, then.

Typesetting machines were an impossibility then. Steam was the motive of power. The old typographical tourist, the tramp printer, was seeing his glorious days. He was satisfied if he got just enough work in a town to supply him with sufficient drink until he could get to the next town.

The old canal was still in operation. Boats came as far as W. Main-st, then along the east side of the river under the old Broad-st bridge to a point just north of the bridge near Long-st.

The first electric car in the nineties was an experiment. It was a little green car that ran east on Chittenden-av to the new state fair grounds. The first regular electric car placed in service was on W. Broad-st, Mr. Westlake recalls.

Old McGuffey readers were used in the schools then, "and by the way, I believe there has never been a reader since that could equal it," Westlake adds.

Cleaner Washings, Better Rinsing Greater Satisfaction!

WITH THE NEW

A.B.C.O.matic

COMPLETELY AUTOMATIC WASHER

LIMITED SUPPLY FOR DELIVERY RIGHT NOW

IT'S NEW- IT'S DIFFERENT- IT'S BETTER!

Never before in the history of washers has there been such a remarkably efficient washer developed. Entirely new in conception, new in washing action, new in rinsing principle, the ABC-O-MATIC leads them all in washing and rinsing ability. Don't expect just another automatic washer. This new ABC-O-MATIC was developed by industry men who helped pioneer the first power-driven washer.

JUST LOAD IT . . . SET THE DIALS AND WALK AWAY FROM WORK!

AMERICA'S FINEST AUTOMATIC WASHER

Cleaner Washing

"CENTRIC" AGITATION

A sensational improvement in washing action. Up to now, the standard agitator represented the most effective way of getting clothes clean. Now "centric" agitation is an important improvement. Instead of two-way start and reverse action, "centric" agitation is a continuous washing action—easier on the clothes and more effective because of even clothes distribution. It does not reverse—it pulsates.

DISTRIBUTES CLOTHES EVENLY

It makes no difference how you place clothes in your ABC-O-MATIC. "Centric" agitation action will quickly distribute the clothes evenly in the tub—automatically. The result is better, cleaner washings.

This washing principle causes clothes to circulate counter-clockwise and are surged from the bottom upward and down again every 20 to 50 seconds.

- There is no tangling of clothes! . . . no balling . . . clothes are handled gently, rubbing and squeezing.
- Clothes are rubbed by the washing action . . . washing with, instead of against, the agitator. This means clothes are washed with more safety and far less wear and tear.

Better Rinsing

REVOLUTIONARY 3-STEP RINSING FOR CLEANER CLOTHES

1. DEEP POWER SPRAY RINSE — While tub fills with fresh water, the agitator is loosening all dirt and soap scum from the clothes.
2. FLUSHING OVER-FLOW RINSE — After the agitator stops, water continues to flow, over-flowing tub and carrying every dirt and soap scum.
3. SPLASH-AWAY POWER RINSE — With tub full of water, the agitator splashes water up and out of the tub . . . dirt can never circulate back through the clothes.

SPINNER DRYING

ABC's wide tub allows greater centrifugal force to get clothes dry faster. Clothes are dry in a minimum of time, satisfactory to you.

Greater Satisfaction

THESE ADDED FEATURES MAKE THE AUTOMATIC AN EVEN BETTER BUY!

SIGNAL-LIGHT — Shows when washer is operating. A convenient and step-saving feature — when light goes off, it indicates washing cycle has been completed.

AUTOMATIC LEVELIZER — Self-leveling device that compensates for the difference in floor level. This provides sturdy footing to eliminate excessive vibration even during the spin cycle of the washer.

LESS VIBRATION . . . NO BOLTING DOWN — Harmful vibration is reduced to a minimum without additional mechanism for balancing. "Centric" agitation washing principle in the ABC-O-MATIC distributes clothes evenly automatically, and provides a better balance of clothes in the tub during the spin period. Therefore, no bolting down is required. This feature alone adds years to the life of your washer.

IN WAR AND PEACE...Bill Downs, CBS correspondent. Picture above was taken in Korea, during the fighting.

"All our lives we face those fox-hole moments...

"But there's a way for each of us to find the inner strength that pulls us through,"

—says CBS correspondent BILL DOWNS

"When the course of your life can be changed by the choice of this job or that...

"When an illness of your child reaches crisis state...

"When the happiness of your son hangs upon a decision he must make, alone...

"When you face tough times—or temptations of good fortune...

"When the first baby is on the way...

"These are some of the fox-hole moments all of us face, at one time or another, all our lives. They are the times when health, happiness, or success for ourselves and those we love depends on help no human being can give.

"And so we look to God for guidance and for strength, seeking through prayer and faith the answer to our problems.

"In my travels during war and peace," says Mr. Downs, "I've noticed that those who have the courage to solve the problems they face as individuals and as citizens...are the men and women with strong religious faith.

"People in every land I've visited have told me how much their faith has helped them to store up the inner resources all of us need to get the most from daily living... in happy as well as in unhappy times.

"As I look at it, our personal problems and the problems of the world we live in will come much nearer solution when we have the hope that comes from faith...

"The faith that grows with closer contact with our church."

Rodenfels Is Pioneer Auto Dealer In County

Rodenfels Chevrolet Co., 555 W. Broad-st, is one of the pioneer auto dealers in Franklin County.

Leo Rodenfels, founder of the firm, began selling Chevrolets in London, O., in 1924. Four years later he purchased the West Broad Chevrolet Company and moved the business to 2596 W. Broad-st. Endeavoring to become more centrally located, from the standpoint of service to Chevrolet owners of the West Side, the company moved to 1160 W. Broad-st, in [redacted].

The need for more space than was available at that location was keenly felt as early as 1941 but because of World War II the building program planned at that time was postponed.

Construction on the building which houses the new car sales room, offices and repair department, was started in 1947, and completed in the spring of 1948. The body and paint shop occupies the additional building which was completed in March of 1950, to bring all services to one convenient, central location.

H. C. Lloyd, used car manager at Rodenfels since 1929, is in charge of the used car and truck lot, located just east of 555 W. Broad-st.

The firm employs over 80 persons, more than 25 per cent of whom have been with the company 19 years or longer.

Officers are, Leo Rodenfels, chairman of the board of directors, Dick Rodenfels, president, John Rodenfels, vice-president and treasurer, M. A. Rodenfels, secretary, and H. C. Lloyd, used car manager.

WESTLAKE

"Yes, times have changed," says Westlake, as he thinks back of the good old days.

S. J. Westlake, co-founder of the Record, recalls some interesting facts about the early life of the paper as follows:

The first issue of the Record was printed in a small back room on the fourth floor of the Wesly Block (101 N. High-st). Capital stock on hand when the shop was started was $10. The paper was actually all set by hand type. It was printed one page at a time, the paper being folded and refolded. Receipts from advertising for the first week were $19.

During the first year working hours in getting out the paper were from 5 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.

The print shop was moved to 2354 W. Broad-st June 1, 1917, which was the date of the first Hilltop Record printed on the Hilltop.

During the winter of 1917-18 there were "heatless Mondays" in order to conserve coal. On these days work was done with overcoats on.

On May 30, 1918, Mr. Westlake issued a special Memorial Day edition containing a service flag printed in red and blue with a star for each Hilltop man in the war. In order to get this information he made a complete house to house canvass of the community.

Mrs. Clara Ditrick was for several years circulation manager of the Record.

John Guy Bids For Seat In Congress

John W. Guy, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 12th District, this week pledged himself to greater federal aid to Franklin County in a 10-point platform based on liberal, progressive measures.

A native of Franklin County, Guy declared that since childhood he has been familiar with the problems of the working man, farmer and small businessman.

Guy is a product of Grandview schools. From May 1, 1936, to Oct. 30, 1948, he served as bailiff in the Domestic Relations Division of Common Pleas Court. He served as Columbus postmaster from Nov. 1, 1948, to Dec. 1, 1949. He returned to his position in the court last December.

In addition, he is the owner and operator of Guy's Ohio Company, a wholesale poultry raisers supply firm, and Arlington Gardens, wholesale nursery stock and supply company. He has been active in Democratic party councils for some 30 years.

Lake Erie has the best smallmouth bass fishing in the world. Three of the islands are known as Bass Islands.

Hilltop Writers Of Verse And Poetry Contribute Much To Cultural Life Of Community

To Hilltop Poets:

It is my sincere hope that none of you has been overlooked. If I have omitted any one and he will contact me or send in a biographical sketch and poem, they will be used in a future edition of the Record. Thank you all for your fine cooperation.

CLAUDIA M. ADAMS

Claudia is a charming young lady who lives at 433 S. Warren-av; is one of the state's outstanding poets. Her work has "made" numerous publications and has received countless awards. After attending Ohio State University she taught school in Nevada and California; is now a clerical worker in Columbus. Her hobbies: music, reading and flowers.

Claudia's poem reprinted from The Davis Anthology of Newspaper Verse follows:

EXPLANATION

I cannot say what things I would—
Small words come slowly, slower, stop—
The floods dammed up within my heart
Cannot be measured, drop by drop.

Joy is so brief it's gone while sharing,
Grief is like a person drugged to sleep—
Alive, but sunk in stupor heavy,
One cannot speak from out its deep.

And so . . . my words are pale, frail things—
Rose petals flung upon the air—
And if men smile to see them fall,
It seems to me no more than fair.

NELLIE GRAY AMSBARY

Mrs. Amsbary, 208 N. Harris-av, has been a semi-invalid for many years. She has written many lovely poems and has composed several songs, despite her handicap. One of her encouraging articles recently appeared in "Daily Word." Some of her plays and songs have been used on church programs and she has also written scenarios. Now this ambitious little lady is planning a novel and I'm sure it will be a best-seller. A former art teacher, she was occupational therapist at Columbus State Hospital for 17 years. Another hobby of Mrs. Amsbary's is music.

The following poem was written especially for this issue of the Record:

THE LITTLE FLOWER OF GOLD

I plucked a little flower of gold today
And I thought "God has been good to me;
He has lain me by along the way—"
I pondered why that it should be,
But in the little flower of gold
I traced the pattern of His hand
And then I knew His will to hold
My life tenderly, as the flower of gold
He grew upon this land.

MARY RUTAN BYERLY

Mrs. Byerly is a long-time resident of the Hilltop and lives at present at 235 S. Harris-av. Her poems have been printed in newspapers and verse publications. She recently collaborated on a sacred song and has had a collection of her poems published. Her hobbies are quilting and making scrapbooks.

Numerous admirers of Mrs. Byerly's work will like this poem, reprinted from "Versewriter's Guild Anthology":

THE SECRET

If, by some secret mystic power,
You could unlock my house of clay—
And view the things that live therein,
You might turn pale and to me say
Some things I never heard you speak . . .
After you looked into my heart
And found old dreams still burning there—
Youth's flames that will not from me part!
It may be well for you to know—
Could you accomplish this one thing—
That underneath the embers there,
Lies the secret that makes you sing.

MR. AND MRS. O. H. CRAFT

At 2661 W. Broad-st there are three poets, Mr. and Mrs. Craft, and Mrs. Craft's son by a former marriage, Walter Gibson, age 18. Walter has many fine poems to his credit. Mrs. Craft's other interests are singing and violin-playing. She has studied voice and has sung in choirs most of her life. She has played violin with several orchestras.

Mr. Craft, well known as a real estate broker, has written poetry and songs; also editorials for local newspapers.

Poems by these versatile and talented people follow. Mrs. Craft's; it was written expressely for this edition:

OCTOBER DREAMS

October is a month of beauty, made for all our dreams,
When golden harvest gives a picture of what this season means.

Laughing waters sparkle lightly,
reflecting amber hues,
Frolicksome clouds above our heads seem filled with bursting news.
Heralding all the wonders of another mysterious day,
Birds wing high and sail the sky;
children are hard at play.
It is then we should bow our heads in prayer for all the things we see,
As reverence is due our Creator of all, our blessed Deity.

Mr. Craft's poem:

DON'T GIVE UP

Don't give up when things are looking blue,
The pathway you are treading is not alone for you.
Along this way, yes, long before you came,
Another trod with thoughts very much the same.
They learned the darkness could not hide
The clearing light of morningtide.
A new day is born all clear and bright,
Use it well and you need not fear the night.

VIRGINIA EATON

Perhaps the most widely-published and certainly one of the best poets in Ohio is Virginia Eaton, who is Mrs. Harry M. Eaton of 418 S. Roys-av. Her work has been used in text books for schools and colleges; on many radio programs and in all the better poetry publications; church, club bulletins and newspapers. It has also appeared frequently in leading fiction magazines, including Good Housekeeping, Ladies' Home Journal and others. A collection of her poems was published several years ago by a Cleveland editor.

This poem by Virginia is reprinted from her book, "Laughter Through Tears," and is representative of her fine work:

DREAMS

Today I sew a wee layette
With stitches fine;
And for a moment I forget
It is not mine.

My thoughts wing outward as I run
A narrow seam;
Against my heart I hold a son
So dear a dream . . .

His father's dark-lashed eyes of gray
(I've longed for this;)
A rosebud mouth on which I lay
A soft, light kiss.

I count each little dimpled toe,
A clock chimes three . . .
Waking, my trembling hands still sew
For charity.

HOPE WHITE GIBSON

Hope Gibson is one of the Hilltop's artist-poets. She and her sister, Lelia White, a teacher of voice, who is also well-known, live and have their studios at 142 N. Ogden-av. Mrs. Gibson's poetry is as exquisitely lovely as her paintings and has appeared in newspaper verse columns and magazines; has been featured on several radio programs. She has been employed by the F. & R. Lazarus Co. 28 years.

One of her reprinted poems follows:

OF YESTERDAY

My first love crossed my path
Just yesterday.
He touched my hand in greeting
Casually.
We talked a moment—inconsequential
Things,
Then on our way to smile—
Remembering.

The vows of undying love
We pledged,
Forever and forevermore
Decreed
And now like petals of a lovely rose
We laid
Between the pages of a book we meant
To read.

MABEL NADER JONES

Mabel Jones who lives at 75 N. Ogden-av is not a prolific writer of poetry but her output makes up in quality what it lacks in quantity. Here is a writer of usually serious verse who has a wonderful sense of humor, and like her poetry is delightful. (She likes me too—I hope.)

Her hobbies are her family and poetry. She takes an active part in church and club activities; her poetry has received high praise when she finds time to submit it to editors for publication. One of her daughters is Judy Jones, of the Record.

Mabel wrote the lovely poem which follows, for this issue of the Record:

OBLIGATO

Sunday morning, bathed in summer,
Comes through the window, open wide,
To mingle with the churchly peace inside.

The choir stands to sing
An anthem practiced faithfully, soars higher—
When suddenly, sweetly, unrehearsed,
A redbird trills an obligato
To blend in beauty with the choir.

Harmony falls in a waiting quiet;
The song the vested choir sings
Suddenly seems brushed with angel wings.

MAYBELLE MILLIKIN

Another Hilltop writer of verse and prose is Mrs. Wyatt Millikin, 53 S. Warren-av. A book of her poems was published in 1942. She holds membership in several literary groups and is active in their behalf.

This busy lady helped inaugurate the first Girl Scout cookie sale in Columbus and has been active in the Columbus chapter of Alumni of Wittenberg College. Her poetry has been enjoyed by radio and club audiences and has been widely published.

This poem is reprinted from her book which is entitled "Dreams That Sing":

LOVE OF BEAUTY

I love the gold of sunset
And each pearl of dew.
I love the joy of living
And true friends like you.

I love the breath of evening
And clear stars that shine;
The sunshine of your love
Makes the world all mine.

OLA S. RUNYAN

The fine poetry which appears in newspaper verse columns and verse publications signed simply by the initials "O. S. R." is written by Mrs. Runyan who lives at 125 S. Wayne-av.

Mrs. Runyan has a volume of poetry to her credit which has received favorable reviews. The book was published in 1945 by The Hilltop Record. The chief hobby of this Hilltopper is reading. She has written historical articles and other prose.

The following poem is reprinted from her book, "Starlight and Other Poems":

AUTUMN

A field of soldiers, dressed in green,
I saw in early fall;
They all wore tassels in their caps
And each stood straight and tall.

But now the soldiers all are gone,
This frosty autumn morn;
And rows of tepees take their place,
Each filled with Indian corn.

ETHEL TITUS WORTHEN

Mrs. Worthen resides at 2567 W. Broad-st and has been writing poetry about 25 years. She recently published the second collection of her poems, honoring the memory of her son, Pfc. Robert D. Worthen, who died overseas in 1944. This book was published by The Hilltop Record and its name is "Memories." Two of her poems have been set to music, and several have been read on radio programs. She is perhaps best known for her religious poetry, which has been published in numerous verse magazines and newspapers. Her work has many admirers.

The following poem from her second book is, in my opinion, one of her best:

DAY IS DONE

Shadowed chancel—softly lighted
Altar of candles, star the dim.
Whispering winds through tall green trees
Chant a peaceful evening hymn.

Hush! Step lightly, day is done—
Work and cares all laid aside:
In reverence, we kneel and pray
Dear Lord, with us abide.

Camp Chase Auxiliary Group Active In Community Affairs

One of the most active women's organizations on the Hilltop is the Auxiliary to Camp Chase Post No. 98, of the American Legion.

Composed of mothers, daughters, wives and sisters of veterans of World Wars I and II, the organization was granted its charter July 18, 1929. The names of 76 members appear on the charter.

—The Camp Chase Unit also has a Junior Auxiliary composed of daughters of veterans of the two world wars, ages ranging from infancy to 18 years.

An outstanding group within the auxiliary is the permanent degree team, which conducts initiatory work for the unit and on many occasions has conducted the degree work for various units throughout the city and surrounding towns.

The auxiliary is widely known for its community service, taking part in all community affairs and helping many organizations. This year, the auxiliary is sponsoring the activities of the Wakako Campfire Group. This group helped to operate a candy booth in the Hallowe'en party at West High School.

This year the auxiliary members spent many hours in the solicitation of funds for the Community Chest. Rehabilitation for the veteran and his family is made possible through the funds derived from the sale of poppies. The auxiliary is also helping in the preparation of an Armistice Day breakfast to be given at the post headquarters, 10 S. Burgess-av.

Last Monday, members of the auxiliary were the special guests of Irwin Johnson's Breakfast Show on WBNS-TV at 9:30 a. m. Each year, in conjunction with Americanism work, an American flag is presented to some worthy church, club or organization. Another project is the sponsoring of delegates to the American Legion's Boys' State and Girls' State.

Treats are sent each month to the following hospitals: Dayton, Chillicothe, Bruxville, and the local State Hospital. At Christmas and Easter gifts are sent to the children in the Soldiers and Sailors Home in Xenia, Ohio.

Nineteen presidents in the order named have served the auxiliary, Helen Hoar, Mildred Williams, Lillian Richardson, Delia Wagner, Mabie Rogers, Mildred Myers, Edna Beller, Bertha Planck, Ruth Wilson, Martha Finneran, Helen Kirkpatrick, Harriet Brown, Frances Myers, Alga Kinnan, Bernice Davies, Edna Johnson, Mary Thompson, Esther Weidner, Esther Scales, Mary Fiscus, and Lillian McVey. At the present time, Mrs. Dorothy Thompson, 230 N. Oakley-av, is the president of the unit. All past presidents are members of the Parley, which meets twice a year.

Shelby Countian Seeking Appeals Court Position

Shelby County Common Pleas Judge Huber A. Beery is a candidate for judge of the Second District Court of Appeals on Nov. 7. The thirty-six-year-old jurist served as an FBI agent under J. Edgar Hoover during World War II.

He is widely known throughout the eleven county Second District because of frequent assignments by Chief Justice Carl Weygant to assist on the bench of neighboring common pleas court. Counties included in the Second District Court of Appeals are Darke, Shelby, Miami, Preble, Montgomery, Champaign, Clark, Greene, Madison, Fayette and Franklin.

HONOR GENERAL

Columbusites proud, patriotic, banqueted General George W. Morgan of the Second Ohio Volunteers in the Mexican War, at the American House, December 7, 1847, and gave him a $500 sword which is now in the Smithsonian Institute.

Ohio became the 17th state in the nation in 1803.

Southwest District Plans Annual Scouters Dinner

Plans are well under way for the annual scouters' dinner to be held Nov. 16 at the Westgate Methodist Church.

Co-chairmen Clayton Cook and Loren C. Galloway, together with the planning committee comprising Jim Walton, Harry Keller, Art Stappert and Frank Boehm, are working most enthusiastically to make this event a huge success and a high-light in this, the fortieth anniversary year of scouting.

Architect's Drawings Reveal New Westgate Park Shelter House Plans

Soldiers Home Was Originally Located Locally

There are probably many persons who do not know that at one time the Soldiers' Home was located on the Hilltop. On Apr. 22, 1862, the Soldiers' Aid Society caused to be established, in a room on the depot building, a place where sick and disabled soldiers could be cared for.

But on Oct. 17, 1863, it was moved into a building erected by the Columbus branch of the United States Sanitary Commission, near the Little Miami Depot. It contained 45 beds and provided great comfort for the sick and destitute soldiers and sailors.

In May, 1864, a barracks and other buildings were erected by the government on the south part of the state quarry tract near the crossing of the Columbus and Xenia railroad, now known as the P. C. C. & St. L. Railroad, and north of the State Hospital grounds. There were about 20 tenement buildings, which were given over to be used for the Soldiers' Home, which were taken possession of in September, 1865, and a larger home instituted.

An act passed by the legislature in April, 1866, established a temporary home for soldiers, with sufficient funds to maintain the institution. It also provided for the appointment of a board of trustees by the governor to manage its affairs. The home had then nearly 200 disabled soldiers. In April, 1869, by action of the trustees, the legislature ordered the removal of the patients, belongings, etc., to Dayton, to the National Soldiers' Home.

Robert W. Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jenkins, of 208 Norwich-av, was sworn into the U. S. Navy last week, and will be transferred to the Naval Training Station Great Lakes, Ill., for his recruit training. He attended Hilliard High school, where he was a six letterman, in football, basketball, and track. He gives his reason for enlisting as training, and a possible career.

New Bldg. Planned For Local Park Contains 3200 Sq. Feet

Recent announcement that the City of Columbus had approved the erection of a new shelter house in Westgate Park has evidenced much interest in the community as to just what type of building would grace the wooded area just south of the present lake and adjoining the new sunken gardens which are currently under construction.

Uppermost question being asked is "Will the new shelter house be available for year round use and will it fill Hilltop's need for a central community meeting place?"

The answer to such a question can be answered either yes or no in accordance to what one may expect of the new shelter. On the negative side is a positive "no" on the matter of basketball courts being arranged for the interior as was hoped by many of the younger set.

The architect's drawings reproduced here show the side and end views of the newly proposed shelterhouse of stone construction which was designed for the city by Ramsey and Croce, architects of N. High-st.

At one end of the 40x100 foot building is an apartment to house a full time caretaker for Westgate Park. The other end will contain toilets, storage rooms and a workshop.

The 40x80 foot center section of the building is to provide space for meetings and recreation activities. The drawing of the side view indicates that the sides of this space are to be open. However, Mr. Croce said that temporary storm doors, etc. would be used in these sections during inclement weather and that later plans call for closing in the sides so that the meeting space can be utilized the year around.

Of the five "bays", between posts on each side, two are to be equipped with 14 foot accordion-type folding doors and the other three are to be closed with a three-foot stone wall topped by glass about four feet high. In this way, it is pointed out, the sides can be opened or closed, depending on the weather.

There is to be a large fireplace at each end of the center hall, which will provide heat on chilly days, Mr. Croce said, and some auxiliary heating such as oil is being currently considered until the time when gas is again available for new heaters.

"As it is now set up," the architect explained, "the building could be used for meetings and recreation probably eight or nine months of the year. With an adequate heating system, it could be used the year around," he declared.

The 3200 square feet of space in the center of the shelterhouse is sufficient to accommodate from 350 to 500 seats for meetings, according to Croce.

This large room is to have a concrete floor at the outset, and this may later be covered with asphalt tile. The roofing will consist of composition shingles. The caretaker's apartment will consist of living room, bedroom, bath and kitchen with modern conveniences. Overall dimensions of the apartment are 26x40 feet.

The new shelter house which is to be built in Westgate Park is identical with others planned for city parks in Clintonville, Linden and the South Side.

Meanwhile city workmen under the direction of Park Superintendent Ray Dietz and Acting Service Director Arthur J. Bellar, are pushing the work on renovation of the local park by construction of new retaining walls for the lake, damming off the western portion of the lake to form the sunken gardens, filling and leveling off wooded areas of the park, resurfacing of drives and creating new parking areas all of which is in readiness for construction of the new shelterhouse and establishment of Westgate Park as one of the best kept and most beautiful in the city.

It is expected to have new sewer lines installed within the near future eliminating an open ditch which has long been a source of irritation to residents of the vicinity. Following completion of the new sewer system water is to be run into the now dry lake and it is expected that this year's skating and sledding at the lake site will be more than 100 per cent improved.

Bartlett In Bid For Vacant High Court Post

County Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett has announced his formal candidacy for judge of the Ohio Supreme Court at the Nov. 7 election.

He said, however, he would not do any campaigning because of the press of criminal cases now being brought before the county courts.

Bartlett thus became the 19th candidate to enter the field for the write-in contest for the office made vacant by the death of the late Judge Edward C. Turner, Sept. 13. Bartlett was one of 13 Democrats indorsed by the Democratic state convention.

A. E. Kiefer, 17 E. Kossuth-st, an investigator in Bartlett's office, will conduct the campaign locally.

Harry T. Vigor Asks Re-Election

Harry T. Vigor is a Republican candidate to succeed himself for the office of county commissioner.

He was born in Columbus and has lived here all his life.

Mr. Vigor has been in the meat business at Central Market for the past 40 years.

He is married and resides at 844 Montrose-av. He is a member of St. Paul Episcopal Church, a member of Humboldt Lodge, Scottish Rite, Aladdin Temple, the Jesters and the Maennerchor.

Paul Richard Koons Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Koons Sr. of 123 N. Warren-av, was sworn into the U. S. Navy last week at the New Post Office in downtown Columbus, and will be transferred to the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill. for his recruit training.

Paul attended West High School where he was a letterman on the football squad. Prior to enlisting in the Navy he was employed by the David Davies Meat Packing Co. At the time of his enlistment he stated he expected to make a career of the Navy.

First Federal Savings And Loan Had Its Origin On The Hilltop

The First Federal Savings and Loan Association, a Hilltop institution, which has grown to serve all of Columbus, has been an important factor in the development of the Hilltop.

First organized in 1922 at 12 S. Wayne-av, as the Hilltop Building and Loan Association, it became First Federal in 1935 after securing the first federal savings and loan charter in this area. A downtown office was opened that same year at 52 E. State-st.

Earlier this week it was announced that First Federal was now constructing a Bexley office at 2450 E. Main-st, to be opened sometime next spring.

President and director of the firm since 1927 has been Willard C. Eidson, a long time Hilltop booster. In 1930, Herbert G. Deems joined the association as secretary, and since 1935, has managed the Hilltop office.

Among the original directors, all of which were Hilltop residents, of the Hilltop Building and Loan Association, who are still serving as directors of First Federal are, vice-president, E. H. Stauch; treasurer, Dr. T. R. Fletcher, Dr. H. Whitehead and Charles Walton. Dr. T. S. Fox and Cecil J. Randall have served as directors for more than 20 years. Miss Lucile Glick, assistant secretary, another Hilltop resident, has been with the group since shortly after is was formed. General Counsel for the association for more than 20 years has been Morris Lopper.

During these years, the First Federal Savings and Loan Association made home ownership possible for thousands of folks by their home financing program. Still untold thousands of others have had the advantages of First Federal's Insured Savings program.

The assets of the institution are nearly 18 million dollars.

Their home loan program has been so successful that they have not had a foreclosure in 16 years.

Services offered by First Federal, include home loans, insured savings accounts, Christmas Club accounts and travelers checks.

In 1836 the first Ohio strike was recorded when the Cincinnati Harnessmakers' Union struck for higher wages and a 10-hour day.

Eshelman Inc. Plans New Half Million Dollar Plant

Eshelman Grain, Inc., of Columbus, has started construction on the Hilltop of a new, modern grain elevator and feed processing plant, it was announced by John W. Eshelman III, president of the concern.

The structure will include storage capacity of approximately 200,000 bushels, with efficient grain handling facilities, both carload and truckload. The grain loading and unloading equipment will enable the elevator to handle 10,000 bushels of grain per hour.

Located on the main line of the Big Four Railroad, near Bullivant Avenue Airport, the new plant, constructed of monolithic concrete, will cost in excess of one-half million dollars.

To manufacture Derby Feeds, the new plant will contain the most modern feed mixing equipment available; Derby Feeds are distributed by the Pickaway Grain Co.

The new firm will employ a substantial number of local residents. The officers of the company include, Ivan Hill of Harrisburg, vice-president; Adrienne H. Eshelman, Circleville, secretary.

The WARREN STORES organization of Greenfield, Ohio, is 26 years old, however, our Columbus store is but a baby—just one-third year old.

We anticipate growing stronger even as we have grown in service and merchandise offered to people of the Hilltop and surrounding areas.

It is our purpose to grow with an ever growing community, offering more for less. Come in and see us. We'll be pleased to help you.

Hunter Prepares For Date Of Nov. 15

In less than two weeks the nimrods will take to the field in search of the elusive and fast bunny and the wary pheasant and shown above is one of the Hilltop's best dressed sportsmen all ready to start out, fully equipped and ready for anything that comes along.

With two guns he feels sure of bagging some game and in order to find the elusive rabbit he is equipped with binoculars and special lenses in the "specs" of the dog to aid him too.

Some of you movie-goers who saw the picture, "Winchester 73" possibly have wondered about this gun.

The Hilltop Sporting Goods Store reports that since climbing from obscurity five months ago, the "One of One Thousand" Winchester Model 1873 rifles have become one of the most sought after collector's items in the country and 22 of the rare pieces have been uncovered from all parts of the country.

Popularly known as "the gun that won the West," this model was in limited production for about eight years and was the most accurate of every thousand of the Winchester Model 1873's made. Approximately 130 of them were produced.

Itch Rumor At West Caused Consternation

'Twas merely an idle rumor that got out 17 years ago on Feb. 17, 1933. The one about "itch" being so downright prevalent at West High — but 'twas a pernicious rumor, and set many Hilltop mothers agog with fright and frenzy.

It all started when a Hilltop doctor told a mother that her son had "itch" (whatever that is) and that there was little good to be done for it, because West High School and its little sister, West Junior High School, was full of it.

Whereupon officials, Otto H. Magly and H. H. Reighley, got busy. They called out the head school doctor, Dr. M. H. Flatter, and another one, Dr. A. B. Walton, and the head school nurse. They held a conference— a war council, as it were—and decided to search every pupil in the school for "itch."

When they had scratched and dug around over some 600 boys at West Junior, they had found one case. Just a solitary case, and "Glory be," says someone, "How on earth could one keep from finding at least a single case in so many boys!"

The count was not completed at West Senior High, but the results were being tabulated similarly to those at West High. So the gossip had been wrong, Dana Dame rumor, shouting from the housetops, was thwarted by meticulous investigation.

And Hilltop mothers once again rested in peace.

Hilltop Community Council Ever Active In Local Civic Affairs

The Hilltop Community Council outdid itself last Tuesday night at West High School when the council-sponsored Hallowe'en party for the Hilltop proved to be the biggest community event of the year.

The council, composed of all Hilltop organizations, meets once each month to discuss community problems and plan various civic functions. The proceeds from the Hallowe'en party will be used to finance many more council projects, including the annual Christmas and Easter parties for the children of the Hilltop area, and the playground openings at West Broad Street School and John Burroughs School.

Present officers of the Hilltop Community Council are Russell Carter, president; Averill Thorn, vice-president; Mrs. Bruce Tanner, recording secretary; Mrs. Earl Abrams, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Edward Thompson, treasurer.

Major committee chairmen include Mrs. Roy Cave, parks and recreation; Averill Thorn, special events, and Robert Drake, publicity.

The Council, in addition to sponsoring various parties for the younger children, takes an active part in community activities. The Council sponsored the poll among Hilltop citizens for a new school in Westgate, and contributed assistance in computing the new route for trucks on US Route 40, traveling through the Hilltop area.

Any organization on the Hilltop is invited to send a representative to any of the Community Council meetings.

Membership in the council is free, and is open to all.

Joan Lucille Pifer Bride of Jack Swicegood

Mrs. Jack Swicegood (Joan Pifer)

A bouquet of white gladioli and large white mums, outlined against the green fern and huckleberry foliage, decorated the altar of the Hillcrest Baptist Church before which Rev. Aaron Roth read the double ring ceremony Oct. 7, uniting Miss Joan Lucille Pifer and Mr. Jack Swicegood in Holy matrimony.

The former Miss Pifer is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Pifer, 2640 W. Broad-st. Mr. Swicegood is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth McInturff, 309 S. Warren-av, and the late Mr. Ray Swicegood.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Raymond Palmer, was gowned in traditional white slipper satin, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline edged with seed pearls and orange blossoms, long fitted sleeves with points over the hands and a long skirt ending in a cathedral train. A satin cap, trimmed with seed pearls and orange blossoms held in place her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a white satin Bible topped by a white orchid and white shattered mums.

The bride's attendants, gowned alike in taffeta faille, were Mrs. Rhea Carter, matron of honor, who wore nile green while Mrs. Lois Hildebrand and Miss Marilyn Swicegood, bridesmaids, wore dresses of shrimp shade. Their flowers were pink dot and bronze chrysanthemums. The attendants wore rhinestone bracelets and earrings the gift of the bride.

Mr. Richard Swicegood served as best man for his brother and the ushers were Mr. David Camp and Mr. Douglas Thomsen.

The mother of the bride received in a toast brown dress and dark brown accessories. The groom's mother received in a garnet dress with gray accessories. Both wore corsages of pink roses.

Hostesses for the reception which followed the ceremony at the church were Mrs. O. A. Valentine, Mrs. Cortland Roth and Miss Dawn Dennison.

For their honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Canada the bride changed into a green gabardine suit with dark brown accessories with which she wore the white orchid from her bouquet.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Swicegood are making their home at 32 Orel-av, Apt. 4.

Ceremony Unites Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Richard La Zarrus
(J. Curtis Allen Photo)

The Highland Avenue Friends Church was the setting of the afternoon double ring ceremony uniting Miss Teresa Mae Dennison, and Mr. Paul Richard La Zarrus, Oct. 22.

Rev. Aufrance read the ceremony before the altar decorated with baskets of baby mums and palms.

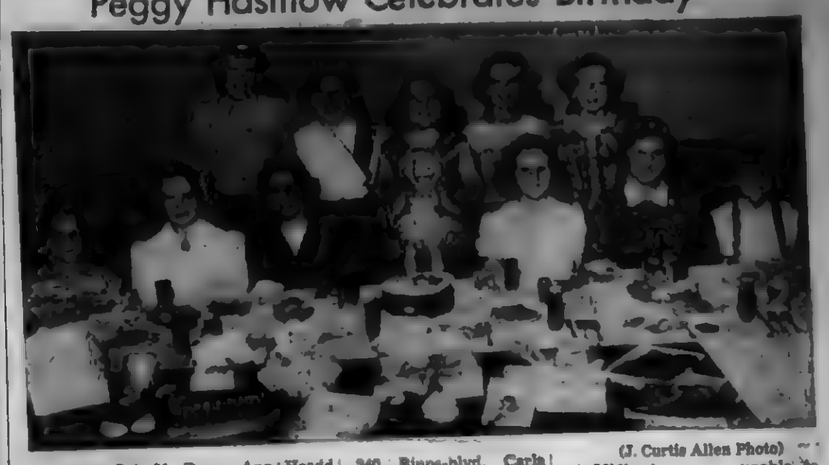
The bride's gown was of white brocaded satin, designed with a sweetheart neckline, a wide train edged in lace and sleeves coming to points over her hands. A tiara of pearls held her floor length veil in place. Her cascade bouquet was of pale lavender orchid surrounded by stephanotis and satin streamers.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Ruth Kelley, wore a pale rose dress styled with a hoop, short sleeves and matching gauntlets. Her bouquet was of amber shaded chrysanthemums with a bow matching her gown.

The bridesmaids, Miss Darlene Smith and Miss Louie Unley, wore gowns styled like the maid of honor in pale green and pale blue respectively. Miss Smith carried lavender mums, while Miss Unley's cascade bouquet was of yellow mums. The attendants all wore matching sweetheart tiaras.

Little Miss Carolyn Sue Johnson, flower girl, wore a floor-length dress of white net with pink rosebuds and blue forget-me-nots trimming the hemline and bodice. Her tiara was of pink rosebuds and she carried a white crocheted basket of rosebuds and forget-me-nots.

Mr. Al Cramer served as Mr. La Zarrus' best man. Ushers were Mr. Richard Watts and Mr. Phillip Moreland.



The bride's mother wore a cocktail length dress of cinnamon with maroon accessories. Her corsage was of red rosebuds with white baby carnations surrounding it.

Mrs. La Zarrus wore a costume of maroon with black accessories. Her corsage was also of red rosebuds and white carnations.

A reception was held at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Recreation Hall at which members of the Hobby Club were hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. La Zarrus are now at home at 81 W. Fourth-av.

Peggy Hastilow Celebrates Birthday

(J. Curtis Allen Photo)

Saturday, Oct. 21, Peggy Ann Hastilow, 37 Letchworth-av, celebrated her 11th birthday by having eleven of her girl friends for a luncheon at Schmelzer's Restaurant.

The group then went to a motion picture show downtown accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Roy W. Hastilow.

Those present were: Carol Blum, 203 Midland-av, Rose Mary Headd, 240 Binns-blvd, Carla Siegfried, 4006 Dublin-rd, Joan Ream, 208 Whitethorne-av, Nancy Jo Cooper, 316 Midland-av, Elizabeth Postlethwait, 33 Highland-av, Shelva Jones, 465 Townsend-av, Carolyn Decker, 278 Midland-av, Carolyn Cooper, 929 Bellows-av, Zo Ann Stanfield, 78 N. Oakley-av, and Peggy Ann Hastilow. Donna Fiedderjohann, 184 Midland-av, was unable to attend.

At this luncheon Peggy Ann, received her last doll, given her by her parents as a keepsake. It is one of the "true-life keepsake dolls" with Peggy Ann's own face on the doll's face. She will have a doll of herself as she was on her eleventh birthday to keep as a memory of this event.

Long Time Hilltoppers Recall Early Days Of Hilltop Growth

Few of the people who left their established homes forty or fifty years ago to begin new friendships and enterprises on what was to become the Hilltop, as we know it today, could vision the growth which has taken place.

It is equally difficult for those of us who are familiar with the Hilltop, 1950, to imagine what it must have been like to watch it grow.

Mrs. Ollie Kent Friend, who for years lived at 24 N. Wayne-av and now of 3992 Clime-rd, can very colorfully remember the January in which her family moved to what was to become this thriving community. Little Ollie was seven years old the March after they traveled the gravel road in from West Jefferson. The toll-gate had to be passed over before they could continue their journey through what was then farm land.

Among the things which are prominent in the memories of Mrs. Friend are the building of the Highland Avenue Friends Church of which she still is a member; how Doctor Whitehead came when the people needed a doctor; and the amazing growth of the Hilltop following the flood.

Another Hilltopper who can remember much of the "old days" is Chester C. Cook, 81 N. Warren-av, who moved to the Hilltop in 1908 at the age of four. Mr. Cook is president of Sunday Creek Coal Co., assisted Dr. Turner in establishing the West Gate Lodge. He later joined that lodge. Mr. Cook is a sustaining member of the Hilltop YMCA, and a member of Hoge Memorial Church.

The most amazing thing in the past years to Mr. Cook has been the development of the Westgate Addition, which is such a contrast to the unpaved streets that were present here when the Cooks first moved on Warren-av.

Mrs. Wyatt Milliken is another Hilltopper who is proud of the industry and growth made by the community. Mrs. Milliken can remember how they made a cinder path to their home on S. Richardson-av and cut the clover on what would now be the middle of the street. Mrs. Milliken can remember her first experiences with the telephone, rubber tired buggies, and the progression of lighting techniques.

She is a member of Glenwood Methodist Church, and is still active in one of the oldest clubs in Columbus, The Advance Club.

Mrs. Milliken has one complaint, "you just can't know everyone like we used to."

Mr. and Mrs. Baird, 184 N. Burgess-av, have been on "the Hill" since their marriage in 1897 and Mr. Baird for two years before that. Their three sons, Earl, Ray, and Warren have carried out the tradition by making their homes on the Hilltop.

Mr. Baird is a charter member of the Knights of Pythias and is also a member of the Masons and Hoge Memorial Church. Mr. Baird who is by trade a house builder, has literally helped to build up the Hilltop, by building a great many of the local houses.

There are many other Hilltop folks who have watched the progress from farm land into a well-knit community, and they are all proud of the community growing up and the entire community is proud of them for the part they have played as leaders in this era of growth.

Susie Johnson Back Again

Susie Johnson

Vivacious and blonde Susie Johnson, the Hilltop's own contribution to the theatrical industry, comes home again this week when she is scheduled to appear in the lead comedienne role of "Brigadoon" at the Hartman Theater, beginning Nov. 9.

Susie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Johnson, 2422½ W. Broad-st, graduated from West High School in the class of 1945. Her rise in the theatrical and musical world since her graduation has been a meteoric success and has won for her the acclaim of critics throughout the country.

The road to success, not an easy one of course, has been achieved by much hard work and application. In addition to her regular work with the musical company, she continues to study voice and two hours each week are devoted to learning more about modern dancing.

With the advent of television, her telegenic personality is in great demand and it is expected that she will make an appearance over one of the local video channels during her three-day stay here at the Hartman.

Modern $3000 Art Exhibit Being Shown Locally

By W. "Doc" Campbell

When you see the Columbus Public Library station wagon back up to the swank Hilltop branch, you know that something is going to happen. Well, this time it carried over $3000 worth of paintings, for the fourth parade of "Name Artists" . . . and a woman this time, is the celebrated world traveler and painter CAROLYN G. BRADLEY, associate professor of fine arts at Ohio State University.

Her 13 large oils and water colors are so distinctly "different in approach" and technique that she ably merits her 72 national awards by outside judges. Miss Bradley has studied with the following schools, winning her degrees . . . Earlham College, Richmond, Ind., John Herron Art School, Indianapolis, Es cuela Universitaria de Bellas Artea, San Miguel de Allende, Mexico, degree M.F.A.; Columbia University, N. Y., and the Traphagen School of Fashion, N. Y.

She was a pupil of Henry B. Snell, Philadelphia; Victor Julius, New York; James R. Hopkins, Columbus; Umberto Romano, New York, and Rufino Tamayo, Chaves Morado, and Carlos Merida, Mexico.

Miss Bradley is truly of world acclaim for she has painted all over the United States from Maine to California and in Canada, Portugal, Spain, Italy, France and Germany . . . in fact our government sent her to organize a program of art education in Guatemala and Chile.

To enumerate her awards would fill a column . . . but a few are outstanding — Hoosier Salon Exhibition, Chicago, National Association Women Painters and Sculptors, New York; American Water Color Society, New York; Columbus Art League, etc., etc.

She has had 86 "one man shows" all over the United States. Her latest award (1950) of $200, is the T. C. Steele Memorial prize, Indiana Artist Club, Indianapolis, Ind.

When I talked to Miss Bradley over the phone, regarding one of her most appealing water colors, I could sense her "direct personality" and credence for brilliant and intense technique in her art. She advised me that "Clara" No. 5 of the exhibit, was the wife of the acting director of the Centre 'd Art, Haiti. It is painted simply with conclusive attention to the character of the sitter, with complete and understanding composition.

A large oil that held my intense attention at the first sight of the collection is called "Siesta" and is luscious in its "lemon" toned garment against a deep blue, and old red violet drapery thrown over a couch. It is of the modern trend but not flamboyant or provocative to the point of nausea, but thrilled me with its relatively massive use of oil paint.

Her "Gladiolas", No. 1, is another superb example of gay flowers against an old "pot bellied" stove. This too, was painted in the manner of a conductor of a great orchestra . . . who produces dynamic tones with his violins and also with surrounding deep brasses. Again she has attained distinction with her techniques because of her studies in great art schools and with celebrated teachers, but not to the extent of erasing her own art personality.

Her water colors are WATER-COLORS . . . that is charming in color and vibrancy of execution, for she is noted for her spontantous, rich and direct application of fluid water color.

In my arranging of these exhibits, it is the desire to keep them professional, similar to a course in a University . . . therefore why not grasp this rare opportunity to SEE and ENJOY the grandeur of her paintings with their historical background of Latin America, etc. Every time you are exposed to genuine art YOU are educated UP and do not merely see art . . . but are stimulated to go further in your individual study.

West Hi 'Alma Mater' Was Sung First Time At 1933 Football Game

Two of the best known West High songs, familiar to every Hilltopper, the "Alma Mater" and the spirited lyric, "Hail the Cowboys," have an interesting history.

Their origin goes back to the years 1933 and 1934 respectively.

West High School's Alma Mater hymn, composed by Alice Schoenberger, a graduate of West in 1925, was sung by the student body between the halves of the West-South game Oct. 27, for the first time.

The Brown and Buff band marched the length of the field and before returning, marched before the West section and struck up the Alma Mater hymn, Prof. Herbert Hutchinson, then head of the music department, directed.

Words of the song follow:

As toward the West the constant sun proceeds,
Day after day, across the sky,
So do our hearts hold true to you, West High, West High,
West High!
Men view the sun in many a distant land,
His face still westward in the sky,
Though we should go as far we'll love West High, West High, West High!
And till the sun forgets its ancient goal and seeks a new path in the sky,
Our loyal hearts shall beat for you, West High, West High,
West High!

"Hail the Cowboys" was written in answer to an appeal for a new West High "pep" march in December 1934, and was submitted by James McCullom, to Mrs. W. E. Ferguson, then president of the parent sponsors of the West High band.

McCullom is an alumnus of the school, class of '32, where he played in the school orchestra.

The music is the work of three persons. The original idea was furnished by Florence Hall, class of '30, who turned it over to H. E. Wise, athletic mentor at the school. Mr. Wise added twelve measures of his own and gave the result to McCullom who wrote a piano accompaniment.

The words are the contribution of Russell Dean, an orchestra leader at Ohio University, where McCullom was a student. McCullom plays the piano in Dean's orchestra.

The song, when it was sung at a gathering of representatives of the alumni association, received enthusiastic approval from all present. The association then appropriated $25 to buy an arrangement of the song for the West High School band.

Miss Hall is remembered for her singing "Pickles", senior high operetta and again in the '30 class play, "Under the Red Robe." She was gifted with a clear soprano voice and sung in many entertainments in addition to the two mentioned.

Hilltop Expansion Is Traced In Past Decade; Future Needs Outlined

By O. H. Craft

Once again we come to that time when we take delight in taking a look at our past and become exhilarated about the possibilities of the future. We shall herewith add up our successes and our failures, find out when we zigged and should have zagged, and hold up to the light of day the vacuums of our thinking and acting.

We are considering here, the decade now coming to a close. Half hot war and half cold war. We have come a long way, and no question about it. We have taken on a new flavor, a new outlook, with growing pains, and creaking hinges. During this period of aches and pains, we have built new homes and living units and added to our population perhaps 5000 new people. One local building company alone has been responsible for three fifths of this construction.

We have acquired a brand new General Motors factory on our western approaches, manufacturing hardware for automobile bodies, that gives employment to 4000.

We have probably the finest branch post office in the state. It is quite an asset to the Hilltop, thank you Don Smith. We have one of the finest community libraries to be found anywhere. A new fire engine house, now in the process of construction.

We have an up to date community newspaper, with improved facilities for color printing. Not many outlying communities of a large city can boast the newspaper facilities we enjoy.

We have acquired service clubs that are making us conscious of our increased social responsibility. Our churches are prospering and growing, with added facilities coming into being. Our educational institutions are overflowing, and are classified as good and getting better.

The foundations for a permanent YMCA home have been laid. Within this decade a new building will be erected at the southwest corner of W. Broad-st and S. Harris-av, something of which we and future generations may well be proud. The YMCA board should have the plaudits of the community for long range plans well executed. If one in particular should be singled out, Carlton Hartley was perhaps the spark plug, and guiding genius, in this endeavor and Stella Leach should be congratulated for her part in this edifying venture. The Hilltop Kiwanis Club for early financial assistance. All of these and more, plus our attitudes of social responsibility, and neighborliness, make us bristle with justifiable pride.

But much of this in one sense has been the easy kind of accomplishment, for the reason that we had ample space in which to maneuver. We have been living off our own fat. A community cannot continue to grow unless wise plans are laid for the future. We are in the same position that a factory would be if it paid out all of its earnings in dividends, allowed its machinery and plant to deteriorate. It would in time become a dead and obsolete thing, failing to throb with new lifeblood and power of attraction to achieve.

We have not been plowing back into community development our brain power to the extent of which we are capable. The emphasis of our renowned accomplishments have been somewhat misplaced, or shall we say, not well balanced. True, we face certain handicaps in home development from here on out; two railroads traverse our community in a way that cuts into those areas of possible development for attractive home sites. But with the advent of Diesels, railroads are becoming less objectionable and they are necessary to our commercial life.

We are handicapped for lack of proper sanitary sewerage development. Who is to blame? It is one of those things, where there must be ambitious private capital, public spirited community leaders, and public officials finding a way to work together for community growth. If an individual or group of individuals has the ambition, to risk their capital to develop areas and build homes, the least the community and its leaders can do is to pitch in and help, for a community must grow or die. It takes people to make a community, and if they can't locate here, they will locate somewhere else.

Every week I am compelled to hear someone say, "I'd like to live on the Hilltop, but can't find anything suitable." We have attracted to our community, various enterprises, that would ordinarily be found in downtown centers, and we must if we continue to grow, merit and support our new additions, and in turn it will attract others.

During the past decade, half of which were war years, and half semi-war years, we have made marvelous strides toward our local housing needs. Thousands of new people have settled in our community, and thousands of others would have done so if accommodations had been available. We lost them because we were not able to offer them a place to live. Of the 3000 units we have built during the past 10 years, roughly 75% are single homes, 25% multiple type dwellings.

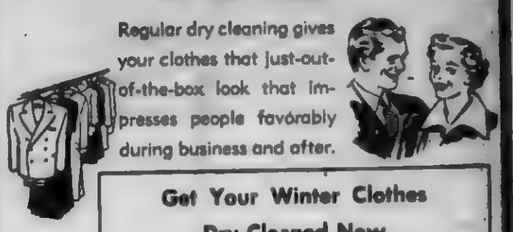
Alfred Tonti and associates have been the largest builder of apartments, having built 250 to 300 rental units and approximately 900 single dwellings. Mr. Tonti tells me that a large percentage of those people renting come from other parts of the city and outside the city. This indicates a tremendous attraction to this community when a choice is possible.

Had we been long headed enough and ambitious enough to have sensed our needs we could have had at this time from three to five thousand more people than we have today, and before we can correct the situation we have drifted into, we will lose five thousand people we might have added to our community.

Think what that would have meant, all of the requirements of a town of five thousand people. It would mean new stores, larger stores, new business. We can say, but with well laid plans, and the right touch, we might have had loop bus service, tying Broad-st and Sullivant-av together. We might have had a cross-over or land bridge from Broad-st to Grandview-av with possibilities of crossing eliminations in the process. We might have had the Hague-av crossing elimination. We being the western gateway to the city, could have been instrumental in bringing about a bypass system for through trucks and general traffic, that is becoming burdensome to our main artery of travel.

In summing up, we push out our chest and say lookee—yes but we are brought straight up with the sobering thought that we have been using up our inheritance. In some ways we have about exhausted it. We have filled in about all the vacant spaces. In facing the future as a community, our great need is for creative genius and venture capital. Do we have it? Time will tell. We can still put on a good show, our social record is good, in fact sometimes over exhausting, but there must be original and fundamental planning, if we are to continue to grow. The natural obstacles in our pathway are not insurmountable. There is a great opportunity, with gratifying profit, and a sense of satisfaction, awaiting the public spirited citizens of our community, who have the means and the vision to embrace it.

We can take a little peek at the future, without going out on a limb too far. Unless the boys down on Pennsylvania-av in Washington turn off the spigot we are reasonably sure of at least 600 new single homes over a period of the next two or three years. 350 of these will be built by Tonti, south of Eakin-rd, east of Racine-av, 150 on W. Broad-st west of the city. The remainder will be made up of scattered units of bypassed lots.



The old Weber property at Burgess and Broad is now in the process of being improved with new apartments, and possibly a business building facing Broad-st. Improvements are expected to start soon on W. Broad-st between Powell-av and Roys-av on the south side of Broad. (Details are not immediately available). It is rumored a 24-lane bowling alley is being considered for W. Broad-st and Wilson-rd.

Shall we have a new grade school on Westgate land owned by the city, these past 25 years. Are we wise and big enough to arrange for and permit off street parking in resident areas adjacent to shopping centers?

It is suggested, that we need badly a new swimming pool to take care of our growing population—and wouldn't we be proud with a complete medical clinic and laboratory. Who is going to open up a new subdivision and where?

That's all for now, see you at next inventory time.

Franklin Twp. Trustees Accept Delivery Of New Fire Fighting Equipment This Week

Shown above is the new Franklin Township fire fighting equipment which was delivered this week to trustees of Franklin Township. The new truck is the first of three pieces of such equipment which will be made available for fire protection to this township if the current bid for a fire levy is passed by the voters on Tuesday. Above are, left to right, Paul Wichterman, clerk, Otto (Gus) Peoples, president and trustee, Edward G. Johnsen, trustee, and Harry Shenting, trustee.

Trustees of Franklin Township will be taking delivery on a new fire truck this week, it was learned from Otto (Gus) Peoples, president of the township board.

The truck arrived from the factory last week-end and is being outfitted with two-way radio and other accessories prior to delivery to the township. It is the first unit of three expected to be purchased shortly by township officials pending approval of a two-mill fire protection levy on the ballot next Tuesday.

The two-mill levy is being sought to provide funds for purchasing fire fighting equipment and housing facilities for a locally operated fire department of three companies. It would operate in a manner very similar to and in conjunction with Jackson, Prairie and Norwich Townships, all adjacent to Franklin. This plan would eventually replace the protection now supplied by the city of Columbus on a contract basis.

Peoples pointed out that this first truck would be used for training purposes only pending completion of the fire protection program. A class numbering more than 60 men is now training to become volunteers in the three fire companies that will man the equipment.

School children throughout the township were getting a look at the new fire truck this week. It was being exhibited at the various schools during the noon hour and at recess.

The truck is an Underwriters approved pumper capable of pumping 500 gallons of water per minute. It has a special tank carrying 500 gallons of water to all fires. This makes it particularly adaptable for fighting rural fires where there are no regular sources of water supply. It can operate equally well when pumping from fire hydrants.

Once the locally operated fire protection plan is put in operation it will be manned by approximately 100 men from all parts of the township. Each man will have completed a course in fire fighting techniques conducted by an approved instructor.

The men accepted would become a part of the Franklin County Association of Firefighters already comprising nearly 500 men operating 41 pieces of fire apparatus. The various companies all work together on a mutual aid basis—helping each other when needed.

These 41 companies are all in contact with one another via two-way radio operated by the county sheriff's office.

This year, the club will again send out Christmas baskets to the needy, and plans to organize another newspaper drive to supplement their Sight-Savers Fund. Officers of the Hilltop Lions Club this year are, George Schaaf, president; Carl J. Wagner, first vice-president; John E. Grassie, second vice-president; Rev Lynch, third vice-president; Horton Ryan, secretary; John F. Kirwin, treasurer; Jack Schmelzer, lion tamer, and Francis Higgins, tail twister. Service Groups Schedule Joint Meeting

Three of the Hilltop's leading service organizations will meet jointly in a special meeting Tuesday, Nov. 14 at the Glenwood Methodist Church, according to Jack Morris, secretary of the Hilltop Business Association today.

The Hilltop Business Association, Hilltop Lions Club and Hilltop Kiwanis Club are scheduled on that evening to hear the "Freedom Four" presented and conducted by the Standard Oil Company of Ohio. The forum points up with grim reality the manner in which communism and other forces have gradually infiltrated into everyday American life by insidious and devious methods. Chief objective of the forum is to outline methods by which the danger can be thwarted.

Also on the program for the evening festivities which begin promptly at 6:30 p. m. is the West High School Choral group which will present several numbers.

Wives of all members of the service clubs are asked to attend the joint session with their husbands.

A Study Of Progress Between Two Hilltop Schools

While progress on the Hilltop has been more or less of a uniform and accepted pattern tending toward advancement the above photos show a marked contrast of development and progress. In the upper photograph is shown the West Mound Street School buildings erected 20 years ago as temporary quarters for the school. Today, 20 years later, they are still in use and still being termed as temporary buildings for the West Mound Street School. In the lower photo is direct evidence of advancement and a decided effort toward progress. Shown is the new Hilliards School addition, modern in detail and possessing every modern convenience.

Police, Firemen First Organized Westway VFW Post On Hilltop

The annals of the Westway Post No. 3441 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of America, now in their 51st year of operation, show a fine record of community service in past and present.

Two of the biggest projects of the year are coming up within the next two weeks. On Saturday, Nov. 11, the post will take part in the annual Armistice Day parade, along with all the other veterans' organizations on the Hilltop.

On Nov. 14 the post will fete the national commander of the VFW, Charles Crall, at a banquet to be given in his honor at the Fiesta Club. An invitation has been extended to the national commander to visit the post installation at 2393½ W. Broad-st at Wayne-av.

Looking back through the years, the annals show that the founders of the post first met at the Hilltop Fire Department Station and several city firemen and policemen attended.

Meeting later at the Glenwood Shelter House, an election was held and a city policeman, George Chambers, was duly elected and installed as the first post commander, with his senior vice commander being a city fireman, George Ell.

Soon after the post was formed, an auxiliary was instituted and they elected Mrs. Alice Wolfe as the first president.

At the present time, several well known Hilltop men are serving as officers of the post. They are: Henry Levy, commander; Robert Hartman, senior vice commander; Richard Martin, junior vice commander; Herbert Kunzi, chaplain; Charles Geddes, officer of the day; Robert Zulauf, adjutant, and Harry Zulauf, post quartermaster.

Meetings are held on the first and third Fridays of each month at the post installation promptly at 8 p. m.

Driver Licenses Now Available At HBA Offices

Effective Nov. 2 the Hilltop and the West Side gained for the first time a deputy registrar of motor vehicles, when the state bureau announced the appointment of Jack Morris, secretary of the Hilltop Business Association to that post. Morris was named as an individual to represent the local business group.

On sale now at the Hilltop Business Association offices are driver's licenses, chauffeur's licenses, temporary driving permits and application for duplicates of driver's licenses. During this next week, Morris indicated that auto license tags would be also made available to the Hilltop and West Side populace.

The appointment this week created the only agency west of the Scioto River in the city of Columbus for the sale of such licenses and marks the first time this section of the city has had such facilities. The move was brought about by joint agreement of the business group and Hilltop Kiwanis club.

All services outlined above are now available at the Hilltop Business Association offices, located at 3183 W. Broad-st.

At Licking Summit near Newark, Governor DeWitt Clinton of New York turned the first spadeful of dirt for the Ohio canal system on July 4, 1825.

Blue Star Mothers Hilltop Units Set Enviable Record

Columbus Chapter No. 6, Blue Star Mothers of America, is quite proud of the two Hilltop units, West and Glenwood.

West Unit is one of the original four units set up by the chapter after its organization in 1943. Glenwood Unit is the youngest and the largest.

West Unit was organized in May of 1943 at the home of Mrs. John J. Rings then living on S. Burgess-av and now a resident of Bradenton, Fla., and still retaining her membership. Mrs. Sarah E. Davis of 101 N. Ogden-av, was the first chairman of the Unit. At that time activities were confined to volunteer work and USO aid.

Cookies were baked by the hundreds and sent to hospitals. Other needed things such as tools for workshops, musical instruments, etc., were furnished. There were many hours given by the mothers as hostesses for the USO and free breakfasts were furnished the boys there on Sunday morning.

Later as the organization grew and the war ended, the work began to center around the veterans' hospitals. West unit, with Mrs. Louis Kruczynski, 328 Powhatan-av, as chairman, has gone each month to the Chillicothe Hospital and given ward parties for the boys, providing both treat and entertainment. Some special parties have taken care of some 450 boys at one time. They have contributed to all phases of the work done by the chapter and have given hundreds of dollars in donations and gifts to the patients there. Mrs. E. C. Williams, 235 S. Warren-av, is the hospital chairman for the West Unit, and is doing a splendid job in providing ward parties.

Mrs. H. H. Herron, 71 Eldon-av, was the second president of the unit. She is now finishing her second year as president of the chapter. She has been national historian twice, in 1943 and 1946, has been national publicity chairman for the past two years and is the editor of the "Blue Star News," department of Ohio, a bulletin of news from Ohio chapters.

Glenwood Unit is made up largely of women from the Glenwood Methodist Church. Mrs. W. E. Ferguson, 3048 Crescent-dr, was the first chairman. The unit was organized in June, 1945, and the chairman at the present time Mrs. Ivor D. Engle, 45 S. Wheatland-av, who, with Mrs. Clarence Ely, 1977 Harrisburg-pk, was the organizer.

This unit has served thousands of boys at Chillicothe VA Hospital, giving several parties a year in the recreation hall for some 450 to 500 boys at a time, besides giving other ward parties. They have entertained 30 boys at a party given at the Columbus Zoo and have brought some 90 boys to the opening games at the Red Bird Stadium. They have given $2000 to the stadium fund; and cooperate 100 per cent in all chapter activities. Mrs. Carl Rucker, 110 Whitethorne-av, is co-chairman for hospital work in the Southeast District. Funds are raised by giving dinners, rummage sales, selling post cards and in many other ways. Mrs. Ely is hospital chairman for the unit.

Many of these mothers have sons in the present world crisis.

Mrs. Herron, together with Mrs. Kruczynski and Mrs. Engle, extend a very cordial invitation to all mothers of service people, in any branch of the armed forces of the USA, either of World War II or now serving, to become members. There is much to be done. As Mrs. Esther Weakley, a member of the West Unit, wrote in her article of Sept. 27 in the West Side News, "The boys know that mothers will not let them down. The rest of us can help too by helping Blue Star Mothers of America."

Grid Squad Feted

Hilltop business men, spearheaded by Hilltopper Frank L. Holycross, feted the West High Cowboy football team to a banquet at the Elks Club in January, 1920. Patron tickets were sold to Hilltoppers at $5 each, and 100 student tickets at $3 each. The Cowboys had won three city football champions out of five during the period of 1915-19, and Hilltop business men wanted a share in honoring the grid stars. Slaters Pharmacy led in the sale of tickets. It was a gala affair.

Younger Set Finds Pleasure In Horse Riding

Avid equestrians and lovers of horse flesh, especially among the younger set, are much in evidence on the Hilltop. Thanks to its encouragement by West High Science Teacher Earl C. Reed, horse fancier.

Recent show at the Hilltop Riding Academy, Eakin-rd, with Jack Thomas, South High, as judge brought out this round-up of many winners and performers in many categories:

Boys' Equestrian Club: Bill Fisher, Jerry Fisher, Jim Reed, and John Smalley.

Girls' Equestrian Class: Fondy Lindsey, Ginger Goodburn, Barbara Fisher, and Nancy Iler.

Pleasure Class: Gerry Shaw, John Smalley, Bill Fisher, and Bill Walton.

Stock Horse Class: Bill Fisher, Bill Walton, Jim Reed, John Smalley.

Trail Horse Class: Bill Walton, John Smalley and Bill Fisher.

Balloon Contest: Bill Fisher, Bill Walton, Jerry Shaw, and John Smalley.

Boot Race: Jim Reed, Bill Fisher, Jerry Shaw, John Smalley.

Barrel Bend: John Smalley, Jerry Shaw, Howard Ray, and Bill Fisher.

Free For All Race: John Smalley, Gerry Shaw, Bill Fisher and Jim Reed.

Senior Band Elects

New officers for the West High marching and concert band were elected by band members at a meeting held before school October 2.

Dave Miller was elected president. Members of his cabinet are: Joe Gossett, vice president; Pat Culbertson, secretary; Liola Scott, treasurer; and Shirley Osborne, librarian.

Letters to Editor

Dear Sirs:

This is a request to delay the arrival of Santa Claus to the Hilltop until the latter part of November.

When Santa Claus arrives so early the children change their requests two or three times and by the time Christmas finally gets here they, nor the parents, know what they really would like to receive.

Any consideration you may give this letter will be appreciated.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. J. O. Buttterbaugh

Gentlemen:

In behalf of the Randolph Chapter of the Child Conservation League, an organization composed as you know of mothers on the Hilltop, we are protesting the practice of our local merchants in pushing the Christmas holiday so far in advance.

In the past, more and more, the season has been advanced where it is overlapping the Thanksgiving holiday. We feel that this holiday should be kept for "Christmas," for the benefit of our coming generations, instead of the commercialized event that is becoming more and more the general practice.

Please give this your serious consideration and we trust your decision will be to open the Christmas season after the first of December.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Howard Bowers,
Recording Secretary
Randolph Conservation League

Sen. Walcutt Is Candidate For Re-election

Senator Roscoe R. Walcutt, a candidate for reelection as senator from the Tenth District, Franklin and Pickaway Counties, has served in the Ohio Senate since 1943 and on practically all of the Senate committees. Now the Republican leader, he received the unanimous vote of the legislative correspondents in the selection of senators who had performed outstanding service in the present session.

As chairman of the Ohio Post War Program Commission from 1945 to 1949, he directed the work of the many committees which investigated and reported to the Legislature and the Governor on a wide variety of subjects referred to the commission, including agriculture, conservation, beach erosion, aviation, highways, schools for the blind and deaf, penal institutions, hospitals for the mentally ill, libraries, building code, and many others. He is still a member and secretary of the successor commission, the Ohio Program Commission.

Senator Walcutt is a lawyer by profession, practicing for the past 25 years or more in the city of Columbus. He was connected with the Court of Common Pleas of Franklin County for many years, is a member of the Rotary Club, the Methodist Church, and has been active in many fraternal and civic groups.

Senator Walcutt is married and has four children, three of whom served in World War II. He lives at 4080 Cleveland-av, Columbus.

Hilltop Garage Growing Steadily Since 1945 Opening

One of the progressive Hilltop business concerns is that of the Hilltop Garage located at Oakley-and Sullivant-av, where they have been in business since early 1945. In 1949 the business of the firm had grown to such an extent expansion was necessary and in order to meet the demands of their customers a corporation was formed.

The firm has aided materially to the growth of the Hilltop by furnishing constant employment for 10 men, and offering a service to local motorists by maintaining a 24 hour schedule.

President of the concern is H. N. Hursey, who resides at 1720 W. Mound-st. George Tanner has been general manager since the opening and P. A. Jackson is vice-president.

Refugees From 'Iron Curtain' Find Haven Here On Hilltop

Ilse Brambats and her mother, Marta, seeking a new life in America.

Two refugees from Russian-held Latvia have been brought to Columbus through the combined efforts of the World Church Council and the Burgess-av EUB Church.

Pretty Ilse Brambats, 24-year-old blue-eyed blonde, and her mother, Mrs. Marta Brambats, who fled from Latvia to the British occupation zone near Hamburg, Germany, arrived only last week from Germany, where they have spent the last six years. A brother, 26, is still in Germany.

The Brambats family was living in Latvia when the Russians absorbed the tiny Scandinavian nation in 1941. It was then that their father, Dr. Brambats, a prominent physician, was arrested by the Reds and taken to Siberia. The family has not heard from him since.

Mrs. Brambats and her two children fled to Germany in 1944, just before the advancing Allies brought the European war to an end. While in Germany, Ilse obtained three years of college education, partly in medical work and partly dental. She later worked for one year as a dentist's assistant. Her brother became an architect and is presently engaged in that work.

Earlier this year, a representative of the World Church Council contacted the Brambats family, and offered them a haven in the United States. Leaving her son in Germany, but hoping that he soon could join them, Mrs. Brambats brought Ilse to America and arrived in this country Oct. 25. Under the sponsorship of the Burgess Avenue EUB Church, the pair was entrained to Columbus. They are now residing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Good, 334 S. Roys-av.

Both Mrs. Brambats and her daughter can speak fluent Latvian, Russian, German, and French. At the present time, one of their main tasks is learning to read and write English.

Ilse in her short stay here has already obtained a position with Dr. Paul M. Pontious, at 2558 W. Broad-st, while Mrs. Brambats is available for daytime housework.

Seventy-six steamboats were launched on the Ohio-Mississippi waterway between 1815 and 1819.

Pack 56 held a Hallowe'en Party on Thursday, Oct. 19 at Hoge Memorial Church. All the cats and witches and spooks were present as befitted this season.

All boys came masked and a prize was given for the most original, ugliest and prettiest won by Jerry Stewart, Den 4; Bud Irion, Den 3; and Roger Larson, Den 4.

Business at hand was dispensed with after the unmasking and then games were played and cider and donuts were served.

The committee of Pack 56 of Hoge Memorial Church met Monday, Oct. 23, at the home of Mrs. Catherine Geist, 160 S. Ogden-av, with Mrs. George Thomas, Mr. Ronald Irvin, Mrs. Marjorie Whitt and John E. Whitt, present.

Business of the Paper Drive was discussed, each Den is doing real good on this project but still needs help from the people of the Hilltop. Please contact Ra. 1337, Ra. 8191, Ra. 2113, or Jo. 5907 and your papers will be collected.

The next Pack meeting will be on Nov. 16th at 6:30 at Hoge Memorial Church in the form of a pot luck dinner.

The Cubs of Den 2, Pack 86, had their annual Hallowe'en party Oct. 26 at the home of their den mother, Mrs. Charles Meddles, 507 Binns-blvd. Decorations were in charge of Jackie Lamano, Mickey Reardon and Clifford Shoemaker. The entertainment was in charge of Billy McLaughlin and Johnny Sears. Prizes were given by E. G. Buchieb. Refreshments were made and served by Bob Smoots, Larry Sayler, and Raymond Norwood, which consisted of ginger cake, candy pumpkins and kool-ade.

Prizes for the best dressed and most comic went to Mickey Leach and Jackie Lomano. A farewell gift was also given to Gary Shively, who graduated out of Den 2, to join a Boy Scout troop. The gift was presented by one of the mascots of Den 2, Mike Reardon. Gary is the 18th Cub to graduate out of Den 2 into scouting. Gary was extended an invitation to return to Den 2 as chief as soon as he attains his second class rating in the BSA.

The Cubs of Den 2 are making plans for a birthday party for Mrs. Barbara Laicher, 634 Southwood-av, whom they sponsor.

Two Early Hilltop Residents Recall Days From The Past

Harry Fleming

Harry Biddle

Two of the Hilltop's early settlers, who first came to this community years ago frequently meet to discuss old days and the manner in which the community has grown up since the first days they came here to reside.

Harry Fleming, 74 years young, of 104 N. Warren-av, is one of the old timers but insists that his friend Harry Biddle, 78, of 121 S. Warren-av, knows a bit more about the Hilltop's growth than he. Fleming points out that he has been on the Hilltop but a mere matter of 37 years while Biddle has been around the community for 51 years.

Both stopped into The Hilltop Record offices recently to add a bit of their early experiences to the Progress Edition.

Fleming first came to the Hilltop in 1913 and recalled one instance in that he was considering the purchase of a lot on Dakota-av but for some reason or the other delayed its purchase when $1200 was being asked. He laughingly recalled that immediately after the flood he could have purchased the same property for $400. Another of his recollections was the building of the structure which now houses the Hillcrest Baptist Church at W. Broad-st and Eldon-av. This building, he said, was originally constructed by the Dusenberry Bros. to house a theatre but it never became such and instead the church has since occupied the structure.

Fleming recalled that at the time of his establishing a residence on the Hilltop there were but only approximately 5,000 persons living in the community and that now there are closer to ten times that many. During the many years he has served in various capacities in city and county government and but five years ago retired.

Harry C. Biddle recalls the days of coal oil lamps when he first came to the Hilltop and remembered well that in those days the winter days were such that the people just stayed indoors for most of the time because the snows and winds were to terrific.

He said that but four houses were then on Wicklow and that his home was the last house on Warren-av and that beyond the location of Olive-st there was nothing but farm land and wilderness.

Said Mr. Biddle, "Mud that even caused the teams to be stuck was the rule then and it is certainly a contrast to the days of paved streets and other conveniences we now have."

Cub Pack 63, met Friday at Glenwood Methodist Church. J. B. McKenzie was chosen as new cubmaster succeeding Russell Hite. Elmore Langdon brought along his movie outfit and the group enjoyed several sound comedies. Cider and doughnuts were served.

There are 2,500,000 telephones in Ohio, more than in all of Latin America.

School Handbook Is Project Currently Under Way At West

Information for West High students and their parents via a "School Handbook" is being developed at the Hilltop School, Principal L. F. Young said this week.

A joint project of the Student Council and a committee of the faculty, it will be the first time that students will be in a position to use a manual as an implement to making adjustments in their school work. By next spring, the handbook will be in the hands of the students, Mr. Young anticipated.

Invaluable to students as a reference booklet, it will contain pertinent information for students at West High.

New students, in particular, will become oriented to West High life with the aid of this guide.

Designed for all, however, tentative plans call for a brief discussion of every angle of school life.

Proposed subjects, to be included in the handbook are: courses of study, honor societies, rules and regulations, messages from the principal, extra-curricular activities, sports, awards (scholastic and athletic) grading system, history of school, faculty, etc.

Student council members (not including those seniors who graduated last June) who are helping garner information for the handbook include: Phyllis Bailey, Perry Creed, Ruth Garn, Ronald Grant, Jim Martin, Jerry Johnson, Della Anthony, Joe Petitti, Shirley Townsend, Dolly Fladt, Philip Brown, Rudy Hill, Louis Propst, Jane Conrad.

Olympia Pappas, John Marison, Jean Mason, Buddy Raike, Donna Theisen, Ted Johnson, Susan Key, Joann Thomas, Don Whipple, Morris Dobbs, Russell Friend, Ralph Van Atta, Judy Banning.

Faculty committee, appointed by Mr. Young, to assist the council in editing the volume are: Mrs. Mary Dugan, Adolph Kittel, Edwin Kaylor, Margaret Campbell, James Brown, Roy Marvine, and Myron Seifert, chairman).

Mrs. Thelma Kneer is ex-officio member.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Smith of Dayton were Wednesday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kordell, 92 Maple-dr.

For Winter!
Less frequent driving plus cold weather can add up to engine trouble. To be ready for quick starts, smooth performance, economical operation, it just makes sense to be "in tune" beforehand. It is a good investment against needless wear, the inconvenience of breakdown, the high expense of repairs, battery drag, and low mileage from wasted power. We'll make it right with a tune-up that will tone down trouble.

Modern Hilltop Swimming Pool Is Summer-Time Mecca

A popular and busy place during the summer months is the Hilltop Swimming Pool located on N. Hague-av. Each day the pool is crowded to capacity as Hilltoppers seek relief from summer heat. In the photo above is shown a huge class of youthful would-be swimmers being taught the rudiments of swimming by special Red Cross and Fire Department instructors. The instruction program is in annual affair at the local pool as the Red Cross and Fire Department aides encourage youth of the community to swim and use modern facilities such as this instead of death dealing unguarded pools.

Temperance Parade

About 1400 people took part in the big Hilltop Temperance Parade Sunday afternoon, Oct. 30, 1914. This parade was one of the largest and most enthusiastic religious or political demonstrations that has ever taken place in this community. The first section started promptly at 2 p. m. from Highland-av, marching west on Broad-st.

In it were the Glenwood Methodist people, the Highland Avenue Friends and the Oakley Avenue Baptist. At Eureka-av they were joined by the Hoge Memorial Presbyterian people. The members of St. Paul's Evangelical fell in at Wilson-av.

The Hilltop band headed the parade, rendering some excellent pieces all along the line of march.

Recognition Day To Be In April

Plans are under way for a Recognition Day, to be held at West Junior-Senior High School sometime in April. This particular day is to be set aside for a recognition of those students who, during the year, have accomplished something creatively with their hands.

Students in the industrial arts, art, home economics, and science departments have already been told something of this program. Juries will determine those in each field who prove deserving of special recognition.

It is planned that a Recognition Day become an annual affair. Further information will be given out as details are completed.

Annual Drive To Open Nov. 13

The 1951 West High annual drive will be held Nov. 13, 14 and 15.

Padded-covered annuals will cost $2.75; stiff-covered, $2.50. A down payment of $1.25 is necessary to order an annual.

Forty pages will be added to this year's book; informal photos will dominate. The annual will be a pictorial record of the 1950-51 school year.

West High Classes To Vote In Election

Seniors at West High School will vote on Nov. 7. A ballot will be made, and a special room set aside for the voting. Chairs facing the walls will serve as booths.

The idea of this election is to teach teen-agers how to vote and to register. One week before the election the classes will study the procedures in voting, said George F. Neeb, P.O.D. teacher.

This has been done in years past.

Senior Art Teacher Attends Convention

Flowers of the Week

A pretty Rosebud Floral bouquet to Miss Sarabel Henderson on the very successful Community Chest campaign she headed up in the West Side and Hilltop divisions. She deserves the hearty applause of the entire community for her very fine work, and is to be commended on the high type of generalship she displayed which brought her group to the place where it led all other divisions in the city.

Now We Are Getting Somewhere

Announcement this week by the Hilltop Business Association that some permanent electrical decorations will adorn both W. Broad-st and Sullivant-av in the Christmas season is a welcome bit of news.

The Record has long contended that the only way to build up a worthwhile Christmas decorating program is to start out in a small way with a few permanent electrical fixtures and then add to and enlarge this order each year. We have seen this happen in many small towns and today these same communities can well be proud of their efforts in this direction.

The Hilltop Business Association is starting out with a decorating program that is not complete but is certainly a step in the right direction and one that, if followed up in succeeding years, will result in this becoming a real beauty spot at night during the holiday season.

Permanent Home Memorial Site Secured By Local Legion Post 98

A Permanent Home Memorial site for Camp Chase Post 98 of the American Legion came one step closer to realization today with the announcement by local post officials of the purchase of the Ora T. Fletcher property at 3211 W. Broad-st for the sum of $13,500. Completion of the transaction was made late Tuesday afternoon in the main offices of the Ohio National Bank at Gay and High-sts.

Since early 1944 the project of Camp Chase Post 98 for the erection of a suitable home for the local post activities and the creation of a memorial to the veterans has met with one setback after another. Thwarted during the war years by the world-wide struggle, lack of building materials, rationing and high prices the dream of the local Legion's permanent home committee at times seemed doomed to failure.

A constant and never ending drive however by members of the local post's permanent home committee over the six year period has eventually resulted in the selection of a suitable site for the new edifice and at the same time created for the local Legion a permanent home site for their own activities.

Original funds for the Permanent Home Memorial were obtained by pledges of the membership and many of the Hilltop residents who desired and wanted such a project to become a reality for this community.

In the early stages of the campaign for the new Legion home Ed. Planck was named the original chairman assisted by Larry Scales as secretary. These two, with other members of the committee initiated the drive for funds to build the edifice and named the First Federal Savings and Loan on the Hilltop as the depositary for pledges and other contributions. As the fund grew to larger proportions over the years it was transferred by the First Federal firm under the direction of Williard Edson to the Ohio National Bank as a depositary of the trust fund.

The site which was secured this week for the Legion project is presently occupied by Mr. Fletcher who is to move into a new residence at 279 Brinker-av within the very near future.

Tuesday's transaction at the downtown bank location was witnessed by members of the post, the permanent home committee and officers of the post who had contributed to the care of the trust fund and persisted in the carrying through of the project. Present at the ceremony which marked the initial step of the local Legion to go out "on its own" were Larry Scales, O. T. Fletcher, Robert T. Crew, Ray McVay, Sr., Chet Wagner, Mario Smith, F. H. Morgan, Phil V. Stout, Ed. Planck, Michael H. Austin and Lynn Baker.

Although they had no representatives at the signing of the documents which transferred title of the Fletcher property to the Camp Chase American Legion Post 98, members of the local Legion auxiliary unit have also been prominent in the long struggle to attain this newest of the Hilltop's civic improvements.

It was indicated today that as soon as the property is vacated at the W. Broad-st location that re-

City Seeks Aid For Proposed Traffic Change

The federal government will help Columbus build an inner belt to route traffic around the business district if the city can prove the belt is a "critical civilian need."

This is the project which is of special concern to Hilltoppers in that the creation of the inner-traffic belt would mean the eventual re-routing of Route 40 through the Valleyview section and over McKinley-av

County commissioners applied for a $115,000 advance to defray planning costs in September. The application was made on the authority of the Regional Planning Commission.

After the application was made, however, the funds of the U. S. Community Facilities Service were ordered frozen because of the Korean emergency. The freeze order specified that federal advances could be made only for "critical civilian needs that cannot be deferred." Harry Turner, assistant director of the Regional Planning Commission, said Columbus is the first city in the country to be considered under the new ruling.

Four At West Named to Honor Society Group

In order to qualify for the signal honor, a student must be in the upper 15 per cent of his class, his character must be excellent, must exhibit evidence of leadership by earning at least 10 service points during his tenure as student in senior high, and a resident at West High for at least one year.

West Side Residential Goes "Over The Top" To Lead City In 1950 Community Chest Drive

WEST LEADS!—Taken at the Community Chest victory dinner at the Southern Hotel Friday evening was this picture of the three women who led the West Residential Division in the drive. They are all smiles, for West raised 111.8 of its quota of $7,100, which gave West top place of all the 17 soliciting divisions.

Sarabel Henderson, center, 37 N. Warren-av, was the division chairman, and Jean Ferguson, left, 92 Hawkes-av, and Mrs. Harry E. Knipp, 211 S. Burgess-av, served as heads of the West Side and Hilltop sections.

Local Chest Fund Workers Attain 111.8 Percentage Of 1950 Quota

Although the 1950 Community Chest campaign came to a close last Friday evening with just 97.7 percent of its goal achieved there was no reason for downheartedness among those workers of the West Side residential division. In the waning hours of the campaign local residents and workers redoubled their efforts to bring the campaign to an exciting finish and take top place honors in the campaign with a 111.8 percentage.

Under the leadership of Miss Sarabel Henderson the "W" section of the West Residential spurted from a percentage of 90.1 in the closing hours of the campaign to attain a percentage of 103.9 and the "O" section representing the lower West Side zoomed from a 100 per cent figure of a week ago to an astounding 129.9 percentage.

In the overall picture the West Residential quota was set at $7,500 and the figure attained was $8,388. In the breakdown of figures the "O" section attained pledges and cash contributions of $2,982 to exceed their quota of $2,295. The "W" or Hilltop section garnered $5,406 against their quota of $5,205. The net result of the last hour campaign by the West Residential sent the local workers' efforts to the highest percentage of any other in the city of Columbus.

Sarabel Henderson, leader of the West Residential drive today stated, "I'm naturally overjoyed that we could make the showing we did. For a while I was very doubtful and apprehensive about whether or not we could keep up the record for the West Side in past Community Chest drives. I want at this time to impress upon everyone that the whole-hearted and diligent efforts of the Hilltop and West Side workers made this success possible. To them belongs the credit. Credit is also due to the many of this community who are mindful of the needs of others and are willing to give of their own earnings that others may not be in want."

Miss Henderson likewise praised the individual efforts of her co-workers in the now completed drive. Assisting her on the Hilltop was Elmer Hegenberger as co-chairman and Mrs. Harriette Knipp, 211 S. Burgess-av, as colonel. Jean Ferguson, 92 Hawkes-av, assisted by E. M. "Gene" Roach, spearheaded the efforts of the lower West Side.

Mrs. Knipp as colonel of the Hilltop Division Monday released the following figures on the various sections of the Hilltop division.

In charge of sections 1, 2 and 3 was Mrs. H. H. Hagans, 141 N. Powell-av, with a quota of $540. Percentage of quota attained was 100.9.

In charge of sections 4, 5 6 and 7 was Mrs. Del Pack, 2520 Sutton-pl., with a quota of $2,190. Percentage attained was 100.

Mrs. Fred M. Marsch, 38 Demorest-av, headed sections 8, 9 10 and 11. Quota was $780. Percentage attained was 100.

Mrs. Joe Briggs, 34 S. Algonquin-av, and Mrs. Thomas Kenny, 147 S. Eureka-av, headed sections 12, 13, 14 and 15. Quota was $292 and percentage attained was 100.

Mrs. L. B. Ehret, 124 Columbian-av, was in charge of sections 16, 17, 18, 19 and 20. Quota was $353 and 100 per cent was attained.

Mrs. Earl Prosser, 332 S. Roys-av, was in charge of sections 21, 22, 23, 24, and 25. Quota was $698. Percentage attained was 100.

Mrs. Clarence Schneider, 592 S. Oakley-av, Mrs. Cliff Seale, 1858 W. Mound-st, and Mrs. H. Benedict, 474 Larcomb-av, handled sections 26, 27 and 28. Quota was $353 and percentage attained was 103.

No breakdown figures on the achievement of the individual sections in the lower West Side were available.

Although the Legion is not trying to compete with the various fine Hilltop restaurants in this project, it does want to invite friends and neighbors to join in the celebration of Armistice Day, an occasion that is well remembered by veterans.

With 2200 votes counted, Franklin-twp voters approved the passage of its fire protection levy, by a count of 1,597 for the levy and 603 votes against it. The margin of more than two to one seemed assurance that the levy had passed.

More Displaced Persons Arrive On Local Scene

On hand to greet two refugees on their arrival last week at the Hillcrest Baptist Church were Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Roth. Left to right: Mrs. Roth; Dr. Alice Krutinenko; her husband, Andrij Krutinenko, and Rev. Roth.

Safely arrived in America after being held by Russians in a Ukranian camp for two years, two refugees offered grateful thanks to the efforts of the Hillcrest Baptist Church.

Andrij Krutinenko and his physician-wife, Alice, arrived in Columbus only last week, through the combined efforts of the World Church Council and the Hilltop Baptist Church of Columbus, 3480 W. Broad-st.

The couple had been held in the Ukranian D. P. Camp Somme Kaserne at Augsberg since 1948. Mrs. Krutinenko and her family had been persecuted ever since 1918 because of their political and religious beliefs.

Born in 1913 on her father's estate in the Ukraine, Mrs. Krutinenko saw her father shot as a rich land owner in the Bolshevik revolution of 1918. Her mother and five children were deported to Siberia in 1920.

In 1925, they were permitted to return to the Ukraine, where they lived in the district of Odessa. Her family continued to be persecuted and her mother was arrested twice, deported once more to Siberia.

Mrs. Krutinenko graduated from a high school in 1928, and in 1936 from a medical institute in Odessa. She was employed as a physician at the hospital in Cherkassy from 1936 to 1941. She served in two other hospitals for the next three years.

It was in 1944 that she was deported to Germany as a farm worker from the East (Osterbeiterin) at Trustbrunn, Austria. She fled to Bavaria in 1945, and lived at Oberdorf, near Kaufbeuren.

Dr. Krutinenko is presently working at St. Anthony's Hospital in Columbus. Her husband is a garage mechanic and a forestry expert, and is seeking employment in either of those fields.

How to Solve Fall Flower Problems

Stray petals from autumn flowers are easily dealt with by this efficient young homemaker, who whisks them away as they fall with her carpet sweeper

HOMEMAKERS who try to bring the beauty of autumn into their homes in the form of flower arrangements often find themselves regretting the effort.

Stiff-stemmed fall flowers are often difficult to arrange, and when they begin shedding, spread petals in profusion all about them.

If you, too, have reached the point where you feel asters and chrysanthemums are better left in the garden or the florist shop, here are some tips that may help you regard them as more pleasure than bother.

Use crumpled chicken wire in the base of your vase as a foundation for your flower arrangement. First fill the chicken wire with leaves, and then place the flower stems one by one.

If your arrangement seems bunchy because of the heavy heads of the flower, include a few sprays of wild grass as background. These will lend balance as well as grace.

As the season wears on, and autumn blossoms become scarce, try using fruit and vegetables as centerpieces. Such homely kitchen provisions as eggplant and squash have rich color tones that can add decided beauty to your home.

Much of the shedding of chrysanthemums can be avoided if care is taken to place them in a spot where they will not be brushed against. Bruised petals are the ones that tend to fall.

When shedding starts, it helps to apply a drop of wax to the base of the loosened petals to hold them in place. This is done by holding a lighted candle over the crucial spot and allowing it to drip.

To keep stray petals from marring the appearance of your home, keep the litter cleared away as they fall. Carpet sweepers are excellent for quick clean-ups without back-bending.

New models, which function efficiently without arm pressure from the user, make this a near-effortless chore. The trick is in the improved brush action which adjusts automatically to short, medium or long nap carpets.

"Chubb" Coyle Gets A Surprise Serenade From East High Band

A. R. "Chubb" Coyle, of 251 Nashoba-av, got the surprise of his life last Saturday night.

Mr. Coyle, a long-time fan of the East High School marching band, has been unable to attend the East football games this fall because he is recuperating from a serious illness. Last Saturday night he looked out his window only to find the entire East High Marching Band lined up on his front lawn.

The band, under the direction of his son, Ziggy Coyle, director of music at East High, played several marching songs in his honor as a tribute to one of their most devoted followers.

Last season, Mr. Coyle was on hand at every game to see the half-time shows presented by the band.

To say the least, Mr. Coyle was overwhelmed with happiness at the pleasant and totally unexpected surprise, and at the unusual thoughtfulness of his son and the band.

Looking Ahead with J. W. WORREL

There are many hundreds of far-sighted citizens in this district who are proud owners of homes which are being purchased out of current savings. These citizens are wise planners. They set aside so much of their income regularly for savings, for mortgage obligations, for life assurance. Many have completed their programme of protection through the Sun Life of Canada by a simple adjustment of their normal budgeting plans which takes care of the mortgage in the event of untimely death of the wage earner. Thus if this tragic circumstance came about, the mortgage could be paid off in full and the family would not lose the home provided for them.

If you are a home owner, just write or call, and I will gladly tell you how the Sun Life of Canada can protect your home investment.

An Open Letter

A Forgotten Man Voices A Plea

Dear You:

Did you ever hear of a forgotten man? I am one. You don't know me or if you once did you have forgotten. I was one of those who went to war back in '17. Some of you weren't even born then. I went "over there" to France to fight in a war to end wars. I tried. Then one day they sent me back to the hospital so I didn't get to finish the job. That war finally ended and most of the other guys went home. Not me. I'm still in my hospital bed in what you now call a Veterans' Hospital.

Did you ever hear of a forgotten man? There is one in the bed next to me. He picked up his load of scrap iron at Guadalcanal in that other World War. He didn't get to finish his job either and now he is here to stay a long time, too.

Me and Joe don't have any folks so nobody comes to see us and nobody writes to us and that's all right I guess, but . . .

What about You? What are you going to do on Armistice Day? Is it just another day for you? Me and Joe would like for you to do something for us. Will you? There will be an Armistice Day parade. Won't you go see it or if you are a veteran won't you march in it, if you are able. Do it as a tribute to those guys in the Legion, the DAV and the VFW and others who have worked so hard to provide good hospitals and hospital beds for guys like me and Joe. They didn't forget us. Next, do you know anyone in a veterans' hospital? Have you gone to see them? Do it soon, won't you?

Now, another thing about this Armistice Day. Did you ever get down on your knees and pray? Will you this Armistice Day do that for me and Joe and pray for peace and then there won't for always be forgotten' guys like me and Joe. Will you? Thanks pal.

Sincerely,

A Forgotten Man.

P.S.: Me and Joe may be forgotten but we are still Americans.

C. Carlton Hartley, Publisher

Two Opposite Parties Needed

Early in May, Herbert Hoover, the only living ex-President, made a noteworthy speech to a group of 1800 editors and publishers. The world, he said, had drunk too deeply of the mixed drinks of three ghosts: "The shade of Karl Marx with his socialism, the shade of Mussolini with his dictated economy, the spook of Lord John Maynard Keynes with his . . . perpetual endowment for bureaucrats. And we have contributed an American ideology of giveaway programs. It might be called the New Generosity. It is not yet a ghost."

Mr. Hoover did not turn thumbs down on governmental welfare activities. Indeed, he said, "Security from the cradle to about 18 to 20 years of age, and from 66 to the grave, has always been sacred to the American people. But, he went on, the group which is in between these extremes "can find its own security only in a free but tough system of risk and self-reliance. It can be destroyed by taxes and the four mixed drinks."

Then Mr. Hoover turned his attention to our two major political parties. He observed that in European nations there are multitudes of parties which create confusion and despair. If we are to avoid that, he said, our two parties must really become opposites. We should have on the one hand, a staunchly conservative Republican Party, opposed, on the other, by a Democratic Party which tends to the left. Only under such a condition, he believes, would be possible for the voters to make a clear-cut choice, and for the respective parties to really stand for something definite and unequivocal.

It is certainly evident that neither of the parties even faintly resembles a cohesive whole today. The Democrats are now the majority party, and the President, their leader, has a program of unprecedented scope for enlarging the functions of the government, for putting the government into business, for continued Federal spending on a huge scale, and for all-inclusive social security. At the same time, the Democrats have in the Senate the foremost advocate of government economy, Senator Bryd, and their marjority is made possible by a Southern delegation which still holds to traditional states' rights doctrines, and which is almost 100 per cent opposed to the President on such great issues as the Administration's civil rights bill.

The situation is similarly confused within the Republican party. Its most effective leader is Senator Taft, a conservative who believes that ever-growing government is the greatest menace to the freedom of the people. Yet it also has a group of aggressive, "liberal" Senators such as Aiken and Morse and Smith, who are continually restive under the present leadership, and who go along with much of the Truman program.

It can be effectively argued that a great political party is big enough to contain men of widely varied views. However, at the present time, the voters don't have much choice. In the last Presidential election, for instance, Governors Dewey and Warren campaigned on a program which, in essence, was not basically different from Mr. Truman's. They offered the voters about the same things that Mr. Truman offered them, but said the Republicans could do it better. This attitude, as the result proved, were not convincing.

Mr. Hoover's idea is simply that the parties stand definitely for specific, opposed policies. Time will tell whether that goal is possible of achievement.

Of All Things to Lose in the Orient!

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Look for the latest bureaucratic move, the new credit regulations on home buying, to be a focal point of attack when Congress goes back into session late in November.

In fact, this action may well be reflected in November elections.

The heavy protest is coming from cities under 25,000 where the new ruling is hurting.

In communities of this size, the independent building contractor, and his suppliers such as the independent lumber yard, plumber, hardware store and others, are a key factor in the community economy. Together they account for about two-thirds of the nation's home building.

The building boom to fill current needs for housing has resulted in some inflationary trends in large metropolitan areas where big corporations, big financial institutions, and big labor has created artificial price levels.

But in the Hometowns of the U.S.A., the common sense of both buyers and independent operators in the building industry has kept inflation down. In fact, records show that in 1949 four out of five homes were sold to families with incomes from $2,000 to $5,000.

But these facts were obviously waved aside by the bureaucrats.

They proceeded on the theory that there is only one way to get rid of mice in a house. Burn the house down.

So look for a slump in building. Look for unemployment. People thrown out of work by this latest bureaucratic fantasy cannot be absorbed in defense work.

The military will take less than 10% of the lumber supply next year; only 5% of the steel.

This is going to cause Congressmen embarrassment. They voted these arbitrary powers to bureaus without any necessity.

Congressmen may try to wiggle out of this by pleading, "forgive us, for we knew not what we did." But from all reports, stupidity is becoming a defense that the people in the smaller cities of the country are getting very reluctant to accept.

* * *

People are already starting to ask such questions as this.

"Why were such powers given to men like Carl Gray of the Veterans Administration who at one time was general superintendent of a large corporation and is now a director of a large investment syndicate, or to Ray Foley, head of the Federal Housing Administration, who has been on government payrolls continuously since 1933. What do they know about our local problems?"

Back of this entire move is the underlying drive.

The bureau in charge of rent control wants its powers back. The bureau that wants to build socialistic multi-million dollar public housing projects now see their opportunity.

But all this has no effect on the Frenchman, for just prior to this order, ECA Bulletin No. 1765 announced this information.

The Marshall Plan has just granted France $19,000,000 for building homes. This will not cause inflation in France . . . because American taxpayers foot the bill.

West Edges South Eleven 13-12 During Heavy Rainstorm Friday

West High's line was the talk of the hour last week as the charges put together their defensive methods last Friday evening to edge South's Bulldogs, 13-12, on the loser's field.

The game was played in a steady downpour of rain and a bitter cold wind before a very small gathering at the Ann Street School.

The slippery field held down both teams' tricky backfielders — Buddy Lucear, Billy Banks and Jim Tuff of South, and Ronnie James, Carmine DeMatteo and Chuck Hunter of West.

Both teams, oddly enough, resorted to a passing game in order to even scores. However, the ball was both slippery for the passer and the receiver—making the game a rather dull affair because neither team was at its peak offensive form

Jerry Johnson, experienced at end, halfback and fullback on the Cowboy squad, got his first real test of quarterbacking in the game. Jerry played the entire game as offensive signal-caller and defensive end. At quarterback, "Jake" replaced Chuck Leipensperger, who suffered a broken nose Wednesday night in a scrimmage session.

Jerry, who earned a varsity football letter last season, was, at the first of the year, primed at the quarterback post. However, he was moved to the end post, and Liebensperger has been calling signals throughout the season.

The final score of the game actually was an asset to the South Siders. West, after being deadlocked with the Bulldogs for almost the entire first half, made it 13-6 with eight seconds left in the second quarter. They held that margin until the Pups tallied a "very lucky" six-pointer with less than two minutes left in the game. After the final TD, which made it 13-12, West's big defensive forward wall held sturdy and South's Jim Tuff, usually always good for three or four yards, was stopped in a running attempt for the extra point and West held onto the pigskin the rest of the way.

The line spore:

West	6	7	0	0	—13
South	6	0	0	6	—12

West—TD, James, Crissinger (pass from Johnson). Extra point—Crissinger (pass from Hunter).
South—TD, Banks, Rowell.

It's that time again—time to pick all-city teams, and here we are sticking our necks out right before the final game of the season. We won't try to pick any teams—we'll merely suggest.

North and East are going to dominate the City League all star group due to their superior seasons this year. That isn't questionable because to have a championship squad you must have championship material.

Going down the list in order of the teams, the all-city list briefly looks something like this:

ENDS: Aquinas probably has the biggest array of flankers in the city. Big John Masdea, an all-city footballer last season in addition to making the basketball squad also, along with teammates Mark Saille and Bob Liska, will be in the thick of the battle. Naturally, Howard Jackson, a returnee all-city man from Central, along with Dick Ruh of South and Bob Kavanaugh of North, will be up among them in the battle.

TACKLES: One returnee, Herb Jones of North, is certain of one spot and, in our eyes, the other one belongs to Dick McDermitt of West, who is probably the league's best tackle since West's Chuck Weeks and East's Dick Archibald. However, Dale DeBolt of South and Dick Linson and Louie Toone of East are capable of first string acclaim any time.

GUARDS: Bill Orcutt of West is sure of one post here with an array of others still seeking duty. Will Brumfield of South, Bob Talle of East and Tom Riley and Bob Burke of Aquinas are all defensive stalwarts at the guard post while North's John Palmer and Morgan Burgess will probably receive plenty of comment.

CENTER: You got us here. Ronnie Sprouse, who was chosen on the all-city team last year while playing for Central, but this year isn't having too good of a season. It's a toss-up between Sprouse, Bob Whinnery of East, Ed Gleibs of West or Dick Potts of Linden. The Panthers may receive their only all-city individual at this post.

QUARTERBACK: Don't shoot us yet, but in our estimation, the best quarterback in the city is the pilot of a team that has yet to win a game. He is Howard (Hopalong) Cassady of Central, who has set plenty of rival coaches dizzy with his brilliant running and passing. He is the bright light in the rather "dark" Central backfield. North's signal-caller Dan Wiper is a poor passer, but an excellent field general; East's Ernie Mackey, an honorable mention player on the all-city squad will give Cassady a battle for the job.

Russ Reckling, Aquinas quarterback, last year grabbing honorable mention honors, is probably the most dangerous passer in the city, and smartly piloted his squad to an upset win over East last week. Chuck Liebensperger of West, Dale Rowell of South and Myron Hutcheson of Linden round out the loop's backfield.

HALFBACKS: Plenty of depth here, and your guess is as good as any. Any of the team's 14 eligible entrants are very deserving of an all-city berth.

Aquinas offers the City League's top scorer in Jack Schmidt and another threat, Bob Mangan; Central has two Negro scatbacks in Bill Hairston and Ron Adams; East probably has the best duo in Virgil Rhea and Ralph Hammock—an all-city pair themselves; Linden has one all-city backfield candidate for sure in Ronnie Thompson, the Panther's blond bomber who handles the complicated single wing like a master; North offers two very fast backs in Jim Spung, a 1949 all-city back, and Clark Laurence.

South has two track stars capable of all-city acclaim in Newt Thomas and little Billy Banks — both very fast and tricky runners. Thomas was an honorable mention on the 1948 all-city squad but failed to be recognized last season. West has their top scorer, speedster Ronnie James to offer for all-city acclaim in addition to flashy Charlie Hunter.

FULLBACKS: Here, it's a toss-up between Tony Eramo of Aquinas; Bob Weinrech of North or Jim Tuff of South, with Weinrech, only a junior, probably holding the upper hand. All three are very excellent at line drives; both Tuff and Weinrech are big while Eramo, certainly the main reason for Aquinas' win over East last week, is rather small for a fullback. A mid-season injury to West's Carmine DeMatteo has prevented him from being a contender; while John Johnson of East; Don Stein of Linden and Ron Clark of Central round out the available material at tailback.

SHORT BITS: West High's reserve squad played to a 13-13 tie with East's seconds last Wednesday afternoon at Harley Field. Those fans who stayed for the entire West-South game in the rain and cold last Friday night were certainly true fans if nothing else.

One highlight of the West win was the sensational punting of Jerry Trabue. Neither South nor West's bands were able to march at the halftime of last week's game . . . West's marchers made the trip, but both directors agreed to "calling it off" before the start of the game due to the slippery footing and unlined field . . . Speaking of unlined fields, West's winning touchdown (pass from Johnson to Crissinger) the game had to be halted a few moments before the officials could find the goal line before signaling the score.

Glenwood Recreation Center, the "gateway" to many pleasant hours of entertainment and educational activities for the youth and adults of the Hilltop and West Side, is now making plans for an extensive program for the fall and winter months.

F. N. Reister the director of the center, will be assisted by staff members, Patricia Mathews and Jeanne Williams.

"Doc" Reister resides at 47 N. Wayne-av. He was born and reared at Tiffin, O., and was a 1937 graduate of the Tiffin Columbian High School. Attending Ohio State University from 1940-1944, he received his B.Sc. in physical education. In 1944-45 he taught and coached at Wakeman High School, was athletic director of Carey High School in 1945-46 and became director of athletics at Lakeview High School from 1947 to 1950. He coached all sports and had two district tourney basketball teams and won five championships at Lakeview. In the summer of 1950 he received his M.A. at Ohio State.

Reister has had two years of experience as physical director at the Central YMCA, six years of coaching at Tiffin YMCA, served as a "Y" camp councilor and was in charge of an extensive safety program at the Lakeview High School. He supervises all of the boys' activities and clubs at Glenwood Center.

Patricia Mathews, recreation instructor, came from Ashland, O., and now resides at 341 W. Ninth-av. She spent three years at Ashland College in the field of physical education and religion, minoring in speech and art. "Pat" has worked extensively with church groups, Girl Scouts and summer camps. Her outside interest is music, singing preferably. Her work at Glenwood includes craft classes, organization of girls clubs, and "Golden Age" club for adults. She has the responsibility of providing program activity for the younger children. She has been employed by the city recreation department since Sept. 1, 1948, and all three years have been spent at Glenwood.

Jeanne Katheryn Williams was born in Mansfield, O., April 18, 1947. She graduated from Bucyrus High School in 1945 and 1946 enrolled at Ohio State for a two year course in physical education. She has had eight years experience as camp counciler for the Girl Scouts of America at Camp Pittenger, Tiffin, O., Camp Metamora, Mich., and Camp Ken-Jokety. Jeanne has been employed by the city recreation department since Sept. 1, 1948, and has worked at the West Market Center, Schiller and Sunshine Centers.

Her duties at Glenwood are to organize teen-age activities, work with the older girls in athletics and to fit in where she can best help.

The public is invited to come to the Glenwood Shelter House at any time to see the work in progress or to take part in the program.

Friday, Nov. 10, at 7:30 to 10 p. m. the recreation center will sponsor a square dance for the teenagers and adults. The "Sun Valley Boys" will furnish the music and instructions will be given for the benefit of those who have never square danced. The admission is free and the public is invited.

Women's Baptist Missionary Union To Meet Nov. 14

The Columbus Baptist Women's Missionary Union will hold its semi-annual meeting at the Linden Baptist church, 1643 Aberdeen-av, Tuesday, Nov. 14, beginning at 10 a. m.

Featured speaker for the morning session will be Rev. E. E. Sowards, returned missionary from Burma.

Special music for the morning session will be a solo by Mrs. Norman Menge. Mary Twining will sing in the afternoon.

Mrs. Gilbert Coffman will have charge of the meeting.

Youth Rally Planned Saturday, Nov. 11, At Hilltop Community

On Saturday night, Nov. 11, at 7:30 in the Hilltop Community Church, 179 N. Huron-av, there will be a great youth rally and song fest. A real snappy program is being planned by Mrs. Edith Gallagher, who is the song evangelist in the revival meeting now in progress.

There will be solos, duets, instrumental numbers plus a real lively singspiration by the congregation. The youth of the Hilltop have a special invitation to attend this song fest.

Cowboy, Pirate Game Highlight Of Sport Scene

By Dave Miller

Attempting to put a golden-tainted finishing touch on their 1950 grid campaign, West's footballers will meet Central's Pirates on the downtown grid layout tomorrow evening at 8 p. m.

The Cowboys will enter the fray as favorites, holding a 3-2 mark in the City League play while Central will enter the final game of the season without a City League verdict in five attempts.

In non-league wars, Central has lost to Toledo Libbey (21-0) and gained their only win of the year, topping an unpredictable St. Charles eleven, 32-29.

Drawing the bye last week, Central had their second chance in as many weeks to spy on the Cowboys. Two weeks ago when West hosted to East, Central, who played the night previous, had an opportunity to watch the Cowboys in action in the mud.

West is currently going through a rather successful year (considering the material on hand at the beginning of the year) and hopes for a 4-2 mark in the city and an overall 5-4 record.

The Cowboys suffered a couple of heart-breaking losses this season. Fumbles cost them the game in both the Lima Central and North affair and had those games been reversed the Cowboys' season would probably be currently riding fairly high.

Central, on the other hand, has one of the best backfields in the city in Howard Cassady at quarterback; Bill Hairston and Bob Clark at halfbacks and Bob Adams at fullback.

Cassady and Hairston will be expected to give the Cowboys plenty of trouble Friday. Cassady, an all-city nominee last season is sure of a berth this year due to his very hard, tricky running and deadly passing. Cassady's aerials to End Howard Jackson will probably be very much in evidence tomorrow evening, incidentally, if the co-champs, again under Dave Parks, are up to par.

Hairston will be expected to carry the majority of the Central running attack tomorrow evening also. He not only is good for yardage through the middle but is also adept at running the ends.

In the South affair, Hairston, who seemingly was beginning to lead a Central comeback, suffered a shoulder separation and was out for the entire last half and the loss very assuredly hurt the Pirates.

However, the Cowboys will be throwing their backfield at the Pirates for the first time in four weeks at their top strength. Quarterback Chuck Leibensperger and Fullback Carmine DeMatteo have recovered from their injuries enough to aid the Cowboys in their annual struggle Friday.

The probable starters:

West High Alumni Names Hutchison As New President

Don Hutchison

At the recent homecoming dance the officers of the West High Alumni Association were elected for the coming year. A capacity crowd was on hand to renew acquaintances, meet the queen and her court, football team, and incoming officers.

Former President Bill Hawes and his associate officers, vice president, Bob Bass, and secretary-treasurer, Marilyn Hoelcher, relinquished their positions to the following alumni: Don Hutchison, '48, president; "Lefty" Kelly, '45, vice president; Betty Roederer, '50, secretary, and Betty Walker, '50, treasurer.

The official installation of officers will take place tonight at 7:30 in room 101, West High School. All alumni members are urged to attend.

Rorne School News

Mrs. F. E. Dougherty, Mrs. Allen Burns, Mrs. W. F. Hackensmith and Mrs. James Whalen attended the regular monthly meeting of the Columbus and Franklin County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations which was held at Central High School Thursday, Nov. 2. The program consisted of several delightful choral numbers by the members of the sixth grade of Clinton Elementary School and excellent talks by George C. Beery, superintendent of Franklin County Schools, and Dr. Paul Klohr, coordinator of curriculum, Columbus public schools, whose topic was "Education Highlights." Everyone enjoyed the very unusual program and its helpfulness.

It is with regret that we now report that there are five cases of scarlet fever in Mrs. Kaderly's first grade. Confined are Jerry Clark, David Elliott, Teddy Craven, Judy Grimstead and Herbert Higginbotham.

Many children enjoyed their holiday Friday when all the schools were dismissed.

All who attended the Hard Times part at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hoffman Friday, Nov. 3, had a very enjoyable evening.

Correction

In one of the ads appearing in our Mid-Century of Progress Edition of last Sunday, it was erroneously stated that the Warren Stores organization, operators of Sheskey's 5&10, 2368 W. Broad-st, were located at Greenfield, Ohio. Their main office is at Greenville, Ohio. We're sorry.

Permanent Home Memorial Site Secured By Camp Chase

Shown above are the principal figures in the transaction Tuesday which saw the Camp Chase 98 American Legion Post take over possession of the Ora Fletcher property on W. Broad-st as the initial step toward completion of plans for a Permanent Home Memorial. Chairman Ray McVay, Sr., of the Permanent Home Committee, is shown receiving checks totaling $13,500 from Mr. Crew of the Ohio National Bank. Others present acted as witnesses to the occasion which saw the beginning of fulfillment of a dream for local legionnaires since 1946 when plans for the Memorial Site were originally formed.

Ballot No. Reveals Age Of Hilltop Woman Voter

Miss Addie Wilson, 3406 Fisher-rd, is shown in the above photo as she signed the poll book in Precinct F. of Franklin-twp just prior to being handed her ballot. The ballot, she said, revealed her age for it was number 80. Election workers also shown in the photo are A. L. Hagen, 1013 N. Hague-av; Mrs. George Halliday, 1487 N. Hague-av; Mrs. Harry Bradshaw, 736 Wilson-rd; Mrs. Ed O. Johnson, 677 N. Hague-av, and Mrs. James Neff, 744 Wilson-rd.

The vagaries of love, war and elections are many and to Addie Wilson of 3406 Fisher-rd, just 80 years young, it seemed Tuesday, Nov. 7, as she cast her vote that fates had eventually caught up with her. She was handed ballot number 80 at Precinct F, Franklin-twp polling place at 575 N. Hague-av.

Said Miss Wilson as she emerged from the voting booth holding ballot No. 80, "It certainly is odd that I get this number on a ballot that just coincides with my age. I've never missed voting at an election yet and this is the first time it has ever happened."

Miss Wilson said that she was born on the Hilltop in the early days of its settlement.

modeling of the present structure on the property will be begun within the next few weeks and that following the remodeling, the Camp Chase Post will occupy the quarters as a temporary home for the Legion.

Later as the building material and labor situation becomes more clarified the local post committee expects to begin construction of the new permanent home memorial on the foreground of the lot.

No indication has as yet been made as to just what type structure is to be erected on the site. Local Legion officials pointed out that there is yet much planning and work to be accomplished before final decision is made.

Current members of the permanent home committee are Ray McVay, Sr., chairman, Chet Wagner, treasurer, Michael H. Austin, Dewey Stout, Lynn Baker, Frank Morgan and Marlo Smith. Assisting this group in the long struggle to secure the memorial site and given much praise by the committee chairman was Guy B. Myers of Westmoor-av.

Missouri "Mystery Barrel" Draws Local Attention

Folk from the "Show Me State" of Missouri around West Plains in Howell County have one of those "it can't be true" problems on their hands today and are at complete loss for an explanation of a "spook barrel" on the J. H. Orr farm in that vicinity.

Local attention was focused upon the mystery barrel when Mrs. Burton G. Cutting of 115 N. Chase-av, a former resident of that Missouri community, called attention to numerous articles which had appeared in the hometown daily newspaper, The West Plains Daily Quill.

According to reports of the early phases of the story on the "spook barrel" the Orrs, in seeking a method of watering their chicken flock, set up an old vinegar barrel on a tree stump, attached a trough leading to the chicken yard and filled the barrel with water. That was three months ago, and since then they have not been required to fill the barrel. It fills itself and on one or more occasions has even run over the brim. The Orrs have no running water and have to carry their water for daily use. And therein lies the mystery—from what source does the water in the barrel originate?

When first reports of the overflowing barrel were made, a Missouri state employee who works at solving mysteries, sat up one entire night beside the mystery barrel and checked it each hour. To begin with, he removed about three inches of water from the barrel and for several hours noted no change in the water level. And then, suddenly, the barrel was overflowing, but he did not see it rise!

From the West Plains Daily Quill we quote the following accounts. It would be interesting to note the explanations of Hilltoppers for the mystery barrel after perusal of these accounts Several theories have already been advanced. What is your opinion?

From the Daily Quill, dated Aug. 29, 1950:

Thousands of persons continued to visit the J. H. Orr farm near Simmons and at least one couple reported they actually saw the water rising suddenly in the self-filling chicken yard water barrel that is attracting nationwide attention.

More than a thousand persons visited the Ozark farm at one time on Sunday to see for themselves the happening, and letters began to arrive from as far away as New York City asking for information.

One woman in Kansas City wrote to ask for a bottle of the water for healing purposes.

For the huge crowds that find their way to the Orr farm the barrel continued to perform. The water continued to go down slightly and then rise again to the brim or near the brim of the barrel.

J. R. Ellis, nephew of the Orrs, visited the farm yesterday and said that for the first time the water in the barrel was seen to swirl slowly, counter-clockwise and that it remained at the top of the barrel although people were taking the water out and some were drinking it from time to time all day.

The chickens were having a bad time of it because the huge crowds were keeping them away from the trough and finally a pan of water was placed behind the chicken house for their convenience.

One of the highlights of yesterday's barrel-filling drama was that the drinking trough itself overflowed with water, although there is a valve that controls the flow from the barrel—and at the same time the water in the barrel did not go down to any large degree.

Ellis said that the barrel was taking a beating because visitors wanted splinter souvenirs and that Mrs. Orr came out of her house once to find a man boring a hole in the side of it.

Mrs. Orr said she has not had a chance to cook a meal in three days because of the visitors and that she is telling those she talks with that it surely must be an act of God.

Many persons have suggested that she take the barrel down, but Mrs. Orr said she liked it the way it was because it saved her carrying water every day.

There is another chicken pen nearby with another barrel and she has to fill it daily. The water in the second barrel is much warmer than that in the self-filling one.

And there isn't much sleep for Mrs. Orr. Visitors come at night as well as in the daytime. Some of the visitors have brought her fruit and other food, for which she is thankful, because she doesn't have time to prepare a hot meal.

She ran out of paper for registering the visitors and now does not keep a list of the many persons who have come to see the "supernatural at work."

From the Daily Quill, dated Aug. 30, is this account:

Dear Mr. Martin:

On this morning's visit to the Orr Farm I obtained the following data, which I said yesterday that I would mail to you in time for inclusion in Monday's account in the Quill.

The water level remained one inch from the top of the barrel from my departure Friday morning to as late as 3:45 o'clock Friday afternoon. It was inspected again less than 30 minutes later (i. e. before 4:15) and was found to be full and running over.

Early Saturday morning it was observed to be full as usual, despite consumption of some of the water by the chickens. About 8 o'clock one party was seen to remove about one inch of water, but the barrel was again filled and dripping steadily when I inspected it at 11 o'clock.

I might add that these morning and evening "filling periods" are the very times that the chickens drink most of their water, according to Mrs. Orr.

So ends my present report on the water barrel. It has certainly been an enigma of the first "water", and I am afraid it will remain as such even after study by the A. S. P. R. and comparison of any other water phenomena in their files, and after chemical analysis is completed. At that date you will hear from me again, as I have mentioned.

Very sincerely yours,
Wm. E. Cox, Jr.

Aug. 26, 1950

A telephone call to the Quill from Springfield at noon today revealed that the water from the mystery barrel is entirely different than that of any other water on or near the J. H. Orr farm.

Three bottles of water from the farm sent to C. C. Williford, Springfield weather man, by W. E. Cox, were analyzed in a Springfield laboratory and the contents of the mystery barrel water differed greatly from that of a nearby river on the farm and from another watering barrel in the chicken yard.

One bottle contained water from the mystery barrel, the second from another barrel of water in the chicken yard and the third bottle held water from a river a quarter of a mile away.

The river water and the water in the second barrel analyzed the same, but the mystery barrel contained a much higher percentage of calcium, magnesium, chlorides and alkali solutions.

The report from Burdett Heineman, a member of a firm's laboratory in Springfield, said that the water from the second barrel and the river contained 164 parts per million of calcium and magnesium while the mystery barrel water was as high as 294 parts per million. Normal city water is 160 parts.

In alkali the mystery barrel water almost doubled that of the river and the other barrel water.

A KGBX reporter told the Quill the analysis proved that the water was too hard for rain water and it was definitely not from the river or from the same source as the water in another barrel fed to chickens on the farm.

COMBINE ICE CREAM AND APPLES

Apple pie a la mode has always been one of the favorite desserts on American menus. The tart yet sweet taste of juicy apples is a perfect flavor blend with creamy ice cream. Most people call this combination a "natural."

An interesting variation of this all-time favorite is "Apples a la Mode." The apple halves are cooked in a sugar sirup, then topped with big spoonfuls of ice cream, sprinkled with pecans and served with the extra apple sirup.

This dessert is a nutritious as well as tasty one. Because ice cream contains the same valuable nutrients that are in milk in slightly different proportions, it is a good way to help meet the family's daily milk needs. A serving (½ quart) gives about the same food value as ½ glass of milk.

Team ice cream and apples together frequently this fall while the fall apple crop is tree-fresh and a good buy. Pears and peaches are also plentiful now and combine well with ice cream, too, in many ways.

Apples a la Mode

2 cups sugar
1 cup water
[illegible]
3 large Jonathan apples
1 quart vanilla ice cream
Whole nut meats

Combine sugar, water and juice and grated rinds of the lemons. Bring to a boil. Wash the apples thoroughly, cut in half and remove core. Cook the apples slowly in the sirup for 15 to 20 minutes, until they become transparent. Do not overcook so they lose their shape. Dip sirup over apples during cooking. Chill apples in the sirup. Arrange on a large serving plate and pile vanilla ice cream in the center; top with nut meats. Serve with the remaining sirup. Serves 6.

Local Legion Auxiliary Unit Lends Support To UMT Bill

Ed. note—the following statement concerning Universal Military Training was issued by the Camp Chase Unit No. 98 of the American Legion Auxiliary. In an effort to determine public opinion on this matter of vital importance, The Hilltop Record presents the following:

"In view of the present situation the members of the American Legion Auxiliary feel that the Universal Military Training Bill is of vital importance to every American today. The continued military strength is the only safeguard against attacks, and in view of the fact that in war the trained man has a much better chance to come home alive, we the members of Camp Chase Unit No. 98 are asking for your support in this matter.

Do you believe that Congress should immediately provide military training for all young men as a survival insurance for them and security insurance for our nation. If so, write your Congressman and Senator, urging the passage of UMT legislation.

A telephone poll will be conducted in our community within the next two or three days for your personal opinion. The regular meeting of Camp Chase Unit will be held Friday, Nov. 10, at 8:15 p. m. at 10 S. Burgess-av.

If you care to express your opinion on this matter, please fill out the following blank, and mail it to Mrs. Robert Daggett, secretary, at 344 Belvidere-av.

. . . . . .

Do you believe that Congress should immediately provide military training for all young men?

Garlic Bread

Garlic bread, hot from the oven, is a natural with down-to-earth dishes such as stews and Italian spaghetti. Making this for the first time, perhaps you'd better use half a clove of garlic only until you find out how much garlic you can take.

Crush one clove garlic on side of wooden bowl, using wooden spoon. Add ¼ pound margarine or butter and work garlic into it until you are able to spread it very easily. Cut diagonal gashes in long loaf of French bread (hard rolls are fine if French bread is not available) — but do not cut all the way through to the bottom of the loaf.

Spread generous quantities of garlic, margarine or butter in between all the cut surfaces of bread or rolls. If you don't use all the spread, use it up on broiled meats. Put bread or rolls in pan and into moderately hot oven 400F. Heat until bread is crisp and piping hot. About 10 minutes. Always pull garlic bread apart — even at the table.

Newlyweds Make Home On Hilltop

Miss Teresa Levy, 466 Roys-av, and Mr. William Peden were united in a Nuptial Mass read by Rev. Raymond Bauschard, Sept. 2, 9:30 a. m. in St. Mary Magdalene Church.

The former Miss Levy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Levy; Mr. Peden is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Peden, 455 Oakwood-av.

The bride, escorted down the candle-lit aisle by her father, wore a gown fashioned of white slipper satin and lace. It featured princess lines, and an Elizabethan rolled collar. Long fitted sleeves edged in lace and the skirt, which was accented with inverted pleats, fell over an old fashioned hoop into a cathedral train. Her veil of imported silk illusion was secured by an open crown half hat of matching satin with tiny orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with an orchid.

The bride's cousin, Miss Rita Reed, served as maid of honor and was attired in a full skirted dress of heavy peach satin. She carried a bouquet of violet asters.

The bridesmaids, Miss Frances Parzinger and Miss Lucille Arrigo, and bridesmatron, Mrs. Ted Sayer, Jr., wore identical gowns of pale blue and carried pink asters.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Guy Peden, Jr. Mr. Richard Gibson, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Mr. Michael Purpura served as ushers.

Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Levy were hosts at a wedding breakfast at the Southern Hotel for the immediate families and the bridal party. A reception was held in the evening at St. Mary Magdalene School Hall.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of St. Mary High School and Mr. Peden is employed at the U. S. Army Depot.

The couple are making their home at 192 S. Richardson-av.

The Rosary-Altar Confraternity PCCW of St. Mary Magdalene Church will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday, Nov. 16, with a potluck dinner at 6:30 p. m. A feature of the evening will be a white elephant auction in charge of Mrs. Frank Christ and Mrs. Lee Blackburn. All women of the parish are invited.

Hilltop Business Association Plans Christmas Decorative Scheme

SHOWN ABOVE are the new Christmas decorative materials which will be seen making their appearance on W. Broad-st and Sullivant-av in different spots as yet undetermined, in preparation for the coming holiday season. Purchased recently by the Hilltop Business Association as the initial step toward permanent Christmas street decorations, the units consist of two white translucent halves molded in three dimensional relief. The wreath portions are screened in two-tone green with bright red berries and the Santa face is screened in red, flesh and blue. Each color is baked on the plastic to insure permanent bond, plus prevention of paint chipping.

Designed as the motif which will in the future decorate all Hilltop streets and intersections, the Hilltop Business Association has taken the lead in providing a permanent and lasting yuletide decoration system. Initial order placed by the association was for five complete sets as illustrated above. These will be placed at strategic places about the Hilltop area and serve as the basis for future Christmas decorations.

The Avanti Guild will meet at Mrs. Charles Hanneman's, 2031 Inchcliff-dr, Thursday, Nov. 16, 12.30 p. m. Members are asked to bring gift wrapped jewelry for Christmas distribution.

Aerial Study Of Communities Is Contributing Greatly To Progress

Hilltoppers, along with the rest of the nation, are fast learning the advantages of aerial education, and a Hilltopper, Ralph E. Young, 46 S. Huron-av, former soil conservationist of Franklin County and now agricultural coordinator of the Ohio Aviation Board and president of the Ohio Flying Farmers, is making a substantial contribution.

Learning via birds-eye view route is not new; however, many of the purposes and approaches to a wide variety of social economic problems in our change of living makes the airplane an indispensable vehicle, not only of travel, but an agency to expedite thought and planning in our civic life.

The State Highway Department has gone a long way in charting roads, bridges, etc. by the aerial route.

The Hilltop, today and tomorrow, takes cognizance of aviation in its planning-role.

Projecting into the future, the Hilltop, as a segment of the Capital City, is not immune to attack by a foreign power. Without a great stretch of the imagination its vulnerability by the air route is easily seen by its 50,000 inhabitants, industrial units and homes.

Civil and military defense of the future might well study the problems from the aerial angle.

If a lateral, main traveled road is established through the Hilltop environs to expedite and alleviate congestion of travel on Route 40, aerial photography would undoubtedly play a vital part, Young avers.

As the Hilltop expands, sewers, sanitation facilities, utility lines, subdivision of real estate, etc. may be studied and blue-printed from the air with ease and dispatch.

The proposed artery of transportation is the McKinley-av area and elimination of some of the poor housing units there could be expedited in airplane study.

West High students, as well as elementary students on the Hilltop will, in all probability in the future, learn much from reconnoiters in the air, as an implement to many courses, or perhaps as a special course in the curricula.

Airplanes of the future may perhaps have picture windows and glass bottoms for floors, enabling the pilot and travelers to see more perceptibly various objectives on land, Mr. Young conjectured.

Farmers in the outlying periphery of Hilltop environs will find in the study of agriculture solution to problems via airplane.

Since many graduates of West High School are looking toward agriculture as a career there is a possibility that the school of tomorrow—in Columbus and on the Hilltop may include courses in agriculture in this area—and here again, the airplane will play an important role.

Recently, neighboring West Jefferson Young Farmers Association under the guidance of their Vocational Agriculture Instructor R. O. Deacon, chose the airplane to conserve their time and study farming conditions between Columbus and Wooster. This was a state-wide field day at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station where 260 young farmers from all over Ohio drove in to bring themselves up-to-date in the latest farming practices.

The West Jefferson group flew from Sullivant Avenue Airport after arising on a normal schedule, did their chores and left as a caravan in three four-place planes at 8:45 a. m. Fifty minutes later they taxied to a standstill on the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station's landing strip. One young farmer remarked that he had done a half day's work before leaving and yet was on time at Wooster for the full day's events . . . thanks to the airplane as a farm tool of time conservation.

En route to Wooster soil conservation farms and layouts of C. D. Blubaugh, Louis Bromfield and soil conservation districts of Franklin, Licking, Knox, Holmes and Wayne, were viewed from the air, thus making every minute of the day a glorified experience.

Plans for this flight were made by Hilltopper Ralph E. Young, who feels that the use of the airplane should increase tremendously by farm groups from all parts of Ohio flying from their local airport to the agricultural experiment station on such days as Dairy Day, Orchard Day, Hay and Pasture Day, etc. The station's landing strip should be overflowing with parked planes on such days.

The cost of such time saving and educational flights is approximately five cents per air mile and would be flown in four-place planes furnished by the local airport nearest your home.

The Young Farmers from West Jefferson who flew to Wooster and returned were Carl Thomas, president of Ohio Young Farmers Association, Ralph Engle, Raymond Shipley, Robert Ducey, David Ducey, Eugene Kent, Ralph Peterman, Carl Thomas and R. O. Deacon.

The planes were piloted by Ed. Young, Carl Wegan and Jack Burkhart, all commercial licensed pilots that operate from Sullivant Avenue Airport and Port Columbus.

Under Mr. Young's direction the cities of Akron, Toledo and Dayton took a look from the air at their "faces" and learned much about their present physical status and condition. Thus far this year over 40 air tours have been set up and flown embracing one-half of Ohio's rural and urban communities under the sponsorship of the aviation board.

Over 480,000 air miles were traveled hauling more than 8000 persons, thus giving them the privilege of looking at their community from the air. Similar air tours are being planned by many other cities and counties in the state for the year 1951.

Why not consider such an experience for Hilltop community or the entire city of Columbus for another year?

July Nuptials Unite M. Martin; R. Norton

Miss Marian Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Martin, 1735 Sullivant-av, became the bride of Mr. Philip Hayes Norton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth B. Norton, 2658 Bryden-rd, July 29 in Richmond, Ind.

The new Mrs. Norton is a graduate of West High School and attended Ohio State University where she was pledged to Alpha Phi Sorority.

Mr. Norton is a graduate of the Columbus Academy and attended Union College in Schenectady, N. Y., where he was a member of Chi Psi Fraternity. He is now a student at Ohio State University.

West High Band Parents Club, with Mrs. Earl Fenner presiding, will meet Wednesday, Nov. 15, 8 p. m., room 2, to make plans for its annual Christmas party. All members are urged to attend.

More than 245,000 Ohio men served in World War I and nearly 7,000 of these died in action.

WILL BE AT BETTER HOME CENTER
2275 WEST BROAD STREET

Miss Mary De Wine is nationally famous for solving homemakers' laundry problems. She has traveled throughout the U. S. and Canada appearing on radio and television, lecturing and consulting on homemakers problems.

ALL DAY SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11TH
Miss Mary De Wine will be at our Hilltop Store demonstrating the ABC-O-matic. You are cordially invited to come in any time during the day and watch this demonstration — bring your laundry if you wish.

THE NEW ABC-O-Matic AUTOMATIC WASHER
Entirely new in conception . . . new in washing action . . . new in rinsing principles . . . the ABC-O-Matic outperforms them all. It's backed by 40 years of washer experience and production. It was developed by industry men who helped pioneer the first power-driven washer, the first swinging wringer and other important washing advancements.

Cleaner Washings
ABC-O-Matic brings you a sensational new washing actional instead of two-way start and reverse action. ABC's new "centric" agitation is a continuous washing action, easier on the clothes, more effective.

Overflowing Rinse
The second of three rinses is the ABC-O-Matic overflow rinse, illustrated, in which water-laden dirt and soap scum are carried out over the top of the tub for cleaner rinsing.

AUTOMATIC FLOOR LEVELING
A self-levelizing device that compensates for the difference in floor level. Designed to eliminate excessive vibration even during the spin cycle of the washer.

SPINNER DRYING
Wide tub allows greater centrifugal force to get clothes dry faster. Clothes are dry in a minimum of time, wrinkle-free, easy to iron.

LESS VIBRATION— NO BOLTING DOWN
Because "centric" agitation distributes clothes evenly, no additional mechanism is required to eliminate vibration, therefore, no bolting down is required. This feature alone adds years of life to your washer.

Late September Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hall, Jr.

Ferns, palms and huckleberry vine decorated the altar of Hoge Memorial Presbyterian Church before which Rev. John Miller read the twilight ceremony Sept. 23, uniting Miss Jeannine George, daughter of Mrs. Grace George, 79 S. Ogden-av, and Mr. Charles Hall, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hall, Sr., 30 S. Algonquin-av.

The bride's gown of traditional white satin, styled with a redingote with a stand-up collar and long fitted sleeves, was enhanced by Venice lace down the front of the full skirt, and tapering to points over her hands. Her skirt ended in a full circular train. A satin cap held in place her fingertip veil. She wore pearls which were a gift of the bridegroom. The bride carried white irises on a prayer book.

Miss Mary Lou George, maid of honor, wore an aqua gown styled with a portrait neckline, cap sleeves and a pleated bustle.

Bridesmaids Miss Wanda Williams and Miss Ada George wore gowns of pink, styled like that of the maid of honor. All the attendants wore hats and veils to match their ensembles.

Best man for Mr. Hall was Tom Hill, Oak Park, Ill. Ernie Dahlen and Lee Deinst served as ushers.

Mrs. George received her guests in a navy blue dress trimmed with matching velvet with which she wore navy accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The bridegroom's mother wore a grey crepe dress with matching accessories and pink carnations.

Mrs. W. E. Jones Attends Training; Wins Valuable Prizes

Mrs. William E. Jones, 243 N. Warren-av, returned home recently from New York City, where she completed a course of instruction preparing her to represent Welcome Wagon, Inc. as hostess in this city.

While attending the training classes in New York, Mrs. Jones appeared on the quiz show "Take a Number," Saturday, Oct. 28, and won the following valuable prizes, gas range, electric waffle iron, maple bedroom suite, set of pipes, and a hair style and set.

Welcome Wagon Service was originated in 1928 by Thomas W. Briggs, a newspaperman of Memphis, Tenn. As the covered wagons of the pioneers wended their way toward the frontier, the homesteaders from scattered settlements along the way met them in "Welcome Wagons" with food and water to refresh the travelers at the end of their long journey and extend a hand of welcome.

That gracious tradition lives on today in Welcome Wagon. Daily, throughout the United States and Canada Welcome Wagon hostesses carry the good wishes of civic and business organizations to mothers of new babies; teen age girls, newly engaged girls, families moving from one home to another within the community, and newcomers to the city.

Mrs. Jones has been very active in community affairs. She is chairman of Twig 77 for the Children's Hospital and is a member of the board of directors for the Jaycee Wives' Club.

CAMP FIRE GIRL ACTIVITIES

The Pat-Ki-Ga Group of Camp Fire Girls, which holds its meetings at St. John's Lutheran Church, has decided to help the West Side Day Nursery during the coming year.

On Friday, Nov. 3, the group was conducted through the nursery by Mrs. Dorothy Clinger, its executive head. The girls were especially interested in the pre-school children and decided to make them their project.

After leaving the nursery, the girls walked down town and went on a tour of the State House. Each girl had packed lunch and this was eaten in the State House yard. Every pigeon and squirrel was on hand to beg a pite from the girls.

The next stop was the Camp Fire office where the girls met Mrs. Campbell, the executive head.

The Art Gallery was their next point of interest, as there is a very fine Indian exhibit being shown. There is so much Indian lore in the Camp Fire program that each girl was anxious to see the many things offered.

From the Art Gallery the group went to WTVN in the Lincoln-Le Veque tower to see a television program called "Quizeroo." They were very thrilled when they asked their group name and were allowed to wave "hello" to Maxine Gassman, who just had her tonsils removed.

The girls all agreed it had been a big day, but were resolved they want to get busy at once making Christmas gifts for many small tots at the nursery.

Dahlias, Guns, Other Collections Create Hobbies For Local Family

Hilltop dahlias of 65 varieties in a riot of color, grown and propagated by Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Xander, 226 S. Westgate-av, add much to this already floral conscious community now nationally famed for its mums. In fact the Xanders have a dahlia mum which compares favorably with those at the recent Hilltop Mum Show.

The dahlia raising hobby of the Xanders extends over the past four years, and their colorful South Westgate back yard is a sight to behold—it's a veritable garden of beauty and adoration where may be found the choicest dahlias.

Identified with the Armour Packing Co., Mr. Xanders and his gracious wife, find many happy hours, following his arduous vocational duties, in the raising of these delicately shaded flowers. Upon his retirement from the Armour Co. several years hence, Mr. Xander envisions a plot of a couple of acres near here on the Hilltop bedecked in a colorful array of the glorious plants and blos-

Generous in their presentation of flowers the happy duo bring much cheer and gratitude to their multitude of friends. Hilltop homes and business houses made beautiful by the Xander flowers, in particular, bespeak of the unselfish spirit of the S. Westgate neighbors. They like to share the results of their labors with folks on the Hilltop. More than a hobby, the dahlia growers have made it a business, catering to commercial florists and "special customers."

When the vegetable plot, on S. Westgate, bordered by Freemont, S. Huron and Wicklow-rd, was cultivated this summer and early fall, the Xanders saw fit to add a selection of dahlias, which is admired by thousands of folks who enjoy the dahlia setting, midst the many growing vegetables.

The genial couple find, in their joint hobby, a great satisfaction. Their interest, enthusiasm and work in dahlia raising is a real lark, and every attention known to floriculture is employed to bring out the most lovely blooms possible.

Growing flowers as much as 15 inches in diameter is the achievement of the S. Westgate hobbyist.

In the Xander collection are varieties exclusively produced, the roots and tubers of which would command a fabulous price if offered for sale. "Sports" of two years growth with luscious coloring, are numbered among the galaxy of delicate, petaled dahlias at 226 S. Westgate-av.

By pruning and nurturing the plant the grower permits about 24 blossoms to mature in their natural beauty.

Several of the dahlias grown in plain and bi-color combinations include blossoms of many types, the semi-cactus, formal decorative, cactus, incurved cactus, informal, decorative, ball, pom, etc.

Colors of the mammoth flowers are varied. Some of the popular hues are pink, orange, white-pink, flame, pink-red, pink salmon, white, yellow, purple, shades of red, lavender, etc.

The "Ginger Rogers", only one raised in this section perhaps, is rare and "hard to keep," the gardener advised.

Found in the Xander garden plot are many Australian and French dahlias, Dahlia Mum, Five Star General, Lakeside Beauty, Rudolph Motznick, Old Crystal Surprise, French Lavender, Son of Satan, Alcazar, Thomas Edison, Flamingo, Dixie Wyandot, Satan's Disciple, Hester Pape, Holland Dahlia, Belgium Rose, and the Jane Lausche, named in honor of Ohio's First Lady.

The Xanders are also hobbyists in other fields. Latest acquisition are imported dahlia bulbs from Belgium.

They are rose fanciers. The back side, walks and drive show prolific signs of the scented flower.

Mr. Xander also has a collection of guns and fishing tackle which he started some years ago but had to stop at the outbreak of the war. He later completed equipment and made home movies his hobby. These hobbies of her husband caused Mrs. Xander to think the matter over.

One time while she was on a trip with her husband several years ago she decided she would collect salts and peppers.

Since then she has collected 500 and each one different.

"When you get that many in a collection it is a thrill to get something and find it to be entirely different," she said. "It's just like catching fish, the bigger they are the better you like it."

Among her collection are such oddities as a set which includes a chef and a refrigerator. Another set is a top hat and cane.

"I have a couple of pieces that are 100 years old that friends have given me," she told us.

One that was especially fascinating was a cradle telephone, the bottom of which furnishes salt and the cradle pepper. The article is complete with a little dial.

Making Ming trees (good luck symbols) especially at Christmas, is another diversion of Mrs. Xander. She made 30 of these last Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Xander were visiting at Peru, Ind., where the circus was quartered for the winter several years ago when the elephant got mad. When it was decided that the beast was to be killed the circus manager asked Mr. Xander if he would "do the honors." They had heard he was a great one for hunting so they were going to give him a chance to do big game hunting in the circus grounds. Mr. Xander killed the beast pronto.
